

MRS. MARY GLASGOW CALLED TO REST

Old Resident Dies at Her Home on the East Side.

Mrs. Mary Glasgow died yesterday afternoon at her home on the east side. The end of a long and useful life came at about half past one in the afternoon and was the result of organic breakdown incident to old age. She had been confined to her bed only about a month, but she had been ailing a long time as she slipped into the shadows of the approaching end. Death came to her quietly. In the presence of immediate friends she came to the end of suffering as though she had fallen asleep.

Mary McElmurray was born June 13, 1838, which figures her age a little more than eighty years plus four months. Her birthplace was Omagh in the heart of Protestant Ireland. When she was twenty years of age she emigrated to Canada. On the 6th of November, 1861, she was united in marriage to John W. Glasgow, and with her husband she moved to Webster City in 1872. She had lived forty-six years in the house where she died. Something over forty years ago her husband lost his life as the result of an accident at the Bank street bridge.

Mrs. Glasgow was the mother of six children, two of whom did not survive infancy. Those remaining to mourn the loss of a faithful and honored mother are Mrs. George C. Smith, Independence, Iowa; George Glasgow, Fergus Falls, Minnesota, and Ed. and Emma Glasgow of this city. Miss Emma Glasgow has for many years taught in the east ward public school where faithfulness and efficiency have made for her an enviable record.

To those who knew Mrs. Glasgow, the quaint little woman who lived in the cottage among her summer flowers was a notable and much loved character. Born in the north of Ireland, of course she was intensely Protestant. At fourteen years of age she became a member of the Presbyterian church. To the day of her death she studiously maintained the Protestant principles which were the heritage of her Ulster blood. In 1874 in company with her husband she became a member of the local Congregational church, of which church she was a faithful and regular attendant until the infirmities of years confinied her to her home.

Mrs. Glasgow was a fine Christian woman of the old school. She belonged to the generation that was gone, but she had a vital and kindly interest in the events of the current life that passed her door. Her quaint north of Ireland speech was a delight to the ear, and her narratives of the past and comments upon life today indicated a bright and active mind. She had a subtle and accurate knowledge of things religious. Her religious life was personal. Her faith in God, which never wavered; her quaint optimistic outlook upon life; her many homey virtues and her zest for truth made of Mrs. Glasgow a character that might well have had a place in Ian McLaven's "Bonny Briar Bush" of a by-gone generation. Her flower garden, which was very characteristic of the woman, was among the best in the city. She cared for it with her own hands, and the flowers seemed to bloom because they loved the hand that gave them daily care.

The remains will be buried at the cemetery tomorrow, with private funeral services at the house at 11 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Arthur Metcalf, pastor of the Congregational church.

Both Critically Ill.

It has been unofficially reported from Des Moines that the selectmen ordered to Ames for training early this month, will be sent November 4. No word to this effect, however, has reached the local board. Hamilton county's quota in this call was seven men.

Metcalf-Brooks.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother in Sioux City was celebrated the marriage of Miss Mary J. Metcalf to Mr. Byron B. Brooks, who lives near Homer. A few immediate friends and relatives were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wallace M. Short, pastor of the Central church and mayor of Sioux City.

"Gone West."

Mr. and Mrs. Miner Bradley, 938 First street, are grief stricken today over the receipt of word that their only son, Cecil Dwight Bradley, died of pneumonia while aboard a transport en route to France, as a member of the American Expeditionary Forces. Mr. Bradley was among the selective service contingent which left this city for Camp Lytle, Georgia, July 29.

The message from Brigadier General Judson, commandant at Loboken, N. J., reads as follows:

"Regret to advise the death of Private Cecil D. Bradley at sea on October 10, 1918, from pneumonia. Owing to existing conditions, it was impossible to bring the remains back to the United States and the deceased was turned over to the army authorities overseas. It is the present intention of the authorities to bring remains back after the war."

Dwight Bradley was among a group of forty selectives sent from Hamilton county to Camp Lytle, Georgia, July 29, for intensive military training. Later he was transferred to the New Jersey embarkation point, from where he started upon the voyage over there, which terminated so soon in the soldier's version of death—"Gone West."

The fourth name to appear on this city's roll of honor marks another martyr to German "kultur." Young Bradley was in his twenty-sixth year, having been born in Mahaska county June 14, 1893. He received his education in the public schools of Oskaloosa and has made his home with his parents in this city since 1914. Before entering army service he was connected with his father in the lightning rod business, and as the only son and child of his parents, is mourned with painful intensity.

He was a member of the Fourth Casual Company, Engineers, which has just arrived in France.

YOUNG FARMER IS DEAD NEAR HOMER

E. V. Messersmith Dies of Pneumonia, Following Influenza.

E. V. Messersmith, aged 25 years, died at his home near Homer Thursday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock of pneumonia, following an attack of Spanish influenza. He had been sick about a week.

