

THE STANFORD INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOLUME XXXVIII NO 80

STANFORD, LINCOLN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1911.

EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

WHISKY ELECTION HANGS FIRE TILL FRIDAY.

Petitions and Counter-Petitions Filed By Drys And Wets Before Judge Bailey.

County Court was crowded to such an extent when Judge Bailey took up the matter of the petition calling for a local option election in Lincoln county Monday morning, that adjournment had to be taken to the Circuit court room upstairs. A great many wets were present, and the large crowd showed the interest which is shown in the question.

Attorneys P. M. McRoberts and J. N. Saunders, representing the drys presented a petition from 55 voters of the Rowland precinct asking that their names be stricken from the wets' petition asking for the whisky election. Attorney George D. Florence representing the wets offered a counter petition containing 19 names, who he said had signed the dry petition but desired now to go on record as desiring the election held. In order to have a chance to look over the names on the dry petition, Attorney Florence asked for an adjournment until the afternoon, and Judge Bailey adjourned court until the afternoon.

In the afternoon a still larger crowd was present, a great many having gotten in from the Waynesburg section of the county who are vigorously opposing the call for an election.

Upon Attorney Florence's suggestion that the 19 men whose names were found upon all three petitions from the Rowland precinct, be brought into court to state how they wanted their names recorded, Judge Bailey consented to have subpoenas issued for them, and have them brought into court on Friday morning.

The drys then offered a petition signed by 68 voters of the Waynesburg precinct, asking that their names be stricken from the wet petition and stating that they did not wish to be represented as desiring a whisky election. The wets had no counter petition from Waynesburg, and this petition of the drys brought the number of the wets' petition from Waynesburg precinct considerably below the 25 per cent of the voting strength required by law, and will set to kill the wet for an election unless the wets are able to muddy the waters in Waynesburg as they did in Rowland by securing a counter petition. Attorney Florence asked to be allowed time to examine the Waynesburg counter petition. Adjournment was taken on the whole matter until Friday.

Meantime it is understood the drys have determined to go earnestly to work and make an effort to knock off enough names in every precinct in the county to nullify the wets' petition; while on the other hand the wets are said to be endeavoring to block the drys by securing counter petitions.

The City Council has appointed Lehas John M. Stone as city assessor and he has appointed T. B. Newland, Jr., as his assistant.

KILLING AT MORELAND

Pistol Drops Out of Man's Pocket And Does The Work

George Murphy, a well known young man of Casey county, while on a visit to his brother, the liveryman at Moreland, was accidentally killed by an automatic revolver dropping out of the pocket of a man named Hogan, of Mercer county, while a crowd of men were in a room at the Moore Hotel. The pistol exploded as it fell from a pocket in Hogan's overcoat and the bullet struck Murphy on the left side of his head, coming out near the top of the head. The dead man leaves a wife and one child. Coroner George P. Bright went to the scene of the affair and empaneled a jury which returned a verdict in accordance with the facts above recited.

DEMOCRATIC BATTLE CRY

Sounded in Stanford By Two Distinguished Speakers.

The war-cry of democracy was raised in Stanford again within the past few days when Congressman Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, who is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the National House, spoke here Saturday night and Hon. J. A. Sullivan, of Richmond, was heard on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Underwood had a fine crowd notwithstanding the fact that it was rainy bad night, and made a splendid democratic address, showing how the fight in Kentucky this year is so closely allied with the great national battle to come next year to redeem the country from the control of the robber interests.

After the speaking Congressman Harvey Helm, who is a close friend of Mr. Underwood, left with him for a tour of the Blue rias.

Mr. Sullivan, who played a large part in the drafting of the democratic state platform, lucidly explained its provisions to a good crowd in the court house Monday afternoon. Mr. Sullivan is one of the most able men in the democratic party in Kentucky and made a fine impression upon all who heard, or met him.

JIM GARNETT AT HUSTONVILLE

Hon. James Garnett, of Columbia, democratic nominee for attorney general, will speak to the voters of Hustonville on Tuesday night. Mr. Garnett is a splendid orator, and is very popular in Lincoln, especially in the West End and a splendid crowd should hear him.

