

K. L. TANNER PASSES AWAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Prominent Business Man of McKinney and Esteemed by Every One—A Self Made Man.

Knacy L. Tanner, one of the most prominent citizens of Lincoln county, after a short illness, died at his home in McKinney, this county, yesterday morning at 4 o'clock, in the 83d year of his age. In his death

Lincoln county loses one of its worthiest and most substantial citizens, whose loss will be severely felt by his family, but by the whole community in which he lived.

Mr. Tanner was a native of Tennessee, having been born near Nashville, and when about 18 years of age he left the place of his nativity to begin the activities of life for himself. He first located at Rowena on the Cumberland river in this State, where he remained for seven or eight years and then moved to Liberty, Casey county at which place he was actively engaged in business until 1879, when he moved to McKinney where he has since resided. Shortly after his removal to McKinney, Mr. Tanner was married to Miss Elizabeth Vandever, a sister of the late D. W. Vandever, and she and seven of the ten children with which their union was blessed survive him. The children are K. L. Tanner, Jr., John L. Tanner, of Ore, V. M. Tanner, and Ed. J. Tanner, of McKinney, Mrs. W. K. Shugars, of this place and Mrs. H. C. Nunnelley, of Winchester.

During his whole life Mr. Tanner was actively engaged in farming and mercantile pursuits and was always a director in one or more banks. He was a man of exceptional business capacity, which was supplemented by a high sense of honor and unbounded energy. Possessed of these qualifications he was bound to succeed and did succeed at the time of his death he was possessed of one of the largest estates in the county. He was in every sense the architect of his own fortune, for when he left home to begin the battle of life his possessions consisted of a horse, a wagon, and five dollars in cash.

For more than half a century he had been a consistent and active member of the Christian church, and leaves to his children not only an abundance of his world's goods, but that which is of far greater value, the heritage of a good name.

He will be buried at McKinney cemetery at 2 P. M., today under the auspices of the Masonic Fraternity, of which lodge he was long a member, after funeral services at his residence.

R. G. Pettus has Narrow Escape

The Lancaster Record says: While going to his home from town last Sunday afternoon in a buggy drawn by a pair of spirited horses, Mr. Richard G. Pettus, of near Preachersville, together with his wife and her sister, Miss McKechnie, who were in the buggy with him, had a very narrow escape from serious injury and probably death. Just at dusk they met an automobile and the horses became frightened at the glare of the lamps and became unmanageable. They turned sharply in the road, overturning the vehicle and ran from near Mr. John Pease's on the Crab Orchard "ke into town dragging the overturned vehicle with them. They were stopped near the Sweeney stable. When the vehicle was overturned, Mr. Pettus and the ladies were thrown out and miraculously escaped injury. Mr. Pettus pluckily secured another buggy and proceeded on his homeward way, driving the horses which had figured in the runaway. He did not know who owned the automobile, but was under the impression that it was driven by a colored man, who never stopped to ascertain the result of the accident.

Roosevelt and Johnson were nominated for president and vice president, respectively by the Progressive convention at Chicago this week. Johnson is the fighting republican governor of California.

Two More Automobiles.

Messrs. Lee Rupley and John Owsley Reid went to Cincinnati Monday night to buy an automobile for Mr. Rupley. He bought a two passenger, Regal car. They drove through from Cincinnati in the car. Will Hoeker has also joined the ranks of local auto owners with one of the popular Ford touring cars.

Young Waynesburg Farmer No More

George Florence, a well known young farmer of the Waynesburg section, died at his home there early in the week of dread consumption, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. He was just 30 years of age, and is survived by his wife and several small children. Mr. Florence was a Christian and ready and prepared to meet his maker. His remains were laid to rest in Buffalo Springs Cemetery on Wednesday with services at the grave by Mr. J. C. McClary.

