VOL. XXXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1906.

NO. 98.

HUBBLE.

George Kelley and wife, of Marksbury, visited relatives here Sunday.

Silas Messer sold his tobacco crop to Lancaster parties at 6c. M. B. Eubanks and L. G. Hubble sold their crop of hemp in Stanford at $4.75. Hurrah for Stanford.

Mrs. Thos. Barker is quite sick. Joe Ross and wife will leave soon for Illinois to make their future home. Thos. Wilder and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.

Mr. Van Keeton and Miss Isabel Yeakey drove to Lancaster and were married. M. B. Eubanks has returned from the South. Miss Desha Stigall, of Perryville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. S. McKittick. Miss Fionnie Hammond is visiting in Lexington. Mrs. A. J. Rice, of Lexington, has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carman, for a few days.

Last Friday morning the community was shocked by the death of Mrs. B. W. Givens, who was seized with pneumonia only a few days before. The funeral services were held at the Christian church here, after which a large procession of friends followed the remains to Buffalo cemetery. It needs no golden light of the immortality into which Mrs. Givens has passed to say of her that she was of the brightest and purest type of womanhood. She was a consistent member of the Christian church and only two weeks ago occupied her accustomed place there. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the broken home circle in which she was so much needed and for which years of thoughtfulness had fitted her to be the chief inspiration. Each returning day emphasizes the uncertainty of life and yet we can not be reconciled to the passing of a mother, even to enrich heaven.

Small Beginnings.

Jay Gould was a book agent. Henry Villard was a reporter. Elihu Burritt was a blacksmith. Benjamin Franklin was a printer. Abraham Lincoln was a rail-splitter. James J. Hill began as a roustabout. A. T. Stewart was a school teacher. Daniel Drew began as a cattle trader. Cornelius Vanderbilt ferried his own boat.

Andrew Carnegie began life at $2.50 a week.

John Wanamaker began life at $1.25 a week.

John Jacob Astor sold apples in the streets.

Thomas Edison began as a telegraph operator.

William Lloyd Garrison was a printer's devil.

William A. Clark as a young man was a miner.

John D. Rockefeller worked in a machine shop.

Thomas F. Ryan was a clerk in a dry goods store.

Contracted Chronic Diarrhoea

While in the Philippines.

"While with the U. S. Army in the Philippines, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. I suffered severely from this terrible disease for over three years and tried the prescriptions of numerous physicians but found nothing that did me any good until I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, two small bottles of which entirely cured me and I have since had no return of the disease."—Herman Stein, 212 N. Union Ave., Pueblo, Colorado. For sale by all druggists.

A creature who is afraid to print his name, seeks in a card in that organ of assassination, the Louisville Herald, to defame the memory of Gov. Goebel and insult the Hon. Jesse M. Alvenson, because the latter proposed that a statue of Goebel be placed along with one of Henry Clay in the Hall of Fame. Such men as the writer would stab a man in the back and in the dark and is a fit apologist for assassins and assassination, and the paper that would publish such rot is as much deserving of contempt as the irresponsible scribbler.—Frankfort Journal. Well said, and to it we add our amen and amen.

A Bargain.

If you wish to buy a bargain, all you have to do is get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin, and use it at the least sign of headache, dizziness, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. This small investment will be the best bargain you ever bought, for it will bring you health at a nominal cost. Try it. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

Abraham Lincoln Denny's resolution providing for the due observance of Abe Lincoln's birthday, the 12th of February, has passed both the House and Senate and a suitable program will be arranged for the occasion.

A span of Hardin county mules sold for $435.

STANFORD GRADED SCHOOL.

Two of the greatest educational agencies in this country are the school and the press. When these work in harmony they become potent factors for good. In our community we have the good fortune to see this co-operation. Through the kindness of Mr. Walton, beginning with this issue of the INTERIOR we will publish a composition from the school every two weeks. This is done for three reasons. We think it will stimulate the pupils to better work. It will also give to the patrons and taxpayers an idea of the kind of work that is being done. In addition to this it will furnish the "gentle reader" with some good reading. As a representative of the school interests of this district we desire to express our gratitude to the I. J. for this most esteemed favor. The following is a composition from the High School written on two days' notification.

CHARITY.

