PERSONAL POINTS.

Mrs. J. S. Rice went to Louisville yesterday. Mrs. Sue Holmes was here this week, the guest of Miss Susie Lasley.

Miss Nettie Whay, who has been quite ill, has nearly recovered. Miss Emily Alexander has returned from a visit to Georgetown.

Miss Mary Kay is here enjoying the meeting at the Methodist church. Col. J. E. Binn has returned from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Fair, at Hartford.

Misses Sodie and Annie Ellis have returned from a visit on the Rolling Fork. Mr. James Walker Givens has gone to Lexington, Miss., with a car load of mules.

Mr. George A. Peyton and family will occupy Mrs. Kate Hays' residence on West Main Street. Mrs. Murphy went to Lexington yesterday to visit her grand-daughter, Mrs. Richard D. No-wood.

Miss Virginia Brown and Mrs. Mollie Devers, of Hustonville, were the guests of Miss Hortensia Myers. Jeff Jones and family have moved from the country to town and will hereafter be found on Logan Avenue.

Mr. George W. Trubler celebrated his 90th birthday this week and had a number of his friends to dine with him. Mrs. Annie E. Wilcher has returned home after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. Mollie Devers, at Hustonville.

Mrs. B. F. Jones is confined to her bed with a bronchial trouble. Frank Jones is also ill with a severe case of grip. Misses Maggie and Linda Orsley will accompany their brother, John S. Orsley, Jr., to Louisville to-day to see Patti.

Game Lackey, Jr., who has been very ill of inflammation of the liver, was able to be in town Tuesday, looking, however considerably like a ghost. Misses Ella May Saunders, Leatha Cook, Lottie Dillon, Virgie Ballard and Maud Pettus spent several days with Mrs. W. R. Dillon at Livingston and had a big time.

Misses Altie and Lizzie Marksbury, of Lancaster, went to Louisville yesterday to hear Patti. They were accompanied this far by our faithful and indefatigable reporter, Louis Landrum, Esq.

CITY AND VICINITY.

My cottage of 5 rooms for rent. Mrs. Mary Matheny. Your account will be ready January 1st. Call and settle. A. R. Penny.

Remember that M. F. Elkin pays the highest cash price for hides and all kinds of fur. Lost.—A pair of gold spectacles. Finder will please return to W. M. Bright and receive reward.

For rent.—Residence on Main street, recently occupied by Mrs. Bettie McKinney. Call on Mrs. Mary Matheny. For rent.—Cottage next to Rev. W. E. Ellis and the old Helm house and 25 acres of land for cultivation. Harvey Helm. Apply to Miller & Sowder.

Mr. J. W. Carrier has rented the Ferrell House at Rowland and opened a hotel, which he promises shall be first-class in every particular. See his card on this page. Having bought my brother's interest in our business, I will continue business at our old stand and hope by careful attention to merit a continuance of past favors. Respectfully, W. B. McKinney.

The regular settling time is at hand and I sincerely hope my customers will not delay in settling with me. I need money and trust that this hint will be sufficient to make you come and pay me. H. C. Ruple. Our firm being now dissolved we ask all those indebted to us to call and settle at their earliest convenience. Thanking you for past favors and soliciting a continuance with the new firm for 1894, we are yours, very truly, McKinney Bros.

A happy New Year to friend and foe and a cordial invitation to look at some of our specialties for this week. We must now reduce stock for the Spring trade and we invite all who would do good to themselves to come and see us. Our February Standard Fashion Sheets are now ready. Hughes & Tate.

The Somerset Banking Co., declared a dividend of 3 per cent.

FOR RENT—A 4-room house and lot on Whitley Avenue. C. C. Wathers.

BALANCE of holiday stock closed out at reduced prices. Danks, the Jeweler.

A FEW choice goods left over will go at reduced prices. To secure a bargain, go to Danks, the Jeweler.

BARGAINS in jewelry. Holiday stock must go to make room for new goods for '94. Danks, the Jeweler.

The little girl of Prof. and Mrs. B. F. Johnson, whose birth was noted in our last issue, died before it was a day old.

By the ditching of a freight train near Williamsburg, which wrecked five cars, the express north was delayed till nearly noon Wednesday.

A NEW BUTCHER SHOP.—Anderson Carr & Co. have opened a new meat shop on Lancaster Street and say they will handle the best of stock. They start out with 37 fat corn beef cattle and 65 fine hogs.

