PERSONAL.

—Mr. J. E. PAXTON has the fever but is somewhat better. —P. J. SAUNDERS, of the Harrodsburg postoffice, is in town.

—The cheap rate to Kansas caused a great number of Lincolites and others to take the excursion Tuesday. The following went from here: Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Lytle, Misses Florence Trueheart, Lucy Burton, Emma Carter, Sam Davis, Carrie Lytle and Julia Cooper.

LOCAL MATTERS.

SEED wheat at Bright & Curran's. FERTILIZER for wheat, &c., at W. H. Higgins'.

FOR RENT.—One of the most desirable store rooms in town. W. P. Walton.

BOYS PAY UP.—McCreevy, Durham and Thompson boys just received at Geo. H. Bruce & Co's.

MR. PHIL. I. MATTINGLY has opened a general assortment store on Depot street and invites the public to call.

COAL, lumber and posts as cheap as the cheapest for cash or exchange for butcher stuff. Call on Williams & Ramsey.

NO CASES on the September civil docket of the Court of Appeals will be heard for oral argument until the January term.

PERSONS indebted to me will confer a great favor by calling at Mrs. Sue Stever's and settling up. Miss Belle Hughes.

JUST received a full line of queensware and glassware which we will sell very cheap. Call and examine our stock. S. S. Myers & Co.

I AM receiving daily a splendid assortment of fall suitings to which I invite the attention of those needing them. H. C. Ruple, Merchant Tailor.

WE have received our first shipment of ladies', misses' and children's kid and great shoes. Come and see them at our new store. Geo. H. Bruce & Co.

MR. JOHN W. HUFFMAN, of Garrard, and Miss Victoria Lamb, of this county, obtained license to marry yesterday at the bride's father's, Mr. James Lamb.

CAPT. W. H. SPRADLIN, of the Green peaks & Nashville, passed up from the latter city yesterday and from him we learn that the money, the right of way and other necessary matters had been arranged there, and that a surveying party would start out in ten days. Now is the time for our people to act to secure the road.

THE Odd Fellows have built a hall that is a credit alike to their liberality and to the appearance of town. But why, oh, why did they spoil all by putting such a door on Main street? Surely they will not let it remain painted as it is when white-wash is so cheap and artists so plentiful.

WE note several needed improvements in our perambulations around town. The Carpenter House has added a verandah and a number of rooms; George D. Wearon is painting and penciling his residence and store-rooms; the Commercial Hotel has a new pavement and several other houses are being painted.

OUR Crab Orchard letter gives the sad intelligence of the death of Uncle Jimmy McAllister, who expired at 2 A. M. yesterday of flux, aged 76. A kinder, truer or more honest heart never beat in human breast than that which is now stilled forever, and a pang of regret will be felt by every one who reads these lines to know that Uncle Jimmy is no more. May the sod rest lightly over him.

PLEASE don't forget coal is cash or due the first of every month. Bright & Curran.

THERE have been some offerings of corn in this vicinity at $2 per barrel in the field.

Geo. H. Bruce & Co. have received their new fall clothing. Come quick for choice.

FLOUR.—I will deliver good flour to parties in Stanford at $2 per hundred. J. E. Farris.

FOUND, a gold ring, which the owner can get by calling at the INTERIOR JOURNAL office and paying for this notice. John Bright, Jr.

MR. E. F. ROUNTON had a horse stolen from him while he was in town Saturday night. In another column he offers a reward for him.

ELIJAH ELMORE, a young son of Mr. J. Menefee Elmore, has been missing ever since the night of the circus with one of his father's best horses. It is supposed he got struck and ran off with the show.

BIG LAND SALE.—Mr. James Crow has sold his farm of 300 acres, lying on Hanging Fork, 130 to Dr. Clifton Fowler who gets the home tract at $75 per acre, and 170 to Mr. Joshua Jones, of Putnaki Station, at $58. The latter is not improved.

