STANFORD, LINCOLN COUNTY, KENTUCKY.

TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

PRETTY RACE STARTS IN SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

Boyle and Garrard May Be The Contenders—All Candidates Are Strong For Beckham.

The announcement of Col Clifton Rhodes Anderson, of Boyle, as a candidate for the democratic nomination for state senator in this district, composed of Lincoln, Boyle, Casey and Garrard counties, seems likely to precipitate a pretty fight for the honor of filling the seat held for the past eight years by Senator R. L. Hubble, of Lincoln county. Senator Hubble has announced that he will not be a candidate, as he is not an advocate of the Third-term policy recently championed so unsuccessfully by Col. Roosevelt. However, he had many flattering offers of support, in the event he wished to run again.

In the usual plan of rotation of counties which has prevailed in this district, it has been Boyle's turn to follow Lincoln with the senatorship, and Casey to follow Boyle. Inasmuch as Senator Hubble broke all precedents and served two terms in the senate, Garrard democrats are claiming that Boyle has forfeited her right to the term following Lincoln and that inasmuch as Casey democratic leaders say they will like have no candidate, it is claimed that, it is Garrard's turn next year. Leading Garrard democrats said Monday that Boyle had lost her chance when she permitted Senator Hubble to have two terms instead of the usual single term, and that with Casey offering no candidate, Garrard is next in line and will have a candidate.

Boyle county democrats, however, are unable to see things in that light and are claiming that as a matter of fairness, it is Boyle's time to furnish the senator, a Garrard man—Senator George T. Farris—having preceded Senator Hubble at Frankfort.

A pretty little fight is believed to be certain as a result of this mix-up with candidates in the field from both Garrard and Boyle and also the possibility of the fight becoming three-cornered with a candidate from Lincoln. Under the old scheme of the senatorial apportionment, the democrats of the county whose turn it was to furnish the Senator allowed the democrats of that one county to make their selection, and their choice was generally approved by the members of the party throughout the entire district. Under the new direct primary law, every democrat in the district will have a vote on the nominee for senator next August. In this way, many predict that the old idea of turn about will soon become a thing of the past and it will be a matter of the best man winning over the four counties of the district.

Talk was heard at Lancaster Monday that Hon. James I. Hamilton of Garrard, may enter the race. Casey democrats say that they will have no candidate and it is not probable that Lincoln will seek the honor again this time.

The striking feature of the race for state senator in this district, is the eagerness with which candidates are declaring their allegiance to Gov. Beckham for U. S. Senator in the primary which will be run at the same time. They are said to realize that it is up to every candidate for honors in the democratic party this year to take a stand for the redemption of the nomination which the party gave Beckham for senator in 1908 and which was not fulfilled through treachery in the legislature. They argue that if the party does not recognize and redeem the nomination given Beckham then there is no obligation for the recognition of nominations that might be won by candidates next year and that their nominations, if won in the primary, next August, might become as empty and worthless as that he won. And candidates for county offices who are looking at the situation in the same light, if Beckham's nomination was no good, theirs might also be set at naught by traitorous democrats. They feel that it's up to them and the party as a whole to see that his nomination is made good, even at this late date, and for this reason, a great many democrats over the state who have never been for Beckham before are working enthusiastically for his nomination next August.

Charming Miss Annie Brough is at home now. She and Mrs. Katie Scott visited Mrs. Holdam at Stanford last week. The much iterated expression fits here; Stanford's gain is Crab Orchard's loss, in giving such an estimable couple for citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Holdam. It would be hard to find a more beloved pair. Mrs. Holdam is certainly missed in her accustomed place as organizer and leader in her church, and all charitable works.

Crab Orchard can now feel proud of her pastors. Bro. Roges filled his appointment at the Baptist church last Sunday and those who did not attend certainly missed a treat. He has been giving a series of sermons and his next appointment, he wishes all the older people who can, to come, and we feel free to state that they will be fully repaid in going.

