LANCASTER COURT.—There were 150 cattle at Lancaster yesterday, but buyers were few and not many of them were sold. A few steers went at 44c and heifers at 35 to 4c. Cows and calves brought $30 to $35 and springers $25 to $30. The horse and mule market was dull.
Two mammoth steers attracted more attention than any cattle seen on the streets here in years. The two weighed 3,840 pounds—one 1,900 and the other 1,940. They were raised by B. Buton, of the Lucas county, who sold them to Harry Lazarus at 5c a pound, or $192 for the pair.—Glasgow Times.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DERBY.

Louisville Meeting Begins Monday, April 29th.

Not since Aristides won the Kentucky Derby, back in '76, has a greater interest been manifested in the outcome of this classic event than is now being taken in the result of the 27th Derby to be decided April 29th, at Churchill Downs. With a promised field of nearly a dozen colts, the cream of the Western turf, it will auspiciously mark the opening of the 12 days' racing, with a stake each day, in which the very best horses will participate. The demand for stable room has been unprecedented. There will be over 1,000 horses at Churchill Downs when the meeting begins. There will be five or more races each day, including a stake, and there will be liberal additions to the purses. The railroads have put on special rates, and the fare from here will be one fare on Derby Day, April 29th, Clark Day, May 6th, and the Oaks, May 11th; and other days a fare and a third. The Derby will be run the opening day, April 29th, followed by the Debutante Stakes, the Turf Congress Handicap, Bluegrass Stakes, Clark Stakes, Wagon Stakes, Frank Fehr Stakes, Juvenile, and the Kentucky Oaks, in the order named. These constitute the biggest stakes of the Western turf, and on Friday, May 10th, the Gentlemen's Cup race, which has become such a feature, will be decided.

Marion Kooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine millinery at 1658 Milwaukee Avenue, Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to attend my work during the day. One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION, NEW ORLEANS.—Low rates, one fare the round trip to New Orleans and return, is announced by the Queen & Crescent Route for May 7, 8 and 9, at count Baptist convention as above. Tickets will be on sale one fare for the round trip. Finest trains in South are at the service of Queen & Crescent patrons. Ask ticket agents for particulars.

C., to Louisville, the line to pass through East Tennessee and enter Kentucky from Pickett county, Tennessee, touching the towns of Albany, Jamestown, Columbia, Greensburg, Hodgenville, Elizabethtown and into Louisville.

Obituary.

The death of Hugh Martin, son of R. S. Martin, of Brodhead, has cast a gloom over that entire community. A young man in whom there was every prospect of an honorable, upright business life, has been suddenly brought to an end. One in whom his father, now somewhat worn with an active business life, was beginning to place the responsibility of a business that had been the outcome of a small beginning but had grown to one of considerable magnitude. Hugh "was a good boy," such was the expression of all who knew him, and for a father whose hope is suddenly blighted, the deepest sympathy is felt. While the kind expressions of sympathy of our friends help us bear the sore trials of life, yet they fail to heal the wounds made by deep sorrow.

But the sympathy of Him who can be touched with a feeling of our infirmity and who himself bore our sorrows, can heal and give that comfort, without which our hearts would break. And so we are enabled to say "He doeth all things well."

All that remains of Hugh Martin was buried in the family burying ground Thursday afternoon, April 18, where many sorrowing relatives and friends, including a delegation of the order of Red Men of Junction City, stood around the grave, thus showing their love and esteem for one who was a model young man. May his virtues be emulated and his good deeds kept in memory.

A TESTIMONIAL FROM OLD ENGLAND.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is for sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

The governor of Indiana may protect W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky, from the operation of the law, but it would scarcely be wise to exploit him on the platform at the State convention of the republican party. There is still a nauseated condition of the public stomach on account of the honors conferred upon Taylor at the National convention in Philadelphia last year.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The editor and his wife disagree with each other very materially. She sets things to right and he writes things to set. She reads what others write and he writes what others read. She keeps the devil out of the house as much as possible and he retains him and could not go to press without him. He knows more things than he writes, and she writes more than she knows.—Ex.

