W. P. WALTON.

In his speech at Horse Cave Gen. Wolford told what a rebel tool Bradley was at the beginning of the war, who even made speeches against the Union, and how he turned republican at the solicitation of the colored people of Garrard county with the promise that they would elect him County Attorney, which they did in compliance with their promise to him; but when he got the office he took the highest and ran for Congress against H. M. J. Darham and was so badly defeated that he never felt able now to make another sacrifice of himself for the sake of the republican party. He told how Mr. Finley made his money following slung in the rear of the troops selling the soldiers rotten and shoddy goods at exorbitant prices, and how he fled from his post when desperate war was being tried in his district while he was judge of the Fifteenth district; and how he drew his pay for the time he (Finley) was hid out in the bushes; and that Mr. Bradley sold out to the negroes in Garrard county for a mess of pottage and then did not get it and never would, for Gen. Buckner would beat him so badly that he would flee from the wrath to come hereafter and never be heard of after this election.

KENTUCKY'S DEBT.—The present debt of Kentucky is $74,000—174,000 of which will be due in 1890, and $500,000 in 1905. There is outstanding and unpaid $6,374 on scrip and lands, which are paid due, and it is supposed that they have been lost or destroyed. Against this debt there is the sinking fund at the last report $150,830.21 in cash, 400 shares of stock of the Bank of Louisville, estimated at $30,450, and turn-pike stocks estimated at a fair valuation at $500,000, making a total of $741,330.51—$37,240.25 in excess of our whole debts. If there is a State in any better condition than Kentucky we do not know which one it is. Her bonds are bearing only 4 per cent. interest and her credit is second to none in the United States. The democracy will elect their entire ticket by an increased majority in August and the State will go on in her grand march of progress as she has done in days gone by.—[Frankfort Argus]

ON THE INCREASE.—At a picnic of the colored people held in this place a few weeks since, a colored orator from New York made a speech in which he took the ground that the negro race is increasing faster than the white race. Hoisting at the idea that the negroes should adopt the silly notion of calling themselves colored folks he used this quaint argument to prove that the race was on the increase: "If a white man marries a nigger, the offspring is a nigger. If a nigger marries a white woman the offspring is a nigger. If a nigger marries an Indian, the offspring is a nigger. If a nigger marries a nigger the offspring is a nigger. And if a nigger marries a China man the offspring is a nigger. Go long way from here. I know what the talking about. They are all niggers, and the nigger is increasing a great deal faster than the white folks is."—[Richmond Register]

Ata Soule, of Grant, Miss., noticed that his favorite hen had ceased laying eggs, but was growing remarkably large. Finally after attaining an astonishing size the hen died, and Mr. Soule was curious enough to hold a post-mortem examination. He cut the towel open and was somewhat astonished when four well-developed spring chickens popped out and began strutting around the barnyard. He supposes that some trouble with the hen's organization had stopped the eggs of the eggs and that the natural heat of her body incubated the chicken germs.

Jim Porter, "the Kentucky giant," weighs seven feet nine inches, or, as he himself precisely expressed it, six feet 21 inches in height. A very remarkable fact is that for the first 14 years of his life he was small for his age—so much so that he was often engaged as a jockey. His very remarkable growth commenced when he was 17 years of age. Porter was large boned and angular, weighing, when in good health, about 300 pounds.

The Rev. Dr. S. H. Virgin, in a 4th of July address at West Cadesburg, said that recently, in Washington, he examined with microscopic scrutiny, the original draft of the Declaration of Independence and not a trace could be found of the signatures of the men who put forth that immortal instrument.

An inclination of one inch in 15 miles is sufficient to give motion to water. An inclination of three inches per mile in a straight, smooth channel, will give a velocity of three miles per hour, while three feet per mile would produce a torrent.

Jacob Seligman, of Michigan, is a millionaire and director in nine banks and four railroads. He is less than five feet high and went to Michigan 25 years ago with less than $100 in his pocket.

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

Lancaster.

—The contract for grading and macadamizing the extension of Water street will be let to-day, Tuesday.