We are glad to see Mrs. Maurice Perkins out again, after quite a sojourn of cold and malaria. Mrs. Levy Sowers spent the week end with Mrs. Bob White. She recently moved to Gum Sulphur from our town. People will come back to old C. O.

Thanks to the services of Rev. C. H. Greer, of the local Methodist church, delivered the Thanksgiving sermon at the Christian church Thursday morning at 10

Wanted in Chattanooga.

Sheriff W. L. McCarty has received from the authorities at Chattanooga, Tenn., a warrant for the arrest and holding of one Herman Camp, of that city, who is wanted on the charge of grand larceny. Camp is now in jail here serving a sentence for cutting a brakeman on the Q. & C. road some months ago, while he and several other tramps were beating their way north. The offender was fined $50 at the last term of court here and is laying out the fine in jail. Sheriff McCarty will notify the Chattanooga officials when his time is out here and will hold him until the arrival of the proper authorities.

To Pen and Reform School

Deputy Sheriff W. S. Embry left early Monday morning for Frankfort and Lexington to deliver prisoners who were sentenced at the recent term of the Lincoln circuit court. Allen Walker, who got one year in the penitentiary on the charge of perjury, was taken to Frankfort to serve his term while Leslie McDaniell, a West End youth, went to the Reform School at Lexington to stay until he is 21 years of age. McDaniell was convicted of breaking into Austin's mill near Mt. Salem, and being too young to be sent to the penitentiary, was remanded to the school.

No Use to Run if he Wasn't

Col. George F. Anderson, who has become a candidate for representative of Boyle county in the lower house of the legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party, in the primary next August, is for Hon. J. C. W. Beckham for United States Senator, provided that distinguished gentleman offers for the place. Col. Anderson, like practically all the democrats of Boyle county, is of the opinion that Boyle county, in the light of past experiences, should stand solidly for the Nelson county man.—Danville Advocate.

15-Year-Old Bridal Pair

Lewis Perry, a native of Elliott county, but for the past several months a resident of Lincoln, and Miss Naomi B. Hale, of the Hubble section, were united in marriage at the court house Saturday afternoon by the Rev. J. T. Chastean. The bride and groom are each but 15 years of age. While Clerk Coover has some times issued license for the marriage of girls not over 15 this is the first time he has ever issued them to so youthful a groom.

Perryville Woman Burns to Death.

Mrs. Martha Davenport, one of the oldest women of Perryville, was burned to death at her home, where she has lived alone for half a century. Mrs. Davenport only lived a few hours. She was eighty-five years old, was born and reared in Boyle. She was the widow of James Davenport. Two sisters and a brother survive. They are Mrs. Bottom and Miss Harriet Sandifer and George Sandifer, of Danville.

Crab Orchard

Well, it does seem an injustice both to our thriving little city as well as to the noted and much read Interior Journal, that a letter can not be afforded once a week, at least from Crab Orchard. For the "Four Hundred" of Crab Orchard are not asleep by any means. C. O. is coming to the front right along, for with her new asphalt streets, and other improvements, she can look up with her neighboring towns, with merry twinkle in the eye of progression.

Mrs. Carroll Bailey and her pretty little daughter, Ophelia, have returned after an extended visit to St. Louis and other cities.

Mrs. James F. Holdam and Mrs. Price, of Stanford, were entertained at the Bronaugh home a few days since.

Charming Miss Annie Brough is at home now. She and Mrs. Katie Scott visited Mrs. Holdam at Stanford last week. The much iterated expression fits here; Stanford's gain is Crab Orchard's loss, in giving such an estimable couple for citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Holdam. It would be hard to find a more beloved pair. Mrs. Holdam is certainly missed in her accustomed place as organizer and leader in her church, and all charitable works.

Crab Orchard can now feel proud of her pastors. Bro. Roges filled his appointment at the Baptist church last Sunday and those who did not attend certainly missed a treat. He has been giving a series of sermons and his next appointment, he wishes all the older people who can, to come, and we feel free to state that they will be fully repaid in going.