The sheriff of Clay county returned Jacob Sizmore to the jail here Wednesday, together with Harvey Gibson, charged with robbery. Sam Deason, who laid in jail so long, was tried at the recent term of the court and given three years for murder. George Baker for rape only got two years. Both passed to the pen yesterday.

THE report that conductor Austin, of the L. & N. had punctured the diaphragm of Sam Emery with a pistol bullet thereby causing his death, turns out to be untrue, the more the pity. Sam is one of the worst negroes that was ever permitted to live and when it was rumored that he had been suddenly cut off there was great rejoicing among both whites and blacks.

The trial of John Waddle for killing Champ Murphy with an ale bottle, was called at 2 P. M. yesterday. County Attorney Carpenter was assisted by W. E. Vawter while Col. T. Z. Morrow and Welch & Saufley represented the defendant. A great many witnesses were examined and after a patient hearing, Judge Carson held the prisoner for wounding in sudden heat and passion.

JAIL SEWERAGE.—The sewer from the jail, which is the alleged cause of so much sickness with those whose business keeps them in the vicinity, can, we learn from Mr. Felix McElhone, who put it in, be fixed for $40 so that the gas can not escape at the upper end of it at all. We call the attention of the magistrates to this and ask that they investigate the matter when they meet, the first Monday in October.

A SUBSCRIBER writes that he does not think "our position with regard to this infernal hot weather is sufficiently pronounced," and asks us to state it at length. We had thought if there ever was a time that we had dodged the issue it certainly was not in this weather business. But it seems that some people can not understand the plainest language and for their benefit we will reiterate that we have no patience with the apparent attempt to turn our atmosphere into a boiling, seething hades and we will support no man for office who does not stand squarely and fairly on this broad platform.

TAKEN IN.—An old gentleman who lives in this county near McCranek's church, taught two of our best young men a lesson the other night which they will be likely to remember. They had gone out to call on two young ladies at his house and remained quite late. At 11:20 the old gentleman awoke and thinking it was nearly a o'clock, his usual hour of getting up, mistaking the minute for the hour hand, he arose and waking up the servants breakfast was on the table at 12:30, instead of the usual hour, 4:30 A. M. The young men were called out of the parlor to breakfast at that solemn hour and felt considerably humiliated when the old gentleman told them that boys in his young days used to go to bed before 4 o'clock next morning when they went on a courting expedition. Finding out his mistake in the hour he apologized in a becoming manner, and the young men returned to town determined on profiting by the night's experience.

A SINGULAR SUIT.—The Louisville Commercial this describes a singular suit brought in Louisville by William H. Jackson, London, against J. M. Robinson & Co. In April, 1883, Mr. Jackson was the owner of a wagon and team of horses. About that time J. W. McBath, a traveling agent for Robinson & Co., visited London, and after working that town was anxious to reach Manchester, twenty-four miles distant. He engaged Jackson's rig in which to have himself and samples transported across the country. The start was made early one morning, McBath having first supplied himself, it is alleged, with a bottle of good old Bourbon. He was very liberal with it, and before many miles had been covered the driver of the team found himself so intoxicated that he couldn't tell a culvert crossing from a white oak stump. McBath then took the reins and presently he came to Horse creek, which was very much swollen by recent rains. Had it been the Ohio river it would have been all the same to McBath. Into the creek he drove the team and away went the horses clear out of sight. They were both drowned and McBath and the drunken driver had a narrow escape from a similar fate. Jackson claims that Robinson & Co. are responsible for the acts of these agents, and therefore seeks to recover from the firm $250, the value of his team of horses.

RELIGIOUS.

—Bishop Theo. U. Dudley will preach at the Methodist church to-night.

—Eld C. K. Marshall was taken suddenly ill yesterday and had to discontinue his meeting at Rush Branch indefinitely.

—Rev. G. H. Bout and family have returned from a visit to the Old World and were given a reception on their arrival at Versailles.

—Eld. O. J. Young closed on Monday last a two weeks' meeting at Salem Church, in Madison county, with 95 additions; 58 by confession and 37 by acknowledgement.

