

BANQUETS AT CRAB ORCHARD

Masons and Eastern Stars and Odd Fellows Entertain Friends With Delightful Affairs.

Crab Orchard, June 9. Two of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given in Crab Orchard, were the banquets of the Masons and "Eastern Star" combined, which was given at the Masonic Hall on Thursday night of last week, and the Odd Fellows' banquet on last Friday night, and both occasions will long be remembered with pleasure.

In a beautiful and appropriate prayer, Rev. Morgan, of Crab Orchard opened the meeting. Mr. H. G. Skiles, secretary of Crab Orchard Lodge, in a most enthusiastic manner welcomed the guests, told of the great work being done by the order all over the world, and plainly showed how proud he was to belong to such an organization.

J. N. Saunders, of Stanford, Deputy Grand Master of Grand Lodge, was next introduced by Rev. Wyatt, and he entertained the crowd for several minutes in a most interesting talk about the greatness of his order—not forgetting to explain how a poor brother was initiated, which was laughable in the extreme.

Mrs. Katherine Watts Clark, Worthy Grand Matron of the "Eastern Star" order, was next introduced in a beautiful manner, by Toastmaster Wyatt. She spoke of the pleasure it was to her to see the rapid stride the order was making here in Crab Orchard; and said it was her first attempt to address both the Masonic and Eastern Star orders upon any occasion.

She was a most interesting speaker and is thoroughly in touch with her great work. Rev. Wyatt next introduced Dr. George B. Lyne, Worthy Patron of the Eastern Star, and Mr. Lyne gave an interesting story which thoroughly explained how much charity work and help the order was rendering to the world, and still practicing the scriptural injunction of not letting the left hand know what the right hand doeth, and right here let us say if any man on earth lives this life, it is our own townsman, Mr. G. B. Lyne, who has never yet refused to answer liberally to every call of need, and never speaks of what he has done.

Dr. M. M. Phillips, Master of Crab Orchard Lodge, was the next speaker introduced and spoke in stirring terms of the grandness and benevolence of his order; of the work accomplished, and of the great possibilities awaiting them. He spoke with an ease and grace of manner and like all the rest, was proud to belong to such an order.

The next speaker to be introduced by Rev. Wyatt was Mr. David Jackson, of Louisville, Past Grand Master, and now Grand Secretary of Kentucky and in his happiest mood, his face beaming as though he was eager to talk, he did some talking. He showed in every tone and gesture how proud he was to belong to the great Masonic order; said no people on earth were doing so much good for the world. Explained the great work being done for the widows and orphans in Kentucky; how the little ones were being taught every useful thing. How doctors, dentists and nurses worked without any pay to help this institution; of its sanitary condition of the Home for men at Shelbyville, with 44 inmates enjoying all the privileges of home, and many times during his most interesting talk he would stop to say "Men it means something to be a Mason." He also told of the four years at High School to be given the orphans after they leave the Home. Then followed the good part of the program—tables reaching the full length of the Masonic Halls were laden with everything to tempt the palate. Cold boiled ham in generous slices, light bread, pickles, dressed eggs, salmon salad, fruit salad, cheese and olives, then plates heaped with delicious ice cream, and fresh strawberries, coffee and iced tea, delicious cakes.

Prof. Hatfield offered the closing prayer. Music was splendidly rendered by the Crab Orchard orchestra. On Friday night the Annual Banquet of the Order of Odd Fellows was held in the same hall, and as many of the Masons are also members of the I. O. O. F., the exercises were similar. Rev. Wyatt as Toastmaster, certainly deserved special mention, so well he performed his part. At one time he had the crowd convulsed with laughter at his witty repartees, the next moment almost in tears at his serious pictures. Anyway, he was a fine toastmaster at both banquets. He is from Carrollton, Ky., and pastor of the Christian church here, where he is doing a great work.