DISPATCHING BY TELEPHONE

Dispatching by telephone was begun on this division of the L. & N. last week. The telegraph will be used in cases of emergency.

Orders are given by the dispatcher at Livingston, and so perfectly constructed is the line there is no difficulty whatever in hearing distinctly his voice. The apparatus is so arranged that, while every office along the line is on the same wire, the dispatcher can ring any one of the offices without ringing any of the others, when an order is given, the figures and meeting are first spoken and then spelled. The order is then repeated by the operator to the dispatcher in the same manner.

For example, on order is given and repeated thus: Train No. 86 (t-w-e-l-v-e) s-i-x engine No. 1237 (t-w-e-l-v-e) t-h-r-e-e s-w-a-g-o-n will meet train No. 83 (t-e-i-g-h-t) (t-h-r-e-e) engine Number 1242 (t-w-e-l-v-e) f-o-u-r (t-w-o) at Stanford. (S-t-a-n-f-o-r-d.)

The divisions between Paris and Knoxville have been using the telephone for dispatching trains for some time past.

CHAMP CLARK SPEAKS HERE IN TWO WEEKS.

Speaker of National House to Appear in Stanford on Oct. 23—Big Demand for Seats

Champ Clark speaks in Stanford Monday night October 23. The speaker of the National House comes here under the auspices of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, and will speak at the opera house.

Stanford is to have the coming season a lecture and entertainment course of exceptional merit. The course comprises five numbers in all. There will be three evenings of music an evening of magic by one of the best magicians on the platform today and the lecture by Speaker Champ Clark, which is the first on the program. Season tickets for the five entertainments have been placed at $2.50 for the first eight rows of seats and $2.00 for the balance of the house. Those who get their tickets first get the pick of seats and can have them reserved for the entire course of five numbers.

If ever a man was equipped for public service that man is Champ Clark, who comes Oct. 23. He is magnificent mentally and with his wonderful knowledge of law and of men, he holds a record for oratory and debate, that few have equalled and none surpassed. Not only is Mr. Clark well equipped for public service and public usefulness, but he holds the record of having used that equipment to a splendid advantage. He has classic diction and inimitable humor and fiery eloquence.

As speaker of the House, few men in the history of that body have overaled him. Some of his speeches have been compared with those of Daniel Webster. His speech on the Cuban question was copied into 22 papers in France alone. As an orator and speaker of the House, Clark has brought fame not only to himself but to the state which he has so long represented. He has made Missouri one of the best advertised in the Union. But Mr. Clark is too well known to need further comment here.

Mendelssohn Quartet.

The Mendelssohn Quartet Company the second number on the program coming Nov. 10, is something new in male quartets. While appearing in modern evening dress they will retain the spirit of the historic minstrel entertainer. The historic minstrel, it will be recalled, was refined and artistic in temperament, a combination of poet and musician who spent his days strolling from village to village, singing his songs and reciting his verses to all who would hear, from the lords and ladies of court and castle to the humble peasant folk and children of the street, his great genius lying in his ability to adapt his verse and song to fit any occasion, or any mood of his listeners. In addition to their vocal work, they will perform with violins and cello.

Reno, Magician.

Reno, the magician the third number of the program on Nov 24 has been upon the platform for 32 ears. He has traveled all over the world including India, Syria and Egypt, studying the magic of those lands. He carries birds, rabbit and a goose. Very many of his tricks are of his own invention. He gives a full two hour's program.

One of his performances that never fails to amaze an audience is known as the "dove trick". He burns a piece of common paper, and a doves rises phoenix like from the ashes. He apparently tears the dove in two, only to find that he has two doves in his hand. He throws a glass of water into the air and it changes into a dove and flies away.

Not the least enjoyable feature of Reno's performance is the running fire of comment with which he envelops everything he does. These fragmentary remarks are full of wit, with flash after flash of good tapered satire aimed at himself or his work. He is a man of fine personality and an artistic appreciation of the success he has achieved in his profession.

The Musical Favorites.

