

MAGISTRATES TO LOOK AFTER ROADS

NEW PLAN CONTEMPLATED TO BETTER TURNPIKE CONDITION IN LINCOLN.

Elsewhere in this issue, the Fiscal Court is advertising for bids for metal to be spread upon the pike of Lincoln county this spring. The members of this body held a meeting at the court house this week, and decided to take active and progressive steps toward improving the highways of the county. On April 1st the term of Road Supervisor H. K. Dudderar expires. It is understood that the court has decided not to elect a successor, but will permit the office to remain vacant. Instead of a road supervisor to look after the turnpikes, it is said to be the plan of the court for each Magistrate to personally supervise the roads in his district. Each member of the court will in this way be personally responsible whether his district's roads are in good shape or not, and the people in his community will have some one directly at hand to see what the troubles are and remedy them. The magistrates intend to spread the metal this year and have plans for putting Lincoln county's pikes in better condition than they have been in many years.

Mrs. Mildred W. Moreland

DIES IN EAST AT HOME OF DAUGHTER—REARED IN LINCOLN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 9th. Mrs. Mildred W. Moreland for many years a well-known resident of the West End of Lincoln county passed away peacefully on Friday March 9th, 1911, at the home of her daughter Mrs. Edward H. Edwards, Brooklyn, N. Y., in the 53rd year of her age. She was the youngest child of Elizabeth W. P. and Walker Hawkins, of Fayette County, Ky., and her early life was spent in the vicinity of Lexington, where on October 25th, 1847 she was united in marriage with Andrew H. Thompson who lived less than three years, leaving his widow with one son, Robert Hart Thompson, who departed his life in November, 1885.

August 24th, 1852 the subject of this sketch was married to Alexander Moreland, shortly afterward they settled in the West End, where Mr. Moreland died nearly 41 years ago, leaving his widow with one son, William Moreland and one daughter, Elizabeth W. P. Mrs. Edward H. Edwards, with whom she has lived the past few years occasionally returning to visit her dearly beloved ones, still living in Lincoln and other Central Kentucky counties. For many years she was a consistent member of the Hustonville Presbyterian church and although for several years away from that vicinity did not withdraw her letter. In her Brooklyn home she kept in touch with Old Kentucky by correspondence and by reading the Interior Journal, of which she was a constant reader and always looked forward to its arrival in great anticipation.

The past few months have witnessed her gradual decline, without complaint, for she was ready and satisfied, and confident that her wish to be laid away beside loved ones who had preceded her at Lexington cemetery. Funeral services were conducted at the home of her daughter on Saturday evening, March 4th, by the Rev. Dr. Hannan of the N. Y. Avenue Methodist church, Brooklyn, N. Y. After which the remains were taken to Lexington by her grandson, William B. Edwards, to be placed in the family plot of her father and beside her husband who had preceded her so long ago.

Mrs. Wilson King of the Crab Orchard section died at the home of her husband there Wednesday night about midnight, after a short illness of a complication of troubles. Mrs. King was a daughter of Squire J. T. Roberts of the Hubble section and was a most lovable and estimable woman in every way. She is survived by her husband and one child. Her loss is a severe one to the family for she was just in the bloom of ripened womanhood, being only 33 years of age. The funeral will be conducted, this Friday, afternoon at three o'clock, interment being in the Roberts' burying ground near her girlhood home.

JUDICIARY RECALL

(W. P. Walton in Lexington Herald.) Those who oppose to the call of Judges in the Arizona Constitution proceed on the principal that every time a Judge renders an unpopular decision steps will at once be taken to recall him. But the experience of those cities and states which have adopted the recall policy proves that it is not often invoked. There are very few recalls, and in Los Angeles where the law has been in force for eight years only two officials have been recalled one of them being an alderman who had sold out, and the other a Mayor who betrayed the interests of his people.

If recalls are to be permitted at all they should apply alike to every official. Because a rascal at heart is elected Judge there is no reason to be given that it will be entirely eliminated because of his election. Judges are sometimes the most corrupt of officials, and when this is shown, they should be immediately put out. The Arizona Constitution seems to be all right, and the people should have what they want.

AGRICULTURE TRAIN STOPS AT MORELAND

BIG CROWD HEARS EMINENT FARM EXPERTS—WEST ENDS SORE ON TOBACCO

Hustonville, March 9th. The agricultural special and dairy train sent out from Lexington on Monday last in charge of J. P. Tocher, freight traffic manager, pulled up at Moreland on time at 12:45. It had aboard Judge Henry S. Barker, President of the State University, who made the opening address, both timely and interesting. Dr. M. A. Soovell, director of the college of agriculture, M. C. Rankin, Commissioner of Agriculture, Prof. J. J. Hooper of entomology, of soil and crops, Prof. C. W. Matthews, of horticulture, and Mr. W. D. Nichols, a dairy man. The crowd was so great and eager to hear these distinguished scientists that the car in which the lectures were delivered couldn't hold it by half. The young ladies, young matrons and a sprinkling of old ones, gave the occasion their presence. The lectures delivered by the distinguished men were a revelation to everyone present. The old foggy system of farming and dairying will now be abandoned by the progressive citizen, and new and profitable features will be introduced.