Prayer by Rev. Wyatt opened the exercises of the evening. Rev. Wyatt introduced Mr. Skiles as first speaker, and in his very best style he welcomed the crowd and then plunged at once into his subject of telling how great was his order. He said he had belonged to the Odd Fellows since he was twenty-one years of age, and had never had occasion to regret his step; spoke of the great work they were doing, and of their Widows' and Orphan's Home at Lexington, and explained what it meant to be an Odd Fellow.

The second speaker was Mr. W. H. McDonald, of Barbourville, who paid a beautiful tribute to Kentucky, her people, her scenery, her grand possibilities, and that in this, as in every state of our grand old union, you are able to find a brother wherever you go. He spoke of the youthfulness of the order of Odd Fellows—only a little over a hundred years, and he exclaimed, "Give us another hundred years, and what cannot we accomplish?" He said he belonged to 54 societies, saying nothing about his being a Methodist and a member of the Republican party. His talk was both enjoyed and appreciated and his witticisms were fine.

The next speaker introduced by Toastmaster Wyatt, was Mr. George W. Smith, Jr., of Lancaster, District Deputy Grand Master, and he certainly impressed his hearers that he was thoroughly acquainted with the great work of his order and conversant with its upward climb. Both he and Toastmaster Wyatt boosted Mr. George B. Lyne of Crab Orchard, for Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge. Both stated how well worthy Mr. Lyne was for the position. Mr. George B. Lyne was the next speaker to take the stand, and although he had a great deal he intended to say, he was so embarrassed and surprised at being boosted for Grand Warden that he said very little. He praised his order, spoke at large of their grand work, and of their prosperous brotherhood.

Rev. Wyatt then introduced Hon. R. L. Tomlinson, of Lancaster. We were expecting grand things from him, and he certainly did not disappoint us. A natural orator, the silvery notes followed in beautiful cadence as he ascended flight after flight of lofty minded pictures. He told how if he were a painter, he would paint upon canvas Odd Fellowship; he would show the open grave in which the father of a family lay; on one side the widow, on the other the orphan; then the great light of Odd Fellowship surrounding, protecting and caring for them both. This he said was what it meant to be an Odd Fellow. Such an order with such principles could not be kept down, and today stands without a peer. He spoke of the grand noble women of Kentucky, not failing to pay a tribute to his own wife, and then his eulogy of woman was perfectly sublime—but at the very last of his beautiful tribute to her, he made this assertion. He said we were told in the Bible that God made man and that after man's creation God rested. Then a rib was taken from man and woman was formed; said there was no record in the Bible that God rested after he created her, but one fact remained—man had had no rest since she was created.

Dr. Phillips then addressed the crowd in a few well chosen remarks, well delivered, and pointed, and was glad to see such great enthusiasm shown. The menu was exactly the same as that at the Masonic banquet, and about one hundred and forty well fed people went away feeling that it was good to have been there. The same number of people attended each banquet as nearly as could be estimated. The two orders desire to express their thanks to the ladies who served the feasts, and to the young ladies who waited on the tables, and to the orchestra for the sweet music.

FORTY-NINTH ANNIVERSARY As Preacher to Be Celebrated by Rev. Joseph Ballou Sunday.

Next Sunday morning Elder Joseph Ballou will preach in the Christian church in Stanford. Forty-nine years ago he preached his first sermon at Antioch, Pulaski county. Since that day he has held protracted meetings in seventy-five churches in twenty-six counties in Kentucky.

He has had some unusual experiences in this extended ministry. He baptized the oldest man he ever saw; he was 102 years old, and had been with Gen. Jackson in the war of 1812-15. Mr. Ballou brought into obedience to Christ, three generations in one meeting in Hardin county—grand-father, father, and son, aged 73, 53 and 23 years old. They all went down into Nolin Creek together and were immersed. In one meeting at Antioch, Madison county, there were 85 converts in eleven days' meeting, nearly all being adults. He baptized his oldest sister, who had carried him around in her arms when he was a baby. She was a widow and a grandmother when she was baptized. He has preached the gospel in Nashville, Tenn., Hutchison, Kansas, Sedalia, Mo., Arcola, Ill. Among the converts in some of these meetings were seven doctors, several preachers and some lawyers, one circuit judge being included in the latter.

