CHURCH MATTERS.

The protracted meeting will begin at Turnersville the 4th Sunday.

The meeting at the Bethany Christian church in Jessamine county closed with 76 additions, 62 by confession and 14 from other churches. Sunday morning there were 145 in the Sunday school. The will of Theodore Harris, which was probated in Louisville provided liberal bequests to the Baptist Church and Baptist educational institutions and an income to his five children of $150 a month each. To every orphan asylum in Louisville he bequeathed $50. The value of the estate is estimated at $500,000.

The devil was making up the forms. The paper was late and the boy got the galleys mixed. The first part of the obituary notice of a pecunious citizen had been dumped in the form and the next handful of type came off the galley describing a recent fire. It read like this: "The pall-bearers lowered the body into the grave and it was consigned to the flames. There were few, if any regrets, for the old wreck has been an eyesore to the town for years. Of course there was individual loss, but that was fully covered by insurance." The widow thinks the editor wrote the obituary that way because the lamented partner of her joys owed him five years' subscription."—Exchange.

The Tightwad.

That I am close, some people say;
But they are wrong.
My instincts give coin away
Are very strong.
In kindness excelled by none,
I simply pant
To go and lavish wealth upon
The mendicant.
I'd give away my entire biz,
Deplete my roll.
The only thing that saves me is
My self-control.

Kentucky's new $2,000,000 Capitol at Frankfort is about ready for the State officers, and in fact some of them have already moved in. The Capitol has been four years in building, and we are assured that "it is a credit to the Commonwealth." It is fair to assume from this that the work has been honestly performed, and that there is to be no afterclap of great revelations, such as appeared in Harrisburg to shame the State of Pennsylvania.

By actual bank count at the vaults of the Farmers' National Bank at Pittsburg, it was found that Peter Leibach, an aged German hermit, who was arrested for his queer actions, had hoarded in his shanty home in small change $13,168, not including 56 bags of uncounted coins or bank deposits in eight North Side saving institutions. It is thought that before the search is ended Leibach's fortune will total over $50,000.

It is not likely that the line will be put to immediate use for conveying oil over the whole distance. The completion of the system is regarded rather as a provision for emergency, and to meet the future conditions, when the Pennsylvania and West Virginia fields shall have been depleted.
