WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY CO.

Last Monday was county court day. The prospects are that we will have another tide.

The doctors of our county have organized a medical society. Blackberries are so plentiful that they will not bring 5c per gallon on the market.

The 4th passed off as quietly as could be here, as most of our citizens spent it with our neighbors who had picnics.

Walker Mason was in Pineville this week attending circuit court. Mr. Samp Mahan is sick with fever.

Mrs. A. J. Curd and Mrs. Mattie Gibson have gone East on pleasure trip. He will visit various places of interest, including Old Point Comfort and New York, while gone.

Wm. Jones was killed at the home of Andy Ball in the east part of the county Friday night.

Enbanks Bros. sold their export cattle to Monte Fox at 3.85.

Jacob Robinson is up from Atlanta to see his brother, Will, who remains very ill.

Martha Ellen Todd, who was thought to be hopelessly ill some days ago, is on foot again.

Wheat threshing has begun in this community and the best sales so far has been 52c.

We regret to note that G. A. Swinebroad and others are losing hogs rapidly with cholera.

Joe Willmot's little boy fell and broke his arm Tuesday and Dr. Herring, who was called in to set it, reports him doing well at present.

Work on the Christian church here is progressing nicely. Foundation is about done and the work on building will begin next week.

John Underwood and Jim Wood Bourne caught about 150 fish during the rise in Dix River Monday, most of them near bank with their hands.

J. D. Miller tells us he has a Jersey heifer five months old, which his little girls have brought to her milk, and is now giving at least a pint at a milking.

Tuesday as Mrs. Hattie Tumeys and her brother, George Robinson, were driving from Robinson's over to this place their horse became frightened near here and started off at a break-neck speed, turning buggy over near Hammond's stock scales and dashing both out against the bank on side of pike.

George was lifeless for a few moments and Mrs. Tumeys was considerably scratched up, but there seems to be no serious damage done to them. The buggy was demolished. It is needless to say the animal was thought to be a family horse.

McKINNEY.

Misses Florence and Lillian Tanner and their guest, Miss Mayme Gill, went to Russell Springs Sunday to spend a week, accompanied by Messrs. Dwight Root, W. K. Shugars and Varney Tanner.

Mrs. M. V. Moore and Mrs. Geo. Alford left last Monday for Washington, D. C., where they will visit relatives.

Mr. Alford will visit her brother, Mr. Walter Bibb, who lives in Philadelphia, before she returns home.

Mr. B. Moore, of Gatesville, Texas, and Mrs. Jennie F. Montgomery, of Columbia, Ky., are visiting their brother, Dr. G. Moore, this place.

Miss Jael Garner, of Crab Orchard, is visiting her brother Mr. Walter Garner. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McClure are visiting relatives at Crab Orchard.

Miss Maggie Tabler has returned from High Bridge, where she has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. K. Winscott.

Mr. James McKinney went to Somerset last week. Miss Dora Yokum is visiting relatives at Lexington.

Miss Alice Gooch is visiting Mrs. James McKinney. Miss Amanda Bishop, of Hustonville, is visiting at her uncle's, Mr. F. M. Ware.

Mrs. J. T. Jones and her friend, Mrs. James Totten, of Stanford, were visiting Mrs. James Gooch, mother of the former.

Mrs. Bud Broadus and Armp Broadus are visiting Mrs. J. R. Rout, this place.

Miss Emily Butt and Mr. J. T. Butt, of Clarkdale, Mississippi, are visiting Miss Jessie Brown.

Miss Butt will spend the summer in Kentucky.

A hurricane at Pensacola, Florida, wrecked several houses, swamped many vessels in the harbor and caused damage estimated at $250,000.

Wires are prostrated and details are meager. No loss of life is reported.

The school census shows that Kentucky has over 738,000 school children.

Old People. Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters.

This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and an alterative. It acts only on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions.

Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 25c per bottle at W. B. McRoberts drug store.

SPRING LAMBS.

Row a Massachusetts Farmer Makes Good Money by Raising Them.

A correspondent of The Breeder's Gazette describes a Massachusetts farmer's way of rearing market lambs to get the top prices as follows:

At Cloverly farm can be seen a practical demonstration of how to produce spring lamb that will please the taste of an epicure. At this farm about 200 breeding ewes were kept during the winter.

Seventeen lambs were dropped in December, 1895, about four-fifths in January and only a few in February. One hundred and ninety-one living lambs were dropped and only two died at birth.

Almost the first lambs in Boston came from this flock early in February, and April 1 nearly 50 "springers" had been marketed, weighing from 52 to 57 pounds.

Recently a 7-week-old lamb was killed at the farm that dressed out 39 1/2 pounds net—a regular "butter ball."

These lambs have returned their owner from $10 to $12.50 each, net proceeds, and are wanted as fast as they will weigh over 50 pounds.

In fact, the demand has exceeded the supply and called for "springers" faster than the lambs were ready to ship.

This farmer values good blood, and bought his rams—choice Southdowns—and mated them with half blood, fine wool ewes, crossed with the Down breeds.

