The Federal Court of Claims has allowed on old war demands to Morris J. Harris, Jr., administrator of Morris J. Harris, deceased, late of this county, $777, and to James Doolin, of Pulaski, $218.

PUT IT TO HIM.—Squire W. A. Coffey fined Martin McCormack, the blind Negro pensioner, $50 and costs for disturbing religious worship at Turnersville. As old Mart is getting $72 a month he can afford to have a little fun occasionally.

POSTS.—H. C. Berry, of Highland, has a contract to deliver 8-feet locust posts in Danville at 45c. A two-horse wagon hauls 25 and it takes him from 4 A. M. to 7 P. M. to make the round-trip, so it will be seen that he hasn't much chance to get rich at the business.

THE residents on the Danville pike just beyond the tollgate have named their suburb Hogeys, and made Mr. J. E. Bruce, mayor. O. P. Huffman is city judge, T. M. Goodknight, city attorney, and John Engleman, marshal. "No taxes and no improvements" is the town's motto.

GRADUATES.—The following pupils of Prof. E. L. Grubbs successfully passed the examination held Thursday and Friday last under Supt. Garland Singleton and Examiners L. R. Hughes and Miss Kate Hogle: The pupils and their averages are Caswell Sauley, 84; Everett Hall, 82; James Carpenter, 79; James Phillips, 78, and Chas. Wright, 75.

DEATH.—Mrs. Seba Shaeckelford, relict of Eld. Zack Shaeckelford, died at John Myers', the home of her only daughter, early yesterday morning, aged 72, of softening of the brain. She was a member of the Christian church for many years and was an excellent woman. The funeral services will be conducted at the Moreland church to-day, 1st, at 10 o'clock by Eld. J. G. Livingston.

THE Franklin circuit court indicted the Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co. for failure to report to the auditor and pay its franchise tax. The penalty is a fine of $500 to $1,000 and $50 a day for every day's failure after the specified time to do so. About 100 other corporations are indicted, including nearly all the telephone companies in this section, the Harrodsburg Water Co. and the Electric Light Co., of the same town.

SOMERSET suffered a disastrous fire Friday, entailing a loss of $70,000. It broke out in H. Klein & Son's store in the Wait block and soon spread to the Gibson block. The Gibbler Bros. are the heaviest losers, their loss being stated at $25,000, with $15,000 insurance. The other losers are E. J. Haley, S. G. Cundiff, John Slesenger, L. D. Patton, Hall estate, Dr. Wirt, Dr. J. M. Owens, R. H. Bartell, C. S. Porter and others.

STORMED.—The following young people stormed that clever old bachelor, F. Kenley Tribble, Friday night and were royally entertained: George Farris, Miss Mary Elkin, Jack Beazley, Miss Byrd Givens, Harry Baughman, Miss Georgia Wray, Carroll Bailey, Misses Clara and Ophelia Lackey, R. L. Bosley, Miss Mary Bright, L. C. Bosley, Miss Lillian Forsythe, Abe Smith and daughter, Miss Pamela and George W. Pulliam.

She was formerly Miss Hattie Finch-paugh and lived in Hamilton county, O., until she moved with her husband to the Kingsville section a number of years ago. She was a splendid, Christian woman and for years had been a member of the Methodist church, holding her membership at Highland at the time of her death. A husband and four grown children survive her and in their great loss they have the sympathy of all who know them. At noon to-day the remains will be laid to rest at Highland after services by Rev. J. M. Cook.

WILL sell publicly county court day 15 shares of First National Bank stock, in five share lots. E. B. Hayden.

WANTED.—A small blue grass farm, with plain improvements, near a good town. Address Box 56, Middleboro.

THE inability to open a water plug during the Somerset fire caused many thousand dollars' loss. This should be a warning to the Stanford fire company. Try the plugs occasionally and don't let such a thing happen here.

TWO-THIRDS of winter is gone and as yet less than two inches of snow have fallen. Unless the cold snap now promised makes ice, the chances are that the factories will have to be relied on as not a pound has been housed so far. Joe Hayden is smiling and shaking hands with himself over the prospect.

YESTERDAY was all sorts of a day. After more rain a chill n. w. wind searched for the spines of those who had business out of doors and ever and anon blew gusts of snow in their faces. One minute the sun would burst out of the clouds to be obscured the next by darker ones. A moderately cold wave with the mercury below 20 is predicted for to-day, which will also be fair.

FANCY CORN.—Buck Hiatt showed us an ear of corn Saturday which for variety of color takes the cake. The greater number of grains are pink, but the rest are about equally divided between black, white, red and yellow. By the way Mr. Hiatt's mean cow, spoken of in our last, went crazy the following day and had to be killed. He is not a little uneasy lest some of his family who had been drinking her milk might become demented.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—Elder Jasper G. Livingston had a message from Palm Beach, Fla., that his brother, Col. J. H. Livingston, who had resided there for 10 years, was found dead in bed, the physician pronouncing that death had resulted from paralysis of the heart. Col. Livingston was well-known by our older citizens, who speak of him as a fine man and gallant soldier for the Lost Cause, being one of Morgan's men, who suffered and bled for it. He was 63 years of age and just after the war married Miss Mollie Myers, of Garrard, and she with four children survives him. He was engaged in the real estate business and stood high in financial as well as religious circles, being a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. Of the original family of eight, there only remains now Elder Livingston, Mrs. Sallie J. Pennington and Miss Belle Livingston. Col. Livingston built and kept the first hotel at Livingston, Ky., and from it the place got its name.

RELIGIOUS READING. The bequests of charity last year were in a million of dollars excess of 1896, aggregating $14,374,800. The Episcopal church was the greatest beneficiary, heading the list with $1,026,600. The 23rd anniversary of the consecration of Rt. Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudley, D. D. as bishop of Kentucky was celebrated at Louisville. The bishop officiated at holy communion and was assisted by all the Louisville clergy.

Eld. J. L. Allen, of Danville, assisted Eld. J. G. Livingston in the installation of the following officers of the Moreland Christian church Sunday: Hon. B. B. King, Russell Jones, John Myers, T. H. Smiley and Sam Jones. Mr. James McAllister was baptized and received into the church.

An old lady was praising her preacher, and among other things she said: "He is an angel in sheep's clothing."—A Louisville pastor called at a house and invited an old lady to attend church. She replied: "I tell you what, I've got as much to contend with here at home as I can stand."—Baptist Recorder.

Miss Sarah Scrogan, daughter of the Jefferson county horseman, was crushed to death by a Southern train Saturday at Stine's Station. She was the betrothed of Harvey Watterson, son of the editor, and was on her way to become a member of a house party at Miss Watterson's.

Miss Harriet Bainbridge Richardson, of battleship Kentucky fame, is to wed Mr. James Tandy Ellis, the well-known poet and writer of Ghent. An old engagement which had been broken was renewed by Mr. Tandy's defense of Miss Richardson's claim to christen the ship, published in the Louisville Dispatch.

Gov. Bradley has offered rewards for the arrest and conviction of tollgate raiders in Nelson county. Jesse C. Lynn bought of a German 17 sheep at $4 and of another a bunch of same at same price.

On the Lake Shore railroad is a 69-mile stretch of straight road, the longest in the world. Mrs. Lucille Blackburn Lane, who shot herself at Washington, is said to be dying.

Land and a Living are bestand cheapest in the New South. Land $3 to $5 an acre. Easy terms. Good schools and churches. No blizzards. No cold waves. New illustrated paper, "Land and a Living," three months for 10 cts. in stamps. W. C. Rinearson, G. P. A., Queen & Crescent Route, Cincinnati.
