SEVERAL car loads of coal. See J. B. Higgins before buying.
LOGS WANTED.—I will pay cash for large poplar logs. A. C. Sine.
HENRY KIDD, for disorderly conduct at Rowland, was fined $5 and costs.

HE IS HERE.—Mr. M. D. Elmore is in receipt of a letter from Dr. E. M. Wiley, of the Eastern Asylum at Lexington, saying that John Whitt, who was a "trusty," had escaped. Mr. Whitt was sent from here last year and hardly had Mr. Elmore read the communication when in walked the man in question, who seems to be in perfect condition mentally. Mr. Whitt is 70-odd but his walk from Lexington did not hurt him in the least.

RELIGIOUS.
Rev. George O. Barnes is now at Frankfort.
Elders J. L. Allen and J. G. Livingston are holding a protracted meeting at Moreland.
Evangelist W. T. Brooks closed his Corinth, Ky., revival with 88 additions to the church.

MR. J. A. ALLEN has been engaged to manage the building of the Baptist church at Proachersville, work on which will be begun next week.
MRS. J. CARVER JONES and children, who have been spending the summer at Mr. W. P. Grimes', left Tuesday for their home at Kapsas City, Mo.

VERY large line of goods of all kinds to be sold cheap for cash. Farris & Hardin.
GEN. GORDON.—Walton's Opera House, Oct. 4th; "First Days of the Confederacy."
W. W. WITHERS is preparing to make some extensive improvements in the front of his store.

A WOMAN HANGS HERSELF.—Mrs. Silas Messer, who lived just beyond the tollgate on the Knob Lick pike, hung herself Tuesday afternoon while her husband was in town and her children, a girl of 13 and a boy of 11, were at school. When her little nephew, Porter Ladin, went to the house no one responded to his knock and he went into the new room that is being added to the small house, and there to his horror he found his aunt swinging by a rope, which had been carefully tied to a joist. He started after Mr. Messer and finding that he had returned, imparted the awful news to him. On reaching the house the husband took the rope from her neck and laid her on a bed and hurriedly sent for Dr. L. B. Cook, but death had already come and nothing could be done. The children came in from school while an I. J. reporter was there and the scene that followed would have touched a heart of stone. The daughter prayed fervently that her mother might be spared "just one hour" while both of them hugged and kissed the prostrate form. Judge Dawson came with Dr. Cook and he decided that a coroner's inquest was unnecessary as it was readily apparent that Mrs. Messer came to her death by hanging herself. The deceased was 62 years old and had been married twice. She was a daughter of Henry Blankenship, of the Preachersville vicinity, and her first husband was Aaron Turpin, by whom she has two children. She was married to Mr. Messer during Christmas of 1881. For some time her mind has been unbalanced at times and she had told her husband more than once that she intended to destroy herself. The noose of the cotton plow line which was used was not more than four feet from the floor and her determination to die was shown by the fact that it was necessary to hold her feet up to carry out her purpose. The chair which she jumped from was standing close by and the rope looked as if it had been greased in order to make it slip easier. No note or anything has been found to tell why she did the fearful deed, but notwithstanding she was in good spirits when her husband left her it is naturally supposed that the condition of her mind caused her to take her life.

Our people do not thank the Middlesboro Presbyterians for trying to toll their pastor away, but it will be love's labor lost. We are not going to give Rev. S. M. Logan up to an ex-magico or any other city.
Rev. W. S. Grinstead will preach his farewell sermon for this conference year at the Methodist church Sunday, Rev. C. H. Neal will preach at that church Sunday night on "The Scriptural Mode of Baptism."
Parties having Song Books belonging to the Christian church are requested to bring them in at once, as they will be needed during the protracted meeting which begins Sunday, A. A. Warren, chorister.

SEVEANCE & SONS.
Come and investigate that you may know the above is true.

THE Richmond Climax says that Mr. William G. Lackey secured his lucrative position with the M. K. & T. railroad on recommendation of Clarence E. Woods, grand recorder of the Sigma Nu Fraternity, of which Mr. Lackey is an honored member. The paper also takes occasion to pay Mr. Lackey some high compliments, all of which are deserved.
SPEAKING of happy men, if you want to see one gaze on President Jesse S. Hoeker, of the First National Bank. His wife presented him with a boy Tuesday and since then he has been stepping unusually high, for it was the desire of his heart to have a son and namesake. Jesse Shy Hoeker, Jr., is the name that has been given the boy and may he prove an honor to his mother and father.

BEAR in mind that the sale of Forest Home, the residence of the late Horace S. Withers will occur Tuesday next, 14th. The farm of 170 acres is a very fine one and there is much stock to be sold, in addition to some fine Jersey cattle and good road horses.
ASSAULT, &c.—Harrison Simpson, of the West End, came here Wednesday and swore out a warrant against Ben Ferrill, of Moreland, charging him with assault and battery, abusive language, &c. Deputy R. M. Newland went up yesterday to serve the writ.

THE Cumberland Presbytery commenced at Walnut Flat last night and about 30 preachers and delegates were expected. The session will hold over to-day and to-morrow and will be followed by a protracted meeting by the pastor, Rev. G. H. Turner.
Elder J. G. Livingston writes from Moreland: I have just closed a very successful meeting at Bethel church

THE Science Hill base ball club, with the assistance of six base ball players from Somerset, and the Kingsville club played two lively and hotly contested games on the latter club's grounds, writes C. G. Baker. The game in the forenoon resulted in a victory for the home team after 10 innings, the score standing 11 to 10. The afternoon game was won by the visiting team, 17 to 11.
