

"EVERYBODY'S HOUSE" BURNS

Landmark, at Crab Orchard Destroyed—Old Folks' Concert a Delightful Affair.

Crab Orchard, March 24. Early Wednesday morning the house on Lancaster street occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Elam, was discovered to be on fire, and as a terrific wind was blowing, it was soon beyond control. Excitement ran high when it was said Mrs. Elam was in bed, and burning to death and many heroic efforts were put forth to save her. Mrs. Mary Morgan rushed into the burning building to save her, and had the whole front part of her hair burned off. Little Frank Adams was also a hero, who rushed in and by main force dragged Mrs. Elam out. Mrs. Elam was not in the house as was supposed, but safe on the outside. The building known as "Everybody's House," was entirely destroyed and about one hundred bales of hay which were stored in the upper part. The building was owned by the Buchanan heirs, and was once the home of Mrs. Rena Stuart. The owners had several hundred dollars insurance with a Stanford agent. By great and heroic efforts of citizens of the town, the College and house belonging to Mr. Chadwick, just opposite, were saved. Prof. Hatfield and his teachers in the Graded School assembled all the children in the lower recitation room, on the East side of building, ready at a moment's notice to escape in safety. The smoke and heat in front of the college was suffocating, and windows hot, and a strong wind blowing the flame to it, seemed a miracle it should escape. Mr. and Mrs. Elam, old and sick and perfectly helpless, are turned out without saving one thing, not even clothing and were sent to the home of Maurice Perkins until a place can be secured for them. This is such a fine chance for those financially blessed to show their gratitude to God, by donating something to help these poor, old, worthy people to help them are not entirely forsaken, and cast away.

Keep your property of all kinds always protected by Jesse D. Wear, the Insurance Man of Stanford.

The Concert given by the old ladies of the Christian church at Crab Orchard Springs, Saturday evening, was a great success. Not only did everyone express himself well paid for attending, but they made the old ladies feel good by their kind expression and compliments of their work. $39.80 were the proceeds and the old ladies desire to thank each one present both for attendance and kind words of praise. The old songs were enjoyed and the music and acting was especially good. The dialogues for the occasion, "A Backwoods Merchant of Kentucky," acted by Thomas Hays Bronaugh and Billy George Holdman, and "An Old Maid's Tea Party," acted by Mrs. Daisy Hunt, Mrs. Allie Pettus, Mrs. Anna Napier and Miss Mayne Holdman and John Eva Hilton, were composed by Mrs. Bettie Buchanan and were splendidly acted, and brought forth many laughs from the audience. "Ben Bolt" was sweetly sung by Mrs. M. E. Fish, and her two daughters, Mrs. Pettus and Mrs. Newland. "Juanita" was sung splendidly by Mrs. Stephenson and Miss Tanner Thompson; "Silver Threads Among the Gold," by Mrs. Amy and Mrs. Pettus, was beautiful. "Annie Laurie" was sweetly sung by Mrs. Jamie Carpenter and Miss Tanner Thompson and was splendidly rendered, as was the sweet old song, "When You and I Were Young Maggie," by Misses John Eva Hilton and Tanner Thompson.

Instrumental duet by Miss Stephenson and Mrs. Pettus, "Midnight Fire Alarm" was splendidly rendered, and the duet played by Mrs. Kit Thompson and Mrs. Jamie Carpenter called forth loud applause. A selection on the harp by Miss Tanner Thompson as well as instrumental composition of her own were greatly enjoyed and complimented. The recitations were especially fine and showed great elocutionary talent. "Somebody's Darling," was splendidly and feelingly recited by Mrs. Daisy Hunt. "Old Soapy," one of the finest temperance selections, was recited by Miss Elizabeth Gentry of Broadhead in one of the most pleasing and impressive ways we ever heard. She is a fine speaker and received a medal at a contest on this selection. "Kentucky Philosophy" was splendidly rendered by Miss Tanner Thompson, who was recalled to the stage and recited "Jemima's Courtship," which was greatly applauded. "Bill's In Trouble," was very beautifully rendered by Mrs. Willis. "The Rappahannock," by Mrs. Anna Napier, and "The Mason's Secret," by Mrs. Buchanan, both were greatly enjoyed and applauded and the beautiful selection, "Laska," was finely rendered by Mrs. Newland in her best elocutionary effort. She is a fine speaker.