B. G. GOVER has bought the storehouse of J. M. Rayston near the depot at Lancaster for $1,200. He also bought the stock of goods at cost and turned them over to Mr. E. Brown who also rented the room.

SATURDAY'S Courier Journal will be one of peculiar interest to Stanford people. It will contain a four or five column letter from Prof. Stephen D. Wilds, profusely illustrated and descriptive of our facilities and advantages. See Agent A. A. Warren for extra copies.

FELIX B. TWIDWELL, has bought of J. G. Weatherford, of Hustonville, his stock of drugs, chemicals, fancy groceries, &c., and will continue the business at the old stand. Mr. Twidwell is a fine young man and we predict for him much success in his new enterprise. Mr. Weatherford is undecided what he will do, but you can bet your boots he will not be out of business long.

The Lincoln County men who offered for positions under the Legislature were disappointed in their ambitions. Mr. D. B. Edmiston, who would have made the Senate the best clerk in the history of the State, saw that Mr. Poore had the votes on him so he withdrew before a ballot was taken, giving his opponent a walk over. Mr. J. C. McWhorter had quite a field to contend with and we are sorry to say got left.

The city councilmen recently elected were sworn in Monday night by Judge Carson, with the exception of J. S. Hocker and W. M. Bright, who declined to serve. W. L. Withers and A. C. Sine were chosen in their stead. There were no contests for any of the offices in the gift of the board and the old officers were re-elected as follows: O. J. Newland Marshal, A. A. McKinney, treasurer and G. L. Penny clerk. It is Mayor S. G. Hocker now, gentlemen.

BIG BUTTER SALE.—Mrs. A. D. Underwood, of Rowland, is a thrifty housewife. In eight months she has sold from two cows, one of them but two years old, $133.28 worth of butter, besides giving away a good deal, and still having $4 worth on hand. A sample sent to this office told why it meets with such ready sale. If any of our lady readers can beat this record of Mrs. Underwood they will oblige us by letting us hear from them.

ONE ON HARVEY.—HON. HARVEY HELM nominated John C. McWhorter before the Legislature for doorkeeper. Many ladies were present and the Courier Journal correspondent says he convulsed the House by saying that it seemed to him that there were "a great many here without limbs," referring to the misfortunes of several of the candidates. A twitter of merriment began, and he made a thunder storm of it by adding quickly as he realized the presence of ladies, "Men, of course, without limbs."

ON Oct. 7, 1889, Mr. Thomas Raines then engineer for the L. & N. was forced to jump from his engine to save himself from a collision with a train that had broken in two. He was severely hurt in the right shoulder and arm, and since has been almost entirely disabled. He sued the company for $10,000 damage and two years ago a jury gave him $3,600. After a long time the Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment and then the company filed a petition for a rehearing, which was overruled. Being at the end of its rope, the company settled with Mr. Raines this week, the total amount being with interest and 10 per cent. damages, $4,454.80.

THE Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co. publishes in to-day's issue a semi-annual statement for the half year ending on January 1. It has within the last six months paid a dividend of 2 1/2 per cent., making a dividend of 6 per cent. for the year, paid off $249.87 of the small in debtness incurred in extending mains to new customers and retains on hand in cash $918.67. In other words, it has earned above all expenses for the year 1893 about nine per cent. on its capital stock, not a bad showing for an infant industry in the worst financial and business year of our history. The guaranteed stockholders, who are altogether home people, are paid of course a dividend of 3 1/2 per cent., making their dividend 7 per cent. for the year.

Your account is copied and do not delay paying it. W. H. Wear-en & Co.

THE indications are that the long spell of fine weather is drawing to an end. Rain and a cold spell are the probabilities.

PROF. W. D. TARDIFF, of the colored school has on exhibition at Jesse Thompson's barber shop a May pole platted by the little girls of his school. It is very ingeniously done and reflects credit on the little ones that took part.

The fellow who said that it took three or four weeks to get well of the grip after you were cured might be thought to have been guilty of an Hibernicism, but he never told a greater truth, as every one who has been afflicted with the miserable disease will readily attest. We do at least.

P. W. GREEN deserves the thanks of our citizens. He has ceased to ring that old bell, which has so long jangled out of tune over the Myers House, and will adopt more modern methods. The ringing of an old bell for meals and other things belongs with the blowing of a horn for lodge meetings to provincial places like Danville and Lancaster.

