PLEA TO MOOSERS

Artful Republican Speaker Talks Of Panic But Forgets to Mention Two Under Republican Rule

Ed T. Franks, the smartest stump speaker in the republican party, spoke to a crowd of about 150 people at the courthouse Saturday night in the interest of the Taft ticket. With an address of which only a man of his acuteness is capable, he made it appear that all the prosperity the country now enjoys is directly due to the administration of President Taft. He did not even give Roosevelt the credit for having had any prosperity during his administration. He dwelt dolefully upon the panic during Cleveland's administration, and emphasized the fact that it was during a democratic president's term of office. However, he neglected to even mention what history records as the severest panic the country has even seen and the hardest times, in the year 1873 during a republican administration, or the panic of 1907, five years ago, when a republican president was also in power. In fact, Mr. Franks looked at but one side of the picture and often gave a very unfair presentation of that, for instance when he contrasted the prosperity of present times with times under Cleveland, and gave as an illustration, the fact that there are so many automobiles owned everywhere in the country today. Of course, he couldn't have made a point if he had told his hearers that automobiles hadn't been heard of in Cleveland's day. Such arguments as he gave will deceive no one who takes the trouble to investigate.

The plea he made to the Bull Moosers to return to the old party was very different from the style of treatment the republican orators were handing out to the Roosevelt men a few weeks back in his campaign. They now see that he is defeated for the presidency and are simply trying to poll more votes than the Moosers; that's the long and short of the whole affair.

Accompanied by Dr. R. L. Davison, Mr. Franks spoke at Liberty on Saturday afternoon when a big republican rally was held there in an effort to weaken the Moosers before they are said to be very strong in Casey. A log cabin was raised on the fair grounds and free burgoo was served which, of course, drew a big crowd. Dr. Davison is said to have made a rattling good republican speech.

Commonwealth's Attorney George D. Florence introduced Franks here as the strongest man for the republicans to nominate for governor next time and he pretty near is.

Some of the issues which have been raised in the present campaign which Mr. Franks took particular care not to mention in his speech here, were:

The charge made by Roosevelt that Taft having accepted a stolen nomination is not the man to give the country an honest administration.

The undenied charge that the big manufacturers, protected by the high republican tariff, which is endorsed by Taft, are selling goods they make cheaper in other countries than they do at home, such as farming machinery of all kinds, sewing machines, clothing, etc.

The charge that all of the big bosses and others who have fattened on the common people are standing solid for Taft while the leaders of the working people and the working people themselves who understand conditions are for Wilson.

The fact that the honest business men of the country have no fear of a democratic administration, and that the democrats are standing solidly on the declaration that honest business must not be interfered with but must be nurtured and protected in every legitimate way.

In this connection, some questions and answers in Bryan's Commoner on the panic history of the country are not amiss and show up completely how one sided and false is the argument the republicans are making:

Q.—How long since the republican party first came into power?
A.—Fifty two years.
Q.—How many panics have we had during that time?
A.—Three.
Q.—When did they come?
A.—In 1873, 1893 and 1907.
Q.—Who was president in 1873?
A.—U. S. Grant.
Q.—To what party did he belong?
A.—The republican party.
Q.—What did the democrats have to do with the panic of 1873?

A.—Nothing, except that they suffered from the panic in common with others.

Q.—Who was president when the panic of 1907 came?
A.—Theodore Roosevelt.
Q.—To what party did he then belong?
A.—The republican party.

Q.—What party had control of the senate?
A.—The republican party.

Q.—What party had control of the house then?
A.—The republican party.

Q.—What did the democrats have to do with that panic?
A.—Nothing, except that they suffered from it like others.

Q.—Is it possible that two of the three panics came under republican presidents and with republicans in control of both the senate and the house?
A.—Yes. The first panic came in the middle of a 24-year period during which every president was a republican. It came 12 years after the last democratic president, elected before that period began, and 12 years before the first president was elected after that period ended. And the last panic came during a 16-year period of republican rule. It came more than 10 years after a democratic president went out in 1897, and nearly six years before the inauguration of a democratic president in 1913.

Q.—Why do the republican speakers ignore these two panics?
A.—This question ought to be easily answered by those whom the republican speakers try to deceive—it is because neither of these panics can be charged to the democrats and reference to them would rob the threat of its terror.

Q.—Reference has been made to the first panic which came in 1873 and to the last one which came in 1907. Let us now consider the second panic—the panic of 1893. Who was president when it came?
A.—Grover Cleveland.

Q.—To what party did he belong?
A.—He was elected by the democratic party in 1892 but helped to elect a republican to succeed him in 1896.