"Dixie," "Massa's In de Cold, Cold Ground," "Auld Lang Syne," and "Old Kentucky Home," were chorused by all the ladies. "Old Black Joe," was sung by Mrs. M. E. Fish. Mrs. Bettie Buchanan, Mrs. Allie Pettus, Mrs. Caltha Newland and Messrs. Bragg Thompson, George Holmes and Mr. Peters. The ladies were indebted to George Holmes, Bragg Thompson and Mr. Peters for help rendered in their singing and thank everyone again for their kind expression.

LATEST NEWS FROM MEXICO.

A message received from Gen. Berlan last night at El Paso stated that Villa had been surrounded by Carranza and American troops at El Oso after a battle at Nampiqua.

Gen. Bell yesterday wired Gen. Funston that after investigation he had "confirmed" the report that Gen. Herrera had revolted against Carranza. He added that it was his information that the Mexican leader would operate independently against the American punitive expedition.

The Carranza officials at Juarez and along the border at other points, however, insisted that they had positive information that the commander at Chihuahua had not deserted the first chief. Telegrams, said to be from Herrera were shown to substantiate their statements.

The first detailed story of the remarkable advance in which the flying squadron covered 110 miles in twenty-two hours actual marching time, was received from army headquarters near Colonia Dublin.

Washington last night ordered investigation of the conflicting rumors as to the interior situation on the part of the consular representatives at Chihuahua and Durango.

Lieut. Edgar Corral, of the United States Aero Corps, missing since Sunday, was found by an army motor truck train in a sandy plateau unharmed, but without gasoline or food.

Lieut. T. S. Bowen, of the army aviation corps which is with Pershing's expeditionary force in Mexico, fell with his machine 50 feet and sustained a broken nose and other minor injuries. Bowen is from Simpson county, Ky., and a graduate of State University and West Point.

DR. PERRY BUYS FARM.

Dr. G. P. Perry, of this city, was the successful bidder on the B. C. Hackett farm of 334 acres in Madison county a few days ago. He paid $114 per acre. The farm is a magnificent one, situated as it is in the best part of the county. It will be good news to our people to know that the purchase was made as an investment and that Dr. Perry and his excellent family will continue to reside in Stanford.

AVOID SPRING COLDS

Sudden changes, high winds, shifting seasons cause colds and grippe, and these spring colds are annoying and dangerous and are likely to turn into a chronic summer cough. In such cases take a treatment of Dr. King's New Discovery, a pleasant Laxative Tea Syrup, it soothes the cough, checks the cold and helps break up an attack of grippe. Its already prepared, no mixing or fusing. Just ask your druggist for a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. Tested and tried for over 40 years.

THIS WILL AFFECT MANY SUBSCRIBERS TO THE I. J.

White paper, upon which the Interior Journal is printed, has almost doubled in price the past few months, and a great many country newspapers which are sold at the rate of one cent per copy, are increasing their subscription rates. The I. J. will not do this, however, but will be compelled to operate upon a strictly cash-in-advance basis in the future. It plans to notify its subscribers a short time before their subscriptions expire; and if renewal is not received by the end of the month in which a subscription has expired, the name will be removed from the list. The I. J. at $1 a year is the cheapest newspaper in the state. City dailies, magazines and a great many other papers all stop when a subscriber's time is up, and the I. J. will, from now on, do likewise. Quite a number of its subscribers are now from several months up to a year or so behind. These are being notified, and unless heard from at once, their names will soon be removed from the list. The I. J. hopes that every one of its great family of readers will continue with it under this new arrangement, which it is compelled to make in view of the rapidly increase of paper and other materials of all sorts used in producing it twice a week.

A RATHER EXPENSIVE "BUSS."

A dispatch from Frankfort says that E. Webb, a teacher of Russell county, fined $400 and sentenced to 100 days in jail for detaining and kissing Fannie Carter, was pardoned by the governor of the 100-day jail sentence. Immediately following the osculatory offense, Joe Carter, the girl's father, beat Webb with his fists cut him with a knife, shot him in the hand and knocked him unconscious with the butt of the revolver, and Webb declared, "called him out of his name." The evidence showed that Webb's intent went to further than the kiss and the Governor thought the punishment already received amply fit the crime.

WIND BLOWS BIG BARN DOWN

Young Cyclone Does Serious Damage in Various Sections.

The severe windstorm which raged over this section of the state, almost the violence of a hurricane or cyclone, and reports of serious damage in various sections are coming in. The large sock and tobacco barn on the farm of Pool Perkins, two miles from Lancaster on the Crab Orchard pike, was blown down by a terrific wind which struck it soon after noon, and is a total loss. Mr. Perkins had a quantity of hay and grain, and a lot of farming machinery in the building, which was badly broken up and damaged, and the loss will amount to about $1,000, which is covered with insurance in the agency of D. A. Thomas, of Stanford. Luckily there was no livestock in the big barn at the time. Mr. Perkins' barn is near the point of Gissler's Creek where a bridge was blown away a few years ago.

