

WHIPPING POST LAW PUT INTO EFFECT HERE

Two Youthful Offenders are Soundly Thrashed by Their Parents Under Court's Authority

The whipping post law, relic of ante-bellum days, was revived in County Judge Bailey's court Thursday when James Grigsby, a negro youth who had raised a check on P. L. Beck was arraigned for trial. The boy's family have for years been servants in Mr. Beck's family and that gentleman, while feeling that the negro should be punished, said he gave the offender up with reluctance, as he was a valuable farm hand. He, therefore, saw the boy's father and got his consent to administer a sound thrashing in lieu of such sentence as might be imposed by trial. Judge Bailey readily agreed to the method of punishment and the boy's father, armed with a new buggy whip, led forth the culprit, had him remove his coat and in the basement of the courthouse applied the lash with vigor. The boy stood it without a tremor for a moment, but as the old man warmed to his task, the son performed various and sundry acrobatic feats giving unmistakable evidence that the licks were falling with converting power. And when, at the call of Jailer Dink Farmer for a cessation of hostilities the case of young Grigsby had been pretty well covered, and he went his way, doubtless to sin no more, certainly not for the present.

The next on the program was the case of Anderson Blain, a 14-year-old negro of near Hustonville. He had leveled a pistol at one of his neighbors, and thinking to escape heavier punishment, agreed to take a whipping. His father was sent for and agreed to administer the dose, so the offender, his father and a goodly number of spectators, repaired to the scene of the Grigsby affair and the lash was applied. The pistol totter at first seemed disposed to recite McBeth's challenge "Lay on, McDuff, and damn be he who first cries 'hold, enough!'" but the vigor of the rod of correction soon drove all foolishness from him and he, too went his way, a sadder but wiser boy.

Splendid Revival at Preachersville

Preachersville, Ky., October 23.—The protracted meeting on at the Baptist church is progressing nicely and an old-time revival is assured. Rev. E. B. English, formerly of Owensboro, but now of Hartford, is doing the preaching and every sermon is a mighty appeal to sinners, who are listening, learning and trembling. This revival is meeting with good results, there being 12 additions to date, Wednesday. Large crowds out at each day service and each evening the crowds are twice as large, the church building, large as it is, could not accommodate the large crowds of Saturday and Sunday evenings. The brethren consider this one of the best meetings ever held at this place. The meeting will more than likely continue over the week.

Mr. Hurve Cress, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Olive Cress, of Dayton, O., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cress, here.

Mr. Steve Curtis, of Garrard, visited B. T. Lunsford and family. Grover Kennedy, young son of J. L. Kennedy, who has been ill, is better now.

Rev. J. E. Roberts, the popular pastor of the M. E. church, who has suffered a severe attack of tonsillitis is able to be out again.

Misses Lana and Jolie Brown visited Mrs. Wm. Richardson.

Mrs. Green Shaw is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Shaw.

D. O. Lewis sold some corn to W. H. Cummins at $2.50 delivered.

Messrs. Elmer Payne and E. L. Gooch, of Eubanks, and their families motored over Saturday and visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spangler near Beech Grove.

MURPHY'S SALE

Big Crowd of Bidders Present And Prices Good—Pyles Gets Mill

A crowd variously estimated at from 350 to 500 people attended the sale of John S. Murphy on the Hustonville pike Tuesday. Mr. Murphy had thoroughly advertised his sale in the I. J. and buyers from Boyle, Pulaski, Casey, Garrard and Lincoln were present and made nearly every article put up bring a satisfactory price. Capt. T. D. English, of Danville, cried the sale, which means that it was well done. An excellent sale dinner was set by Mr. Murphy. Following is a list of the stock, crop, etc sold and the prices realized:

Farming implements—Wheat drill to W. D. Gooch at $27, mowing machine to W. D. Gooch $17, tobacco setter, Jack Gover $14.50, cultivator W. D. Gooch $6, disc harrow W. D. Gooch $10.50; turning plow B. F. Cain $5.50; 21 hemp breaks, in lots of three, at from 35c to 75c to different parties.

The sheep were sold in separate lots, Sherman Coyle getting one bunch of 16 at $2 a head; another lot of 54 ewes and one buck going to Anderson Nunneley at $4.25 and another lot to G. E. Lutes at $2.60.

