ATTITUDE OF THE

LOUISVILLE TIMES

The Louisville Times, adopting and approving many of the vagaries and platitudes of Senator Blackburn, at Owensboro, demands that the candidates for governor not only express themselves, in general terms, concerning the reforms which they favor, but go beyond further than any candidate for governor ever went, or was required to go, and submit a bill of legislative particulars, furnishing definite well thought and workable plans for their achievement.

Not only is this demanded for the candidates themselves but the further demand is made of the party that the platform shall contain "specific plans" for the accomplishment of all these things. But it must even go further and include specific plans for the "overcoming of illiteracy and the other evils which beset the State".

This extraordinary demand of the Times is as sweeping as the edict of Omar and as relentless as the decrees of Alva.

All of this, in the language of Senator Blackburn, is mere "halderdash".
The governor does not frame bills for the legislature. Like the President he recommends subjects for consideration and suggests the enactment of laws for the correction of specific existing evils. To go further and submit the bill, or suggest its form, would subject the governor to the just criticism that he doubted the capacity of the Legislature. If the Times desires the frame of the bills by which the reforms it advocates shall be made, known in advance, let it catechise the candidates for the Legislature. For example those candidates bred and nurtured, so to speak under its own roof tree. It seems to have the crude impression, however, that in the governor is vested the entire legislative as well as executive functions. Even Gov. Willson knows better, and only claims to exercise the executive and judicial powers.

The demand that the platform shall specify definite plans for accomplishing the vagaries of the editor is contrary to all party practice and precedent. Even the platform of one of the candidates, which only a short time since it printed and praised in unstinted terms, did not furnish the "well thought and workable plans" now demanded. Platforms, national and state, speak only in general terms But the causes referred to are not the real objection, which the Times has to the candidates and platform. It urged a convention, in the face of the popular demand for a primary, in the hope that two pet measures, which it favors, might be endorsed. It lost, and then it insisted on a platform convention, in advance of the primary. It lost again, and since that time has been engaged in endeavoring to bring out additional candidates for governor, in abusing democratic methods, and belittling such candidates as have failed to declare, specifically for either of its pet measures.

So venomous has the Times grown that it has designated the Democratic party as a political "donkey", and uttered the kindly warning not to "make too much of an ass of himself, in his zeal for four years of forage at Frankfort".

If the Times could have had a Whelanized convention, and nominated a candidate of its own choosing, with a platform endorsing its pet measures, these demands would not have been made. Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest to the Times, are, "It might have been."

Some people have asked whether we have "turned over" to Addams for governor. They have read some of his advertising matter, paid for at advertising rates and have jumped at the conclusion that the Interior Journal is now for him. They were never more mistaken in their young lives.
The I. J. was one of the first papers in the state to declare for McCreary and we are more enthusiastic for him now than ever, if that were possible.
A newspaper is not vastly different from any other business enterprise.
All have something to sell. Should a candidate go into a grocery store and ask for a sack of flour the grocer would sell it to him at the regular rate whether he happened to be "for" this particular candidate or not. The same way with a newspaper. When a man wants to buy our advertising space—the newspaper's stock in trade—we gladly sell it to him if he

TO CURE SORE BUNIONS Treatment Marvelously Quick for This and All Foot Troubles.

"Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Caloside compound in a basin of hot water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (Less time will not give desired results.) Repeat this each night until cure is permanent." All pains and inflammation is drawn out instantly and the bunion soon is reduced to normal size. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off and will stay off.
Sore, tender feet and smelly, sweaty feet need but a few treatments. A twenty-five cent package of Caloside is usually sufficient to put the worst feet in fine condition. Caloside is no longer confined to only the doctors' use. Any druggist has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. This will prove a welcome item to persons who have been vainly trying to cure their foot troubles with ineffective tablets and foot powders.

has the price. And because we run his ad is no sign that we happen to be "for him." No reputable newspaper, however, will sell its editorial or individual opinion, at any price, and it is in the editorial column that one should look to see just who the editor is "for" and what he stands for.
And by the way, we understand that Senator Paynter and several other candidates are preparing to do some extensive advertising from now on to the democratic primary on July 1st.

Senator Blackburn is reported to have said, at Owensboro, that if there is a "smashed". Was the Senator in the mind to "smash" machines, at that session of the General Assembly when he defeated Oerro Gordo Williams for the nomination? Last the memory of the Senator does not reach so far back, we recall the event.

After crying in the wilderness for months, "a candidate, my kingdom for a candidate," Capt. Ellis, of Owensboro, has declared that if he can find no other candidate, he will support William Addams! A doubtful commitment certainly for Mr. Addams.

Gov. Willson paroled a negro and the other day he shot two women to death. Won't it be a nice job for the republican nominee for governor this year, or the state platform endorsing Willson's administration?

The Sporting Editor of the Interior Journal hereby reserves ringside seats for the next pugilistic engagement in town. They're coming so fast nowadays, we simply want to speak in time.