Corn silage makes a very satisfactory feed for making milk, with good hay and a liberal grain ration, while the lambs are supplied at all times with fresh clover rowen and a grain ration of cornmeal, bran and oil meal in a creep by themselves.

Nearly all of the lambs go to market in April and the ewes are sheared and turned to pasture for another season's work.

It seems almost certain that this lamb crop will bring $1,500 this year. These lambs are sold on commission in the open market of Boston and go for what they will bring.

Preparations are being made to increase the breeding flock to 400 ewes another winter, and the entire capacity of the farm buildings will be devoted to this work.

An experiment will be tried of feeding the sheep on rape before going into winter quarters next autumn.

This is not a picture of fancy farming, but a few plain facts that help to answer the question, How shall we make the farm pay a profit?

Docking.

That there is no cruelty in docking, as The Rider and Driver would have their readers believe, will not for a moment be credited by a single person of ordinary intelligence.

The "necessity" which the New York paper says "takes it out of the category of cruelty" does not exist and has never existed.

As well might it be said, should fashion declare in favor of one legged coachmen, that the amputation of the superfluous limb would not be an act of cruelty.

The supporters of this barbarous practice of docking may make all manner of excuses, but they cannot advance a single solid argument to show that a docked horse is in any manner rendered superior to one that has not been subjected to mutilation.—Horse World.

Live Stock Points.

Readers should remember that for late forage for sheep fall rape is first class. Cattle will also eat it readily and it makes excellent beef and milk.

To start sheep and lambs that are to be fattened in early winter nothing is equal to it. Plant the last days of July, on stubble land after the other crops have been cut. It may also be sown in corn after the last plowing is finished.

Stubble land is, however, better. By the last of September the rape will be from 1 to 2 feet high. Sheep may be turned in upon it in September, pasturing carefully at first of course.

When the land is clean, the seed may be sown broadcast. With weedy land, however, sow in drills or rows and clean out the weeds between the rows.

Rape sown so late as the middle of August has been known to mature in the north-west.

At the Texas experiment station an ingenious way has been found to get rid of the ticks which infest cattle in the southern states.

A large tank is first built 24 feet long, 7 feet deep and 4 feet wide at the bottom. It is wider at the top, so cattle may be driven into it easily.

The tank is filled nearly full of water. On top of the water is poured about 100 gallons of cottonseed oil. This floats on top of the water and covers it to the depth of an inch.

The tank is fixed in a trench dug in the earth. The ground slopes down to the tank at the entrance, so as to make an easy approach. It slopes gently up at the other end. A lot is fenced off around the tank and gates lead into it.

The cattle are driven into the lot and thence on into the tank one at a time. They naturally swim to the far end of it. As they climb out their bodies become coated with the cottonseed oil.

This kills the ticks. Dipping two or three times during a summer will keep the animals rid of the pests. We would like to see spraying with a mixture of the cottonseed oil tried, to ascertain whether that would not produce the same effect.

There is something stirring, thrilling even, to the eastern man in the great flocks and herds of live stock that are gathered at the shipping points of the west.

Denver is a great distributing point for the horses, cattle, hogs and sheep that are sent from the southward to the north to be prepared for market or marketed directly.

From Tucson, A. T., there were recently at the Denver stockyards 1,000 yearling steers and as many from other points.

To the small eastern farmer who keeps a few cows and sells a steer or two from them annually the western yards and round ups give the impression of a sea of live stock.

In good weather always feed fattening cattle outdoors. Out clover for the silo just when you would cut it for hay.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

Balk Line and Lucy Lee, both in Carroll Reid's stable, have won purées at Latonia in the last few days.

Louis Walz bought of B. Chancellor a small lot of heifers at 2 1/2 and of C. C. Withers a few shoats at 2 1/2.

Woods & Lynn made $2.50 per head on the cattle they bought of Free Silver Johnson and sold at Paris Monday at $28 a head.

Sidney Dunbar sold a lot of hogs to D. N. Prewitt, at 3 cents and J. A. Hammond sold him some 40-lb. shoats at same price.

Granville Cecil, Jr.'s cattle gained 449 pounds each in five months and averaged when delivered 1,221 pounds.—Advocate.

J. C. Johnson, of Boyle, bought of East End parties a lot of butcher stuff at 2 1/2 and a bunch of two year-old heifers and steers at 3c.

Stuart Taylor weighed up to John Embry Saturday about 50 cattle, 1,325 lbs. at $3.85. A week or two ago 3 1/2 was the best price offered for export cattle.

During the past week John Embry bought 400 in Montgomery. He paid 4 cents for 250 and 3 3/8 for the remainder.—Winchester Democrat.

Squire U. S. Coyle filed the free turnpike petition before Judge Burnam yesterday. There were 1,511 names signed to it.

The matter was continued to the August term, when the final motion and order will be made.

J. C. Miller sold 85 hogs to Bales & Wagers last week that weighed in the aggregate 20,035 pounds at 3 cents.—Richmond Pantagraph.

Fourteen-year-old Dora Reynolds, of Steubenville, O., swallowed a teaspoonful of Paris green because her brother reprimanded her for staying out late at night.
