ANDERSON COUNTY FAVORS A PRIMARY.

And Against Taking Snap Action In Congressional Race In Favor of Any Candidate

Cheering news came to Congressman Harvey Helm this week from Anderson county, where a very bitter and personal fight has been made upon him by Editor Jesse M. Alverson, of the News.

It develops that an effort was made to call a meeting of the 8th District Congressional Committee at Lexington at the time the 5th Appellate Committee was meeting and nominating Judge John D. Carroll for re-election to the Court of Appeals. It was hoped by the opponents of Congressman Helm to enlist a majority of the district committee, who would request Chairman Fitch to call a meeting and upon his refusing to do this, they desired to have the majority of the committee they hoped to get, call the committee together and then vote a call for a congressional convention.

Chairman Mountjoy, of the Anderson county committee, was requested to attend, and there was some suspicion, it seems, that he might favor action looking toward a convention. So the Democratic County Committee of Anderson, the governing authority there, quietly held a little meeting itself, and at its meeting instructed Chairman Mountjoy to vote for a primary in the event the congressional matter was brought up at the Lexington conference.

The Lexington meeting was held, and Judge Carroll was renominated for his position on the appellate bench, but there was nothing said or done in an official way touching upon the 8th Congressional district nomination, or the method of making same. The district committeemen are undoubtedly determined to abide by the Democratic state platform, and are not in favor of snap judgment being taken in the interest of any candidate or set of candidates in direct violation of the party's pledge to the people.

CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES AGAIN.

Judge L. L. Walker convened Circuit court again after a short recess of several days during which time he held a short special term of court at Danville. The civil docket was taken up, the first suit coming to the attention of the court being that of the Willow Springs Distillery Company against W. O. Speed, being an old suit for some $700 alleged to be due for some whiskey bought years ago. The grand jury again went into session Thursday and a number of indictments are expected this week.

COUNCILMAN W. P. WALTON

(Frankfort News-Journal).
Councilman W. P. Walton is the way the erstwhile dean of the rural roosters will have to be addressed in the future. Col. Walton was elected a member of the council at Lexington from the second ward, at the recent election. Col. Walton, with his usual modesty, did not say anything about having entered politics, and the Lexington newspapers having so much election news to print, did not make any special mention of the election of the famous editor. The next thing we may expect to hear is that Councilman Walton is running for Mayor of Lexington.

Figures made known by the Census Bureau show the value of Kentucky horses and mules to be $71,974,26. Iowa leads in value of draft animals, while Texas leads all other States in the number and value of its mules.

CRAB ORCHARD.

As I have not seen any news from this town for some time I feel moved by an unknown power to drop a few lines of random.

After a very prosperous and gay season, the summer festivities have passed, a very noted feature of which was the National Fox Hunter's meeting, which took place at the famous Crab Orchard Springs, during the past week. This meeting was attended by noted sportsmen from several states, the most noted among them being, Roger Williams, of Lexington, who is president of the association. Elson A. Starks, of Pittsfield, Mass., Thomas Mall, of Holly Grove, Ark., A. M. Watson, of Thomasville, Ga., C. P. Mullins, of Buffalo, N. Y., W. P. Hulbert and Dr. Clark Davis of Cincinnati Ohio. It was conceded by all that the meeting was a success.

Since the election of the new board of Trustees, this burg has begun to look up, and take on city airs. Concrete side-walks are being built, and several new buildings are under construction in New Crab Orchard, which by the way, is the coming part of our town. There is now more business done in and around the depot, than all the rest of town.

There is an extensive timber business at this place, although it was believed that all the timber had been exhausted years ago.

The Bowyer Bros., have just rounded out a week's quail hunting. They were the guests of J. G. Riddle while here.

J. B. Leavell, and daughter, of Bryantsville attended the fox hunt, and were the guests of kinsmen here.

Miss Mollie Brooks went to Louisville for a short stay.

Mrs. M. E. Fish, who has been quite ill, we are glad to say is convalescing.

Curtis Egbert remains very low. Mrs. Clara D. Traylor, of Richmond, Ky., who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. I. W. Fish, returned home today. Mrs. Fish accompanying her as far as Stanford.

R. L. Collier of the Duke & Collier Lumber Company, made a flying trip to Lebanon and other points on business.

Madam Rumor has it, that one of our "Slatessville" girls is soon to be wedded. Can't give names yet.

The hunters report a scarcity of quails but lots of rabbits.