LAST FAMOUS BANDIT DEAD.

Cole Younger, 72, and unmarried, the last survivor of the most notorious band of outlaws of the "Wild and Woolly West" days, is dead at Lee's Summit, Mo. He died a devout church member and the friend of a host of men and women in that community. Younger was one of the last of the notorious robber bands which infested Western Missouri during and after the Civil war. He was member of the Quantrell gang and was associated with the James boys. He was the oldest of three brothers, sons of Col. Harry W. Younger, who came from Kentucky to Lee's Summit, Mo., before the Civil war. Their association with the James boys after the war involved them in a series of robberies, the most notorious of which were: Liberty (Mo.) bank, 1866, one bank defender killed, $72,000 stolen; Russellville, Ky., bank, 1868, $10,000; Gallatin, Mo., bank, 1868, $232,000; Lexington, Mo., bank, 1867; Kansas City Fair Association, 1871, $10,000; Corydon (La.) bank, 1871, $40,000. The Younger brothers were captured in Minnesota, after a raid on bank at Northfield, Minn., in 1876. They pleaded guilty and were sent up for life. Bob Younger died in prison in 1889. Cole and James Younger were paroled in 1901. The latter committed suicide the following year because, he said, the Parole board refused to permit his marriage to the girl of his choice. After living in Minnesota the required three years Cole purchased a cottage near Lee's Summit, and made it his home. In 1913 he was converted and became active in church work.

AD THOMAS GOING UP.

The Lexington Herald said this week of Ad Thomas, the son of Editor Henry Thomas, of the Casey County News, who gives promise of developing into a pitcher of big league calibre: "Ad Thomas, the well known Colt left-hander, came in yesterday from his home at Liberty, Ky., for a conference with Manager Howard Guyn. Thomas was sent a contract this spring, but has not yet signed. He will probably affix his signature to the paper today. Thomas has earned no little prominence in politics in his home county since leaving Lexington last fall at the close of the season. He was sent as a delegate from his district to the Casey county Republican convention and was delegated to represent the county in the state convention at Louisville. Ad has made several speeches and his ability to hook the English language over the plate has won him a reputation at home."

THE I. J. AT CRAB ORCHARD.

Mrs. Bettie Buchanan, who has been the I. J.'s efficient correspondent at Crab Orchard, for several years, has arranged to represent this paper for the collection of subscription and other accounts and will likewise take orders for advertising and printing of all sorts. In the future the I. J. will not be sent unless payment of subscription is made in advance for a year, so that its host of readers in the East End should see Mrs. Buchanan at once and keep their subscriptions paid up so as not to miss an issue, for all papers will be stopped henceforth, as soon as the time for which they are paid, expires.

BIG CROWDS SEE BIG PICTURE.

A tremendous crowd saw "The Battle Cry of Peace" at the opera house Wednesday afternoon and night, and various opinions are heard expressed of it. It is a stupendous production, showing in vivid form this nation's state of unpreparedness for war. The rumor that it was produced for the purpose of promoting business for munitions manufacturers seems to have substantial basis according to the opinions of those who prefer not to fuss, it is supplied ready made in 25c bottles under name of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Can be had at your druggist. Insist on getting Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and see that the formula is on the package.

MRS. BEECHER ADAMS DEAD

Former Hustonville Lady, Passes Away at Home in Danville.

Her host of friends in Lincoln county were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Beecher Adams, which took place at the home of her husband in Danville early Tuesday morning. While Mrs. Adams had been in declining health for many months, and it was generally known she could not recover, the announcement of her death came as a great shock to a wide circle of friends in this city and throughout Central Kentucky. Mrs. Blanche Twidwell Adams was born at Hustonville, and was in her 49th year. She was a daughter of Mr. Felix and Mrs. Elizabeth Twidwell. Her father was a native of Virginia and died many years ago. She was a most lovable woman, in every way, a true friend, an ideal wife and mother and a sincere Christian. She was one of the most devoted members of the First Presbyterian church of Danville.

Truly a good woman has gone to a rich reward. The deceased is survived by her husband, J. Beecher Adams; two children, Felix Adams and Miss Elizabeth Adams; her mother, Mrs. J. C. Johnston; one half-sister and brother, Miss Pearl Johnson and Mr. Forest Johnson, all of Danville, and one sister, Mrs. S. W. Forgy, of Elkton, to whom goes out the deepest and sincerest sympathy in this terrible bereavement. The funeral was conducted at the residence by Dr. C. G. Crooks Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment was in the Hustonville cemetery.