We are glad to see Mrs. Maurice Perkins out again, after quite a sojourn of cold and malaria. Mrs. Levy Sowers spent the week end with Mrs. Bob White. She recently moved to Gum Sulphur from our town. People will come back to old C. O.

SHOT WIFE TO DEATH

When She Sought to Keep Casey County Man Out of Trouble.

Middleburg, Casey County, Nov. 28.—J. L. D. Gebert, a well known farmer near here, shot and killed his wife at her home on Wednesday night, and has been arrested and taken to jail at Liberty charged with wilful murder. He claims that it was an accident, but eye witnesses to the tragedy declare that he shot her deliberately, after she had interfered in a quarrel he was having with some men who were present. It is claimed that Mrs. Gebert sought to prevent her husband from having trouble with the men, as he is alleged to have been drinking, and that he became irritated at her, and turned his pistol on her shooting her through the heart. She died almost instantly. Mrs. Gebert was just 24 years of age. Before her marriage she was Miss Jessie Evans. The couple had no children.

FELL OFF WATER WAGON

Col. Sam T. Harris Badly Injures Leg and Will Be Laid Up.

Col. Sam T. Harris, one of Lincoln county's best known farmers and bankers, fell off the water wagon Thanksgiving day, and severely sprained the knee and ankle of his left leg. Now Col. Harris is not all a novice in riding upon one kind of a "water wagon," but he wasn't used to riding upon this one, hence the disaster.

The farm hands being away for the holiday, he was assisting his nephew, Robert T. Woods haul some water in their tank wagon for some stock. In some way the tank became dislodged, and tumbled over, carrying Col. Harris with it. His left limb became caught beneath the tank, and was bent under him at a very unnatural and painful angle. It was thought at first that it was broken at the knee.

The injury is very painful and the member has swelled considerably, fearing being felt that some ligaments must have been torn loose. He will be confined to his couch for quite a while, and has the sympathy of a host of friends.

BOUGHT WHISKY FOR A VISITOR

But Guest Cannot Recall Who Sold It To Him

Tuesday morning a well-dressed, gentleman appeared on the streets of our city and made inquiry of a number of people as to where he could find a little whisky. He approached to a number of whom told him they could not give him the desired information. But finally he was directed to one Samuel Guest, of color, who he was informed could secure the liquor. He found Guest and sent him to get the coveted item. It happened that Police Judge Menefee knew of the search the man was making and informed Chief of Police Carter of the affair. Carter shadowed Guest and on seeing him return from Macksville, placed him under arrest and a search of his clothing revealed the whisky. He was taken before Judge Menefee, but refused to tell who he bought it from saying he did not know, the person's name and apparently could give no description of the man beyond the fact that he was white and lived, he said either at Junction City or Parkville. Judge Menefee sent Guest to jail to remain until his memory becomes somewhat refreshed. The man who sent for the liquor is from the mountains and is said to have at one time represented his district in the Kentucky Senate.

HOME MISSION WEEK

Is Being Observed By Services in Local Churches This Week

Home Mission week is being observed in union services by Stanford churches this week. The program furnished by the missionary department of the Federal Council of churches is being carried out. It is a comprehensive review of the different phases of mission work in our own country and a study of our problems is being made throughout the nation. The services are in charge of the local pastors who take their turns on the program except in cases of enforced absence.

The sickness and absence of Rev. J. B. Jones of the Baptist church is the cause of very general and sincere regret but his place was supplied on Monday night by Rev. H. F. Surles, of the Holstonville Baptist church, and Rev. O. P. Bush, of the Lancaster Baptist church, is expected to take his place tonight (Friday.) On Sunday night Rev. J. E. Park, of the Lawrenceburg Presbyterian church very ably filled the place of Rev. P. L. Bruce who was out of town.

The meetings held here have been well attended and there is deep interest on the part of those who attend. They will conclude with an address by Rev. D. M. Walker at the Methodist church Sunday night.

