

E. C. WALTON

FIVE young women of Stonega, Va., have formed an anti-marriage association. The maids will not accept a proposal under any condition for five years. A penalty of $1,000 will be invoked on the young woman of the association who marries within five years after the association was formed, says a dispatch. We'll wager a last summer's straw hat that the five women have been maids a half century or more, that they are as unsightly as a mud fence and couldn't marry if they so desired. These anti-marriage societies produce that tired feeling about as speedily as anything we know of.

The same Providence which kept Goebel from dying at once from the assassin's bullet and resulted in the usurpers of his seat in the executive chair feeling like whipped curs from the scene of their bloody work, seems to have directed events in Breathitt. Had Cockrill been allowed to die in Jackson instead of being taken to a Lexington hospital, William Britton would not have been given a life sentence for his assassination, nor would the Hargises and Callahan be indicted for conspiracy. Truly do the mills of the God's grind slowly and exceedingly small.

ALL assassins look alike to us. If the Hargises are guilty of the foul crimes charged against them, we hope that they will get their just deserts at the end of ropes, just as we trust that Taylor, Powers, Howard and the rest of the craven crowd of conspirators will feel the halter draw. THE INTERIOR JOURNAL plays no favorites in assassination, like that inconsistent pair of political twins, the Lexington Herald and Leader, which publish appeals for the Goebel assassins and inveigh with strong and ineffectual against the Breathitt county conspirators.

"WINDY JOE" BLACKBURN has returned to Washington and is hurrying defiance by long distance telephone at the so-called Beckham machine. Having been skinned alive by the reputed manipulator of the aforesaid machine and had salt rubbed in the quivering flesh, the senior Senator is welcome to all the satisfaction that he can get out of such a performance, though the average mac will think that the decent thing for him to do is place himself in the hands of an undertaker. He is evidently a modern exhibit of the man who was dead and didn't know it.

THE Fayette county jury that gave the Breathitt desperado, Bill Britton, a life sentence is to be congratulated. It will be remembered that he shot Jas. Cockrill and that the latter was brought to Lexington for treatment, where he died. Britton was indicted by the Fayette county grand jury and tried at Lexington. Now let the works nobly begun continue until all the Breathitt county bad men are behind prison bars or dangle at the end of hempen lines.

IT is said that the gold deposits from which Montezuma and King Solomon derived their supplies, have been rediscovered and that there are millions and millions' worth of the precious metal left. If this thing keeps up the first thing we know silver will be at a premium and soon Bryan may arise to advocate the coinage of the yellow metal at 16 to 1 of the white.

BY a popular vote of over 120,000 the people of Minnesota have adopted a constitutional amendment abolishing the grand jury, but find themselves up against it to devise something to take its place. The Legislature is at work on the question but it is proceeding even slower than Kentucky's "$5 per day per diem" solons are on the capitol site parlie.

MR WATTERSON is sending some letters from Europe to the Courier Journal, which are said to be very interesting and instructive, but the impression prevails in some quarters that they are a little too steep for the complete mental digestion of the great common people.

"As long as the light holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may return." The Danville News has just issued a religious edition, and a most creditable one at that.

BOOKER paid Teddy another visit last week but if they broke bread together the Washington city newspaper men did not hear about it.

MATRIMONIAL.

Col. and Mrs. W. Huff Dudderar will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their marriage at their home at Rowland, Feb. 15th. Handsome invitations have been ordered for the happy event.

News comes from Oklahoma that Addison Dwight Root, formerly of this county, and a most excellent young man, was married at Cond Creek to Miss Lula Ledgerwood, a belle of that city. Friends of the groom here extend hearty congratulations and best wishes to him and his.

POLITICAL.

Dr. L. C. Nell, of Adair, has announced for the Republican nomination for State Senator. Samuel H. Piles, of Seattle, Wash., was elected United States Senator. He is a native of Livingston county, Ky. A bill has passed the Indiana Senate and is now pending in the House which will hereafter make the "spite fence" impossible.