Notwithstanding the two military shops with the latest and prettiest styles imaginable and two pretty, accomplished trimmers, the military business is dull, probably owing to the continued cool weather.

The mid-winter weather of the last few days has made the people of this locality believe that the seasons are flowing backward.
Elder A. R. Moore preached an able and highly beneficial discourse Sunday morning at the Christian church on "An Enduring Foundation."
The Social and Industrial Circle has an appointment to hold its next meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Elizabeth Brown on Danville Avenue.

Miss Earl Chenault, of Richmond, is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Elmore. Miss Sue Whitley Murphy, of Lincoln, has been visiting Miss Bessie Batson. Miss Allen Alexander, of Burksville, is the guest of Mrs. Ed Allen.
A Louisville capitalist proposes to invest some of his money in this city by establishing both a laundry and a canning factory here. Such opportunities for the town should receive all the encouragement it is possible to extend.
Mr. and Mrs. George Wright, who left here less than a month ago to locate in Indiana, have returned to this place, regarding this Commonwealth as the best of the whole United States. They contemplate a removal to Stanford.
Miss Bettie Doores and brother, Jas. Doores, who have been very ill during the winter from the effects of the grip, are both again quite sick. John L. Doty, son of Alex. Doty, is reported ill of chills and fever. Miss Jennie Duncan, after a severe illness, is convalescing.

The liberal offer of A. H. Bastin to give the proceeds of Saturday's telephone exchange to the Methodist parsonage fund, will result in a gift of about $20. Many such beneficent contributions would soon fill the church coffers.
Miss Florence Harris, who left over a month ago for a protracted visit to relatives in El Dorado, Arkansas, returned home Thursday night because of the prevalence of smallpox in that section. Twenty cases were reported in the immediate locality she was visiting.
Miss Isabella Walker, daughter of A. K. Walker, who has spent several months in Louisville taking a course as nurse at one of the hospitals, will return in a short time and complete the training. She has filled a place at the hospital with which Dr. Woods Oglivie is connected.
Mr. Joseph Francis and family, who have been living in Stanford for about a year, were to move to their Garrard farm recently purchased of W. B. Jarvis, yesterday or today. Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis will visit among relatives for a few weeks, and then think of locating in Louisville.
A number of sportsmen have recently tried their luck with hook and line in Dix and Kentucky rivers. Messrs. R. H. Batson, Fred Frisbie, Claude Wherritt, J. E. Stormes and others have indulged in the pleasure and some rather fair specimens of the finny tribe were caught.

Robinson and others will deliver addresses at the Christian church, after which the organization will repair to the Hotel Garrard, where T. B. Long will furnish an elaborate menu.
The rain and bad weather generally are interfering with corn planting and other work of the farmer. Hemp sowing is about completed and the prospects are for Garrard to still draw considerable revenue from this industry. Mr. Joel T. Walker and son, William, have put into cultivation their fine piece of bottom land on the North side of Dix river and no doubt will make a goodly sum from this field of hemp.
The Big Four Minstrels advertised for Friday night showed up in best appearance, notwithstanding the very inclement evening. Considering the weather the door receipts were fairly good, amounting to $27.50. As the show was composed entirely of home talent with the exception of the mandolin player, Dan Jones, of London, the whole performance was pronounced very creditable for a set of amateurs. The acrobats, Willie Fox Logan, Homer Tinsley and Walter Hudson; the Buck and Wing Dancer, Herbert Kinaird and the end men, Will West and Lewis Herndon, were said to compare very favorably with professionals.

"Severe weather is past. From now on we will have balmy weather. The fruit crop will be the largest in years."
—Maj. Hersey, weather forecaster at Louisville.
The major seems to have shot off too soon. The present spell looks like it has come to stay.
