

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 18, 1893.

NO. 49

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—McCalla Fitzgerald has a fine new boy at his house.
—Jarvis Sutton jumped from a wagon Friday and broke his leg.
—You must all come and bring your families to the Laurel County Fair the 23d to 25th.
—Miss Mary Broughton, a beautiful brunette from Barbourville, is visiting Miss Lena Rogers.
—The following parties have secured license to marry during the month of August: Frank Overbay and Elizabeth Barnett; Wm. Burns and Amanda Cathers; Henry Heese and Eliza Fitzer; Samuel Oakley and S. E. H. Doughty, Geo. W. Blevins and Alice Loyd, G. W. Crawford and Rhoda Wilson.
—The two-year-old child of Sam Gaines, his youngest, died Monday night. Also the infant of W. F. Ramar, of Altamont, died Sunday night. Matt Elliott, son of Jesse V. Elliott, living near Lilly, departed this life Friday. There have been more deaths in this county in the past two months than ever known before in the same length of time.
—W. B. Catching and family are home again from Chicago and Washington City. Senator Ed Parker is back from his extensive mail letting and will weigh 75 pounds more than when he left. Warren Scoville has returned from a two weeks' visit to Madison county. Mr. John Pitman, of Stanford, was here to attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Nellie Pitman, at Pittsburgh.

—At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee it was decided that a convention to nominate a democratic candidate for the Legislature to represent Laurel and Rockcastle counties be called for Monday, September 11, 1893, and all democrats are requested to be at the court-house in London at 1 p. m. on that day. John Pearl, Chairman Democratic Committee; W. J. Litton, Secretary.

—On Thursday, 19th, Miss Nellie E. Pitman was married to Rev. G. D. Hyden, at Pittsburgh, Rev. J. Lapsley McKee, of Danville, officiating. The ceremony was performed in the church in the presence of at least 500 people. The pulpit was decorated with flowers and the bride and groom stood beneath a huge bell of flowers. Four little girls strewed roses in front of them when they entered the church and the ceremony was the most beautiful I ever heard. After the marriage refreshments were served to the immediate friends by Mrs. Robert McNeil. The evening was a delightful one to all who were fortunate enough to be present.

BRODHEAD.

—The Brodhead Roller Mills has resumed business with a new outfit.
—The Brodhead Brass Band played for the Pine Hill picnic at Mt. Vernon for the Ladies' C. A. Society.
—Brother Pike preached the funeral of Old Father, Daniel and little Tommie Bower at the Baptist church last Sunday.
—There was a drunken crowd in Brodhead Saturday attending the republican primary and some of them were pretty boisterous.
—Wm. H. Colyer and Miss Rob L. Yakey are on the sick list this week. Mr. J. G. Fritb, of our town, has been appointed storekeeper and gauger for this county.

—The writer was at Livingston last Monday and was informed by some of the officers of the election that they could not hold their election. They said that a part of the crowd was so drunk and acted so badly that they could not take the vote between the candidates and the result was they had to disband without knowing who the republicans of the district wished to vote for at the coming election.

—John A. Mullins, who had been in Pine Hill, was on his way home to Livingston, when he met some three or four of the crowd who had been in the proposed election and they were drinking. When Mullins met them he had his wife and children with him in a spring wagon. They commenced cursing Mullins and a man named Woods, who was also in Mullins' wagon, which soon resulted in a difficulty. Mullins was stabbed three times in the left side and once in the leg. Woods was hit with a rock on the neck. Two of the men on the other side were Jacob and Allen Jones. One of them was knocked down with a pistol in the hands of Mullins and also with a rock thrown by Woods. Mullins was at first thought to be fatally wounded, but it now appears that he will be up and all right in a day or two. I understand that Mr. G. L. Cook, a good, honest republican, said that if such conduct as they had was to be as he wished. We are glad to know that Mr. Cook has found out that the democrats are not responsible for all the meanness and drunkenness that happen in the land.

—Louisville not only provides its children with free school-houses and free teachers, but with free books.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The ground is getting very dry and the people are praying for more rain.
—Brother Frank continues to improve and the general belief is that he will recover and be out soon.
—The appearance docket of the circuit court foots up only about 52 civil cases, and none of them are of any magnitude.
—Owing to the hard times business seems to be at a standstill. An occasional drummer invades the town, but as a general thing they do not appear to be disposed to linger.
—Mr. VanSickle, of New Jersey, thought that a Bible was as safe as a bank and hid $1,500 between the leaves of his old family Bible. A thief entered the house and took $300 worth of jewelry, but never once thought of opening the Bible.

—The railroads, instead of reducing rates to Chicago, and giving encouragement to the people to visit the Exposition, have raised them again. The poor of the country are practically excluded from the Fair, as very few can afford to incur the expense incident to the trip.
—The run that resulted in the suspension of the Madison Square National Bank of New York is said to have been caused by a man who had $5,000 on deposit and who saw one of the chief clerks of the bank in a pool room betting on the races. This caused him to withdraw his deposit and started the panic.