The Louisville Herald says that the difference between a Bailey Democrat and a Lorimer Republican is simply a matter of price.

BREAKERS AHEAD

(Elizabethtown News.)

A word as to the Senatorial race Congressman Ollie James of the First Congressional District is a candidate.
He has a record that has never been surpassed as a Democrat by any Representative from Kentucky. He has never given utterance on the floor of the House to a thought that has not had the true ring of Democracy. He has never cast a vote that he has had to explain to his people. There has never been a campaign for twenty years in Kentucky, that he has not been a power of strength for Democracy upon the stump. There is not the slightest suspicion of his integrity and incorruptible honor in the discharge of every trust. He is from the banned Democratic district of Kentucky the one only which saves the State from being Republican, in all of its history it has never had a United States Senator and it is certainly entitled to it this time.

Mr. James is opposed by Senator Paynter whose chief claim to notoriety is that he voted to whitewash Senator Lorimer the corruptly elected Republican Senator from Illinois, and who has voted with the reactionary wing of Democracy in the Senate led by Bailey.

There ought to be absolutely no question as to which one of these men should be nominated. If Mr. James' opponent was a man equal in ability with him, whose democracy was unquestioned and against whom there was no taint of political scandal, then the people of western Kentucky would even accept the defeat of Mr. James in a matter of party enoiche with the party loyalty with which the first district is famous, but defeat the idol of western Kentucky democracy with the apologist and defender of Lorimer and there will be enough democrats stay away from the polls in November to defeat the democratic state ticket.

The western Kentucky democracy is simon pure and loyal, but there is a limit to loyalty even to them. They will resent and resent bitterly the defeat of Mr. James by senator Paynter because they would regard it as the defeat of a loyal, true and brilliant party leader by a democratic senator who aided in retaining in his seat a republican so besmirched that hardly half of the senator's own party would vote for him. We do not believe Kentucky will do this, but we repeat that it would endanger party success if it were done.

McKINNEY

Mr. J. S. Murphy and family desire to express their high appreciation of the kindness shown them in the loss

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.
If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are common symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys.

Doan's kidney pills is the remedy to use. It has cured many stubborn cases this vicinity.

Instructions For Issuing Shipping and Trailing Certificates In Kentucky

Each movement of sheep from a county, or railroad shipment, must be accompanied by a "certificate of inspection", made out especially for that particular movement or shipment.

Inspectors will notify all shippers who purchase sheep in their county to this effect and also that they should only buy sheep from flocks which have been inspected on the farms where originating, and found free from scabies. After purchasing a "lot" of sheep and determining on a date for shipment, the shipper will make application to the inspector for a certificate; giving the number of head in the lot and stating from whom purchased. The inspector will then refer to his record (which should be kept in a book containing all inspections made) and if all the shipper's purchases are from flocks which have been inspected and found free from scabies, a certificate will be issued, written in ink or indelible pencil in the shipper's name advertising the entire lot, or two certificates if going under two billings to different markets. The shipper will turn this certificate over to the railroad company, to be attached to the way bill. This certificate should be marked "for railroad shipment".

If the shipper should apply for a certificate for sheep originating in flocks, which have not been inspected it will then be necessary to inspect such sheep before issuing the certificate and as the Board's regulations require inspections to be made before movement, all inspections should be made on the farm, if possible to do so.

Certificates covering sheep to be trailed, should be issued in the same general manner as for railroad shipments, and inspectors will demand that sheep being trailed into their counties be accompanied by a certificate. Such sheep if infected, should be returned to their former pasture if not dangerous to do so, or quarantined and proper action taken. If not infected they should be quarantined until knowledge be learned concerning their former premises.

Both of these classes of certificates shall be issued on the "Certificate of Inspection" blank of the Kentucky Live Stock Sanitary Board and be stamped with the following:

THE SHEEP RESIGNED IN THIS CERTI-FICATE IF MOVED INTERSTATE SHALL BE SUBJECT TO THE REGULATIONS OF THE U. S. BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUS-TRY.

All certificates shall be issued in duplicate, the original to be given to the shipper or trailer and the duplicate forwarded to this office.

Certificates covering shipments or movements on sheep which have been previously inspected and reported to this office, need not be again reported, but if that be a first inspection of the entire lot or portion of same, a 24H report shall be made out covering such animals as have not been previously reported.

Please return to this office all certificate books which are not stamped as above required.

Very Respectfully,
A. J. PAYNE,
State Live Stock Inspector

Bring Your Prescriptions Here To Be Compounded

When your physician has prescribed a medicine for you to take, the next important step is to have that prescription placed in the hands of a thoroughly reliable and competent pharmacist so it will be compounded exactly as directed. We have gained an enviable reputation for always being very careful and painstaking in our compounding and feel that, in all justice to your own good health, you should bring your next prescrip-