Prominent Man Dies at Somerset

Somerset, Ky., Nov. 26.—H. G. Trimble, 70, died this morning at his home in this city. He was a Union soldier and was in command of Company Third Kentucky, during the Civil War. In his younger days he was prominent in republican politics. He was circuit clerk of the Pulaski Circuit Court for 25 years, and was postmaster for five years during McKinley's administration. Capt. Trimble suffered a stroke of paralysis about eight years ago, and since that time had been confined to his home. During the last session of Congress Senator Bradley, by a special act of Congress, secured an increase of Capt. Trimble's pension to $65 a month. He is survived by his wife and four children, Dr. V. G. Trimble, Mrs. Ernest Parsons and W. C. Trimble of this city, and Mrs. S. O. Eads, of Danville.

MORE HUNTERS' LICENSES.

Required by County Clerk as Supply Ruins Out.

The number of hunters applying for license has so far exceeded the expectations of County Clerk Cooper that he has been compelled to write to the state authorities for a second and third supply of blanks. He issued up to Monday night 308 licenses, just 100 being added to the list as published a week ago.

Synopsis of Game Laws.

The season is now open for most game in the State of Kentucky, but it is well for hunters to remember that an "open season" does not mean that he may go over the bounds of reason in slaughtering game, and there are several little matters on which the state authorities lay particular stress. A careful review of the following synopsis will be a good move for the hunter who is not familiar with the quips and quirks of the game regulations.

"Every hunter in Kentucky, must have a State hunter's license; except those who hunt on their own land or leased land or adjoining land.

"You cannot buy or sell game from states which prohibit same.

"You may kill squirrels from June 15 to February 1.

"You may kill wild duck from Aug 15 to April 1.

"You may kill wild geese from August 15 to April 1.

"You may kill woodcock from June 20 to February 1.

"You may kill quail, etc, from November 15 to January 1.

"You may kill doves from August 1 to February 1.

"The sale of wild turkeys is prohibited. Quail or partridge must not be taken by net, snare, trap or box at any time.

"No person or company shall ship wild turkey, pheasant, partridge, quail or grouse, unlawfully killed and in possession of a hunter.

"Rabbits and squirrels must not be killed between September 15 and November 15, but rabbits can be taken with dogs at any time.

Road Engineer Must be Named

In a recent decision of the Court of Appeals in a case that went up from Anderson county the court held that the county judge and magistrates must select a Road Engineer.

In this case the County Judge made the appointment without securing the approval of the Magistrates and the appointee undertook to act, but the court said in part: "Under section 48 of the Statutes it is made imperative on the County Judge with consent of the Fiscal Court to fill the appointment. It that duty is not performed they can be compelled by proper proceedings etc." In the same decision the court says: "The consent of the Fiscal Court is by the very terms of the statute as much an essential to an appointment where the office becomes vacant as it is upon the original appointments."

BRIDAL COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Bruce Being Delightfully Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bruce, the newly wedded pair, are being showered with many delightful attentions by their many friends. They were the guests of honor at an attractive reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Baughman, on Wednesday evening, which served to introduce the bride to a large number of friends in her new home.

The house was beautifully decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums and lighted with yellow and white candles. On entering the guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Baughman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bruce, who stood in the parlor under a cluster of yellow hearts. Punch was served in the library by Misses Sue Taylor and Nannie Woods Engelman, the color scheme being carried out in this. The tea table was charmingly arranged in yellow and white, chrysanthemums being the flowers employed. The centerpiece was silver candelabra holding yellow and white candles. Delightful brick cream and cakes in yellow and white were served, the chrysanthemum mints were served on the cream. On each cake were the initials T—B, reminders of the Turley-Bruce nuptials of a few days ago. The evening was a most pleasant one to all and will linger fondly in the memories of those whose good fortune it was to have been present. Several hundred guests called during the evening.

On Thanksgiving evening, Miss Sue Taylor Engleman entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bruce at Thanksgiving dinner at 6 o'clock, at her attractive old home in the country, off the Knob Lick pike. New Bible has No Hell.

No Adam, No Eve.