For versatility the Musical Favorites, another number on this forthcoming course, have few equals. They play upon the saxophone, euphonium, piano, violin, cello, three banjos and three mandolins, while Mr. Arthur Love, still further varies the program with his poems and readings. This company comprises four people, Arthur Love, Lena Love George L. McHenry and Nina McHenry. Mr. Love for years gave an entire evening's entertainment himself in vocal and instrumental music and humorous selections, many of his own composition. The musical favorites are the fourth number on the Lyceum Course program, coming here Jan 6, 1912.

The Orchestral Entertainers.

Nine-Tenths of the Lyceum course sees in America enjoy a versatile program in music. The program of the Orchestral Entertainers is not only decidedly versatile but each member is well equipped to play the various instruments in an effective manner.

The instruments which this company use are: The cornet, flute, violin, cello and piano. Their program consists of instrumental solos, duets and orchestral numbers also enable vocal music rendered in conjunction with the orchestral numbers. Humorous readings and whistling solos are also numbers of the evening.

This company of young ladies have been giving concerts for more than five years past with most excellent reports from the places where they have appeared. On the Chautauquus the past season, their work was very highly commented upon. They do not claim to give a heavy or extremely classical program but they fill every demand for a versatile popular musical evening. They come to the opera house on Feb. 29.

BRODHEAD.

Miss John Eva Hilton, of Stanford visited Mrs. Susie Cherry last week.

Dr. G. M. Frith left last week for Louisville, where he will finish his last course in demistry.

R. C. Anderson and son who bought J. T. Cherry's store house took possession last Monday W. H. Sowder moved his mercantile goods into the house vacated by Anderson and son, and Mr. Cherry moved his goods into the house vacated by Mr. Sowder.

Uncle Dock Woodard has returned home after visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harry Hilton at Stanford.

Mrs. J. M. Clark who has been quite ill is some better.

Joe Albright has moved his family from Lebanon to Broadhead.

Mr. Tyee and family have moved into one of Mr. Cherry's on Silver street. Mr. Tyee will start up a pool table in the old Albright house.

Mrs. Molly Durham has moved from Silver street to Mr. Cass's house on the hill. Mrs. Daisy Hiat has moved into the one she vacated.

Andrew Osborne, the young man who passed himself off as chairman, of the Board of Education while making an address at Broadhead Graded School two weeks has proven to be a horse thief. Last Saturday he borrowed a horse from J. A. Hopkins to ride to church. Instead he escaped with the horse.

He was found at Paint Lick the following day and is now in jail at Mt. Vernon.

Last Friday afternoon Thomas Evans of this place and Miss Sallie Laws were married at Lyons, Ky.

The bride is the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Laws who for the past few years lived here but a few weeks ago moved to Lyons.

The groom is a prosperous young man, holds a good position with the L. & N. Railroad Company. They will make their home in Broadhead. We wish them much happiness.

FIVE CANDIDATES.

For Master Commissionership When Judge Hardin Goes In

Considerable interest is being manifested in the race for Master Commissionership of the Lincoln Circuit Court, which will be filled by Hon. Charles A. Hardin, when he is sworn in as judge of this judicial district which will be after the November election, as he has no opposition and will be elected by acclamation. George D. Florence is the present Commissioner, having been appointed by Judge L. L. Walker, when he was appointed Judge by Acting Governor Cox. Of course, Judge Hardin will not appoint a republican to the place, so that a successful one will be named to succeed him.

So far there are five well known democrats who are applicants for the place, or are being prominently mentioned in connection with it by their friends. They are T. J. Hill, Jr., Col. J. D. Swope, H. R. Sanfley, Jr. The Master Commissionership pays about $500 or $600 a year in Lincoln county and is quite a juicy plum for the new Judge to hand to some friend.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES

Dr. J. W. McCarvey, one of the deans of the Christian church in Kentucky, died at Lexington last week.

The Court of Appeals decided last week that a $5,000 saloon license in Bowling Green was unenforceable, and says it should be $1,000.

State University will get $100,000 from the Rockefeller fund.