Col. Elkin Came Home to Vote

Col. M. F. Elkin, of Lexington, came home to vote in the democratic primary last Saturday, making the 14th time he has come back to his old home to cast his ballot. Col. Elkin has not lived in Stanford for that length of time, but he declared that he never expected to change his official voting residence, so the idea of November, and now the August Primary—generally find him wending his way toward Lincoln, where his heart is ever turning, he eloquently says. On one occasion he made a trip of 1,400 miles to come home to vote. It was for Bryan in 1896, and he says that he never cast a vote with more pleasure in his life.

McKinney.

Miss Mary Carter and Miss Florence Beck, of near Stanford were the guests of Mrs. R. H. Metcalf this week.

The graded school commenced here Monday with a large attendance with Mr. Caldwell as principal and Miss Mada Butler as Assistant.

Mr. Harry Jacobs, wife and pretty little daughter, Ada left Tuesday for a ten days' visit with friends at Louisville and Elizabethtown.

The patrons of the Turnersville district had quite a warm election of the trustees last week, Mr. J. W. Peake winning by a majority of 39 votes. Herbert Reynolds is teaching school there and says they are having a good attendance this term.

Miss Lelia West of Lexington, and Revel Gooch, of Somerset, were the guests of Mr. Gooch's sister, Mrs. T. H. Singleton this week.

Stroud Gooch and his family, moved to Somerset this week, where he has a good position with the Columbia Single Tree Co., at that place.

Mrs. H. C. Nunnelley, of Winchester, was called home by the death of her father, Mr. R. L. Tanner.

H. C. Gooch and two boys Wilson, and Hubert of Somerset, spent a few days this week with the home-folks.

Mrs. J. B. Smith and pretty little daughter, Alice Marie, of Morrow, Ga., are here on a visit to Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Gooch of near town.

Burch a Game Loser.

Will S. Burch, County Attorney of Lincoln county, made a game race for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney in the Thirteenth judicial district composed of Lincoln, Boyle, Garrard and Mercer counties, went down in defeat before Judge Emmett Puryear, of Danville. "Bill" Burch, although a hopeless cripple, is a regular dynamo of energy and he kept his opponent on the jump until the polls closed. A tried and true democrat he accepts his defeat gracefully. Judge Puryear, who will be the next Commonwealth's Attorney of the district, is one of the best known young democrats in Central Kentucky. He owes his victory to the loyal friends who stood by him so well—Louisville Times.

"Were all medicines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsay Scott, of Temple, Ind., for Sale by Penny's Drug Store.

ROWLAND POSTOFFICE TO BE DISCONTINUED

Patrons Will Be Supplied With Mail By Either of Two Rural Routes.

Notification has been received from the Postoffice Department at Washington that the postoffice at Rowland, one mile from Stanford is to be discontinued. The receipts of the office have not been sufficient for its maintenance, and furthermore practically everyone who has been supplied with mail at this point can be served equally as well from either Rural route No. 1 or Rural Route No. 4.

The discontinuance of this office, will mean the retirement from Uncle Sam's service of Frank L. Cordier, who has been the efficient postmaster for some time. He has been in bad health lately, but has always given entire satisfaction as an official to both the public and government.

With Rowland blotted off the postoffice map, what once promised to become a very thriving community will practically lose its identity. In years gone by when the railroad division had headquarters at Rowland, the town was quite a business point, and was a splendid feeder for the business interests of Stanford. Its death knell was sounded however when the division was moved away, and since that time, a few little stores, the postoffice and the depot where the K. C. and Knoxville divisions intersect, is about all that is left of the once bustling little city.

NO ELECTION

For School Trustee Was Held Saturday at Preachersville.

Preachersville, Aug. 8—There was no election Saturday at Preachersville for school trustee. Notices were posted, a small crowd gathered, but the doors were not opened. At Hobbs schools house a good sized crowd was present and an election was held between five and six o'clock, resulting in the choice of M. F. Lawrence as trustee. His opponent, Wm. Dyehouse received only a few votes. The old viva voce system of voting was used with J. S. Pettus as clerk. As there was no election here, which is a sub-district, and an account of other slight technicalities incident to the manner in which the election was held, it is very evident the validity and the final outcome of the issue will be questioned.

A MOTHER IN ISRAEL

Passes To Her Reward When Mrs. Jake Russell Crosses River.