—The Conference at Mt. Sterling is presided over by Bishop McTear and 150 ministers are present. The appointments will be given to the public to-day. Revs. Harry Henderson or Mr. Pollett will probably be sent here.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—What was down to 77 in Chicago yesterday.

—H. M. Ballou sold to Love Lillard 7 head of 1,100-pound cattle at 4 1/2.

FOR SALE.—Twelve head of 1,150 pound steers. H. M. Ballou, Stanford, Ky.

—Carter Moore, of Scott, sold to Goldsmith, of Cincinnati, 20 head of cattle, averaging 1,525 pounds, at 65; to be taken in October.

—I have for sale 5 large work mules; 3 nice horses; 9 milk cows; 1 yoke work cattle; 1 set almost new. See Owens, Hustonville, Ky.

—W. B. Jarboe sold to Mr. Johnson, of Boyle county, 6 head of cattle, average weight 1,100, at $4.00. B. Spaulding sold to same 3 head at $4.50 and 7 head at $4.75.—Lebmon Standard.

—D. C. Terhune, of Mercer, sold 19 yearling mules to J. H. Gardenheir, of Tennessee, at $115 per head. These mules were large and fat, several of them measuring 16 bands high and all mares save 3.

—The stock exhibit will begin at the Exposition September 22, when thoroughbred horses will be shown till the 27; from the 30th to Oct. 3, draft horses, trotting horses, saddle and harness; dairy cattle Oct. 6th to 11th; beef cattle Oct. 13th to 18th and sheep and swine Oct. 20 to 25th. Railroads will transport stock for exhibition free.

—There is a good demand for shipping cattle with but few offering. Other grades are low and dull. The warm weather has affected the price of hogs and they have declined. Sheep are in fair demand but lambs are dull. The Cincinnati prices are:

Table with 2 columns: CATTLE, HOGS, SHEEP. Includes prices for common to medium, good to extra butchers, common to fine shippers, etc.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—After about three weeks' constant work the new front to Abry's drug store approaches completion.

—Mrs. John F. Gallagher and her children, of Knoxville, Tenn., passed through town Wednesday to visit Mrs. Gallagher's father, Mr. Allen Barnside, of Garrard county.

—M. C. Thurmond, of this place, has two fine mare mules which he will offer for sale next Monday, county court day. They are brown in color, six years old, 17 bands high and good, true pullers.

—The county clerk issued license on the 7th for Theo. Doss and Miss Sarah Watson to marry on the 11th W. B. Whitehouse and Mrs. Phoebe A. Guthrie received their passports to depart from the state of single blessedness.

—Eutopia Lodge K. of P. of this place received notice Thursday of an assessment caused by the death of Wm. H. Cross of the Greely expedition, who died somewhere in the neighborhood of the North pole, on the 18th of January, 1884. It seems as though the brethren who launched off Mr. Cross ought to pay at least a portion of the expense.

—The republican committee of the 8th Congressional district met here Thursday to take into consideration the advisability of nominating a candidate for Congress in this district. After discussion the committee adjourned to meet again in London, Laurel county, on the 25th inst., when the matter will be still further considered. Those present at the meeting yesterday were Tom Cardwell, Harrodsburg; Willy Searcy, Lawrenceburg; Logan McKee, Danville; G. M. Davidson, Stanford; Sam Anderson, Nicholasville, and W. B. Catching, London; the other counties were represented by proxy.

—Mr. Joseph S. Moore received Tuesday morning a dispatch that his brother, Judge George Moore, of the Superior Court of Amador, had been found dead in his bed Monday morning at his home in Jackson, California. No other particulars are known save that his family was absent in San Francisco and that he was probably murdered. Judge Moore was a native of Danville and a graduate of the class of 1870. He studied law with Durham and Jacobs, of this place and after practicing awhile at this bar, removed to California, where his fine abilities were soon recognized by his election to the judgeship he held at the time of his death, a position equal to that of circuit judge in Kentucky.