"Faith, hope and charity, these three, but the greatest of these is charity. Charity suffereth long and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself; is not puffed up." Charity is the golden chain that links earth with heaven. It is the foundation of all christian graces and without it our religion is like a body without a soul; our friendships, shadows of a shadow; our humanity, a mere iceberg on the ocean of time. Without this virtue we are unfit to carry on any great life-work and mock the design of our creator. The quality of charity, like that of mercy, droppeth like the gentle rain from heaven and falls gently on the drooping flowers in the stillness of night. Its refreshing and reviving effects are felt, seen and admired. It flows from a good heart and pure. It looks beyond the pale of this life for approval and reward. Like mercy too, it is twice blest. No parade, no need of praise, no clarion note is needed to sound the charities of the truly good, no press to publish their acts. The fact that we have no great fortunes to found orphan's homes and hospitals, or tainted millions to endow colleges is no excuse for sitting idly by and saying "there is nothing I can do." We can help the unfortunate and needy in many ways that do not require fortunes. A kind word, a helping hand, a sympathetic smile, or perhaps a little self-denial will brighten a life covered by shadows, and add a bright gem in our own promised crown. There is some degree of virtue in every thing on earth and it is found by all who diligently seek it. Charity is universal. The brotherhood of man is not circumscribed. Culture has kindled the emblems of this brotherhood into a quenchless flame and in its sweet warmth heaven plays about every heart, radiating every pathway and illuminating every home. It is as free and brilliant as the noonday sun and bubbles in the heart like a never failing spring upon the mountain side. From the hill tops the birds mingle their music with the soft throbbings of the human heart. The melodies of angelic choristers, and the harmonious strains of charity fill the valleys and thrill the arches of the universe. On flowers and crystal streams; in morning's daybreak; in evening's twilight; twinkling in the sweet light of the stars and in the gentle laughter of the moon; finally on all nature, animate or inanimate, is the gentle reflection of the joys, the smiles, the divinity of charity or love.

Charity is the light and the majesty of life. Take it away and what becomes of the world? It is a barren wilderness. Its darts are silver; when they turn to fire in the noble heart they impart a portion of that heavenly flame which is their element. Charity is of such a refining, elevating character that it expels all that is selfish and degrading. It bids us think great thoughts, do great deeds and changes our common clay into fine gold. It illuminates our path, dark and mysterious though it be, with torch lights lit from the one great light. How poor and weak and inexpressive are words when sought to strew, as with stars, the path of the expression of charity's greatness and power.

The blue-eyed turquoises, or the liquid light of the sapphire should alone be tasked to express our thoughts of charitable love. The love that makes memory happy and home beautiful, is that which forms the sunlight of our earliest consciousness, beaming gratefully along the path of maturity and radiating its margin forever.

Interesting News.

It will interest all readers of the Interior Journal to hear, that at last a genuine cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Headache and Biliousness, has been found in Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It is a pleasant, tonic purifying syrup, with a mild action and no bad after-effects. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

NEWS NOTES.

Hardin county has a case of small pox.

John J. Cram, one of the leading rifle shots of the country, died in Maine.

Ex-County Judge W. R. T. McFarland, aged 65, is dead at Campbellville.

Two Chinamen were killed and a number were fatally wounded in a riot in New York City.

E. W. McClintie, of Washington, D. C., received the static from 44,000 volts of electricity at the General Electric Works yesterday, but will recover. He was unconscious for eight minutes, and it was at first believed that he was dead.

Fire at Jackson, Miss., destroyed the Mississippi Compress there, with 9,500 bales of cotton, entailing a loss estimated at $750,000, with insurance of about two-thirds. The compress plant was worth $150,000. The heaviest losers are the Knoop-Friedrich Company, of Liverpool, England, who had 1,100 bales in the compress at the time of the fire.

Stomach Cure For Cold.

It may seem queer to you, that most colds begin in your stomach; but it's true. Many a weak stomach, chronic indigestion, obstinate constipation, etc., weaken you all over, and make you an easy prey to any disease that may be stalking around. To cure a cold, take a good dose of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin, a hot bath, and a good night's rest. To prevent colds, keep your digestion in good order with Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. Quick relief for constipation, biliousness, etc. Try it. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

The Committee on Executive Affairs of the Legislature will report to that body the name of Representative R. W. Miller, of Madison county, as a suitable person to represent the lower branch of the General Assembly at the National Congress on Divorce Laws, to be held in Washington in February. The Senate will also select a representative to attend the congress.