Mrs. Jake Russell died at her home near Hustonville Saturday morning July 27th, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. Although her death came not unexpected, as she had been ill for several months, still her loved ones and friends can not help being filled with grief over her loss, for a dear Christian mother she was and truly none knew her but to love her. At all times she was willing to sacrifice what was dear to her for the sake of others. She always had a word of cheer and encouragement to those in trouble.

Mrs. Russell had been a member of the Hustonville Christian church for years, and her beautiful Christian life and character should be an example for all, who knew her.

Mrs. Russell was in her 67th year and was Miss Ellen Power, of Casey county before her marriage to Mr. J. H. Russell some 52 years ago. She is survived by her aged husband who is a veteran of the Civil war, having served a number of years as a member of the First Kentucky Cavalry, in the Union army, also two sons, Messrs. C. C. and W. A. Russell, of Hustonville, and several grandchildren, to whom she was the same as a mother. The funeral services were conducted at the late home by Rev. Willis, of Hustonville after which all that was mortal of this good and noble woman was laid to rest in the Hustonville cemetery.

May the dear Father, who has power to take and to give life, comfort the sorrowing husband and children in this dark hour of gloom.

NEGRO DRIVER BREAKS HIS BACK AND DIES

Overestimated Space Between Top Of Door and Load of Straw With Horrible Results

George Brown, a negro who has been working for the Embury brothers on the Lancaster pike for some time, died Friday, as the result of injuries received Tuesday, when he struck the top of the big doorway at the entrance to Nunnelley stock yards, while driving in with a load of straw. He had overestimated the space between the top of the door and the height of his load, and driving from the top of the load, was struck, mashed down and fearfully injured.

The negro's back was broken two ribs caved in, one penetrating a lung and as a result of the broken back, his body was paralyzed completely from the waist down.

Brown was regarded as a good negro and was a good "hand" on the farm. He was about 45 years of age, and is survived by a wife and two children.

24-HOUR CURRENT

May Soon Be Supplied Local Electric Power Users.

General Manager George L. Penny, of the Stanford Water Light & Ice Co., is working hard upon the proposition of furnishing a 24-hour electric current to Stanford consumers. He has been making trips of investigation to a number of cities where the "juice" is supplied all the day around as well as at night, and believes that the time is not far distant when it will be a go in Stanford. He is now getting estimates from various electric supply houses as to the cost of installation of whatever additional machinery will be necessary to complement the already splendid equipped plant which his company operates here.

Mr. Penny has about come to the conclusion that a day current can be made a paying proposition here. Just as soon as the people understand and appreciate its possibilities, it undoubtedly will prove profitable. Not alone will it supply the motive energy for large power users, but the opportunity for cooling in the summer with electric fans, electric heaters in winter, electric washing machines, electric sewing machines, motors, toasters, percolators is sufficient to provide an extensive patronage, once the uses to which the mysterious power can be put, are understood. A prominent contractor says he wants a ten-horse power motor to operate a small planing mill, as soon as the power can be had. He visited Danville and saw the electric motors doing all the work for a big planing mill there, and will install one just as soon as he can get the current in the day time. Several other big power users have also arranged to cut out gasoline engines entirely when the day current can be obtained.

Mr. Penny hopes to have arrangements completed so that the current can be put to work by early spring, if not before that.

Some Election Aftermath

Prof. J. W. Dinsmore, of Berea, the republican candidate for congress, who had no opposition for the nomination, polled only 246 votes in the county last Saturday. The question now being asked about him is whether he is a Taft or a Roosevelt man.

The official count in Lincoln showed that Burch received 913 majority over Puryear, one more than was first reported; Sullivan got 83 votes in the county instead of 82, as first given, and Holdam's plurality for Circuit Clerk was 176. In the republican managerial race at Crab Orchard, a typographical error gave Judge Culton 101 votes when it should have been 10 votes. Marshall Newland, the democratic candidate there, who was without opposition, polled 126 votes.

Voters had little trouble in "getting into" the primary ballots. One voter at Rowland, however, is reported to have declared that he had never voted anything but the straight democratic ticket in his life, and he didn't propose to begin to scratch now, so he put one cross under the rooster and let it go at that.