—It is a matter of no wonder that the U. S. has lost its case in the Behring Sea controversy, after the two weeks' speech of her attorney. The commissioners, however, have expressed themselves as satisfied with the decision and are ready to be kicked individually and collectively by the British commissioners before leaving for their homes.

—The statement has been made that the probabilities are that Mr. Hornblower will be nominated to fill the vacancy on the bench of the supreme court. It is important that the senate should know whether he is a good hornblower and the kind of horn he blows, before he is confirmed. Representative Conn, of Elkhart, Ind., the maker of horns, ought to provide the new justice with a horn of his make and caution him against blowing his own horn.

—A careful observer has made a calculation and says that the ratio between Congressional talk and Congressional action is just about 45 to 1. There is one thing, however, the House has acted on promptly, in making provision for the payment of the mileage of its members. The California members get the neat little sum of $1,500 each, which is more than they would sell for if they were put up to the highest bidder. If a course estimate could be made of the value of their services, it would probably not exceed $15.

—During an Old Fellows celebration in Canada a few days ago the coat of arms of the United States was removed from the door of the U. S. Consul and up to this time has not been found, and they have not been able to ascertain the guilty party. It is supposed to have been done by some blasted Britisher and is a just cause for war. Without a coat of arms, how is the Consul to be able to transact the duties of his office? By all means, an apology should be demanded and the coat restore to the front door of the Consul and if this is not done, turn loose the big navy and kick up thunder generally.

—The speeches of the members of the House of Representatives are delivered chiefly to the speaker, most of the members absenting themselves from the House and seemingly taking but little interest in the debate on the silver question. At the expiration of the 14 days fixed for the discussion, the tug of war will come when the representatives of the people will be compelled to take their seats and show their hands. Much time and money might be saved by allowing each member to have his speech printed without delivery and proceed at once to vote. Red tape, however, and inflexible rules require certain definite modes of procedure, although in the mean time the country may go to the individual who is said to preside over Halifax.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Miss Lennie Graves, of Bainbridge quarreled with her lover, poor thing, and then went and spoiled her looks by hanging herself.

—Judge W. E. Varnon bound together as tightly as the law could make them the hearts and destinies of Wm. H. Wade and Miss Fannie McAninch, on the 15th. They are from the Mt. Salem neighborhood and the bride is a very pretty 18-year older.

—The youngest couple that ever got license here were granted a permit to marry yesterday. They are Thomas Houpe, aged 17, and Miss Mary Rogers, barely 14. Their parents ought to have switched them and put them to bed in separate rooms, instead of allowing them to take such a momentous step at so tender an age.

—Mrs. Nancy Buntou, aged 97, died at Harrodsburg.

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Messrs. B. F. Rose and R. D. Hill have returned from Knoxville.
—A nice rain fell here Monday morning. It was beginning to be needed.
—Rev. J. S. Jones filled the pulpit at the Baptist church last Sunday morning.
—Johnnie Moore, who had his leg broken some weeks ago by a mule kicking him, is able to be out again.

—Mr. C. R. Brock, of London, was in town on legal business, Mr. M. A. Moore went to Louisville Saturday.

—The Baptists are having quite a religious revival at the Briar Creek church, one mile south of town. Revs. Ingram and Stanfill are doing the preaching.

—On Wednesday evening of last week a party of friends gave Miss Carrie Myers a call and spent a very pleasant evening. Among those present was Dr. J. A. Amon, of Rowland.

—Mr. George W. Stephens, of Stanford, gave us a call last week. Mrs. J. S. Morris, of Beattyville, is visiting our town. Prof. Milford White is in Somerset in the interest of the Williamsburg Institute. Mr. Elbert Smith, of Jellico, was down to call on some of his friends here Sunday.

—Last Saturday evening a man by the name of Taylor, a coal miner, and a boy were fooling with an old pistol that Taylor said was not loaded, it went off, striking him in the forehead, but owing to the hardness thereof failed to penetrate and the next morning he was able to be out, a wiser man, with a slight headache and a three-inch wound over the right eye.

—Monday evening your correspondent, in company with several other young people, called on Mrs. J. C. Bateham, who has one of the finest collections of curiosities from various parts of the world that can be found outside of the large cities. She has traveled a great deal as a missionary, visiting almost all of the principal islands of both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans as well as the continents and has gathered her specimens during her travels, giving to each one a personal history which she enjoys relating.

MIDDLEBURG.

—Rev. Edgar Fogie will preach at Grove the 4th Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Janie Wash Institute opened Monday. We did not learn the number of pupils in attendance at opening. Miss Emerine Lapsley has charge of the primary department.

—D. G. Elliott sold his property opposite the Baptist church to J. C. Coulter for $1,200, taking $200 worth of stock as part pay. The property is the most desirable in town and Mr. Coulter has a bargain in it.

—The day session of the Teachers' Institute will be held at Janie Wash Institute and the night session at the Baptist church. Several distinguished educators are expected to be present and deliver lectures.