Messrs. C. A. Redd, James A. Edmiston and Hesser Howard, returned from a bear hunt, in the mountains of East Kentucky. They say the bear was conspicuous for his absence in that section.

The L. & N., railroad company are assisting our progressive town trustees in making streets in Crab Orchard, which is highly appreciated by all.

George F. Deborde's friends in this end of the county are glad they will have an opportunity to show their appreciation for his father's loyalty, and his untiring work for the party, by voting for him, for jailer. We believe that he will make good, as his father did.

Mr. Fred Garnett who is acting agent for the L. & N., railroad Co., here likes our town so well, he has decided to make his home here in the future.

Mr. P. D. Colyer, one of our merchants, will move his business to Cedar Creek, he having rented the store room, recently vacated by Ware & Garner.

The residence of John Robinson near town was destroyed by fire Tuesday night.

Earl Baker, one of our prominent farmers, left the city today on a business trip to Richmond, Carlisle, Maysville, and other points.

Mr. A. B. Bastin, who has been representing the Adler Lumber Company at this place, will go to Nebraska in the near future to make his home.

Mr. Gus Giesal will locate in Arizona. We regret to give up these good citizens.

Mrs. Sallie Pennington left last Monday for Harrah Okla., where she will make here home in the future.

Vie Owens has returned to St. Louis.

Mr. J. E. Pleasants is out after a severe attack of la grippe.

What has become of the chair factory that was going to locate here?

This is a good location for a flour mill, being, as it is located between the consumer and producer.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Baptist church will hold an exchange in the Judge Colyer store room on Wednesday 20th. Cakes and candies in profusion and all are invited to buy their Thanksgiving suppers that day. Exchange opens at 10 A. M.

HICCOUGHED TWO DAYS

Curtis Egbert, of Crag Orchard, In Bad Condition.

W. Curtis Egbert, of the East End, who has been ill for the past six months, with a complication of diseases, hiccoughed 2 1-2 days last week which prostrated him very much, and he still continues weak. The attending physicians did everything in their power to stop the hiccoughs and finally succeeded after a hard struggle. Mr. Egbert's many friends have been quite uneasy over his condition.

LEAVES BRIDE OF FIVE MONTHS

George James, aged 20 years, a son of Eph James, died at his home in the Cedar Creek section Monday, after a short illness of typhoid fever. Young James is survived by his wife, to whom he had been married only five months, and his taking away is particularly sad at this time. His widow, family and other loved ones have much sympathy in their bereavement.

Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., condemned to die Friday morning in the electric chair at Richmond, Va., for wife murder received the sacrament of the Lord's supper and professed religion.

IS PROBABLY THE NEXT MASTER COMMISSIONER OF GARRARD.

HON. W. H. BROWN.

The above is a cut of Hon. W. H. Brown, Garrard county better known to his friends, however, as "Boze" Brown, who will in all probability be appointed Master Commissioner of Garrard county by Judge Hardin. Mr. Brown has a great many friends in Lincoln county who believe he is the right man for this place, and that there is truly no more deserving democrat in Garrard of the honor.

Mr. Brown was the campaign chairman in Garrard in the recent

CALLENDER—JACOBS

Popular McKinney Couple Are Married at Henderson.

McKinney, Nov. 23.

A wedding of much interest here was solemnized at the home of Mr. J. M. Callender, at Henderson, on Wednesday, the 22d, the contracting parties being Miss Dollie Callender and Mr. Harry Jacobs, of our city. The bride is a well known and much admired young lady of the county, and has a host of friends in her home town, while Mr. Jacobs is one of the best known business men of McKinney. He stands high with esteem of all, and he is to be heartily congratulated on winning such a charming helpmeet.

Mr. Jacobs and Miss Callender were married at the home of Miss Callender's parents, where a few of the most intimate friends were present. After the ceremony, they were escorted to the dining room where a sumptuous six o'clock dinner was served. The bridal couple then left on a train for Evansville, Ind., and other points of interest. They will return home here Sunday or Monday where they will be tendered another reception by their many friends here and elsewhere who extend to him and Mrs. Jacobs their very best wishes for a long and happy life.

Porter Duncan and sister, Miss Myrtle, are visiting in Stanford this week, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Reynolds.

Oscar Fowler and Herbert Foulzer were calling on lady friends here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Singleton entertained the band boys last Monday and served refreshments, much to the boys' delight.

Brother Gabbert will preach at the Christian church on next Sunday, morning and night.