Harvey Helm got every vote for congress in the Shelby City precinct in Boyle county. Not one was recorded against him, going some.

Down in Adair county the Helm leaders and the Sullivan workers entered into an agreement that neither side would use any money to buy voters. Both stuck rigidly to the agreement, and as a result, the picking for the "float" was rather slim there. This is a stand that is bound to come in every election before long. What's the matter with having such an agreement among the candidates before the county primary next year? More of this later.

A Splendid Entertainment

The Olde Folke's Concert at the Opera House last Thursday night was enjoyed by all who were present. It was given under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church. Those who took part wore old fashion costumes, which furnished a great deal of amusement as the most of the costumes were so old they were ridiculous. Mr. J. C. McClary who was instructor of concert deserves much praise for he certainly carried out his part well. Misses Pat Alcorn, Mary Higgins, and Jennie Warren also deserve mention. The solos that were sung by Mrs. Charles Osborne, of Knoxville, and Misses Mary Elizabeth Watts, of Louisville, and Elizabeth Higgins were thoroughly enjoyed by all. The ladies of the Presbyterian church are very grateful to all, to all who helped them.

George D. Florence attended a meeting of the republican state central committee at Louisville, as the eighth district member. A number of contests were passed upon.

PLUCKY YOUNG LADY HELPS WITH PLOWING

Miss Annie Barnes, of Preachersville Section, Proves Herself A Splendid "Hand."

Preachersville, Aug. 8—This season, like several others preceding it, laborers have been very scarce and the farmers have had a serious problem before them. Several of the plucky young ladies have helped out in the pinch by helping in the hay and riding cultivators in the corn field. One of these, Miss Annie Barnes, deserves especial mention. She is just 15 years old but bravely volunteered to plow. Reunstrances did no good, and she was seated on a cultivator and riding back and forth across the field. It was soon demonstrated that she could handle a team and plow as well as a man. The field which she cultivated looks as well, or better than some near by which were cultivated by the men.

Miss Barnes is the youngest daughter of the late and lamented Thomas Barnes and since the death of Mrs. Daniel Naylor, has made her home with Mrs. Naylor's daughter, Mrs. Sam Ramsey. The young lady, besides being a good hand with a team, is also greatly interested in her studies and is making fine progress.

A. J. HAYDEN DEAD

Former Resident of Lincoln and A Respected Citizen.

A. J. Hayden, one of the best known and most highly esteemed citizens of Boyle county and a former Lincolnite, died at his home near Danville Wednesday after an illness of six months duration of a complication of diseases. He was 72 years of age, lacking only one week. Mr. Hayden was a native of Wayne county. From there he moved to Lincoln county and eight years ago he moved to Boyle where, with his estimable family, he had since resided, having purchased the Sim Moore place near Danville. Deceased had been a member of the Christian church for many years. In accord with the request of the deceased, the funeral was held at the grave in Buffalo cemetery this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the services were conducted by Rev. J. G. He is also survived by his niece, Miss Allie Hayden, whom he reared from infancy. Mr. Hayden was one of the most substantial citizens of this section and his death is a severe loss. The bereaved family is extended the sincere sympathy of the community in their dark hour of sorrow.

Mail And Passengers On Airship.

Stone Harbor, N. J., Aug. 8—Marshall Earl Reid flew from Ocean City to Stone Harbor, a distance of twenty miles carrying a passenger and the United States mail, in twenty-nine minutes. It was the first of seven scheduled flights, which if carried out, will be the most important demonstration of possibilities of mail and passenger service by the aeroplane ever given. Geo. S. Gassner, secretary of the Aer Club of Pennsylvania, which arranged the flights, was at the landing. He said the aero club is interested in showing the practical value of the aeroplane, and this carrying of mail and passengers shows great possibilities. "We have brought the mail in one-twentieth of the time and the passenger in less than one-half the time usually required," he said. "When the flying machine has been perfected I believe that aerial transportation of mails and passengers will be in general use."