THE supervisors of the tax lists, Messrs. J. K. Baughman, S. T. Harris, John Turnbull and W. M. Higgins, have been at work all the week, but have made but few changes. L. D. Gooch was appointed on the board for the Waynesburg district, but being unable to come, Squire E. B. Caldwell, Jr., was sent for and arrived yesterday. The work will be completed to-day.

OWING to Mrs. Reuben Williams' disinclination to sign the deed of conveyance, the trade between her husband and Mr. Joseph Coffey for their residence has been declared off. Mr. Coffey and his excellent family will not leave us, however, for on Wednesday he rented the Coffey House for another year. He tells us that the property will be renovated and repaired from bottom to top and that the table shall this year be up to the highest standard. Mr. Walter Saunders will no longer be in the office, he having decided to read law. Who will succeed him Mr. Coffey does not yet know.

A GOLD BRICK swindler was in town the other day and evidently started out with the intention of working Mr. S. H. Shanks, but he soon found that he was after the wrong man, and gave up the attempt. He was about 55, with short full beard and said that in Arizona he was known as Big Foot Lige Thompson. He was in search of a brother of his former partner in a gold mine, one Oliver Shanks, so that he could turn over to him his portion of his brother's proceeds of it. To prove to Mr. Shanks that he was no fraud, he pulled out a package of what looked like money as big as your arm and exhibited what resembled a gold brick. He went on to tell how he and Oliver Shanks had befriended an old Indian, who in return for their kindness had shown them the mine, which they worked with great profit for years. Mr. Shanks didn't appear to be greatly interested in this recital and merely said that he had never heard of Oliver Shanks, adding "And be God, if I was in your place I wouldn't put myself to much trouble to find his brother." He left after some time, satisfied that he could not work his game, and this is printed to warn the credulous not to be taken in by him.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Eld. J. T. Brown, of Lexington, will preach at McCormicks at 11 A. M. Sunday.

—Rev. John Bell Gibson will preach at Rush Branch Church at 11 A. M. Sunday, Jan. 10.

—Eld. J. S. Sweeney, of Paris, announces that the subject of his next Sunday's sermon will be "The Midway Pleasance." If he makes it as lively as was the cosmopolitan gathering there, it will be worth going many miles to hear.

—After the morning service at the Presbyterian church Sunday, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. At night Rev. W. A. Slaymaker will preach his farewell sermon, after a prosperous and profitable pastorate of a year.

—The meeting at the Methodist church continues with unabated interest, although it has lasted nearly a month. Some 50 or more have professed religion and quite a number have become sanctified. Rev. H. C. Morrison preaches the doctrine of holiness with such earnestness that many who were disposed to scoff at it have embraced it.

—A big charity ball was to have been given at Knoxville but it will not come off. The ministers of the city opposed it and a Methodist pastor, Rev. Richardson, literally roasted the head men of the enterprise from his pulpit. After the sermon a committee waited on Mr. Richardson and sought to silence him by making a public offer that if he would put up $1,000 by 11 o'clock they would add another thousand for sweet charity. Imagine their chagrin when he deposited the amount before the prescribed time, and toilets will not be sprung just at present.

—The big Middleboro Hotel has closed its doors. It was always too rich for the blood of that section.

—Auditor Norman takes decided issue with the Governor on the tax question. He thinks it would be extremely inadvisable to reduce the rate of taxation this year. The auditor shows that there will be no burdensome surplus from this year's income.

—The Southern Land and Improvement Company, which owns 600 lots in Pineville and 18,000 acres of mineral lands near by, made an assignment and January 1, it defaulted interest on $480,000 mortgage bonds. John W. Buchanan, of Louisville, has been appointed receiver.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—John W. Young and Miss Eliza W. Yerkey of Highland, were married Wednesday.

—J. P. Gooch and Miss Bertha Reynolds, both of the Waynesburg neighborhood, were joined heart and hand yesterday.

—There were 17,429 marriage licences issued in the State during the last fiscal year, as against 16,288 the previous year, and business wasn't very good, either. —A Graves county man advertised for a wife; he gave a fictitious name and was answered by his sister. He now thinks advertising a fraud and the old folks think it is hard to have two fools in one family.

—John Girder has rented Mrs. Fogle's farm two miles from town and will move to it soon. Rev. J. G. Montgomery will move to Liberty. He would much prefer living here but could not obtain a suitable house in which to live. We regret to lose so good a citizen as Bro. M. —Middleburg Cor.