FOR SALE.—About 41 acres of land one mile from Crab Orchard, Ky., on Lancaster pike. A good dwelling, well and all necessary outbuildings. Place is right on pike. This is a good home and a cheap place. The owner of this property lives at Henderson, Ky., and has made up his mind to sell. It can be bought at a bargain. For price, etc., see or write L. R. Hughes, Stanford, Ky.

HIGHLAND.

An infant of Joe Gerkey died and was buried at Mt. Moriah this week.

Dr. C. M. Thompson reports the following births: A boy at A. Gourley's and a girl each at the homes of H. J. Horton and Joe Gerkey.

Died at the home of her son, Thomas Leach, Mrs. Almira Leach, aged about 90 years. Her remains were buried in the family burial ground.

There is a good deal of sickness in this community, among the indisposed being C. B. McGuffey, C. B. Atkins and wife and C. M. Young and wife.

Green Young has moved to J. S. Young's house near the postoffice. Jordan Floyd has moved to the house vacated by Mr. Young and H. F. Horton to the house vacated by Floyd. Abner Young has moved to the W. L. McCarty farm near Stanford. George Walls has moved to Kingsville.

H. F. Horton is building a new house on his lot near J. H. Butt's. O. G. Speaks is also building a new house on his place. In doing so he is tearing down the old house, which is the oldest in this vicinity. The house was used by the Methodists as a preaching place for quite a while before there was ever any church built here.

L. G. King, of Lawrenceburg, is here to see his father, J. A. King, who has been ill for some days. R. W. Godbey, of Poplar Hill, was at C. M. Young's a few days since. Mrs. Maggie McKenzie and Mrs. Mary Skidmore have been quite ill for some days. Mr. and Mrs. Silas Carrier visited their parents near Jumbo Sunday.

Married at the residence of Rev. J. M. Cook, while sitting in their buggy, Willie M. Long and Miss Mary Ethel Young. After the ceremony the bride and groom with a number of their friends repaired to the home of Mr. Eph Young, father of the bride, where a bountiful table awaited all those who were hungry for the many good things that had been prepared. Mr. Long is one of our most prosperous young farmers and here is our wish for their success.

MATRIMONIAL.

William Staton, aged 65, and Mrs. Sarah Black, aged 60, were married in Bath county.

Simpson Lowman and Miss Cynthia Shearer were joined heart and hand yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Parrish and Rev. Humphrey B. Folk was solemnized at Midway.

Wm. M. Long and Miss Mary E. Young, both of the Highland section, were made one a few days ago.

Henry Casey, a well-to-do farmer of Call 0'n, committed suicide because his sweetheart had postponed their marriage.

Lee Caldwell, formerly of Danville, but for many years a coal operator at Pittsburg, was married in Louisville to Miss Florence Fernie, also of Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan, who recently eloped to Jeffersonville and were married, have been expelled from a church society in a Louisville suburb because of their marriage.

Dr. Hawkins Bishop, of Burnside, and Miss Lura Lipps, of Hustonville, were married this afternoon in the parlors of the Phoenix Hotel. Rev. B. J. Pinkerton officiating. Dr. Bishop is a young physician who has recently begun practice, and the bride is the daughter of D. M. Lipps, a wealthy miller of Hustonville. The couple have been lovers since they attended school together at Hustonville, where Rev. Pinkerton was their teacher. The marriage took place in Lexington, chiefly because they wished Mr. Pinkerton to marry them and he could not consistently leave his duties here.—Thursday's Courier Journal.

Coming Events.

You can tell you are in for a dangerous sickness, as soon as you begin to suffer from headache, constipation, biliousness, etc., unless you quickly take Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. This most successful cure for all disorders of your digestive organs, never fails to give relief from all the irritant poisons, kept in by clogged bowels, liver and kidneys. Sold by G. L. Penny, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

Mr. Roosevelt is said to be growing impatient at the delay of the Senate in confirming his appointment of Ben Daniels to be United States Marshal of Arizona. Mr. Daniels, it is true, has served a term in the penitentiary for mule stealing and has killed two men, but as his record as a Rough Rider was excellent, Mr. Roosevelt naturally feels that the Senate is not justified in quibbling over trifles.—Louisville Times.

Attorney General N. B. Hays, it is said, will shortly announce his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky.