Fourteen 700-pound cattle went to A. C. Hill at $30.50 a head; steer calf J. W. Powell $22.50; red steer, fat, to J. W. Honaker at $6 per hundred; 800-pound cow to J. H. Yowell at 4 1-4 cents a pound; Poland China boar to A. L. Carter for $7; Berkshire boar to G. W. Foger $5.50; bull calf Walter Martin $16; Berkshire sow and pigs to Roy Speer $20; bunch of 25 hogs to J. D. Eads and Sons at $6.60.

Bay brood mare to J. K. Baughman $140; suckling colt by Garrard Chief Arthur Brown $43; bay brood mare Vernon Lear $100; mule colt Purdette Powell $49.50; two-year-old filly J. Gann $56; aged work horse John Powell $25.75; two-year-old male James Stringer $85.

Baled hay in ear load lots: one load to G. C. Prather at $14 a ton, corn in 20 barrel lots, one lot to J. B. Foster at $2.30; same quantity to E. V. Carson at same figure. This corn is in the field; 15 bales of straw to A. Zurburg at 17 1-2c. Tobacco crop, Thomas Nunneley at $8.75.

Twelve shares of stock in the Hustonville National Bank went to Woodson Stigall, of Boyle, at $136.50 to $141.50. Twenty five shares of stock in the McKinney Deposit Bank were purchased by Wm. Coffey at $25. Three shares of stock in the Danville fair association went to Woodson Stigall at $24.

Fifty-two and a half acres of knob land, lying south of McKinney, went to Sidney Austin at $4.40 an acre. Murphy's roller mill, situated at McKinney, together with three acres of land adjoining, was bought by C. L. Pyles, of Hustonville, for $3,005.

One tract of land containing 55 acres was bought by Tim Hutchinson, of this place, at $95; another tract containing 85 acres went to J. M. Reynolds, of Waynesburg at $98. Each of these tracts contains a good dwelling and outbuildings. The home place of 160 acres, was taken down at $102.50, this being the bid of John Carter, of Turnersville.

The Buick automobile was purchased by J. S. Holtzclaw, $202.50.

NARROW ESCAPE

For Local Party When Auto Turns Over and Throws Them Out

A party of local people had a narrow escape from death or serious injury when an automobile in which they were returning home from Lexington Thursday crashed into a rock fence and turned over on its side. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McKinney and Mrs. Shelton Sauley and they had gone to Lexington in the morning in John S. Baughman's car, driven by W. W. Hays. They were about a mile on the other side of Nicholasville and running at about 20 miles an hour, when a dog ran out and was struck by the car. The impact seemed to cause the auto to swerve and Mr. Hays lost control of it, so that it turned side ways into a rock fence and rolled over on its side. The occupants were all thrown out, but luckily none was injured beyond a few bruised spots. Mr. Hays had the presence of mind to throw off the engine and apply the brake before the machine toppled over. Mrs. Sauley was thrown clear of the car but the others would certainly have been seriously injured if not killed had the machine continued turning over and "turned turtle." An examination revealed the fact that an axle was broken, but little other injury was done the auto. The party caught a Cincinnati Southern train at Nicholasville and returned home via Danville where Will Hoeker met them in his machine and brought them home.

Hustonville
Dan M. Smith, a tenant on Adam W. Carpenter's farm, brought an ear of corn to town which weighed two pounds six ounces and measured 13 1/2 inches in length. It has 20 rows of grains. The ear-exploited as Maysville as a banner specimen is but a respectable nubbin in dimensions. Mr. Smith critically selects his seed corn on the stalk and has been awake to the importance of breeding to a desired type.

Dr. Edward Alcorn and Miss Lucy were called to Louisville Monday by the critical illness of little Katherine Alcorn Spalding. We are glad to know the little one is thought to be some better now.

The W. C. T. U. met at Mrs. A. J. Adams' home last Thursday afternoon. The feature of the program was a report from the state convention that was held at Mt. Sterling. Mrs. J. K. Baughman was sent as a delegate from the local organization and the splendid report she made brought the convention very near to us all. The local union will serve lunch on election day, the proceeds going to the union's pledge for the mountain mission at Hindman.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Herring desire to express their thanks to those who so kindly presented them with a handsome new carpet.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Bishop are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ware at Danville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Magill, of Chicago, are touring the southland in their car, and were guests of Mrs. Emmett McCormack last week.

Mrs. Hal Jones, of Kansas City, is here for a few weeks.

