Resolutions Of Respect.

WHEREAS, the Supreme Commander of the Universe in His infinite wisdom has called from earth to that tent on high, our beloved Sir Knight Ira Malan Gooch, on Sept. 17th, 1905, aged 22 years, Resolved

1st That in his death the Waynesburg Tent, Knights of the Maccabees, has lost a most worthy member, his father a kind and dutiful son, his sisters and little brother a loving, affectionate companion, the Baptist church a devout, christian worker and the community a most noble and worthy citizen.

2nd That we greatly deplore the loss of our worthy sir knight, who was taken away in the full bloom of youth, while the pure life he had always lived was spreading so much sunshine along his pathway. "For a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." But our loss is his eternal gain.

3rd That we extend to the bereaved family and relatives of the deceased our heartfelt sympathy in their great loss and commend them to Him who doeth all things well.

4th That we shall ever cherish the memory of our esteemed sir knight and bow in humble submission to the divine will of our blessed Master.

5th That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minute books of our tent, a copy sent to the sorrowing family of the deceased and a copy sent to the INTERIOR JOURNAL and to the Bee Hive for publication.

Jockey Tod Sloan is Very Particular.

The following story has just been told by King Leopold of the Belgians, the most democratic of the monarchs, to a friend:

"I was dining," said his majesty, "in a Paris restaurant, and noticed at a table next to me Tod Sloan, the American jockey, whom I had often seen on Long Champs race course. While waiting for my dinner I saw him taste some fried potatoes that had been brought him and tell the waiter angrily to take them away.

"I was a little annoyed," added the King, "as I had also ordered fried potatoes, and when they came up I had no difficulty in discovering that they were the same which the jockey had just refused."

"And asked his friend, 'you immediately summoned the restaurateur and had the waiter discharged.

"No," said the King, "it was true they had been cooked with rancid butter and were very nasty; but I ate them, as I thought it would injure the business of the place if I sent them away again. Which shows," he added, "that a jockey can afford to be more particular than a King."

Three Jurors Cured

Of Cholera Morbus with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one 25 cent bottle cured the three of us." For sale by all druggists.

At Lebanon on Wednesday, the ball game between Hustonville and Lebanon was largely attended and exciting throughout. To The Voters Of Crab Orchard Magisterial District.

MY FELLOW CITIZENS.—In answer to the many inquiries as to how I stand on the different questions that are decided by the fiscal court, I will say, first: I came out in the interest of and to guard the rights of the taxpayers of Lincoln county and have never pledged myself to any man and am not running in the interest of any one man as to the road question.

Second: For my part I will get reports and systems from other counties and devised systems that will be for the least money and will get the best results. I am in favor of all roads having tools furnished, and as for labor on roads, I mean dirt roads; although pikes and all belong to the county, while the man who works on the pike gets pay, and all our East End people who live on dirt roads have to make their own roads and pay taxes to keep up the pikes and I believe they should be compensated in some way. Now I am sure this will be a satisfactory answer to my enquirers. I will say I have had no little experience in courts and if elected to this important office I will give the people of this county my best services. The good people of Crab Orchard say they will stand by me, so this means before the polls close on election day I will say I came, I saw and I won.

Respectfully,
D. J. SMITH.

REAL COMIC OPERA.—The people of Central Kentucky will have a rare opportunity to see a splendid comic opera at the Danville Opera House next Monday evening, October, 2nd, when the Herald Square Opera Company will present Said Pasha. The Danville Opera House is now under new management and has been completely remodeled and beautified. The opera to be presented Wednesday evening is made for laughing purposes but withal contains many of the rare, exquisite vocal gems, duets, quartets and ensembles which has made it so popular everywhere. The adventures of Haydad in search of an imaginary long lost daughter, to be recognized by a porous plaster between the shoulders is very ludicrous. The burlesque three cornered duel between the two montebanks and the Pasha is a laugh producer of high water mark. While in winter the Herald Square Opera Company produces the more pretentious operas, the summer and early fall months are given over to the lighter kind which is now termed "refined burlesque," and in this capacity its reputation for clean, wholesome musical comedy is a very enviable one. Stanford people who wish to attend this performance may have tickets reserved by addressing Adams and Embry, Mgrs. Danville Opera House, Danville, Ky. Prices, 75c, 50c and 35c.

It will vividly illustrate the difference between a soldier's life and a citizen's.