Mr. Messersmith leaves a wife and one child, beside his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Messersmith, a brother, R. C. Messersmith of Duncombe, and a sister, Mrs. Orvie Hoshaw of Lehigh. He lived on the old Adams farm, which he and his father farmed.

Mr. Messersmith came to Hamilton county last March from Eldorado, Oklahoma. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at that place and of the Methodist church at Mount Zion. He was born in Champaign, Illinois, March 31, 1893. He was a young man of sterling worth, well liked and highly respected in the community where he lived and to the sorrowing relatives and friends is extended the sincere sympathy of the neighborhood.

The funeral was held from the home in Freedom township Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, followed by a public funeral at Graceland cemetery in this city at 3 o'clock, conducted by the pastor of Mount Zion church.

The Last of Earth.

B. D. Rector, who has been sick during the past ten days with pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza, died at Mercy hospital Saturday night at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Rector was born October 27, 1890, near Mount Vernon, Jefferson county, Illinois, being 27 years, 11 months and 30 days old at the time of his death. Mr. and Mrs. Rector were married April 22, 1912, and made their home in Mount Vernon, Illinois, until about three years ago when the family moved to this city, residing here two years and then returning to Illinois, where they lived for eight months. They came back to Webster City five months ago and have resided here since. Mr. Rector was employed by L. V. Mills during his residence in this city.

Besides his sorrowing wife and one little daughter, six years old, he is mourned by his father and four brothers who reside in Illinois.

The funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Graceland cemetery, conducted by Rev. J. W. Stivers, pastor of the United Brethren church.

Lose Baby Daughter.

Dorothy, the little two and a half year old baby of Mr. and Mrs. George Carson of Kamrar, passed away at Mercy hospital early yesterday morning. The little one had been sick for several days with Spanish influenza which developed into pneumonia.

Dorothy and her twin sister, Doras, were the youngest children of the family, there being three brothers and three sisters, besides the grief stricken parents, to mourn her loss. The children are Harry, Alice, Donald, Marie, Marion and Doras, who have all been sick with the influenza, but are getting along very nicely now.

Death of Relative.

Gus Zimmerlin of this city and brother, Will Zimmerlin, who resides near Duncombe, left last night for Heyworth, Ill., called there by the death of their uncle, Henry Schoffel, who passed away after a several weeks' illness with stomach trouble. Heyworth is the former home of the Zimmerlin families. The death of this uncle was an unexpected blow to them.

Roof Burned off Plant.

Despite the rather spectacular fire which destroyed the roof of the high school heating plant building at an early hour Saturday, the furnaces have been in operation supplying heat as usual to all of the central school buildings and the court house, as well.

The fire was discovered shortly after 4:30 Saturday morning and resulted from spontaneous combustion of coal in the basement. Practically a new roof will be required and certain fixtures upon the heating plant will need replacing. The heating plant building is in close proximity to Lincoln high school on the east, the danger to adjoining buildings requiring quick work on the part of the city fire department.

No estimate of the loss has been made but adjustment with the insurance companies will be made and the damage repaired at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Groves are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter, Carolyn Casper Groves, at Mercy hospital Wednesday night.

Flu Situation is Improved.

The general influenza situation in Webster City is improved today, according to information secured from the city health officials. Eleven new cases were reported Saturday and Sunday, which is a decrease over previous daily reports. There are, however, a number of serious pneumonia cases in the city.

Women Work Sunday.

To relieve the need for pneumonia jackets, the surgical workers of the Red Cross worked Thursday and Friday manufacturing jackets and a large number of face masks. The supply, after the heavy drain of last week, was exhausted Sunday and twenty-two women worked Sunday morning and about thirty in the afternoon under the direction of Mrs. L. A. McMurray, chairman of surgical dressings. Thirty-eight pneumonia jackets and 150 face masks were made during the day.

Where to Get Them.

Owing to the fact that the local Red Cross headquarters is closed, any person desiring either a pneumonia jacket or face mask for use of sick persons, or those taking care of them, may secure the needed articles from either the school nurse, Miss Ella Buchanan, or Arch Foster, chairman of the Red Cross influenza relief committee.

Weather for the Week.

For the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys: Probably rain Monday or Tuesday. Cooler Tuesday. Temperature below normal for the rest of the week as a whole.

WHY NOT THIS WEEK?

Most of the severe cases of eye trouble are caused by neglecting the eyes after the symptoms of eye strain are plainly marked.

An immediate examination and the relief of the strain will in most in every case prevent further trouble.

If you have symptoms of eye strain have me examine your eyes this week.

Remember, I guarantee all of my work if you will follow my instructions.