Miss Lula Thacker is the attractive guest of the Misses Houchins at Elixir Springs.

It sounds to us as if we can hear the sound of wedding bells that will soon ring for some of our town people.

Miss Belle Gooch visited her brother in Somerset last week.

The Literary Society will meet at the schoolhouse Friday night at 6:45 o'clock.

Miss Bertha Rhoten, a niece of Mrs. W. A. Coffey, and Dennis Cassidy, both of Somerset, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Wednesday at the home of Mr. Rhoten. They came to McKinney and are the guests of Mrs. Coffey, who delightfully entertained for them.

Chester Coffey, of Rome, Ga., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coffey. This is his first visit home in four years.

Miss Lena Beck is visiting in Somerset, the attractive guest of Miss Bessie Clothier.

Mrs. J. W. Davis and son, of Somerset, were the guests of her parent, J. L. Beck last week.

SIX GOVERNORS.

Will Participate in Inauguration of Gov. McCreary.

One Governor of Kentucky, a Governor elect and four ex-Governors of this Commonwealth will participate in the inauguration of James B. McCreary December 12 at Frankfort.

The ex-Governors are Simon Bolivar Buckner, Senator W. O. Bradley, J. C. W. Beckham and Mr. McCreary. Of course the Governor who will participate in Governor Willson and it is probably the only time in the history of any state in the Union when so many ex-Governors took part in the inauguration of a Governor. Former Governor Puckner, Bradley and Beckham will occupy a carriage and be in the inaugural parade with Governor Willson and Governor-elect McCreary.

The inaugural parade will be the largest and most impressive ever seen in this state. It will come near being a military pageant, as the entire State militia will participate along with thousands of ex-federate soldiers dressed in grey uniforms if that number can get to this city and members of Democratic Marching Clubs and young men's Democratic clubs from every large city in this state will be invited to participate in the parade.

RURAL ROUTE NO. 1.

The burial of Ed White was postponed until last Saturday morning, on account of his brother Joe, who came from Texas, missing connection. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. G. Livingston, assisted by Mr. J. C. McClary. The members of the Masonic order of Crab Orchard and Preachersville took charge of the remains at the grave. The largest crowd of relatives and friends I have ever seen assembled at a country burial, was around the grave as the last of this splendid young man's remains were laid in his last resting place. The family wish to express their thanks to the kind neighbors for their goodness and kindness during his long sickness, especially to Sidney Dunn, who hardly left his bedside day or night during the last illness.

There are three historical farms on Cedar Creek; the old Whitley farm, owned now by Mrs. Sallie Pennington, the brick house of which there has been so much written. It was built in 1782. The walls are one foot thick; the doors made of one-inch oak plank double thickness, and the windows are six feet from the ground with 8x10 lights. Some of the glass now in them was carried over the mountains on pack horse. The house is built of red brick with white brick so arranged as to make diamond shapes all over the house.

The farm now owned by H. F. Newland was bought from Colonel Whitley about 1780 by his great-grandfather. There have been five generations born on the farm which has been in the family for 130 years.

The old original farm contained 243 acres. The price paid was 295 pounds and three shillings, and not a cent of it in cash but in produce of the farm and no deed was made till the farm was paid for.

John Robinson's home near Crab Orchard burned Monday evening. Most of the household goods were gotten out by the neighbors. The loss is about $800, with no insurance.

The Pleasants farm now owned by J. T. and G. A. Pleasants, has been in that family for over 80 years. There is now standing on the farm an old horse mill in good repair. The main wheel that runs the stones is 100 feet in circumference. It has wooden cogs and is still used in grinding corn, buckwheat, etc. There are seven of the Pleasants brothers and sisters still living and in good health. The youngest is 66 years old and all live in three miles of Crab Orchard.

Newland and Scott sold to Thurston Jones a bunch of 200-pound hogs at $5.50 a hundred and to Oscar Jones a bunch of shoats at $5.

B. D. Holtzclaw is building a nice residence on the farm he recently bought of Garner Price.

The high winds of the last few days have done considerable damage by blowing down fodder. In some fields there is scarcely a shock standing.

Mrs. Sallie Pennington has rented her farm to J. W. Reynolds, of near Rowland. Mrs. Pennington has gone to Oklahoma to live with her daughter, Mrs. E. O. Singleton.

Miss Nell Newland has gone to Preachersville to help Mr. W. O. Cummins during the Christmas rush at his store.

Mrs. Sid Duke made a pleasant visit with Mrs. H. F. Newland last week.

