NEWS NOTES.

Edward Payson Galloup, New Hampshire's richest man, is dead. Mrs. J. P. Brewer, of Springfield, is dead after a short illness of pneumonia. A test of the law which prohibits the manufacture of whisky in Tennessee is to be made. The last saloon closed its doors in Madisonville Saturday. The town went dry a year ago. A Nashville jury declared Mrs. J. D. Plunkett, a sister of the late Col. Thomas H. Swope, sane. "Fon" French, of the Belmont section of Bullitt county, claims to have discovered perpetual motion. John Singleton, of Louisville, chose morphine as the method and a saloon as the place to shuffle off this mortal coil. Bardwell suffered a $15,000 fire. The postoffice, the Carlisle County News and several business houses were destroyed. "Tex" Rickard positively announces that the Jeffries-Johnson 45-round boxing contest will be held in Salt Lake City on July 4th. Tom Cantwell, former pitching star of Georgetown University, has signed and forwarded his contract to play with the Cincinnati team. Governors of States are gathering in Washington for their conference. About 30 State executives are expected to attend and participate. An Arkansas land owner offers to give 4,000 acres of rich bottom land in that State to the "unemployed" without reservations or conditions. One person was killed and ten injured in a collision between the St. Louis-Memphis special on the Illinois Central and a freight train near Pinckneyville, Ill. Saturday's election in England, according to a well-informed Unionist, indicated that the Liberals and Laborites would have a clear majority of from 90 to 100. Alvert Gill, deputy game warden for Mobile county, Ala., committed suicide by blowing his brains out with a revolver. Sicknes is believed to have deranged his mind. James Scott, special police officer for the Bou Air Coal and Iron Co. at Bou Air, Tenn., was assassinated. He was shot through a window of his office and there is no clue to the murderer. Col. Theodore Roosevelt and his party have returned to Nairobi for their fourth and last hunt in the British East African protectorate. Col. Roosevelt witnessed during his last hunt the spearing of a lion by Nandi warriors. The first convention for the study of the bookworm will be held in Atlanta this week and will be attended by over 200 physicians, three representatives of the Rockefeller million-dollar fund and many other prominent men of science. Identification of the body of a man found dead in the Breslow Hotel at Biloxi, Miss., Tuesday, was made in Chicago by Col. F. A. Eastman as that of his son, Barrett Eastman, for years known to Chicagoans as a dramatic critic. The original charge against E. S. Cooke, of Chicago, of receiving stolen money in connection with the Big Four railroad $643,000 embezzlement case, was dismissed at Cincinnati, but Cooke must still answer to the indictment which was returned against him Thursday. By means of carrier pigeons, Morgan Brawner, who killed Bacon Robb, has been able to communicate with his wife every day since he was first confined in the county jail in Frankfort, and the pigeons are still acting as messengers between the jail and the Brawner home in the country. A Negro woman, Elizabeth Smith, was taken into custody at Laporte, Ind., by the Sheriff as a witness to the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her children by Ray Lamphere, as revealed in the publication of Lamphere's confession to the Rev. E. A. Schell, now president of Iowa Wesleyan University. Another "melon" of large proportions—the distribution of $20,000,000 in common stock—is to be given the stockholders of the International Harvester Co. The directors of the company have recommended that the entire $80,000,000 of stock be placed on a 4 per cent. dividend basis, commencing on next April. Miss Sarah Breymer, a governess in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Compton at Millbrook, N. Y., was strangled to death in her bed in the Compton mansion. Frank Schermerhorn, coachman on the Compton place, cut his throat. Just before he attempted suicide, suspicion had pointed to him as the murderer.

Poland China bear shoats, will weigh from 85 to 100 pounds, for sale. M. S. Baughman, Stanford. D. K.