—Mr. Hughes having declined to stand for police judge, it leaves the race to Samuel Engleman and Walter Eason, who will run the race for all it is worth.

—G. W. Britts has a young pointer dog, which on Saturday found on the pike a package containing a pair of stockings, and brought it home to his master. Such a dog deserves encouragement.

—Mr. L. C. Drake, who owns the large peach orchard near Camp Robinson, tells me the dry weather has nearly ruined his peaches. They have suffered very much for rain in that vicinity.

—I have it from good authority that George K. Harlin, the mail agent on the K. C., is to lose his official head and his place filled by a Garrard county democrat. Who will be the lucky one?

—E. W. Morrow wishes to inform the public that he can be found at R. E. McRobert's drug store, where he is prepared to do all kinds of repairing, watch making, mending jewelry, etc., in the best manner and at the lowest figures.

—B. M. Burdett is very sanguine as to the success of his Florida town, Killarney. He has sold a number of lots and buildings are now going up. He has samples of potatoes grown on his land which are fully up to those grown in Kentucky.

—Judge M. D. Hughes will take charge of the Crab Orchard High School, formerly taught by Mrs. Tarrant, on the first Monday in September next. This will not be a new role for the Judge, as he has taught school before and earned the reputation of being a first-class teacher. His friends here wish him success and bespeak the good will and patronage of the citizens of Crab Orchard for him.

—We have had plenty of rain. Garrard county will raise lots of corn. Hogs are selling at 5 cents. There are now 50 acres of tobacco in Garrard county. Hemp is not looking well. Butter is scarce at 20 cents per pound. Our farmers are grumbling at the low price of cattle. There is money in sheep, and it is easily made.

The few who held and those who bought tobacco are now hoisted bond holders. The melon crop has been injured by the drought.

—Misses Hattie Vaughan, of Staebyle, is visiting Miss Nellie Marrs, Messrs. B. F. Pattee, Hugh Lazen and Matt Ellis, all commercial men, spent Sunday in Lancaster. Mrs. B. M. Burdett is expected home from Florida next Friday. Hon. W. O. Bradley came home Saturday, looking a little jaded, but still in the ring. Hon. F. T. Fox spoke here to a five-sized audience Saturday. Judge Nick Sanifer and Charlie Sanifer spent Sunday with J. P. Sandifer, Esq. Mr. Edward Ferrell and wife, of Hutchinson, Kansas, are visiting his brother, C. H. Ferrell, Esq., after an absence of 11 years.

Little Ebel had a truant uncle, and she had noticed that when he wanted to be very emphatic he used a certain monosyllabic word of four letters. Not long ago Ebel was afflicted with quite a severe pain under her little apron, the result of too free an indulgence in the tomatine cucumber. When Uncle Jack came home at supper time he was informed of the grievous plight of his little favorite and hastened to her comfort.

"Well, Ebel, my dear," he said, advancing to the sofa, "how do you feel now?"

"Pretty d—n miserable, thank you, uncle Jack," she replied with an air of having said quite the proper thing under the circumstances.—[Chicago Tribune]

One of the best reasons why Kentucky should have a new constitution is the great necessity for the abolition of the multiplicity of elections. Outside of the fact that the frequency of our elections entail a very heavy cost upon the State, they continually keep the people in a state of excitement that could be avoided and the labors of thousands of men who should be employed in the ordinary vocations of life are wasted in electioneering for some candidate for office. One election every four years would be a blessing to the State in many respects, when all the officers, State, county and municipal, could be elected.—[Elizabethtown News]

The petrified body of a human being was found on the farm of Martin Edwards, near Windsor, Ill., in a ditch last week. The body was that of a short, fleshy person, and is supposed to be that of an ancient mummy builder. It is very hard and looks exactly like soapstone. The head is long and narrow, the forehead high and prominent, with high cheek bones, square chin and a small neck. The body was broken off at the knees, the lower limbs being missing. Its total length to the knees, is two feet, 9 inches and its weight is about 170 pounds.

—Gov. Knott very properly refuses to send troops to Rowan.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

HANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—There was but little business in the quarterly court Monday morning, the only contested case being that of Hiram Wells of Garrard county vs. A. P. Wilson, of this place, for a breach of contract.

