E. C. WALTON.

W. P. WALTON.

Is a Candidate for Railroad Commissioner for the 24 District, subject to the will of the democracy.

Those who think that all of the push and go a-headiveness in the country is found in the North and West would change their belief were they to visit Atlanta, known in many States as the "Pride of the South." Twice burned and one time hardly enough left to tell the tale, this "Gate City of the South" now has over 100,000 inhabitants, fully 600 manufactories, the best street railways and more imposing business houses and residences than any city save Louisville South of the Mason and Dixon line. The devastation during the war gave the then growing town a severe setback, but she "cut and come" again and has since been making rapid strides to the fore-front. Since the writer was there some three years ago many marked improvements have been made, including the erection of a half-dozen office buildings, ranging in height from 10 to 15 stories and costing from $750,000 to over $1,000,000 each, the most magnificent of which is "The Empire." It is 14 stories, absolutely fire-proof, and looks large enough to easily accommodate every man, woman and child in Lincoln county. It was built by one of Atlanta's wealthiest citizens and will be a grand monument to his memory after he shall have joined the silent majority. The Piedmont Hotel, to be 12 stories and contain nearly 1,000 rooms, is under construction and is attracting much attention. Another opera house is going up, while still another is being planned. This will give the Gate City as many play houses as Louisville and a better and more up to date lot. A consolidation of all the street railways, effected last week, gives even better service. By this one can ride from East Point to Decatur, about 13 miles, for five cents. There are a number of other trips of about the same distance that can be taken for a similar amount. The Federal prison, just built in the suburbs, will be worth considerable to the city. Over a million dollars have already been expended by "Uncle Sam," who says he expects to "blow in" as much more in getting the buildings and grounds in good condition. This is the only Federal prison south of the Ohio river and evil does from all over the South will be sent there. There are now about 150 in stripes, including a dozen Indians. Another bunch of red skins is expected soon. At the 600 manufactories mentioned almost everything imaginable is made, thus enabling Georgia's capital to be independent to a great extent of the outside world. Fortunately she does not have to depend on the surrounding country for support, for the soil is the worst looking that mortal eye ever rested on and as an agricultural section it must be very poor. Fairly good cotton can be raised on it, but it takes lots of fertilizer to grow even that. The cotton crop last year was distressingly light in Georgia and on account of it an advance to 8c has been made. A beautiful white building in Atlanta is the Carnegie Library, to the erection of which the philanthropic Scotchman donated $140,000. Most of the books in it were taken from the old city library, while many were presented by Georgia's liberal citizens. The political pot is warming up just now. There are only two candidates for Governor, but they are each making a hot fight. They are present Attorney General Terrell and Hon. Dupont Guerry, with the chances greatly in favor of the former. The date for settling the question of a nominee has not been named yet. Mr. Guerry spoke at the Grand Opera House Friday night and went after his opponent in a way that would "call for blood" in Kentucky. As a nomination means election in that State the fighting is done in the first round. The Kentuckians who are now Atlantians by adoption are all doing well and are among that city's most substantial citizens. Among them are Dr. W. Simpson Elkin, Messrs. T. R. Walton, C. K. Crow, Will Elkin, W. S. Watson, D. B. Carson, John R. Brooks and Geo. H. and S. T. Woodson, each of whom is adding both to his bank account and good name.

The disgraceful row between the two South Carolina Senators, Tillman and McLaurin, culminated Saturday afternoon in a fist fight during a session of the most august deliberative body in the world. Tillman accused McLaurin of selling his vote for federal patronage, when the latter arose and said it was a "willful, deliberate and malicious lie." Tillman jumped over some chairs and struck McLaurin in the face and the two clinched. It was with difficulty that they were separated and order restored.

Senator Tillman characterizes as a personal insult the president's withdrawal of an invitation to him to attend the White House dinner in honor of Prince Henry, and he says in effect that the president is no gentleman.

PRINCE HENRY is at last on American soil and the country breathes easier.

It is said that the Senate will censure Senator Tillman for his fight with Senator McLaurin and it is probable the latter will be exonerated. The apologies of the Senators are not deemed sufficient and both will remain suspended from privileges for 30 or 60 days. There is talk of the belligerents settling their differences on the field of honor, but we'll wager a year's subscription to the cheapest and best that they do not.

POLITICAL.

The State Senate passed the McNutt Insurance bill.

Indiana populists will send delegates to the Louisville conference in April.

The office of First Assistant Postmaster General has been tendered to Harry S. New, of Indianapolis.

The Indiana democratic State committee decided to hold the State convention at Indianapolis June 4.

Ex-Sheriff H. H. Heulner, of Monticello, is a candidate for the democratic nomination for State treasurer.

Senator Whitehead's bill to allow women to vote in presidential elections was defeated by a vote of 23 to 7 at Frankfort.