Miss Allie Yantis returned to her home at Lanester Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Tate, Dr. O. S. Williams and Miss Edna Camnitz motored to Lexington Saturday. Mrs. George W. Frye has returned from a trip to Louisville and Lexington, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Phillips.

Beloved Woman Dies in Indiana; Buried in Waynesburg Lot

Waynesburg, Ky., October 23.—Mrs. Sallie A. Gooch, nee Caldwell, was born March 19th, 1850 near Waynesburg on Fishing Creek and she passed away October 16, 1912, at Broad Ripple, Indiana. She leaves four children, namely, Mrs. Charles Rhodes, and Ollie Gooch, of Broad Ripple, Ind., Mrs. Mat Bryant, of Somerset and Mrs. Irvin Bell, of Phoenix, Arizona, one stepson, Craig Gooch, of this place, two brothers, John Caldwell, of Colorado, and C. G. Caldwell, of Waynesburg; three sisters, Elizabeth Singleton, Susan Harness and Cynthia Caldwell, besides a host of connections and friends to mourn her loss but we mourn not as those who have no hope. Deceased professed faith in Jesus Christ a number of years ago and united with the Old Double Springs church, of which she was a member at the time of her death. Her husband preceded her to the other shore about 6 years. May our God be gracious to her dear children and may they as well as all her relatives and friends prepare to meet her in a better world.

Mrs. Gooch was the daughter of Hugh and Polly Caldwell, of Fishing Creek, and loved by all. The remains were brought here Friday night, Oct. 18th. The funeral sermon was delivered by her cousin, W. G. Ball, of Missouri, from Revelations, seventh chapter, 13th to 17th verses, after which she was laid to rest in the Singleton grave yard by the side of her husband.

Mr. W. R. Reynolds, wife and children, of Bee Lick, visited relatives and attended church here Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. W. G. Ball, of Missouri, filled Rev. C. T. Claunch's regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday as he was engaged in a series of meetings and could not be here.

W. R. Reynolds, of Bee Lick, came and united with the church Saturday and was baptized by Rev. W. G. Ball Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Sullivan, of Lexington, is visiting her parents.

Mrs. Mat Bryant, of Somerset, attended the burial of her mother Mrs. Sallie Gooch Saturday.

J. H. Daigh and Mrs. Amanda Wilson and Fox Beazley and Miss Grace Wilson went to Lexington and were married Saturday.

Irvin Bell, of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of this place, and Lola Gooch of Broad Ripple, Ind., were united in wedlock's holy bonds Tuesday, October 15th. They will make their future home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Miss Lottie Dye, of Indiana, attended the burial of Mrs. Sallie Gooch Saturday.

Mr. Wallace Reynolds left Sunday for Illinois.

Mr. A. L. Foster, wife and children, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Mitchell and Miss Lulu Cox spent Sunday in Cincinnati.

Rev. W. G. Ball and wife will leave Thursday for Marathon, O., to visit his uncle, Henry Reynolds, before returning to their home in King City, Missouri.

GOVERNOR SAYS ELLIS MUST PAY PENALTY

Pulaski Man Sentenced to Death By Lincoln County Jury Goes To Electric Chair

James Ellis, convicted of the murder of Magistrate C. J. Beatty, of Burnside, a Lincoln county jury having tried the case, will pay the penalty for his crime in the electric chair at Eddyville November 22d. Gov. McCreary has not only refused his petition for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment Wednesday, but signed the death warrant. In doing so he made the statement that more men and women had expressed themselves in favor of execution in this case than any other that had come before him as governor. About two weeks ago a dozen of the leading women of Burnside called on him and protested against a commutation of the sentence.

Ellis was convicted at Somerset in September, 1911, a Lincoln county jury being empanelled to try the case. Ellis, who had been a deputy sheriff, conducted a soft drink place just outside Burnside where he was charged with selling liquor. The city authorities had no jurisdiction, so Magistrate Beatty moved to Burnside and issued warrants for the arrest of Ellis. Fearing a personal encounter if he sent his constable, W. F. Heath, Beatty deputized a man named Helton to serve the warrant. The evidence at the trial was to the effect that Helton went to Ellis and both got drunk. They entered Beatty's office just as Beatty was making out warrants for the arrest of both men for disorderly conduct and Constable Heath was waiting to serve the warrants. As soon as the two entered shooting began, and when the smoke cleared away Beatty was dead among his unfinished warrants and Heath was on the floor breathing his last. Neither had drawn a gun. Ellis and Helton were seen to run out, carrying revolvers. Both were convicted.