—A man in Danville, who is a gentleman when his head is level, but who unfortunately does not control one of his appetites, became so boisterous from the effects of drink on two occasions this week that he was fined on both occasions by the police court. This was a very proper proceeding on the part of the court and in looking about for some one who should be made to settle for the public disorder, hit upon the right one; that is the one who committed it. But according to the views of the latter day sains, who would manage the "moral" part of our business for us, the police court made a big mistake. The man above referred to should not have been molested, but instead, the man who sold the liquor should have been hanged, the man who made it should have his distillery torn down and the boy who hood the corn should have been made to take a mac's dose of strap oil.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Notwithstanding the amount of feeling enlisted, the primary election passed with unusual quietness. The poll books show that the West Enders were by no means unanimous, but when the regular election comes up they will make a united rally in support of the nominee.

—Bro. Hale was called to Danville on Monday to attend a funeral and was compelled to bring his meeting to a close. Five persons were baptized by the pastor, Bro. Taylor. One other had been received by the church, but baptism was postponed on account of indisposition. Bro. Hale will deliver a parting discourse to this people on Saturday next.

—In an article last week, speaking of our school system, I wrote the word State instead of county. I intended to say that the number of children of school age in the county is about 4,000 white and 1,000 colored, making in all some 5,000 to be cared for. It is true many of these are in the classes of academies and colleges, but it is also true that the majority must depend upon the common school.

—The momentous 9th has come and gone and the grand excursion has reached its destination. The gathering of the clans on Tuesday was astonishing. In addition to the host bent on the Western trip, and the relations who came to see them off, multitudes, prompted more by a longing to join the party, some by mere curiosity, flocked in from every quarter, until the village presented a scene of animation never before witnessed in our quiet community. The crowd that took the train at Moreland probably numbered more than 300. It is estimated that Williams and Penn, representing the Air Line, went out with 150 and Howard, of the O. & M., with 175. Some of these went for permanent settlement and many are prospecting with reference to future location. The majority, perhaps, are simply out on a large-sized and emphatic lark. The crowd, though large and by no means homogeneous, were comfortably accommodated on the cars and the report of parties who joined the expedition as far as the Ohio river is that thus far they proceeded most pleasantly. A great many of our prominent citizens are on the route, among whom may be mentioned G. D. Weatherford and wife, D. S. Carpenter and wife, F. M. Yowell and wife, Arch McKinney, wife and daughter, W. R. Williams and wife, Cam Austin and family, Henry Austin and wife, George W. Riffe, T. L. Carpenter, David Johnson, Bennett Clodd, Jr., Will and Harry Hoeker, Sam Reid and wife, Leslie Reid, J. W. Allen and Mr. Wakefield, of Danville, in search of a new ranch. Among the younger ladies who graced the expedition were Misses Sallie Cook, Bettie Dree, Minnie and Mattie Dinwiddie, Mae and T. Logan, Katie Powell, Sallie Taylor, Lucy Barton, Agnes Weatherford, Miss Wesley, Lizzie Page, Sarah Curtis and others. The competition between agents of rival roads was very strong, the price of tickets, round-trip, varying from $9 down to 0. It is thought the general average to the roads will be about $5 per head.

—The weather still continues very warm; springs that rarely ever are known to go dry have almost failed. Water is being hauled from the river for washing purposes and if we do not have rain pretty soon we fear we will have to use it for drinking purposes.

—We are glad to see that the sale of intoxicating liquors is suppressed to a very great extent and it is to be hoped that when the laws made by the officers of the incorporation are fully prepared and put in action, that we will have quite a peaceful little place.

—Miss Sallie Ward, of Crab Orchard, is visiting the family of Samuel Ward, of this place. Ben Nolte, of Covington, Ky., is spending a few days with R. C. Hume, of this place. Ches F. Edman, of Simbs, has returned to that place and resumed his work as operator. Charles L. Brown and Geo. W. Bettis, general freight agents for the Kentucky Central railroad, were here Wednesday, conferring with our shippers on the subject of cheap rates.

LIVINGSTON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.