The House Territories Committee reported favorably a bill to admit to Statehood, New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.

The Lower House of the Ohio Legislature placed itself on record as being in favor of electing the United States Senators by a direct vote of the people.

Pending judicial construction, Commissioner Yerkes will not enforce his ruling that all banks are liable to a tax on undivided profits, as well as capital and surplus.

President Frye, of the Senate, has notified the clerks to omit the names of Senators McLaurin and Tillman in calling the rolls. This practically suspends them from all Senatorial functions.

Louisville tobacco manufacturers say they will be compelled to remove from the State if the Legislature passes the bill requiring them to label their goods with the ingredients used in their preparation.

Circuit Judge Owen decided the Owensboro mayoralty contest Saturday, holding that Jewell, the republican incumbent, was elected by a majority of 76 votes, and that the question of illegality raised by Pettit, the contestant, was insufficient.

On being asked by one of his constituents what he was doing in Congress, Congressman South Trimble, of the 7th district, said: "What am I doing? Well, I will tell you. I am voting on all questions in accordance with democratic principles, distributing garden seed, drawing my salary, establishing rural free delivery where the people want it." What more could his constituents expect of him in a republican Congress?

James A. Shuttleworth, the Louisville philanthropist, has presented the Danville Polytechnic Seminary and Normal Institute, colored, with a new steam laundry plant, valued at about $2,500. The institute is under the management of Isaac Fisher, who is a graduate of the State University of Louisville.

The Philippine Tariff bill passed the Senate yesterday afternoon by a party vote of 46 to 26. In many respects the session was memorable. Senator McComas and Wellington, during the afternoon, became involved in a controversy, and the latter accused his colleague of uttering a "malicious falsehood." He was promptly called to order, and the incident was closed.

A concession of 20 per cent. off of tariff duties on imports will probably be the ultimate outcome of present Cuban reciprocity negotiations. Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee resolved to submit such a proposition to a caucus of republican members of the House, together with an important condition attached, namely: That before the concession becomes operative, Cuba must enact our immigration laws.

In the Marion circuit court the Boyle National Bank, of Danville, obtained a judgment against Dr. Dewitt C. Tucker, of Marion county, for $11,000. ## MIDDLEBURG.

A. H. Royalty is teaching a singing school at the Christian church; considerable interest is being taken.

The school here is holding up well to the satisfaction of both teachers and pupils. Two months of the school have passed.

Quite a crowd attended the auction at Jones & Wheat's Saturday and many bargains are reported. There are some prospects of a new mercantile firm in Middleburg in the near future.

Farmers have made little or no preparation towards cropping for the coming season, on account of the very inclement weather that has prevailed. The wheat outlook is anything but encouraging.

A most enjoyable social was given at Rice Wilson's Saturday night in honor of Miss Myrtle Acey, of Yosemite, and a Mr. McBeath, of Russell county. A good crowd of the elite of both sexes were out en masse and made merry 'til a late hour.

The present winter has undoubtedly been the severest in years. The river has hardly been free of ice in 10 weeks, while snow has almost as unenviable record. As farmers have had to stuff their stock, so to speak, feed and other provender has become scarce, hence our people are earnestly praying for an early Spring.

A Banjo Contest will be held at Keeney's Hall, this city, on Saturday night, March 8th. Quite a number will contest. The banjo picking will be accompanied by singing and some of the best talent of Casey and adjoining counties will pull the strings. There will be three prizes of $3, divided as follows: $1 to first, $3 to second and $1 to third.

Your Casey patrons would like for it to become convenient for the I. J. editor to visit Atlanta quite frequently if by so doing they can get their paper on day of publication as they did Friday. Rev. J. B. Ferrell and daughter, Miss Viola, visited relatives in Larue county last week. G. W. Drye has returned from Lancaster, where he accompanied Dr. I. S. Wesley, Mrs. M. A. Roy, and daughter, Mrs. Durham, are in Chattanooga. Quite a number of our citizens attended county court at Liberty Monday. We wish to correct an error in last issue. In the list of judges at the old fiddlers' contest the types made us say John Coulter, minus the prefix, Mrs. it being his wife instead of "Johnny."

Two of the number killed in the recent "Quarter House" fight near Middleboro were former comrades of the writer in the 2nd Kentucky Infantry, Spanish-American war. They were Frank Johnson and Boone McCreary. It seems from what we can learn that at least 20 per cent. of Company H, of the 2nd Ky., have crossed over the river. A number were killed in the Philippines while serving in other companies. A few have met their doom in mine disasters, while disease has carried off its quota. Deputy Sheriff Cecil, of Middleboro, and formerly of Harboorylle, who was killed by the Turner gang, was a near relative of Mrs. W. T. Miller, of this city, and was one of the best and bravest officers in the mountains.