O. P. Newland came up from Burnside to the burial of Ed White. Miss Iallie Garner has returned home from McKinney where she has been helping her uncle, Mr. Ware, in his store during his big sale.

Mrs. Charley Lewis died last week of pneumonia and was buried Sunday. She was a sister of T. D. Boone. She leaves a husband and two little children, besides other brothers and sisters to mourn her loss.

There was a small wreck Sunday evening about a mile south of Maywood. A tender jumped the track and tore it up for a considerable distance. One of the trainmen was bruised up considerably. All trains were delayed four hours.

LOGAN'S CREEK NEWS

The protracted meeting which has been in progress for the past two weeks conducted by Rev. Herold, of West Virginia, closed with good results.

Miss Edith O. Watkins has been on the sick list.

Mrs. C. E. Rice and adopted daughter, Maud, and little niece, Miss Nell Newland, of Livingston, was the guest of Mrs. W. M. Fields and family last week.

Miss Lizzie Bee Coppage, who has been the attractive guest of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Martin, has returned to Georgetown.

Mrs. J. M. Ware has been quite ill for the past week.

Mr. Thurman Jones has been visiting his uncle, Mr. C. W. Lovell.

W. M. Fields, W. M. Duncan, A. W. Sampson, R. N. Sampson and Henry Fields will leave on a hunting trip to Rockcastle, to be the guest of J. W. Fields while there.

Marion Fields broke the record in this section while hunting the last three days, killing 46 birds. Good for Marion.

S. L. Stephenson attended the Masonic banquet at London last Monday evening.

Brother D. M. Walker, of Stanford, has been hunting for the last few days with J. T. Dudderar, of this vicinity.

W. H. MURPHY MAY LOSE SIGHT OF AN EYE

Small Piece of Rock Penetrates Eyeball and Causes Serious and Painful Injury

W. H. Murphy is in bad shape at his home on the Hustonville pike as a result of a peculiar accident last week. While breaking up some rock near the barn, a small chip flew into his left eye penetrating the white of the eyeball, just before the retina, and causing a very painful and serious injury. Mr. Murphy has been in a rundown condition for some time and since he has been laid up with his injury, has become in bad condition and is under constant medical treatment.

His physician is unable to say as yet whether or not he will lose the sight of the eye, though fears are entertained that he will.

Mr. Murphy is one of the best known and most prominent farmers of Lincoln county and has a host of friends who will regret to learn of his injury.

FREE STEREOPTICON LECTURE

Mr. G. C. Cromer, superintendent of the All-Prayer Foundings' Home at Louisville, will give a free stereopticon lecture at the Methodist church this Friday, night, illustrating scenes in Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. The institution over which he presides cares for infants and is doing a great work. He will give remarkable instances of answers to prayer in the conduct of the home. He is endorsed by the leading ministers of Louisville. Everybody is invited to come and enjoy the evening with this man of God. There will be no collection.

GOOD FOR JOE EMBRY.

(Louisville Times.)
Another popular Democrat who will get a good place in State Auditor Bosworth's office is Joe T. Embry, of Lincoln county. Joe is a wheelhorse among the Eighth district Democracy and a power when it comes to helping a friend. He was the Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives at the last session and has an announced candidature for his old place, but his new job will leave the place of tending to the main door in the House of Representatives chamber. There will likely be a field full of candidates for this choice place.

CHAS. COOPER PARDONED.

Charles Cooper, of Bell county, and Elijah Blanton, of Hardin county, life convicts in the penitentiary for murder were pardoned last week by Governor Willson.

The cases have been before Governor Willson since he came into office, and he says he thinks the men have been punished sufficiently for the crime committed, which it is alleged, were in self-defense.

Cooper is given absolute pardon, but Blanton's pardon is conditional on his good behavior. Cooper is well-known in Lincoln.

BAZAAR AT HUSTONVILLE

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church will have at the opera house on November 28 from noon 'till 12 P. M., a bazaar of fancy work and edibles. Ices served at all hours. Every one cordially invited to be present.

CAUGHEY—LAWSON.

Mr. John Lawson and Miss Effie Caughey were married last Saturday the 18th at 11 A. M., at the home of Martin Lawson, brother of the bridegroom, on the Dr. Fowler farm on Hanging Fork. Rev. J. J. Dickey performed the ceremony and reports a most delightful old time wedding with a big dinner of everything good.

The I. J., carries more farm and sale advertising than any other country paper in Kentucky. There's
