

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XX. STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1892. NO. 12

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Joe Gatliff made a statement of the condition of the Fair Company, last Monday at the court-house. Mr. Gatliff is very enthusiastic over the prospects.

—A surprise party was given to Misses Bettie and Phronia Weesner, last Friday. Only a few were present, but they spent a very pleasant evening. Among the guests was Miss Lena Irvine, of Louisville.

—Common Pleas Court opened Monday morning. Judge Tinsley being absent N. A. Richardson was elected special judge and what business that could be was attended to. Judge Tinsley came in on the evening train and business is moving along nicely.

—A. C. Brown, circuit clerk of Laurel, came down to see how Ben Rose taxes cost. It is said Ben can not be beat. The following visiting attorneys are here attending court: E. L. Ewell, of London, N. A. Richardson, of Louisville, A. K. Cook, of Pineville, and Jas. D. Black and Smith Hays, of Harboursville.

—Mr. A. A. Arthur, of Flat Lick, is visiting his father this week. C. E. Burch and sister, Miss Carrie, spent Sunday with Miss Carrie Myers. Rev. Hitchcock, of Massachusetts, preached at the Congregational church last Sunday. Dr. F. W. Finley has returned from Arkansas, where he has been prospecting for a location. He has not fully determined where he will locate yet. James F. Grinstead, of W. E. Grinstead & Co., of Louisville, is here attending court. Wm. Perkins spent several days of last week in Louisville buying a summer stock of dry goods for Mahan & Co. Col. Silas Adams was with us Monday. C. W. Lester was at Pine Knot, last Saturday on legal business.

—The contest for the police judge's place came off Monday and Tuesday before Esquires W. M. Rains, John Tuggle and S. P. Jones. Monday was spent in organizing and hearing the proof and Tuesday was spent in arguing the case and reviewing the evidence by the board. After about two hours of deliberation they returned a decision in favor of Judge H. H. Tye, the present incumbent. R. S. Crawford and C. W. Lester were attorneys for R. T. Hemphill, contestant, and James Sharp, Mr. Tye's partner, represented him. The case was argued by Crawford and Sharp. Mr. Hemphill has said he will appeal to the Common Pleas Court, but those who voted for him, as well as those who voted against him think he had better let the matter drop as the decision of the people at the polls was against him and the courts will be the same.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—Monday was almost as hot as mid-summer.

—Messrs. F. M. Ware and Cicero Reynolds, of McKinney, were here Saturday attending a meeting of the board of trustees of Jane Wash Institute, of which they are members.

—Cy Russell has a mare that has given birth to a mare colt on every All Fools Day for three years. The one foaled on the 1st inst. is by one of J. Steele Carpenter's fine stallions and is a daisy to say the least of it and will be a traveling advertisement for Carpenter's horse in this part of the country.

—At present Casey is represented in Congress and the Legislature by republicans, has republican circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney, three of her county officers are republicans and the devil knows what all. If the Legislature will put us in a position to breathe a little easier we will promise to forgive it for its many misdoings and won't say a word if Col. Silas Adams sits at ease until it grows to his chair.

—It actually begins to look as though the whisky traffic in this county must go. William Wells, who lives in the suburbs of Yosemite, has been for some time suspected of dealing in the stuff. Monday, Deputy Sheriff Wheat arrived with a warrant, took a posse of determined citizens and went to his house and made search. Finding a barrel of whisky, the head was knocked out and the contents emptied upon the ground. Wells was taken into custody and carried to Liberty and put in charge of Jailer Jesse M. Brown, who will furnish him his daily bread for at least a few days. We would advise Mr. Wells and all others who contemplate going into the business, to select a locality where the feeling of the people is not so intensely against it, for it is plainly evident that those who attempt to run a business of that kind here will be kept in hot water and their profits will go for other purposes than enriching their pockets.