The subject Sunday will be "Preparedness." Reserved seats for preachers, doctors and lawyers.

CARPENTER—LUSK. Prominent West End Couple Wed and Will Live in East.

Sam F. Lusk and Miss Angie Carpenter, two of the most popular and prominent young people of the West End of Lincoln county, took their many friends by surprise by driving to Danville Wednesday, where, at the home of Harry Bosley, Rev. A. H. Baugh said the words which made them man and wife. Immediately afterward they left for a bridal trip to Chattanooga, Florida, other points in the south and then up through Washington, Baltimore and eastern cities. They will then go to Waterbury, Conn., to make their home, where the groom holds an important and responsible position with a large contracting firm. A host of friends and loved ones will extend sincerest congratulations and good wishes. The bride is one of the West End's fairest daughters, accomplished and attractive, the daughter of Mrs. Jennie Carpenter, and a member of one of the old West End families. Her husband is a very prominent and progressive business man. He made his home in Hustonville for a number of years and numbers his friends and admirers by his acquaintances.

WENT THRO' NICHOLASVILLE. Ed Walton, of the Nicholasville News, doesn't miss a single person from down in this section when they pass through his city. The issue this week had the following notes of local people: Ed Ballard, wife and children, of Stanford, were here Sunday the guests of Mr. Welch Wilds.—Miss Josephine Beazley, of Stanford, is the guest of Miss Edna Grace Turner.—Mr. and Mrs. Currey Robinson, of Lancaster, who have been guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lyne, have returned to their home.—Dr. Bertie Carpenter, one of Lincoln county's best physicians, passed thru Nicholasville Friday en route to Lexington. She was accompanied by several friends.—Dr. M. M. Phillips, one of Lincoln's most successful physicians, was through here from Crab Orchard today. He was en route to Lexington.—J. M. Cress, wife and children, of the Preachersville section of Lincoln county, were over Sunday for their son, Joseph Cress, who has been a student in Prof. Threlkeld's school. Mr. Cress is one of Lincoln county's best citizens, and is an extensive farmer and trader.

LANCASTER WON W. C. T. U. MEDAL Owen Hendren Awarded Handsome Prize Here Thursday Evening Before Large Audience

Lancaster won the W. C. T. U. Silver Medal contest here Thursday night when by unanimous decision of the three judges first place was awarded to Owen Hendren of the Lancaster High School. Six speakers participated in the contest, three of them being members of Miss Burch's expression department of the Stanford school and three from Mrs. Todd's expression department of the Lancaster school. The winner had as his subject "Baptized in Blood," and handled it with especial effectiveness and skill. The judges were H. G. Skiles, of Crab Orchard, Mrs. J. K. Baughman, of Hustonville, and Miss Mancy Ware of McKinney.

A large crowd was present at the high school auditorium and an interesting program was rendered, the speakers, their subjects and the musical numbers being as follows: Chorus—"Get a Transfer." The Story of Patsy—Katie Barnes Dickerson. Piano—"The Fairies Dream," Eddie Bruce Baughman. The Defense of the Alamo—Joseph Ballou. Solo and Quartet, "A Nation's Battle"—Wallace Singleton, Mrs. Wm. Martin, Miss Powell, Shirley Gover. The Teetotaler's Story—Bessie Brackett. Chorus, "Jus' Keep on Keepin' On"—Young Men. A Brave Boy—Ruth Carrier. Piano—"Gigue"—C. Cheminade—Miss Josephine Carpenter. The Lessons of a Tragedy—Ferdinand Matheny. Male Quartet—At the Pells—Robert Carter, Wallace Singleton, D. M. Walker, Shirley Gover. Baptized in Blood—Owen Hendren. Recision of Judges. Piano Duet—"Wandering Jew"—Miss Craig, Miss Annie V. Craig. Chorus—De Brewer's Big Hosses—Young Men. Decision of Judges. Song—America—The Audience.