—Frank Johnson, employed at Bruce & Lee's livery stable, got into some sort of a row Sunday night with Willie Wright and James Goings, two colored barbers. The police court will investigate the "trouble" to-day.

—The catalogue for the Boyle County Fair for the present year, presents unusual attractions and the exhibition of live stock, agricultural and other products will be on a larger scale than ever before. President W. J. Lyle, Secretary John M. Meyer and all of the directors are working like beavers to make the present meeting more successful than any of its predecessors.

—Editor Joseph Moore, who went to Cumberland Falls under the chaperonage of Col. Wm. F. Gast, has returned to his trip, which has been repaired, respected and varnished during his absence. Col. Gast took good care of his young charge and he returns as he went, unscathed by the world. Mrs. H. E. Samuel is visiting friends in Somerset. Miss Young of Louisville, daughter of Col. Ernest H. Young, is visiting Mrs. W. K. Argo.

—Judge F. T. Fox, of Louisville, prohibition candidate for governor, spoke at the court-house Saturday evening. It was the usual content. His widest dreams of the widest prohibitionists were realized and no whisky could be manufactured, sold or transported through the State, or brought into the State, would they then be expelled? He said. Then regulations as to tobacco, food and dress would be in order, and he proceeded with the same vigor that the "temperance" question now is prosecuted. Personally Judge Fox is an amiable, courteous gentleman and it is a pity he has cast his lot among the people here.

The Boston Post a conservative journal of high character, makes this direct and striking comment on a trial of prohibition in a State where the conditions were favorable:

"To sum up the year's work it appears that a prohibitionist prohibition in Rhode Island has not materially interfered with the sale of liquor, that drunkenness has increased, and that there has been bred a seething lawlessness and hypocrisy which become a new inducement for demoralization."

Yet Fount Fox and his fervid followers would bring about this contemptible state of affairs in Kentucky if they could. But they can not.—[Louisville Times]

"I'll tell you why medical etatics forbid a physician to advertise," said a young Massachusetts saw-bone a few days ago to the writer, "it is because the old members of the profession are jealous of the younger members. The effect against advertising emanates from the old men, who are already advertised and who do not want the opposition which would crowd them badly if young physicians could announce their curative in the papers."—[Cincinnati Times-Star]

Two evangelists, named Atam and Lw had to preach prohibitory sermons for a lecture in the gift of a certain congregation. Mr. Lw preached in the morning, taking for his text the words, "Adam, where art thou?" and giving an excellent sermon. Mr. Atam took for his text, to the surprise of the congregation and his rival, the passage, "Lys, he said I." From this he preached such a splendid impromptu sermon that he gained the lectureship.

Daily Madison never danced while mistress of the White House. Jenny, her husband, had a game leg, and couldn't trip the light fantastic toe. Society quindness say Mrs. Cleveland, although she is a charming dancer and an especially lovely waltzer, will follow Queen Dally's example, because the president is too heavy to dance. Washington society people have seen several presidents on the floor dancing gracefully.

A lady of Stanford on Saturday discovered a negro in her bedroom and fired at him with a revolver. Out of four shots she struck the human target twice. If all the fair sex were as brave as Jennie Bowman and as proficient in marksmanship as Mrs. Birkett, there would be fewer brutes of the Turner and Patterson stripe in the world. The formality of a trial would also in many cases be obviated.—[Louisville Post]

An old deacon was asked the other day: "How do you like your pastor?" "First-rate," he replied, "except in one thing." "What is that?" "It is this," continued the deacon, "the Lord never made him to tell jokes, and yet he insists on telling them. I never like to laugh when I don't want to laugh, and yet I have to do it constantly, just to save the pastor's feelings."—[Richmond Religious Herald]

Georgia boasts of three stingy men. One of them will not drink as much water as he wants unless it is from another man's well; the second requires his family to write a "small hand" to save ink; and the third stops his clock at night in order to save the wear and tear of the machinery.—[The Argonaut]

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Our picture man has left us and located at Brodhead.