Q.—How soon after his election did the panic come?
A.—So soon that it came under republican laws—not a single republican law having been repealed before it came.

Q.—Under what tariff law did the panic of 1893 come?
A.—Under the McKinley law—the panic came a year before the McKinley law was repealed.

Q.—Under what monetary law did the panic come?
A.—The Sherman law—the panic came several months before the purchasing clause of the Sherman law was repealed.

Q.—Is it possible that only one of the three panics came under a democratic president?
A.—Yes, only one of the three.

Q.—Why do the republicans speak of this panic only?
A.—Because they're more interested in making political capital than in telling the truth.

Q.—Are the republican leaders ignorant or dishonest when they threaten panic in case of democratic success?
A.—They are probably both.

GOOD WOMAN GONE

Wife of Jailer Dink Farmer Dies After Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Mary Farmer, wife of Dink Farmer, jailer of Lincoln county, died at her home here Friday morning at 6 o'clock after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. Deceased was Miss Mary Burge and 26 years ago became the wife of the man, who today is bowed under the burden of sorrow occasioned by the loss of a tender and faithful helpmeet. To this couple were born nine children, and eight of them survive their good mother.

Many years ago Mrs. Farmer united with the Christian church and had always lived the life of a true and devoted Christian. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the remains of this devoted wife and mother will be taken to the family burying ground at Neal's Creek and consigned to the tomb. The unfeigned sympathy of a legion of friends goes out to Mr. Farmer and his children in their irreparable loss.

LIVE STOCK SELLS WELL

At E. McCormack's Sale But Bidders Were Scarce on Land

The sale of Emmett McCormack, just over the Lincoln line in Casey, three miles south of Hustonville, drew a good crowd Friday. Col. I. M. Dunn, of Danville, cried the sale and on nearly everything offered the bidding was spirited. Mr. McCormack stated at the outset that there would be no by-bidding but, of course, reserved the right to reject any bid not satisfactory. The following is a list of the sales and the prices realized:

Farming implements—Mower to Jones Baughman $4; buckboard to G. Armstrong $3.25; three buggies, one to Frank North at $74, one to Ed Grubbs at $45 and one to A. Adams at $26; two-horse wagon to F. L. Russell $13; two-horse wagon to B. W. Leigh $33.

Live Stock—Three 600-pound Jersey steers, C. Bottoms at $16 a head; 14 850-pound steers to C. Bottoms at $5.40 a hundred; two calves to B. G. Gover at $17.50; two steers to F. Hunn at $17.50; four steers from 400 to 600 pounds to Dr. J. C. Barker at 5 1/2 cents a pound; weaning calf to J. H. Riffe at $6; three 850-pound heifers to H. F. McLeath at $4.65 a hundred; fat cow to James McCormack at $3.30; cow and calf to Guy Hundley $74; 10 550-pound steers to C. G. Hanson at $3 a hundred; five butcher cows to M. B. Carson at $6.65 a hundred.

Horse Stock—Brood mare James Gadherry $95; mule colt G. D. Gadherry $33; yearling colt to D. J. C. Barker $51; pair eight-year-old males R. G. Gover $250; pair six-year-old males to R. B. Woods $325; buggy mare to J. H. Woods $100.

Five hundred bales of timothy hay went to Dr. J. C. Barker, 300 bales at 95 cents and 200 bales at 66 cents a hundred. 100 bales of straw went to W. G. Cowan at 21c a bale; 50 bales to Ed Carpenter at 20 cents and 50 bales to M. B. Carson at 20 cents.

Mr. McCormack offered his farm in two different tracts; one of them, 62 1/2 acres, was taken off the market at $55 and the remainder he refused to offer at all, believing it was useless to do so in view of the poor bid he had on the first tract put up.

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN FOR LINCOLN COUNTY

Orators in Auto Train To Make Complete Tour On Thursday And Friday.

Never before in the history of Lincoln county has such interest been manifested in a National election as the one which will be brought to a close on the 5th of the coming month. Even in county races, when interest is at fever heat, it has been impossible to secure good sized audiences out in the county to assemble for the purpose of hearing a speaker. The campaign this fall, however, is proving an exception to this condition, for splendid audiences have greeted every speaker sent out, and the numerous inquiries as to where the next meeting will be held, show the interest that is being taken in the fight. From every section of the county come splendid reports and Chairman McCarty is leaving no stone unturned to keep this interest up by sending speakers to every precinct to discuss the issues and to remind the voters that victory is within the grasp of democracy if its forces will go to the polls.