GOLD MEDAL CONTEST The W. C. T. U. convention of this division of the Eighth District, will be held at Moreland, Thursday and Friday, June 15 and 16th. A Gold Medal Contest will be held on the evening of the 15th at 8:30 o'clock. All day convention on the 16th, with a splendid address in the evening. Everybody cordially invited. 45-3

REV. CARPENTER HONORED. Rev. Homer Carpenter, pastor of the Shelbyville Christian church, and who married Miss Tevis Carpenter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, of this city, has just been highly and signally honored by being chosen Chancellor of Transylvania University, College of the Bible and Hamilton College at Lexington, and has tendered his resignation as pastor at Shelbyville to take effect the first of September. Mr. Carpenter's election was made several weeks ago by the combined boards of the three institutions and a committee was sent to notify him of their action. He took the matter under consideration, being at first loath to give up pastoral work, and it was not until a second committee visited him and urged his acceptance of the position that he gave them a favorable answer. The position is a new one just created by the boards of the three institutions, which are now combined under one head, and the work will be similar to that done by President Crossfield. The place was made necessary by the great increase in the institutions, Transylvania alone having five hundred students. It is the leading college of the denomination in the South.

"CARMEN" HERE THURSDAY. A feature attraction at the opera house next week will be the presentation of Geraldine Farrar in the great opera "Carmen" on Thursday evening, as a Paramount feature. In securing the appearance of Miss Farrar before the motion picture camera the Lasky company scored the greatest coup in the history of the motion picture industry. In "Carmen" Miss Farrar is seen as the half wild, fascinating gypsy who is the head of a band of smugglers. How she leads one man to death and another to ruin and is herself stabbed by a jealous lover are but incidents in this thrilling five reel picture. The best light scenes were specially staged by a company of toredors brought from Spain and with bull brought from Mexico.

COCKING—HOPKINS Beautiful Wedding Solemnized At McKinney Wednesday Morning.

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cocking, at McKinney, Wednesday morning, June 7, at nine o'clock, when their elder daughter, Lillian Ruth was given in marriage to Robert Harvey Hopkins, of Moreland. The home was simply decorated in daisies and potted plants and about twenty-five guests, intimate friends of the bride and groom assembled to witness the ring ceremony, performed by Rev. Ernest Ford. The bride looked beautiful in a white crepe de chene gown, with pearl trimmings. Her veil was draped with pearls and valley lilies and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies. The groom was dressed in black. The attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Margaret Cocking, who was dressed in white wendie and wore a white picture hat, and Mr. Ben Pruitt, of Moreland, Miss Ruth Tanner, of McKinney presided at the piano, playing "Hearts and Flowers" as a prelude and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the entrance of the wedding party. After the impressive ceremony, congratulations were extended, the bouquet pitched and was caught by Miss Mancy Ware. The bride changed her wedding gown for a beautiful blue tailored suit and they left by automobile for Stanford, where they took train for parts unknown to their friends. Three cars of young people followed them to the train finally running them down at Rowland, where they properly escorted them aboard with plenty of rice.

After their return from a wedding trip they will go to house keeping in McKinney, where the groom is principal of the school. Both are very popular young people of that section of the county and have a host of friends who will extend hearty congratulations and good wishes.

Heard About Town. W. W. Hays, local agent, sold a four-cylinder Studebaker touring car to E. G. Bickley, of Boyle county, this week. T. A. Rice has a handsome six-cylinder Buick car in his garage on Danville avenue, which he will soon take lessons in driving. He purchased the machine from Conn & Taylor of Danville. Stanley A. Harris, representative and leader of Camp Daniel Boone, stopped over today en route to Lancaster. He says that the prospects for a fine camp on the Kentucky river this year are excellent. Several boys from here are planning to attend some time this summer.

