

The West End.

Hustonsville, Nov. 23.

Mrs. Fannie Alford the beloved mother of Jack Alford died on Wednesday night of last week after an illness of several weeks. She was 79 years old and greatly beloved by her numerous relatives and friends. She was laid to rest in the McKinney cemetery.

A beautiful and bright little child named Marie Walls is named for a Lexington relative of the writer. She lives on the Jumbo road.

A splendid crop of tobacco has been housed in good shape in the West End of Lincoln.

The finishing touches are being put on the beautiful cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stephenson. The location is an ideal one as well as the large house and its situation must be seen to be properly appreciated.

The handsome little child of Mrs. Everett Yocum died last week age about four months. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. Clell Estes of Lexington shipped down to Earleston a few days past and married a Miss Wilson who accompanied him to Lexington where they will reside on the future.

Mr. W. J. Campbell our insurance man lost an eye last week by being struck on the eye ball by a small piece of rock that was being broken.

America now leads the world in the comparative size of educational institutions, Columbia University having displaced the University of Berlin, according to registration figures. Although the figures are not final, the number of students at Columbia this year is well in excess of 8,000. Last year the total was 7,364.

An interurban line equipped for freight and passenger traffic from here to Moreland a distance little less than two miles, up the Creek route will be a big paying investment, and give quite a boom to our city. It would enhance the value of property here as well as that of every farm through which it passed. Four thousand acres of fine timber have been pledged to be brought here for shipment to the Cincinnati market when the road is completed. The Hustonsville Commercial Club is behind this enterprise. Liberty will build a line to connect with ours here.

The state inspector of rural routes passed over route one, from this place last week and condemned that portion of said route, that goes down the Sims branch from the pike to the creek crossing near the home of W. P. Estes. He said the road must be made outside this branch and be completed before hard freezing weather if possible.

Mr. G. C. Lyon shipped last week 70 head of fine slick 1,400 pound cattle. It has been a long time since a bunch as large in numbers and weights has been shipped by one farmer in Lincoln.

The tobacco and corn crops in the West End have all been cut, and a fine quality of both has been well housed before the frost injured them.

There is a good opening for a good blacksmith shop at Earle's store.

Mr. D. S. Carpenter, who has been seriously ill from the effect of a paralytic stroke some weeks past, is thought to be improving slowly and his numerous friends hope for his full recovery soon.

James Dye, of St. Louis has been visiting his relatives in Fair Valley, and along the upper Green river valley. His stay however was brief as business in St. Louis called him.

Pine Lick Creek was past flooding Monday, and the heavy rains have made heavy roads to travel.

Mr. Henry Peck, of Middletown, Ohio, visited his brothers near Jumbo last week.

Take warning from the McKinney sawing factory and don't cut a tobacco that has a decayed spot on it. They lost two wagon loads by not watching for decayed spots on tobacco.

Our farmers are making hay while the sun shines. Corn and tobacco cutting has been pushed to a finish and both crops are fine and well housed.

A nice little home of 15 acres of good land on pike near Mt. Salem can be bought on good terms for only $600. Address Box 82.

Miss Effie Peck left Saturday for Middletown, Ohio. Luther Mason accompanied her on her trip.

We have a splendid farm bargain to offer this week. A 75 acre river bottom farm a fine community, close to schools and churches. It has a nice cottage home, and on county road and in a splendid community. And the price is so low that it will sell quick. Write to Box 82, Hustonsville, Ky.

June Reid returned to Longview, Ala., Wednesday after spending a few days with his numerous friends and relatives in the West End of Lincoln.

The "bean hulling" Wednesday evening at the Cummins home at Jumbo was well attended. Written invitations to the hulling had been mailed throughout the entire end of the county including Geneva, which sent some handsome delegates.

Dr. Alcorn has been appointed by our Commercial Club as chairman of committee to call on the trustees of the Southern railroad and solicit their aid in building a line less than two miles in length from here to Moreland, right up the creek with a nice hill side cut nearly all the way. Capt. J. P. Denham, who lives near Jumbo, is confined to his bed with a severe case of la grippe and his comrades and numerous friends are hoping he will soon fully recover.

Many hundreds of panels of fencing were blown down in the past few days along the upper Green river valley. Quite a number of trees, and corn in the shock, suffered the same from the high winds.

Jesse L. Nunnelley, of Indianapolis, Ind., formerly a resident near here, married Miss Vadie Martin in Indiana last week. This young couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends in this community with them.

T. B. Gallie and family left Thursday for Florida where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

Miss Bertha Masters, of Drakeboro, was the welcome guest last week of Misses Kathleen and Sallie Rounton.

I have a splendid farm bargain to offer this week, viz: a 75 acre river bottom farm with nice cottage home on county road in a fine community close to church and school. The price is so low that it will sell quick so better look it up at once. See W. R. Williams & Co., Hustonsville.

We have two most remarkable farm bargains to offer this week only. One contains 200 acres of fine bottom land in the Green river valley. The other contains 75 acres and joins the 200 acre tract. Both have good dwellings, situated in a fine community close to school, church and store. The 200 acre tract has a very handsome modern new 8-room dwelling and all necessary outbuildings. Price for 200 acre tract $7,500 and terms to suit. Price for the 75 acre tract $2,500, and terms right. Both are remarkably priced bargains. For particulars write or phone W. R. Williams & Company, Hustonsville, Ky., at once.

The young man that wins the chief clerk of Geneva will draw the capital prize and will never have cause to regret it.

Mr. Fred Jeffers has gone to Louisville to observe from the best professions the strict observance of all requirements necessary to the best health in this locality.