The Sweeney—Shelby Company of Junction City has sold out to the Cumberland Grocery Company, of Somerset.

A woman was indicted by a Larue county grand jury for "shooting crabs." Probably the matrimonial gamble was not sufficiently exciting to please her.

DRIPPING SPRINGS

Sorghum making and corn cutting seems to be the order of the day.

Rev. A. C. Baird preached four sermons to large congregations at Bethel church in Garrard. Everybody in that community seem to be much interested in building a new Baptist church. All those who are interested in that part of the country are urged to be present on the 4th Saturday in December.

Saturday in October.

Rev. A. C. Baird filled his appointment at Beech Grove Baptist church last Saturday and Sunday preaching to a large crowd. His subject was "Grow in Faith."

The Sunday school there is progressing nicely. The little ones are getting interested, attending in wagon loads.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wells visited Rev. A. C. Baird and wife of Garrard last week.

W. Landgraf, of Waynesburg, was here last week to receive the new school house just erected by J. T. Wells. He was well pleased with the building.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shaw, of Preachersville, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wells.

Singing school began at Tyrone the 7th of the month. Something much needed in this community.

Mesdames Singleton and Dyehouse are doing nicely with their store here.

The revenue men were in this section last week looking after the boot leggers and caught up with some of the boys. We hope he will visit this part often and break up the whisky trade as there is lots of the stuff sold in this locality. The good people say they will put their shoulder to the wheel and try to stop the liquor trade.

Andy Renfro sold a calf to L. K. Wells for $15.

E. L. Wilson bought two calves of Thos. Singleton at $11; Sam Holman sold one to a Garrard man for $11.

The home of James Cheek burned down last week. All the contents were consumed. No insurance.

GOSHEN SCOOLO HONOR ROLL FOR SEPTEMBER.

CAPT. RICHARDS DEAD

Gallant Warrior of the Lost Cause Answers Last Bugle Call.

To the memory of Thomas Richards, a bugler in the Confederate Army.

With bugle blast he called to arms, Brave men in time of war, With fearless soul and patriot heart He followed the Southern Star. No fear of death was in his breast, He faced it o'er and o'er On many a field of conflict. Made red with human gore. Like brave Morgan, Lee and Jackson The bugle call of God. Has but called him to his comrades, Who sleep beneath the sod.

Capt. Thomas Richards, one of the best known Confederate veterans in this part of the state, passed over his dark river Sunday morning to rest with Lee and Jackson 'neath the shade of the trees.

For a number of years, Capt. Richards had been an invalid confined closely to his home and bed and news of his passing away did not come as a surprise to his many friends, who mourned, however, that a noble soul had gone out from their midst.

Capt. Richards served bravely in the Civil War and after it was over he settled down in Lincoln county, though a native of Garrard. He was a silversmith by trade, but did not follow it all his life, spending some time as host of hotels at Danville and here.

He is survived by his wife, who has also been in very poor health for many years, and his daughter, Miss Bessie Richards, who has been a noble support to her father in his declining days. The remains were taken to his old home at Lancaster for interment Monday.

Capt. Richards was just 80 years of age, and it was a strange coincidence that he passed away on the 49th anniversary of the battle of Perryville in which he took part.

Mrs. Richards was before her marriage, Miss Sallie Dunn, of Garrard. To them three daughters were born, of whom one, Miss Bessie Richards, survives together with one grandchild, Miss Jean Patrick.

PREACHERSVILLE.

A good stock barn, 40 by 60 feet, belonging to Jones L. Anderson, burned down at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. A lot of machinery, plow gear etc., were consumed. A lot of chickens also burned in a shed near by. This barn was built by J. F. Holtzclaw some years ago on site of the historic and widely known "Red House," which was at one time the only store here and was the location of our postoffice at one time.

It is fortunate for Mr. A. that his stock were all in the pasture at the time the fire occurred.

It is not known how the fire originated, but believed to have been due to tramps, but none were seen there lately, tho' the barn was on the pike and sometimes used by them.

When the alarm was raised the roof was on fire all over but none in stalls below, according to those first on the scene.

No insurance on the barn, it having expired last month.
