CLARK JORDAN CROSSES RIVER

Former Proprietor of St. Asaph Hotel Passes Away Monday After Making His Peace With God.

News of the death of Edward Clark Jordan at an early hour Monday morning caused profound grief among the many friends he had made here since coming to Stanford about five years ago to assume the management of the St. Asaph Hotel. For the past few weeks he had been gradually sinking, and realized in his lucid moments that the end was near and having made his peace with God was ready and willing to go. The coming of the Death Angel for his spirit must have been indeed a relief to his tortured frame, and it was with a gentle sigh that he passed over into that "Unknown Country," that bourn from whence no traveler has ever returned.

Mr. Jordan was a native of Mason county, Virginia, and was 47 years of age. He is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of Col. J. H. Daigh, of Waynesburg. For several years the deceased conducted the hotel at Waynesburg, but about five years ago he came to Stanford and bought the St. Asaph Hotel from the late C. C. Gooch. He conducted it until a few weeks ago when he leased it to B. D. Carter and Son, and then took rooms at the home of Walter Jones on Danville street, where his death occurred and from whence the funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A man of the most positive convictions, Mr. Jordan, was withal one of the kindest hearted and most charitably inclined, who ever engaged in a public business in Stanford. What he did in his means, for relief of the poor and distressed, was done without display or ostentation, however, and no one will probably ever know in this earth the extent of his generosity and the scope of his charity. But those who knew the man and his good works and generous deeds, feel sure that his name is written up there as one who often ministered unto "the least of these my children," and that his reward will be accordingly.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock by D. M. Walker, assisted by Revs. M. D. Early and P. L. Bruce, after which interment will be in Buffalo Springs cemetery. Stanford lodge, No. 156, I. O. O. F., of which deceased was a member, will conduct the beautiful funeral rites of the order over the grave of their departed brother. The pallbearers will be: Messrs. B. L. Fagaly, J. E. Jordan, F. C. Weick, B. D. Carter, T. J. Hill, Jr., and J. W. Acey.

Rev. R. R. Noel, the aged Baptist divine, who has boarded at the deceased's hotel for a number of years, saw him every day and knew him intimately, has written the following tribute to his memory:

In Memoriam.

Edward Clark Jordan was born July 2, 1869 in Mason county, Va., and died July 23, 1916. He leaves a wife and two brothers, two sisters and many friends to mourn his departure. Mr. Jordan moved from Waynesburg about five years ago and became proprietor of the St. Asaph Hotel in this city. As landlord he was a model. Upon the walls of his office were cards bearing in large letters, "Positively No Card Playing," a nicely bound Bible was in the rack over the commercial table. Mr. Jordan had never joined the church. Several years ago, Dr. Roddy assisted the writer in a meeting at Waynesburg. A large number were baptized, his father-in-law being one of them. His wife joined by letter. Mr. Jordan was deeply concerned. Time passed. About 12 days before his death, he took the writer by the hand and with joy accepted Jesus Christ as his savior. His hope like an anchor over and within the vale, seemed to be sure and steadfast. A few hours before death he cried whilst suffering: "Jesus come and help me."

We mourn, but not without hope. To his beloved wife, brothers and sisters we offer deepest sympathy.

Mr. Jordan was a member of Stanford lodge No. 156, I. O. O. F., also a member of the Maccabees at Waynesburg. Dr. Walker was a great friend and favorite and will conduct services assisted by Dr. Early and Rev. Bruce. Burial in Buffalo Springs cemetery at 3 o'clock P. M., July 25, 1916. R. R. NOEL

LANCASTER COURT DAY

Three Candidates for Congress There, But Business Dull.

There was not much doing at Lancaster court Monday. The crowd was small and business was quiet. Farmers were too busy to leave home and many of the traders were not on hand from some cause. There was a bunch of mountain ewes on the market which sold at $7 and a few heifers that were bought at 6 1-2 cents, which was about the extent of the trading at the cattle pens. Quite a number of mules were on the square and several changed hands. They brought all the way from $120 to $182.50. Army horses were scarce and Louis Peel, of Nicholasville, and W. B. Burton picked up only a few, for which they paid around the $190 mark.

There were three of the four candidates for Congress present—Hon. Harvey Helm, Senator Charles F. Montgomery and Dr. R. L. Davison. Each did his share of hand-shaking and got just as close to the dear people as the hot weather would permit. They all seemed satisfied with their day's work, while the voters were delighted at the thought of the Congressional race being brought to a close in the next ten days or so.

A farmers' meeting was held at the court-house at 2 o'clock of which W. R. Cook was made chairman and R. L. Elkin secretary. The object was to discuss the feasibility of securing a farm demonstrator. A committee composed of Mr. Cook, J. H. Dalton and G. B. Swinebroad was appointed to look further into the matter and report next court day. Although not largely attended, the meeting was rather enthusiastic.