MRS. E. H. WALKER DEAD.

Mrs. Elizabeth Walker, relict of E. H. Walker, of Upper Garrard, died at her home at one o'clock Monday morning of apoplexy, aged 72. She was stricken at 5 o'clock Saturday and gradually grew worse until the end came. Mrs. Walker, who was Miss Elizabeth Woods, was a sister of Mrs. J. C. Hays, of this city, and frequently visited her here where she had many friends. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church and a most excellent woman in every way. The burial took place at the Old Paint Lick church at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends. Mr. Walker died some four years ago, but four daughters and a son are left to feel keenly the loss of a grand and good mother. They are: Mrs. Arthur Gibbs and Misses Mattie, Mary and Jane Walker and Mr. Woods Walker.

SPLENDID OLD LADY GONE.

Mrs. Anna Traub, wife of John Rudolph Traub, a well known aged farmer of the Ottenheim section, died at their home last Friday and was laid to rest Sunday in the cemetery at the German Reformed church at Ottenheim, after services conducted by Rev. J. G. Bosshart, her pastor. A great many friends and loved ones turned out to pay the last tribute of respect and love to this good woman. Mrs. Traub was a native of Switzerland, where she was born 75 years ago. Her husband is now in his 81st year. They came to America in 1875 and lived in Pennsylvania until 1885 when they moved to Lincoln county where they have since resided. Three children survive the good mother, Mrs. Fritz Krueger, of Mt. Vernon, Henry Traub, of this county, and Rudolph Traub, of Pennsylvania.

Swaim, of Lexington, who was here last week, with the crew re-arranging the wires of the Cumberland Telephone Company in town, was compelled to leave Monday upon receipt of a message announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. Kate Swaim at her late home in Middletown, O. Mrs. Swaim was in her sixtieth year. She had been ill for several months suffering from a complication of diseases. Mr. Swaim left for Middletown to attend her funeral.

WILHITE MAY BE PARDONED.

A dispatch from Frankfort Tuesday had this to say regarding a proposed pardon for a former Stanford man: "Samuel W. Wilhite, former controller of the city of Louisville, who has been in the reformatory since October, 1914, serving a term of from two to ten years for hypothecating bonds belonging to the city, has renewed his application for a pardon and Gov. Stanley has the case under consideration. No action was taken today, but the belief is general that the Governor is giving the petition favorable consideration and will act on it this week. Letters and telegrams by the hundreds, supporting the petition, accompanied the application. Acting Mayor Miller, of Louisville, and the prosecuting officer have given assurances that they will not oppose the pardon, and Mayor Buschmeyer, at Hot Springs, will be communicated with.

MAD DOG BITES BOYS.

The two young sons of Carrol Partin, near Chenoa, Bell county, were bitten by a mad dog last week and have been sent to the Pasture Institute at Bowling Green for treatment to prevent hydrophobia. One boy is 15 and the other 13. About three months ago a dog came through that neighborhood and bit several dogs, all of which were immediately killed except a little puppy about 6 months old, belonging to Carlo Partin. The little dog bit the two boys, and four hours later began to take fits and had to be killed. The father was in very destitute circumstances and the neighbors and friends helped him to bring the children to Pineville, where Judge T. J. Asher took the matter up and sent the boys to Bowling Green to take the pasture treatment.

High School News

Baseball Progressing Rapidly.

The baseball team has been getting in some good practice and shows up well on the field. Already seven games have been scheduled and a good many more are hoped for. The first game of the season will be played on the local field, March 31, with the Hustonville boys. The admission to the game will be 15c and 25c, and the Athletic Club is a little behind in a financial way, but a good crowd will be appreciated very much. The Hustonville team is composed of experienced players, and as they have been getting in much good practice, and will no doubt put up one of the hardest fights to be seen on the local diamond. S. H. S. will journey to Danville the following day and do battle with the strong D. & D. team of that place.

The following games have so far been scheduled:

March 31—Stanford vs. Hustonville, at Stanford.

April 1—Stanford vs. D. & D. at Danville.

April 2—Stanford vs. Mt. Vernon at Mt. Vernon.

April 14—Stanford vs. Hustonville at Hustonville.

April 21—Stanford vs. Centre College first team, at Stanford.

The dates for the return game of the D. & D. and Mt. Vernon teams have not yet been decided upon, but will be played the early part of April.