The streets of Stanford have been drenched by rain almost every day since the big car of oil arrived, so that it has been impossible to apply it. Everyone hopes this unseasonable weather will soon be over and the dust nuisance can be abated. Phillips & Phillips are showing something new in window decorating at their gent's furnishings emporium on Main street, having secured a very nifty and nobby paper background for their furnishings display, which is said to be the latest thing out. A fringe of exquisite tapestry makes a beautiful frame for the windows.

N. O. True and pretty daughter, Miss Estelle, were in Stanford Friday morn and paid the I. J. an appreciated call. Mr. True has just purchased a Ford touring car, securing the Merriman car from Williams & Riffe, of Hustonville, and he is now driving it around like a veteran chauffeur. Miss Ella May Holtzclaw, a graduate of Stanford High School, class of 1915, and who later took a course at the Richmond Normal school, has just very successfully finished a school in the Goshen neighborhood. Miss Holtzclaw gave complete satisfaction in every way and all of the community were delighted with her work.

The Nicholasville News said this week: Mrs. Joseph Coffey, one of the very best women of Stanford, died last week after a long illness of a complication of troubles. Besides her aged husband, she leaves three sons and a daughter, the latter, Miss Ella May Saunders, whose devotion and attention to her mother during her long illness was beautiful to behold. The burial occurred in Buffalo cemetery Friday afternoon in the presence of a large circle of friends. Mrs. Coffey's first husband was Walter W. Saunders, who killed the notorious desperado and bandit, Jim Bridgewater, who gave Lincoln county much trouble. He was made sheriff for the act.

Mrs. J. K. Baughman, of the West End, was here this week, ordering programs for the W. C. T. U. Gold Medal contest which will be held at Moreland next Thursday evening. A very attractive program has been arranged for that evening, which will be printed in full in next Tuesday's Interior Journal.

Dr. N. A. Palmer, Superintendent of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, was in Stanford Friday with friends. Col. S. T. Harris and Dr. E. J. Brown were in Louisville last week to consult a specialist about Col. Harris, who has been in poor health for several weeks, his many friends regret to know. Miss Stella Bicknell, who is a candidate in the Richmond Register's big auto contest, was in Stanford Friday soliciting subscriptions and votes. She is a very attractive young lady and looks like a sure winner.

News comes from Martinsville, Ind., that "Walk" McKinney is taking two baths a day at the Colonial Mineral Springs big sanitarium there and is putting on more flesh right along. Al Severance suggests that when "Walk" gets back home he won't take another bath for a year or two he will be so "long" on the showers that they're throwing in with his board bill at the big health resort.

The remains of Mrs. George Sandbrook, daughter of Baker Walls, who died at Lexington Monday, were brought here for interment Wednesday. Undertaker J. L. Beazley met the remains on the 2:30 train and interment was in Goshen cemetery. Mrs. Sandbrook had made her home in Lexington for a number of years but formerly lived in this county and at Corbin, her husband having been a railroad man.

TRYING TO GET TOGETHER Rads and Bull Moose at Chicago Busy Confering.

Chicago, June 9.—Theodore Roosevelt seized the first opportunity Thursday to break his silence at Oyster Bay, whereupon things began to happen at Chicago, and last night the Republican and Progressive parties took steps on their way to harmony. A "loaded" committee is already at work to iron out the differences between the two parties; and the only casualties thus far have been among the Western Progressives of the Murdock stripe. They realize that Perkins and his Wall street friends, with the apparent consent of Roosevelt are determined to stake all on putting up one amalgamated candidate to oppose Woodrow Wilson, and they see evidences on all sides that the candidate will be Charles E. Hughes, whom they scorn. They may nominate Roosevelt Friday or Saturday, in spite of conferees of the Republican convention, but well-advised men predicted last night that Roosevelt will decline the nomination.