The promptness and certainty of its cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is the most effective remedy known for these diseases. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. M. L. Boone, Druggist and Optician, Stanford, Ky.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—W. S. Beasley & Bro., shipped a car-load of hogs to the Cincinnati market Wednesday.

—A special term of the Garrard circuit court will be held Saturday, the 10th, for the trial of several equity cases.

—The K. C. train jumped the track this (Thursday) morning, just this side of Rowland, and the prospects are that the mail will not get in until night. The K. C. is a great road.

—Mr. G. R. Hardin has commenced work on a two-story store room on Richmond street. The Thompson building on the same street will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

—Mrs. George Smith, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting her mother on Danville, Ave. Miss Alma Hagan, of Richmond, is visiting Miss Mamie Currey. Messrs. George R. Hardin and J. T. Eason, railway mail clerks, were here this week. John M. Logan is in Cincinnati.

—Police Judge Hemphill and Chief of Police Hamilton have been after the whisky sellers again. The following colored men were arrested and tried Tuesday: Sam Royston, five cases, was fined $50 in each case. He was also fined $100 for keeping a tippling house. Sam King, four cases, was fined $25 in each case. John Harris, compromise judgment $175. Clayton Anderson, two cases, was fined $75. Lewis Pettus, two cases, $25 each case. Sam Cole, two cases, was fined $50 in each. Harry Huffman, one case, was assessed the sum of $50. All went to the rock pile except Harris who reprieved his fine.

—Post-master VanCott, of New York City, thinks President Harrison is the ablest president and the greatest man that ever lived. It is quite likely that the P. M. would have thought the same of the president under whom he was holding if his name had been John Smith. Post masters and office-holders generally are great admirers of those who put them in place, and never cease to show it until their superior is displaced and there is a new deal.

—Lancaster, like most towns, has a few bee raisers and the bees are said to be raising Cain by pillaging among the buds and blossoms of the peach and pear trees that are now in bloom. As the owners of the bees are not able to prevent their depredations upon the fruit of their neighbors, it becomes a serious question as to how the nuisance is to be abated. It has been decided in the courts that bees are wild animals, and until hived and reclaimed no property can be acquired in them. Finding a tree on the land of another containing a swarm of bees, and marking the tree with the initials of the finder's name, even after he has received a license from the owner of the soil to take the bees, is not reclaiming the bees, nor does it vest in the finder any exclusive right of property in them; neither can he maintain trespass against a person who, under a subsequent license of the owner, cuts down the tree and carries away the bees. He may, however, maintain an action against any one who, even under a subsequent license, interferes while he is actually engaged in cutting down the tree. Hived bees are the property of the one who has reclaimed them, notwithstanding a temporary escape; and as long as the owner can identify them they belong to him, and not to the owner of the soil to which they escaped, although he cannot enter the land to retake them without committing trespass. So much for the law in regard to bees. The trouble is, however, the bee is not easy to capture. He is a dangerous animal to tackle, and cares very little for what people think of him. He has no more respect for his owner than he has for a stranger, and can, something like a rich and influential man, defy public sentiment, and violate the laws of the land with impunity. What is to be done about it is a serious question.

The King's Daughters.
Of this county, are affectionately invited to attend a State convention of King's Daughters, to be held in Louisville, on April 24th, 25th and 26th. Mrs. Mary Lowe Dickenson and Mrs. J. C. Davis, of the Central Council, will arrive in Louisville on Saturday, 23d, and will address the convention on matters of vital interest to King's Daughters everywhere. They will be prepared to meet personally members and suggest to them plans of work for their different localities, if delegates so desire. The initial meeting will be on Sunday afternoon in one of the churches. A reception will be given to Mrs. Dickenson and Mrs. Davis by the King's Daughters of Louisville, to which all delegates will be made welcome. All who intend to take advantage of this opportunity and all our ladies are invited, whether they are King's Daughters or not, are requested to communicate with Miss Lucy Richardson, 1026 Fifth street, Louisville.