It will no doubt seem strange to many of the Stanford fans that the first team of Centre College will play the local team, as it has never been customary for college and university nines to schedule games with high schools, but Centre is scheduled to play the strong St. Mary's team the following day, and arranged this game with the local boys, in order to be in tip top shape for their stronger opponents.

The Domestic Science girls served refreshments to the faculty of the school Thursday afternoon.

Another Splendid Program.

The monthly program of the Literary Society was given in the room of the Juniors and Freshmen in a most remarkable way. All delivered their parts in a very creditable manner and the program came up to any ever before rendered. Those participating in the event were:

8TH DISTRICT POLITICIANS

Gossiping About Congressional Race Considerably This Week—Montgomery and Palmer Here.

Politics has been sizzling in the Eighth Congressional district this week. Frankfort and Louisville papers have been predicting that Representative George L. Pickett, of Shelby county, a brother of Mrs. Wm. Severance, of this city, would announce as a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress this week, and one Tuesday night State Senator Charles F. Montgomery, of Casey county, was in Stanford, conferring with several of his local friends with regard to becoming a candidate also. Congressman Harvey Helm's friends say that he will be a candidate for renomination, so the race promises to be a three-cornered affair if all predictions being made come true.

The Frankfort State Journal, of Wednesday, said that Mr. Pickett, had been in Frankfort Tuesday and stated that he would announce as a candidate for congress either Thursday or Friday. In this connection, the Louisville Times Thursday said:

"Speaking of Eighth district congressional politics, a Democrat who knows what's what, said that the so-called Beckham-Haley bunch was being Harvey Helm, the present congressman, and that Gov. Stanley and the administration influences would get back of Representative George L. Pickett, of Shelby county. The Shelby aspirant, it is said, has already perfected the nucleus of a good organization in nearly every county of the district, which includes some heretofore warm supporters of Congressman Helm."

In this connection the Louisville Post had the following to say:

We notice in the Louisville Times a prediction that "Governor Stanley and the administration influences" will get back of Mr. George Pickett, of Shelby county, in an effort to defeat Congressman Harvey Helm in the Eighth Congressional district. This is a singular admission. Mr. Stanley has enough to do at Frankfort without seeking to choose Congressmen for the various districts of the State. The Governor does not reside in the Eighth district; the man that he has appointed to State office from that district would be much better employed discharging their official duties than in exerting themselves to aid Mr. Stanley to defeat a Congressman whom it appears he does not like. The Evening Post has no intention of offering advice to the Democrats of the Eighth district, as to whom they should assemble. Our information is that Mr. Helm has made, and is making, an industrious, successful representative. We know nothing to the detriment of Mr. Pickett. The point of the incident is the attempt of "Governor Stanley and administration influences" to try to control the politics. They will attempt this in the coming state convention, and it is of the greatest importance to the party and the State that attempted dictatorship of that kind be rebuffed.

Senator Montgomery told the I. J. here Tuesday night that he has not finally determined upon his course in the matter, but that he will in all probability decide to make the race. He is now going over the district, meeting with friends in different counties and is receiving very gratifying assurances of support in the event he decides to run. Senator Montgomery has represented the district composed of Lincoln, Casey, Boyle and Garrard counties in the upper house of the state legislature for four years and during that time has made a splendid record as a lawmaker. He has been consistently upon the right side of practically every question that has come before the legislature, being especially prominent in his fights to secure a vote on state-wide prohibition, and other measures in which the temperance people of Kentucky are interested. Senator Montgomery has been a close friend of U. S. Senator J. C. W. Beckham for many years, and led his fight in Casey county and that section, in the senatorial primary of 1914. Senator Montgomery was born in Lincoln county, being the son of the Rev. J. Q. Montgomery one of the most beloved ministers of the Christian church in the state. He also married in Lincoln, his wife being a daughter of Col. T. L. Carpenter, of Hustonville.

Congressman Helm's friends say that he is "sitting steady in the boat" and is unperturbed by reports of the opposition which seems to be in process of development against him. His friends say he will ask nomination and re-election upon the record he has made during his long service in congress, and that neither he nor they have any fears of the outcome.

Considerable interest was aroused here Tuesday also by the presence here of Dr. N. A. Palmer, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky. Dr. Palmer has been considerably in the limelight in connection with the work of the recent legislature. Dr. Palmer paid high tribute to the record made by Senator Montgomery of this district, who, he said, was always a most consistent and powerful friend of every temperance measure presented.

AN UNUSUAL SORT OF INJURY.