—P. H. Taylor, Dr. W. S. Lowder and J. C. Lay, candidates for the office of Superintendent of Public Schools, have been examined and received certificates of qualification. Taylor and Lay are republicans and Dr. Lowder is a democrat of the "true blue" type.

—If those who attend the institute here next week fail to have a good time it will not be the fault of the people here. Every preparation is being made to render the stay of the teachers and visitors pleasant and make the institute interesting. We predict one of the most successful meetings of the kind ever held in the county. We take the liberty to extend an invitation to Supt. W. F. McClary to be present.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a regular meeting of Cyclone Lodge No. 3816, Knights of Honor, held at Rowland, Ky., Aug. 14th, 1893, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas Bro. D. H. Lanahan has been called to join the Supreme Lodge, over which the Dictator of the Universe rules, be it

Resolved That we have lost a worthy and consistent member in whom the confidence of the lodge was freely placed.

2. That the community has lost a citizen of superior worth and a neighbor that cannot be replaced.

3. That we extend to the bereaved father, mother, brothers and sisters our sincere condolence in this hour of bereavement.

4. That we endeavor to emulate his course in life and prepare to meet him in the Lodge which shall never adjourn.

5. That these resolutions be published in the INTERIOR JOURNAL and a copy be delivered to the family.

D. A. TWADDLE, )
J. A. ANON, ) Committee.
M. D. HUGHES, )

—At Los Angeles, Cal., Chas Kinkade was badly beaten by Andrew Darling-house because he asked him "is it hot enough for you?" This is printed for the benefit of other people who are continually hurling this musty conundrum at the heads of offending acquaintances.—Georgetown Times.

HARVEY HELM.

Noticing the nomination of our next representative the Richmond Register says:

Harvey Helm will be one of the youngest members in the next General Assembly, being only about 27 years of age, but it is certain that he will reflect credit upon his county and upon himself. He graduated at Central University with the class of 1887, ranking with the leaders of his class, taking the medal for the best average in Greek. It was he who originated the idea of having the State Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Association and was the first president of that organization. He is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity and represented the chapter here at the Convention at Birmingham, Ala., in 1887.

HUBBLE.

—Mrs. Elzy Miller has returned to her home in Rochester, Ill.

—Wheat threshing is going on notwithstanding the low prices it brings.

—I am glad to note that I saw the I. J. in many homes in the mountains on my trip.

—Squire George P. Bright tells us he is a candidate for county judge and we are all ready to halloo: "Hurrah for the Squire!"

—Mrs. Sam Engleman and son Eph have moved to Jim Engleman's farm. Jim Engleman tells us he has bought a farm in Madison and wants to sell his farm here.

—Sawmy Bourne's daughter was thrown from an upset carriage Tuesday evening and broke her arm. Dr. Herrin was sent for and the young lady is doing very well at this time.

—Some days ago B. W. Givens and others were seeing in Jim Engleman's pond when they drew out an old water cooler with a lamb's hide and entrails in it, which had been sunk by tying a large rock to the cooler. I can not answer the next question: "Who stole the lamb?"

—Have just spent a week very pleasantly in the mountains of Russell, Casey and Pulaski counties at my old home and neighborhood. I am glad to say I found the people enjoying life and surrounded with splendid crops of all kinds. More hay has been put up there this season than in five years. They have had all the rain necessary to produce fine crops. They have all the fine fruit they can enjoy, with a good prospect for an abundance of mast for hogs. The chestnut crop is very promising at present. With all this around them no matter of hard times is heard except among a lot of mill hands who are out of employment by the shutting down of all mills. The timber is rapidly disappearing and at a very low price. There are 100 or more teams hauling from Short Creek, Adair county, and along the pike to Yosemite, to be shipped from that point. Stock in that county sells slow and low, but the majority of the people are out of debt and have learned long since to do without what they can not get, and thus they are not forced to sacrifice their property on slaughter sale or be heard singing hard times. Before I reached home I was informed that my store had been robbed, but the pleasantness of a good trip to the old home helped me to bear it well. When I arrived I was glad to find it was no worse than a few goods gone. My good wife and little girl were O. K., but for fear it may be worse when I leave again, I will give any one $25 who will find the party who took the goods. I mean what I say.

—The late W. R. Goff, of Shelbyville, who fell and killed himself last week, carried an insurance of $175,000 on his life.

—Mrs. Ray Young, who claimed Frankfort as her home and who cut a swell in Lexington and was belle at several big balls, has turned out not to be the wealthy widow she claimed, but on the contrary a fit subject for Mollie Irwin's house of ill-fame where she is now located.

—Pat Mehan, who represents the whisky house of Applegate & Sons, Louisville, shot and killed Robert McBride, a prominent citizen of Newnan, Ga., in Atlanta. Mehan claims that McBride made love to his wife. A letter was found on McBride's person admitting that he loved the woman, but declaring that there were mitigating circumstances.