The Louisville King's Daughters, who are arranging for this convention, expect large delegations from all over the State.

JENNIE CARBERRY, CHIEF, ANNE AINSIE, JENNIE C. BENDICT, BESSIE BECKER, MRS. JAMES BUCHANAN, Press Committee.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—The firm of Sigler & Carson has dissolved partnership. Mr. Carson having bought out Mrs. Sigler's interest will continue business in his own name.

—Madame Record Jones was in Crab Orchard and personally instructed in her new tailor system of dress cutting Mrs. James Stephens, and also appointed Mrs. Stephens her agent in this district.

—While our people regret giving up the grand old Crab Orchard Springs buildings for a sanitarium, they still feel that there will be other arrangements made to accommodate people who wish to attend the Springs, as long as the famous water lasts, for there are people who will not be satisfied with anything else. We already have a number of houses in Crab Orchard, which if fitted up for the purpose can accommodate all who wish to come.

—Mr. North, who is to relieve Mr. Klepper as train dispatcher at Rowland, was over the road Monday, learning exactly how everything was situated, so that he might be able to get the trains over the road to the very best advantage. Mr. Klepper, it is understood, goes to Louisville. Mr. McDougal, a traveling salesman, is quite ill at the Harris House. His wife arrived from Knoxville, on Wednesday, to care for him.

—A very deplorable accident happened on the Lancaster pike Tuesday. One of Mr. J. E. Carson's work hands was riding his yellow mare and a black boy was behind in a wagon driving a pair of young mules, when a dog jumped through the fence, frightening the mules, and they ran away. They soon reached the horse in front and ran the wagon tongue chains and ad clear through it, the tongue entering the horse's hip and coming out at the shoulder. The man riding the horse barely escaped by jumping and running to one side of the pike. As the horse was an old family one and perfectly gentle, Mr. Carson and family regretted to lose it, especially in so tragic a manner.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—Dr. O. H. McRoberts, late of Stanford, has fitted up a nice room over W. T. Humphrey's drug store and is now occupying it as an office.

—On the 31st ult. Wofford McDonnell, of South Fork, was tried before Judge Myers as an examining court for shooting and wounding Curt Williams some time ago, with intent to kill, and was acquitted.

—It is reported that numerous indictments will be revived against Jim Wheeler, which have been suspended on the promise of doing better, he having violated his pledges. It is reported that the county judge, county attorney and Middleburg and Yosemite vigilantes are determined to enforce the mandates against selling liquor in the county illegally.

—On last night, from general appearances, there were apprehensions among our people of a severe storm, but though the wind was threatening at times, nothing of a serious nature happened. Some time about 2 or 3 o'clock a. m. it commenced raining and from that on until daylight the rain fell in sheets. There was a rapid and considerable rise in the river, but about 2 o'clock p. m. it commenced falling rapidly and is continuing to do so.

—Since December court our jail, which makes such a fine architectural display that it is the admiration of all lovers of the beautiful in art, has been silent and tenantless. Last night, however, our deputy jailer, Mr. W. W. Brown, who is a man of various accomplishments, and equally at home as a hack driver or a Sunday school superintendent, brought down from Yosemite a tenant for the space of 75 days, in the person of Wm. Wells, who had been tried before Squire Jacob A. Wall and had $150 assessed against him in five different cases for violating the local option law. It seems, also, that Wells had fallen into the hands of the Philistines, for it is said that his saloon and all its equipments were demolished by the vigilantes, but of this I suppose your Middleburg scribe will give you the particulars.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—SPINK-HAIL.—At the residence of Mr. John M. Hail at 10 o'clock, yesterday, a beautiful ceremony, said in the presence of a number of close friends and relatives, bound together two hearts that have for a long time beat in unison, though separated by the continent's width for the most of that time. Mr. T. F. Spink and Miss Kate Hail were united in marriage, Rev. A. V. Sizemore officiating, with Miss Eddie Adams, of Danville, who was very lovely in a suit of blue and tan, and Mr. A. G. Frazier, chief dispatcher of the L. & N., at Louisville, attendants. Warm congratulations and good wishes followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Spink, with the attendants, took carriages for Junction City, from whence they left for Pensacola, Fla., where they will remain a few days, thence go to New Orleans, points in Texas and Mexico and arrive at their California home in about three weeks.