—Since our last report this vicinity has had some good rains.

—Prof. E. Elliott, of Kirksville, was here last week in the interest of his school.

—Dave Carter, of Round Stone, on a wagon ate six dozen and eleven eggs in one day a short time since.

—A mad dog was seen just east of town Saturday, but escaped before a gun could be procured to shoot it.

—Mr. Ward, in his attempt to ride both republican and prohibition horses, will probably be thrown into the slough of dispondence.

—Rev. Jos Munday lectured here Wednesday and Thursday nights to small audiences. His talk was not very well received by his hearers. The criticisms afterward were not favorable to the speaker.

—Mr. John Melvin, the candidate on the prohibition ticket, though not the nominee of that party, (shame on them for failing to nominate him) is stirring things up in the mountains and will poll a good vote.

—W. C. Webb, candidate for legislature, from Rockcastle and Laurel counties, spoke to a good crowd at Brodhead Friday. He speaks here to-day, and at Francisco's Mill near Kirby's Store, Thursday, 25th inst. The other candidates are not meeting him to discuss the issues.

—As we have made no mention of the closeness of the atmosphere lately, allow us to say that on last Tuesday a setting hen in the stable of Capt. Jack Adams hatched out four chickens with which she left the nest. Four days later four other chicks were hatched from eggs left in the nest, without any hen setting thereon.

—Miss Essie Adams, of Madison, is visiting her aunt at this place. The Esbo man here is out in a spring suit. Mr. F. H. Reppert, who has for the last year been a clerk in the first comptroller's office at Washington, has been promoted to special pension examiner, and assigned to duty at Cincinnati, where he goes on first of August.

—Gilbert Coffey, the man shot by the Ward brothers, near Wildie two weeks since, died Saturday morning, in great agony. It is said he did not die from the bullet wound, but from injuries received on the back of the head and spine from kicks given by the Wards after the shot had been fired. The remains were buried Saturday evening near Wildie.

—Our friend Dyche, of the Echo, is mistaken when he says we were boasting about the quantity of flour shipped to this point during the month of June. Had it been meant as a boast it would have been to show how small a quantity of that commodity was imported to our place. Our farmers raise so much more grain than is produced in Laurel, we suppose is the reason our neighboring village is obliged to handle so much more of that chief ingredient of the staff of life.

—The Adams and Laewells, living in the eastern portion of the county, between whom there has existed a family feud for some time, met at Brush Creek, a station on the K. C. road, Saturday evening and opened fire upon each other, one faction on each side of the creek. They kept up the firing for some minutes, exchanging probably fifty shots. No one was hurt, so far as can be learned. It is expected that they will meet again soon and bloodshed is likely to be had any day, as there are men on each side who have been under fire before, and when aroused are not slow to use fire arms or other weapons when the occasion arises. Up to this writing no arrests have been made or writs issued.

Some of the new bathing suits have stockinet sleeves extending from the shoulder to the wrist, and giving the wearer the appearance of having her arms uncovered. The new bathing stockings are imitations of English models and have cork soles, or else end in a rubber slipper. They are better for wading than for swimming.

The United States owns about $75,000,000 worth of buildings and has not a cent of insurance on any of them. Most of them are practically fire proof. The government believes that it is strong enough to carry its own insurance. The Astors and some of the other large real estate owners in New York act on the same policy.

HAY FEVER CURE.—Dr. Moorhead in a medical journal writes that he has obtained relief from hay fever, his annual persecutor for 30 years, by hypodermic injection of one-twentieth of a grain of morphine and one-two-hundredth of a grain of atropin night and morning. The relief was complete.

Edward Heister, a farmer of Thomaston, Mass., has two daughters, fourteen and seventeen years old. They both have 12 fingers and 12 toes. The elder weighs 217 pounds and the other 219 pounds; the elder is 73 inches bust and 51 waist measure; the other is 69 and 46.

Rev. William N. Cleveland, the brother with whom the President is now visiting at Forestport, is a Presbyterian preacher, who preaches at three different churches, alternating between them and preaching three times every Sabbath. His charges are six miles apart.