In addition to the final rally to be held in Stanford on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 2nd, at which time Judge John W. Hughes and one or two others of the best stump speakers in the State will be present, it is being arranged to make a complete canvass of the county in a train of automobiles, which will carry one or more speakers from out in the state who have established reputations. Chief of these will be Hon. John W. Newman, W. Commissioner of Agriculture, and who is a rousing democratic speaker.

With the orators will be a number of local speakers and as many of the leading democrats of the county as can be seated in the machines. This still will be a splendid opportunity for those democrats living in remote parts of the county to hear a summary of the political situation in the nation, as every section will be covered. Read carefully the following itinerary as you will see exactly when the whirlwind campaigners will reach you. The speeches will necessarily be short, but they will be to the point and well worth coming to hear.

BULL MOOSE DANCES

Have Become the Fad Among Members of that Party at Rowland

Rowland, Lincoln County, Oct. 28.—It seems that the Bull Moose party is getting all of the republican voters here. Practically all of the republicans in this precinct will vote for Roosevelt. The women have got up a new dance which they call the Bull Moose step and no one is admitted unless he is a Bull Moose. Their first dance or grand opening was last week at Mr. and Mrs. Jim James'. Our hustling stock trader and talented musician, Mr. George Lunsford, furnished the music. Miss Katy Land and Mrs. Bell Conley were considered the best steppers. At these dances the men all have to wear buttons or badges pinned on them, and the ladies all do their hair up in cone-like shape on their foreheads, which is designed to represent the Moose horns.

We are glad to see Mr. J. B. Higgins back in our town selling goods again.

Uncle Alex Martin is very sick. James Sutton, who has been sick, is able to be up again.

Mrs. John Pritchett has been sick for several days.

Messrs. Harry Harris, Jesse Martin, Lilburn Brent, Foster and Leonard Smith, Miss Jennie Smith, and Mr. W. R. Smith and family went chestnut hunting Sunday and had a delightful time.

Progressives to Be Represented.

Three political parties will be represented by inspectors and challengers at the polls next Tuesday, the Progressives all over the state having out their lists so that they can see what goes on inside the booths and that Roosevelt gets all the votes that are cast for him. The law provides that each political party represented on the ballot is entitled to such representation at the polls, and the new party is taking advantage of the law.

If you have young children you have perhaps noticed that disorders of the stomach are their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by G. L. Penny.

TRAIN MASHES FOOT

W. P. Givens Laid Up for Some Time With Painful Injury

W. P. Givens, of the Shelby City section of Lincoln and one of the most prominent and popular farmers in this part of the state, has been missed from his usual haunts for some time, having been laid up at his home with a badly mashed foot. He was at Junction City the other day, and desiring to cross the railroad track, found his way blocked by a freight train. He waited awhile for it to move, but becoming impatient at the delay, he started climbing across the train, between two cars. Just as he had gotten between the cars, with his feet on the couplings, the engine bumped or jerked the train in such a manner that one of Mr. Givens' feet got between a coupling and was badly mashed, several of the small bones of the foot being broken. Mr. Givens was taken home in a rig and a physician dressed his injuries and made him as easy as possible, but the injury is a very painful one and will keep him confined for some time. He says that he is going to make every effort to get to town on next Tuesday, however, to vote for Wilson and Marshall.

Neal's Creek

The pie supper at Neal's Creek last week was enjoyed by those present. The nice lot of pies sold for good prices, the proceeds from which will be used for the benefit of the church. Miss Katherine Terry won the ring, which was offered for the most popular young lady. The ladies and others who promoted this delightful entertainment thank all who assisted them in any way.

Mr. Jack Terry has been on the sick list but is some better.

Mr. Hance Lay has been quite ill with measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kirkpatrick are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine big boy at their home. He has been named Henry Wilson.

Mr. E. N. Terry is getting ready to leave Sunday for the east. The many friends of this popular family regret to see them go.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz: Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For cough there is nothing that excels it." For sale by G. L. Penny.

Roosevelt Delegate for Taft

Letter of Wm. Hevburn, President Belknap Hardware & Manufacturing Company, and Roosevelt Delegate from Louisville to the Republican National Convention.

Mr. Chas. L. Schell, Louisville, Kentucky.

My Dear Sir:—

Referring to your question as to what candidate I have decided to vote for, for President, at the November election, I would say that I am going to vote for Messrs. Taft and Sherman, whom I regard as the regular nominees for the Republican Party.

