A LARGE number of the young people will attend the opening hop at Linnietta Springs to night. Capt. Richards has spared no pains to make it a grand affair and that it will be goes without saying.

THIEVES broke a window in J. H. Hilton's store at Rowland, and prizing it open, stole a suit of clothes, two pairs of pantaloons, a pair of shoes and perhaps many other things, though Mr. Hilton can not state positively that they got more.

ALL of old man Penny's grandchildren are girls except—but there is no exception. The last one is, too. Mrs. R. B. Mahony added another to the growing string Saturday night and mother, babe, old man Penny and Mahony are doing as well as could be expected.

A FINE little Pigg of a trustee in the Carpenters Creek school district went back on Miss Ella B. Wright and refused to let her have the school. She got the Carters District school, however, which will pay her about as well and the Pigg can continue to wallow in his mire.

THE Commercial Club has decided to hold a convention of property holders and all others interested in the growth of Middlesboro about the middle of July. Three thousand invitations will be sent out and every one will be earnestly urged to attend. Cheap rates will be given on the L. & N. and its connections.

THE Interior Journal base ball club has become a stock company with a capital of $500. Most of the stock has been taken and the rest will be soon. Tom Hurly, who was mainly instrumental in stocking it, has been appointed manager and he says he is determined to have a winning club. He has telegraphed for a battery and will have them ready for the game with Harrodsburg at this place this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THE MERRY BACHELORS' HOP.

THE worshippers of Terpichore who attended the 16th annual hop given by the Merry Bachelors of Stanford at Walton's Opera House on Friday night last are liberal in their praise of that delightful occasion. It was a charming entertainment and an entertainment that will not soon die in the memory of the belles and beaux who were present. At 9:00 the young people began to come in and by 10:00 o'clock the opera house was a scene of crowded beauty and gallantry. Beautiful girls from many counties were in attendance and a more lovely lot could not have been congregated. At 10 o'clock promptly Seiberts' orchestra commenced its divine music, which continued till the old town clock tolled five times the next morning. Excellent order was preserved; the boys worked manfully to entertain their guests; the full moon shone brightly from a cloudless sky, and in fact, each thing vied with the other to make it an occasion unprecedented even in Stanford, where so many elegant hops have been given. There were about 50 couples who participated in the merry waltz and the number of spectators exceeded that number. Stanford has certainly fairly won the reputation of being one of the best hop towns in the State, and that she is sustaining that reputation goes without saying. The supper given for the benefit of the Interior Journal base ball club was liberally patronized by those who attended the hop and it was a feast fit for the gods. Below is a list of those who attended, together with the costumes of the young ladies who gave a description to a reporter of this paper: MISS Nettie Wray, black mull; natural flowers. A REST BETWEEN DANCES.

From Danville—W. W. Lawwill, Beverly Batterton, Ed Dillehay, Thomas Yeager, J. S. Banghman, John Dillehay, Harry Drake, Harry Whitthorne, Morrison Breckinridge, Will Brewer, Will Dunn. Harrodsburg—C. J. Tinsley. Hustonville—Felix Twidwell. Middlesboro—Eph Pennington.

Richmond—Walker Tevis, Junction City—Will Burke, J. E. Calvert, W. B. Burke. Lexington—H. B. Wilson. Mt. Vernon—J. M. Williams. Louisville—Will T. Yager. McKinney—C. L. Crow, Joseph Williams. Manchester—J. H. White. Versailles—S. C. Lowery. Lebanon—W. R. Rice. London—R. C. Ford. Bolling, Ala., Joe B. Burton. Besides the town and county boys in large numbers, the following from other towns attended: HARRODSBURG vs. Interior Journals at Rochester Park this evening. BORN, to the wife of Prof. J. F. Walton, of Danville, a nine-pound girl. It arrived Saturday night. I HAVE Ice at Elkin's shop during the day and will be present to wait on my customers. James P. Bush. IN conversation with farmers from all parts of the county, yesterday, it was learned that the wheat prospects, barring smut in some localities, were very fine; the corn stand is splendid and the hay crop very large. DR. D. E. PROCTOR, of Rockcastle, has decided to locate at Rowland and his card announcing this fact appears in this paper. He is a graduate of the University of Medicine at Louisville and being in love with his profession, is bound to succeed. Give him a chance. THE members of the Home Literary and Dramatic Society, of Turnersville, Jack Beazley, president, will present the beautiful drama, "Lady of Lyons," at the school house at Turnersville on Thursday evening, June 30. The proceeds will go for the purpose of buying a library. About 20 young ladies and gentlemen will take part and a good entertainment may be expected. Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents. UNFORTUNATELY for all concerned that East End bride we spoke of a few issues ago did not have the dropsy. Time has proved that she had been tempted from the path of virtue, a little stranger has arrived and hereafter husband and wife will go separate ways. They had only been married three months. Great sympathy is felt for the family, especially the father, who is utterly crushed by the revelation. SUDDEN DEATH.—The sad news of the sudden death of Walker Landram, son of Gen. W. J. Landram, of Lancaster, reached here yesterday, but we could get no particulars except that it was caused by hemorrhage and occurred at a Madison distillery, of which he had charge as storekeeper. He was a generous hearted fellow, liked by all and his wife and child, father and mother have our tenderest sympathy. WE got the names a little wrong in our report of the Somerset cowhiding in our last issue. Mrs. Will Vickery accused Mrs. Brown, a fascinating widow, of stealing her husband's affections and proceeded, as the crowd came out of the Barnes meeting, to cowhide her. Mrs. Vickery was arrested and put under bond, while her faithless husband left for the far West. Next day Mrs. Vickery, who seems to be a Tar or a Tarter, attempted to cowhide Mr. J. P. Hornaday, who sent a sensational report of the first cowhiding to the Courier-Journal and Cincinnati Enquirer, but the Reporter says he caught her and held her after she had gotten in one good blow. IN the county court yesterday the will of George Vaughn was admitted to probate. Special bequests are made to all his grand children and his wife, the residue to be equally divided between his two children. W. A. Hail qualified as executor. The will of Louisa McKinney was also probated and numerous overseers of roads were changed. All the magistrates met with Judge Varnon in the afternoon and by an unanimous vote decided to sell $9,000 in bonds to pay outstanding indebtedness and start the county on a cash basis. The bonds are to bear 6 per cent, and a committee composed of Messrs. W. E. Varnon, J. B. Paxton and G. B. Cooper appointed to sell them. The same committee was appointed to confer with the city council about putting a fountain in court square with the power to expend $100, but Mayor D. W. Vandever, who insisted that the county should pay for all, declined to entertain the proposition. MADE IT.—Parents had just as well let their daughters marry when they set their hearts on it, for they will do it, consent or not. Friday we told how Mr. P. E. Parrish had met Mr. W. L. Dudderar, who was on his way to steal his daughter, Miss Mary, and at the point of a gun made him retrace his steps. Mr. Parrish thought he had fixed matters, satisfactorily to himself at least, but his success was only temporary. Friday Mr. Parrish went to Danville and as soon as he had gone Miss Mary contrived to get a note to her Will, which read somewhat as follows: "Father has gone to Danville. Now is your chance if you want me." William stood not on the order of his going, but went at once, got the faithful little maiden and was soon going as fast as the train could carry him and his would-be bride to Jellico, Tenn. where they were married. Mr. Dudderar is about 19 and is the son of Col. W. H. Dudderar. His bride is much younger and very pretty.