The bride, of whom nothing could be said too much in praise, was attired in a green and tan traveling suit, with hat to match, which fitted her beautiful figure like a glove, and set off her personal charms to perfection. She is indeed a lovely girl—being pretty, attractive and amiable, and the man who has won her has secured a jewel more precious than diamonds. No girl ever had more or truer friends and none ever deserved to a greater degree the universal esteem in which she is held. Mr. Spink, the fortunate groom, is a young man of modest demeanor, excellent habits and genuine moral worth. He was formerly dispatcher on the L. & N., and it was while holding a "trick" here that he met his fate. At present he is a dispatcher on the Atlantic & Pacific, at Needles, Cal., and at that far-off point he has a nice little home for his bride, where we hope a well-spring of joy and contentment will make their lives a honeymoon that will never end. They are both the INTERIOR JOURNAL's best friends and its representative felt almost like shedding a tear with those who wept to see the bride go so far away. Good luck and good cheer to them now and always.

The bridal presents were quite extensive and embraced many ornamental and useful articles, by which loving hearts endeavored to show their affection.

—This will be in the nature of a surprise to many of the groom's friends: A courtship of a year or more standing was quietly brought to a happy ending at Metropolis, when Miss Zula B. Zelner, of this city, and Mr. John S. Edmiston, of Crab Orchard, were united in wedlock. Owing to the recent death of Miss Zelner's mother and not desiring to postpone the day set, it was decided to consummate this happy event in Metropolis. And with this object in view and to rob the event of all tinge of romance, Miss Zelner and Mr. Edmiston went to Metropolis in a carriage and were made husband and wife in the parlor of Rev. Sam Atwell's residence, that gentleman performing the ceremony in his usual eloquent way and sending Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston on the new life with a most earnest prayer for long life and much happiness. So quiet was this marriage that but few have to-day learned of its occurrence. Pious and earnest congratulations will be certain to follow this announcement. The bride is widely known as one of the city's most charming ladies, beloved for her many virtues of mind and heart, and is the only daughter of Mr. John P. Zelner, a well-known ex-county official and business man. The groom has often visited the city, being the traveling representative of a Philadelphia clothing house, and is a son of Post-master Edmiston, of Crab Orchard, and a young man of industry and worth, belonging to a well-known family. They have been united after a happy courtship and are alike to be congratulated. Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston will make Paducah their home for the present and will be the guests of the bride's father, Mr. Zelner, of 309 South Seventh street.—News.

—Mr. William F. Henry and Miss Bessie E. Kelley, of the Kirksville vicinity, were married in the Myers House, Wednesday evening, by Rev. A. V. Sizemore. They were accompanied by Mr. J. B. Rout and Miss M. C. Henry, who acted as best man and lady on the occasion. The bride is a comely young lady of 18 summers, while the groom is a young man of good business qualifications. There was no objection on the part of the bride's parents, but the young couple came here to marry because of their desire to make it a quiet affair.

—The Williamsburg Times says R. M. Rains got license to marry Frances Ward, but she wouldn't splice, and he returned the paper endorsed, "Not executed."

—H. H. Singleton and Miss Nannie J. Pitman were married at the bride's mother's, Mrs. Lucinda Pitman, near Waynesburg, yesterday.

—Marion C. Taylor and Miss Fannie Maize, of Louisville, well-known to Crab Orchard visitors, were married Wednesday.

—A Wheeling man killed his wife because she refused to kiss him.
