Peruna Secrets You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic.

Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

"Two bottles Cured My Rheumatism"

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for about two years, and have used many liniments and patent medicines which gave me no relief. A lady friend of mine told me she had used your Liniment and found relief at once. I got two bottles and they cured me. I think it is the best Liniment a person can have in the house. I shall always keep a bottle in my house as long as I can get it."—MRS. E. R. WALLACE, Morrisons, Va.

Just how the refusal of the State committee to call a senatorial primary in going to affect the party in the state election we do not see, though our good friend Harry Sommers seems to think it will. We believe most emphatically in the principle of election of senators by direct vote of the people. However with no possible chance to make a senatorial primary nomination binding upon the members of the legislature unless they choose to accept its dictum, we do not see why the dire necessity of complicating the governor's race with a senatorial primary, just because one certain candidate for senator desires it and because the friends of a certain candidate for governor all hope for it in order to help their man out of a losing fight if that can possibly be done.

The complete failure of the last senatorial primary to accomplish the will of the democracy of the state before the legislature ought to prove the futility of senatorial primaries until the legislators can be bound to accept their decision. The Oregon plan of forcing the candidates for the legislature to declare whether or not they will support the popular senatorial nominee, while prosecuting their own campaigns for election, should be adopted in order to give force and value to a senatorial nomination, until we can secure the election of U. S. Senators by direct vote of the people. Until some such pledges as that can be secured from the members of the legislature, the senatorial nomination in a primary is not worth the paper it is written on, if some legislator should choose to disregard it. A number of the members of the 1908 session did refuse to stick to the nominee and a republican was chosen. And as we remarked before, some of the newspapers of the state who are loud in demanding a primary for the benefit of Mr. James this year are the very ones which blatantly applauded those same legislators when they bolted the senatorial nominee before.

Johnson challenged McCreary for a series of joint debates, and as the challenged party the latter had the right to name the time and terms. Of course they did not suit Johnson so the debate will probably not be held, which we think is wise. Little good would be done the party by such a method of campaigning and the partisans of each candidate would have been made only the more bitter. Call 'em off.

Champlin Clark was nominated for Speaker at the House caucus Thursday night, and the harmony which prevailed augurs well for democratic success in the presidential race next year. Judson Harmon seems certain to be the next president.