I attended the Chicago Convention as a Roosevelt delegate, but from my observation and experience there, I considered it was fortunate for the country and for the Republican Party as well, that Mr. Roosevelt was not nominated. I became convinced that Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy was the result of personal ambition and not for the purpose of furthering any particular policies or principles. I believe that with Mr. Roosevelt's cooperation it was possible for the Progressive element of the Republican Party to have nominated Governor Hadley or Senator Cummins to have made any changes in the platform that might have been desirable to have revised the rules so as to eliminate the authority of the National Committee, where over such authority as they had might be abused, and more important than all, to preserve the integrity and usefulness of the Republican Party.

Mr. Roosevelt's followers, by reason of their passionately stormy methods, used where no principles could possibly be involved, destroyed my confidence in their level-headedness and good judgment. I was well prepared by what I saw at Chicago, for the lack of the sense of proportion that led to the action of the Roosevelt supporters in undertaking to establish the Progressive Party.

As for myself, I can see no hope of accomplishing progressive measures by this procedure, and grave danger of weakening the influence of the Republican Party for good among many lines.

The Republican platform relative to Tariff policies appeals to me with peculiar force. I have had the advantage of knowing something about the working effect of tariff schedules and tariff policies on business, and without feeling intolerant of the opinion of other men, am satisfied that the Republican policy of protection is for the general interest as well as general prosperity. I believe that if Dr. Wilson is elected President, he will probably call an extra session of Congress, to revise the Tariff, and immediately business will stagnate. The demand for the products of the farm and factory will drop off, and the necessary accompaniment to this will be a falling market. If the Tariff schedules are so made as to threaten American producers with serious competition from abroad, where the price of labor is so much lower than here, the condition of stagnation will be permanent, or until the policy is changed. If the change made by such a special session is not such as to bring the American consumer into competition with the foreign producer, I can see no logic in changing the Tariff, hence the program of the Democratic Party becomes a futile one.

No one who is thoughtful can doubt that if the Democratic Party is elected to power by a large majority, as some claim it will be, it will be a very radical free trade, or "Tariff for the revenue only" Party. No hasty pre-election promises of Dr. Wilson, delivered in Pittsburgh to deceive the voters in the district, where protection sentiment is supposed to be extensive, will change this fact. Those who vote for Dr. Wilson, should do it with the full knowledge of what it means, and should not vote for him unless they believe in the tariff for revenue only, which is the real meaning of the Democratic platform and the real intention of the Democratic Party. Those who believe in a protective tariff policy and expect to make their vote effective should in my opinion, stay with the Republican Party, whether in their opinion it is managed in every detail to suit them or not.

Yours Very Truly,
WILLIAM HEVBURN.

COL. HUFF DUDDERAR

GOES TO BETTER LAND

Well Beloved and Esteemed Citizen And Farmer Passes Away Friday After Short Illness.

Col. Huffman Dudderar, known to nearly every citizen of this county, and a familiar figure, prominent farmer and well esteemed citizen, died after a few days' illness of a complication of troubles, at his home near Rowland, at 11 o'clock last Friday night. The end came peacefully as though he was but laying aside the toils of a well spent day, to be renewed, as was his custom, with the coming of another morning.

Col. Dudderar was born in Lincoln county, and his entire life of 80 years was spent within its borders. Many years ago he led to the hyemeneal altar, Miss Cynthia Farmer, and she, with five of the seven children born to them, survive. They are Mesdames J. F. Larue, of Louisville, George W. DeBorde and W. L. Murphy, of this place, Ed Dudderar, of Montgomery, Ala., and J. Fox Dudderar, the well known L. & N. engineer with headquarters in Louisville. All were at the bedside when the end came.

For a number of years after the civil war, Col. Dudderar conducted a stage line between Stanford and Somerset, and by his courteous treatment of all won the title of the "Stage Coach Prince." He gave up that business after railway connections were established and devoted his attention to farming and stock raising at which he was eminently successful. He was of a jovial, happy disposition, and numbered his friends by his acquaintances. Many years ago he united with the Christian church and ever lived up to its teachings.

A few years ago Col. and Mrs. Dudderar celebrated their golden wedding and those who gathered at the hospitable home for the joyous occasion, expressed the hope that this well beloved couple might live to celebrate their 60th anniversary, and it seemed that the years were resting so lightly upon them that these fond hopes might be realized. Only a few days since he was on the streets of Stanford looking well and apparently gave promise of many more useful years; but man proposes and God disposes, and on Sunday afternoon, after services at his late home by Rev. D. M. Walker, the mortal remains of this good man were laid to rest beneath the sod of Buffalo Springs Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: Active—E. P. Woods, W. M. Bright, M. B. Salin, W. L. McCarty, A. T. Nunneley, W. K. Shugars, Honorary—E. T. Pence, Wm. Grimes, S. T. Harris, J. N. Menefee, S. J. Bell, N. W. Fowler.