If these same gentlemen will return in the "good old summer time" we will furnish out opera house free of charge and show them the biggest crowd of men and women that they ever stood before. Give us the date and we will do the rest.

Mr. J. P. Tocher, freight and traffic manager of the Q. & C., had charge of this expedition, and managed the crowd so pleasantly and easily that no confusion was seen in any quarter. He could speak as well as the best of them, but his time was absorbed in making every one feel that he or she was "in". The train went as far as the state line and then back this way on the southern railway to Shelbyville. Judge Barker seems to be the right man in the right place at the head of our great State University and long may he reign.

There never was a sicker set of mortals in any county than we have now in this end of Lincoln, all owing to the fact that they bit off more tobacco than they could chew. The quality was so bad, that buyers would not pay more than a few cents for it, and couldn't cultivate them properly, hence the poor quality. Night riders need not come this way now, as the crops this year will be few and far between. The tenant who grew it on the share suffers more than the land owner, but few of them being able to pay the expenses upon the crop.

Some of our veteran tobacco growers since marketing their crops are enjoying the luxury of huge wads of currency, absolutely without a care of the reality currency, but garnished with decorations by grocer and haberdasher, with artistic statements of balance due.

Mrs. Lett Turpin has returned from a two months visit to her daughter Mrs. Archie McWhorter bringing news of another grandson. Hustonville can boast as only the oriental tropics can of three married couples in and within three miles ranging in ages from mature 13 to the venerable year of 18.

Rev. Carey Blain and James Hall attended the burial of Mrs. Miller Moreland at Lexington. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church for 55 years and was a splendid motherly old lady, and had a host of friends all over this county her age was 82.

Bowen Gover bought from J. J. Allen the large barn and lot corner Main and College streets. He will build a synagogue, tabernacle or opera house on the lot, if he decides to abandon the Burley tobacco business.

Howard Camnitz and his bride, spending a few days in Louisville with relatives.

Mr. B. G. Gover one of our substantial farmers bought last week a very desirable building lot on the corner of Main and College streets for $975. He will doubtless build a handsome home on it during the coming summer.

Mr. Geo. T. Ashlock sold the property he bought recently fronting the home of Mr. James Back on West Main street to J. J. Allen.

Miss Pearl Tinsley has returned from a delightful visit with friends and relatives in Pulaski county. Mr. Ellis Gadsby and wife of Louisville will join their numerous friends at their "old home" in Ellisburg in the near future where they will permanently locate and will be given the glad hand of welcome by all.

Bergner was just 18 years of age and a fine young man, being the son of a prominent German family. His untimely taking off has caused much sorrow in the community and his relatives have the sincere sympathy of everyone.

In lonely hours like these it is a supreme satisfaction to have a promise on which we can rely that there is another life after this and that no disappointment awaits us there.

The subject for this sketch was noted for her kindly disposition her lovable nature and her intellectual attainments. The irreparable loss sustained by the husband and children can never be understood except by them.

After a funeral service at the late home by the Rev. J. J. Dickey the remains were laid to rest in beautiful Buffalo cemetery there to await the summons of the historic angel, Gabriel when he shall summon the sleepers of cons of ages to awake and meet the king of glory in His triumphant march through the universe.

A Daughter, MRS. TOM FRANKLIN.

"Marryingest" County

LINCOLN AHEAD OF MOST OTHERS ON WEDDINGS.

That Lincoln is the "marryingest" county in the state is probably true, for those who have watched the marriage books in the much larger counties say that the licenses issued here far exceed on number the records there. County Clerk Cooper has recently issued the following permits to love line couples:

Henry E. Deatrage and Miss Bessie Carrier, of the Highland section, who were made one by Rev. J. M. Cook.

B. J. Ervin and Mrs. Mary B. Griffin, of the Crab Orchard section, who were united by Rev. K. D. Noaks.

This the groom's third marriage and the bride's second venture.

Aloys Moss and Miss Dora Kleibass another popular couple of the East End, who were married at the home of A. Kleibass, a prominent German farmer.

Warner Hudson and Miss Belle Kidd also of the East End, who heard the words said that made them one, at the court house here, this being the second marriage of each.

John Reynolds and Miss Lillie Harris, of the Waynesburg section, who were united at the home of W. F. Jackson.

NEW POSTOFFICE RULES.

Our postmaster formulates the following rules for the benefit of his patrons and that you may know what you may. No letters given out until they have been received. If you don't get a letter of a paper on the day you expect it have the postmaster look through all the boxes and down the cellar also. It ought to be there somewhere and he likes to hunt for it just to please you. If your friend don't get a letter or a paper on the day you expect it, he tells you no, put on a grievous look and say there ought to be some. He is probably hiding your mail for the pleasure of having you call for it. Ask him to look again. If you are buying stamps make him lick them and put them on, that's his business.