New York, Nov. 28.—There has already been a lively demand for the Bible with no "hell" in it, Dr. C. Kingsley Rowland, secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society, said today. An improved Bible for Baptists has just been issued by the society.

Not only does the word "hell" not appear in the new Bible, but Adam and Eve have been deprived of their names, as parents of the race and are called merely "the man" and "the woman." Jonah's whale becomes a "great fish" to conform with modern knowledge as to the smallness of whales' throats, "Hell" is replaced by the less terrifying word "underworld."

Obsolete Elizabethan grammatical forms have been brought up to date. In the Lord's prayer "Our Father which is in Heaven" becomes "Our Father Who," "trespasses" becomes "debts," "lead us not into temptation" is made "bring us not into temptation" and the adjuration becomes "Thy will be done, as in Heaven, as on earth."

In the Second Commandment "graven image" is changed to "carved image" and everywhere such expressions as "loveh" and "leadeth" become "love" and "lead."

PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL WEDNESDAY NIGHT

But One Gets Cold and Returns to Durance Vile—Miss Sallie Farmer a Game Young Lady

Wednesday night about 9 o'clock Herman Camp, of Chattanooga, who is serving a jail sentence and Thos. Burleson, a Waynesburg lad charged with selling whisky, made their escape from the jail here by prizing out a bar from one of the windows on the upper tier of cells and then jumping from the roof of the jail office to the ground.

It was bitter cold and Camp, being unfamiliar with the surroundings wandered down to Rowland and then back to Stanford and at 4 o'clock Thursday morning being nearly frozen, returned to the jail and asked Jailer Farmer to let him in.

Jim Tall, a colored prisoner, gave the alarm to Jailer Farmer after the men had made a clean getaway. Uncle Dink fired several shots in the air to alarm the neighborhood thinking some one might see the fugitives.

Miss Sallie Farmer, one of his daughters, bravely grabbed up a shotgun and ran to the rear of the jail to head off any others who might attempt to get away.

Jailer Farmer soon found that Burleson was the only one missing and the officer is now engaged in a hunt for him. Camp denied that he cut the bar, but admits that he made his escape first, and does not know which way Burleson went.

Burleson was given a sentence of 150 days at the recent term of circuit court on the charge of selling whisky and Camp was fined $50 for cutting a brakeman on the Q. & C. road and is laying the fine out in jail. Burleson's father is postmaster at Waynesburg and has given his parents a great deal of trouble. His father told Jailer Dink Farmer that if the boy came home he would certainly send him back to jail. A warrant has been received here from Chattanooga charging Camp with felony, but he was ignorant of it, else he would probably have braved the cold and have gotten away also.

COL. C. R. ANDERSON

Announces His Candidacy for State Senator—Good Man

Col. Clifton R. Anderson, of Boyle county, was here Monday and left his announcement with this paper for the democratic nomination for State Senator, from this district, composed of the counties of Lincoln, Boyle, Garrard and Casey. Col. Anderson is one of the most prominent business men of Danville, being a member of the large milling firm of Anderson & Spillman, and is identified with other business interests of his city. His friends claim that it is Boyle's time to name the Senator and that he will have no opposition for the honor. That he will make a most capable and efficient representative there is no doubt and if he is entrusted with the commission his many friends believe that the district will have honored itself as well as him.

ELECTRIC PLANTS

In Central Kentucky Being Bought Up by Chicago Syndicate

The following news items taken from the Winchester Democrat will be of interest to the people of this community, as it is reported that negotiations are under way, looking to the purchase of the Stanford plant also: A Chicago corporation has practically gained control of the electric light and ice plants of Central Kentucky, including those of Winchester, Lexington and Mt. Sterling, and will merge them into one big corporation, securing current from a hydro-electric plant, which will be installed at the mouth of Dix river.

A later report, however, was to the effect that an eastern corporation had secured the Winchester plant and the one at Mt. Sterling and would begin the erection of a mammoth central power plant in Winchester soon, to supply the new lighting system here and in Mt. Sterling and other suburban towns, regardless of whether the hydro-electric plant on Dix river is completed or not.