When the harmony conferees adjourned early Friday morning they had decided that the Republican convention should proceed to balloting as soon as possible in order to determine as soon as possible in order to determine the relative strength of the candidates. During the balloting the Conference Committee is to meet again. The favorite son leaders were highly pleased with this decision, believing that it gives them a fresh chance to eliminate Charles E. Hughes in favor of Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, as one of their own number. Hughes leaders declared they will be able to nominate unless Roosevelt makes a statement inimical to their candidate in the meantime. The Progressive conferees agreed to attempt to prevent a nomination in their convention by informing the Bull Moose delegates that their choice is already known.

After the Republican National Convention had declared elected all National Committeemen except in cases where contests had been filed, friends of J. W. McCulloch, of Owensboro, who was defeated by A. T. Hert, of Louisville, for this honor, pressed their fight, saying notice of contest had been given in this case and that it would be taken up after the convention.

COURT WINDING UP MAY TERM

Civil Suits Occupy Attention During Closing Hours—Three Prisoners Taken to Penitentiary

The May term of Circuit Court will probably adjourn late this afternoon after three weeks of work. As the I. J. goes to press, the attention of court is directed upon the civil suit of Will Carter, of Missouri, against his brothers, J. M. and C. H. Carter, of this city, for $500 from each, which he claims should have come to him as a share of their father's estate. Quite a number of witnesses have been heard for each side and the case is being hard fought by Attorney J. B. Paxton for the plaintiff and Attorney K. S. Alcorn for the defendants.

In the case of the Wheeling Mould and Foundry Co., against Will Cordier for $350, alleged to be due on the purchase of a gasoline engine, a jury gave a verdict in favor of Mr. Cordier, in which they gave him his contention of a counter-claim against the plaintiff. He alleged that the engine was defective.

The case against D. S. Bromley, of Louisville, was continued, it being understood that a compromise agreement to all parties concerned has been arranged.

The damage suit of Peter Gose, a Pulaski county negro against the L. & N. railroad, was thrown out of court by the jury, it being shown that the plaintiff had no grounds for securing damages from the railroad.

Charles Robbins, of the East End, secured a judgment against A. K. Gooch, of the same section, of $75 damages for use of a passway. Attorneys were here this week arguing a point in the famous Robinson insurance case. It was finally decided by the court that it will be tried upon its merits at the November term of court.

A jury gave Rhoda Higgins, a negroress from the Deep Well Woods section a fine of $50 for selling whisky to Hiatt Burge. The charge against Burge of procuring whisky for another was dismissed.

Everhart Reynolds was acquitted on a charge of incest. He is a local negro. The grand jury has so far returned 17 indictments into court, a number of them being for the illegal sale of liquor. It is expected that the grand jury will be finally discharged from duty today. A number of witnesses were on hand this morning to go before it.

Three prisoners were taken to the penitentiary early this week by the sheriff and his deputies. All were convicted at this term of court. They were Joe Hocker, two to five years for killing Ollie Gardner. Alfred Jones, two to five years for chicken stealing; James Jones a year for turkey stealing. All are colored.

THE ROOK CLUB. Mrs. E. J. Brown was hostess of the Rook Club on last Tuesday afternoon at her home on Hightation. Five tables of players were present in spite of the unfavorable weather and all spent a most enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. R. C. Hocker won the highest score for the afternoon. The following guests were present: Mesdames J. B. Paxton, J. S. Owensley, J. A. Tribble, S. M. Sauffey, Wm. Severance, A. H. Severance, G. G. Perry, R. B. Bruce, J. C. Bailey, G. B. Cooper, E. P. Woods, T. W. Pennington, W. R. Todd, McKee Riffe, T. J. Hill and sister, Miss Bruning, W. R. Hocker, J. B. Foster, J. H. Woods, J. S. Rice, Walter Saunders. Delightful ices, berries and cakes were served at the conclusion of the game.