Gov. Beckham has appointed Richard P. Ernst, of Covington, and Maj. J. H. Ashcraft, of Paducah, aids on the staff of Lieut. Gen. Chaffee, grand marshal of the inaugural parade March 4 next.

An effort will be made in the Senate this week to secure an agreement for a vote on the Statehood Bill. The prospects in this direction are much brighter. The House will be occupied this week with appropriation bills.

In the Democratic primary held in Hancock, Breckenridge and Meade counties to nominate a Representative from the Tenth senatorial district, R. W. Owens, of Hancock, won over Gus W. Richardson, of Meade, by a majority of about 200 votes.

It is expected that the Joint Conference Committee of the Legislature will make some slight changes in the Wells substitute bill providing for the selection of the Hunt property as the site for the new Capitol. A report is expected from the committee today or tomorrow.

Representative James has received letters from four good Democratic mothers in the county of Calloway, who tell him that they have given their boy babies the name of "Oille James," says a Washington dispatch. The Congressman now has something like a baker's dozen of "namesakes." There is not a single Democrat in the Michigan Legislature, while those of Louisiana, Mississippi, Florida and South Carolina are composed entirely of Democrats. There is one Republican in the Alabama Senate, one in the Senate of Georgia, one in the Texas House and one in the Arkansas Senate. To match these there is a lone Democrat in the North Dakota House.

The seeming deadlock in Congress in the matter of legislation to carry out the President's views may lead to the calling of a special session. The house Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce seems hopelessly tangled on the question of giving the Interstate Commerce Commission power to regulate railroad rates, tariff revision is dormant and the navy will probably go without the desired attention.

The Gridiron Club celebrated its twentieth anniversary with a dinner in Washington. A great deal of merriment was indulged in. "Uncle Joe" Cannon was impeached, Mr. Bryan was declared in song to be the "only man who could lead the Democratic band," and when a joint debate between President Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan was proposed the answer was made: "What's the use? They're both on the same side."

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Mrs. Doela Wesley and Mrs. Cynthia Barber, well-known women of Casey, are dead.

Miss Maggie Dyer, daughter of Postmaster A. R. Dyer, of London, is dead, aged about 17.

A fight occurred at Jellico in which James Bolton was fatally cut by John Gurvey, a policeman.

Burglars entered Ricehart & Osborne's store at Lebanon and stole $200 worth of clothing, etc.

Mrs. R. P. Jacobs has offered a prize of $25 to the senior law student who attains the highest average in Central University.

Green Colson, of Corbin, a fireman on the L. & N. between Corbin and Norton, was fatally injured by falling from a freight train at Gray's tunnel.

A curfew law has been passed by the City Council of Middlesboro, which prohibits boys under sixteen years old from loitering on the streets of the city after 7:30 at night.

Charles L. Vallandigham, formerly telegraph operator for the Q & C. at Burgin and Danville, was held to answer to the grand jury in Lexington on a charge of sending threatening letters to Supt. Henry M. Waite, who discharged him.

The Whitley grand jury returned an indictment against Mat Earles for the murder of George Curd and Emma Durham. Curd was shot from the cabin in which the Durham woman lived and the cabin was set on fire. Her charred remains were found and with a load from a shotgun in her breast. Earles has never been arrested and is believed to have left the country.

Miss Mamie McRoberts, the eldest daughter of the late Thomas McRoberts, and one of the most prominent young women in Central Kentucky, died of pneumonia at her home in Danville Sunday morning. Miss McRoberts had been ill only a few days and her death came as a great shock to the entire community. Her father, Mr. Thomas McRoberts, an octogenarian and the wealthiest man in Boyle county, died just a year ago. The burial took place at Bellevue Cemetery Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH.

Hyomei Goes to the Root of the Disease and Makes Astonishing Cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific and thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrh poison.

Thousands of testimonials have been given as to the astonishing cures made by this remedy.

Mrs. Le Rendu, 76 Western avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, writes "I believe Hyomei saved my life. I am better now than I have been in 30 years. Many doctors, both in England and France, treated me for catarrh, but I was not cured till I found Hyomei."

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that Penny will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, consisting of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei to last several weeks. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use may be necessary, and then extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.