Lancaster

A farmers meeting was held here Monday afternoon at the Court House in the interest of securing a farm agent for Garrard county; a representative from the Agricultural Department at Washington, was in attendance and gave the Garrard grangers a full explanation of the duties of advantages of having a farm agent for the county.

The will of the late Mrs. Pattie Duncan Gill was probated before Judge C. A. Arnold Monday, the witnesses attesting to its validity being Mr. John M. Duncan and H. H. Grant. Her entire estate was left to her only child, Mrs. E. C. Banard, of Washington, D. C. The late residence of P. D. Gill, in the North Lancaster suburb, a typical old Kentucky homestead, has been on market for some time. It is the original Gill dwelling of an early period, and the commodious brick residence with the surrounding land of about 125 acres is a desirable piece of suburban property that has been announced as being worth as much as $200 per acre, as it fronts on the street and could be made available as fine building lots.

Garrard farmers have rushed up their threshing business in order that they might turn their attention to their tobacco and corn crops, many of them having already delivered their wheat to the local grain dealers. Some sold immediately at the threshing, and consequently previous to the rise in the price of the bread cereal, Messrs. Ed and N. B. Price having brought in to the Garrard Milling Company a 350-bushel consignment for which they were paid $1 per bushel; some later deals were the sale of 500 bushels by Walter Davidson who received $1.05 per bushel, 700 bushels delivered by T. C. Rankin and D. Rankin at $1.11 per bushel and 700 bushels grown by Mr. Holcomb of the Bryantsville section, at $1.15 per bushel.

Mrs. Hambrick Sandifer, of Georgetown, was a recent guest at her girlhood home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Jennings and little son, Clay Jennings, of Tulsa, O., have arrived to visit Jane and Mary Doty and other relatives and friends.

Mr. Richard Buckner Spindler, a prominent young lawyer of Norfolk, Va., came in Sunday to make a fortnight's visit here with his wife and little daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McRoberts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Hally, of Newman, Cal., came over this week from Lexington where they have been with Mr. Hally's parents, and are now with Capt. T. Elkin and daughters for an extended visit.

The following were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Slavin at their home on Richmond street. Messrs. J. W. Slavin and J. Warren Slavin, Jr., of Houston, Texas, Dr. J. L. Slavin and Mrs. Guy Hundley, of Danville, and Mrs. Leak, of Franklin, Ky.

Mrs. R. B. Spindle spent several days of the past week with Mrs. Clarence H. Vaught, in Richmond.

Miss Carrie Bell Romans entertained a number of her girl friends at an elegant 6 o'clock dinner at her home on Richmond avenue, the honoree of the affair being Miss Jessie Beagle, of Georgetown.

Saturday's Courier Journal has the following society item in regard to a Lancaster visitor and a former Lancaster girl:

"Mrs. Clarence H. Vaught was host at a beautiful reception at her home in West Main Street, (Richmond), in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Richard Buckner Spindle, Jr., of Norfolk, Va. In the receiving line were: Mrs. Vaught, Mrs. Spindle, Mrs. Harvey Chenault, and Mrs. J. G. Crabbe. Those who assisted in entertaining were: Mrs. J. R. Johnson, Misses Duncan Foster, Cynthia Davidson, Henrietta Luxon, Nance Hayden and Mary Ross."

Mrs. Kate Milward, Mr. and Mrs. John Milward, and Miss Susan Milward, of Lexington motored over Sunday from the Blue Grass Capital, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loyd.

Miss Julia White, of Richmond, was a recent guest at the Hotel Kenngarlan, en route from Crab Orchard Springs, (where she has served as one of the efficient society entertainers,) to Irvine, where she is sojourning in the interests of her music class.

Mr. Van Logan, of New York City, is the guest of his uncle, Mr. Hugh M. Logan and other friends and kinspeople here in his boyhood home.

Five cars of Richmond people passed thru here Sunday en route to High Bridge.

Dr. Beatty, a young practitioner from Missouri, has been visiting his cousin, Dr. M. K. Denny, and other Garrard kinspeople.

Mrs. B. F. Hudson, Miss Helen Gill, and Miss Alice Hudson Rigney have gone to Lake Chautauqua, N. Y., for a fortnight's stay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mason, Miss Sue Shelby Mason, and W. B. Mason, Jr., of this city, and Mr. William F. Logan and family, of Williamsbarre, Pa., enjoyed a motoring trip to Danville, Harrodsburg, High Bridge, and a luncheon at Brooklyn Bridge, as guests of Miss Mason.

Mrs. J. A. Amon went to Cincinnati last Sunday for a several days' sojourn.

Miss Jane Bell, of Lexington, is the guest of Miss Mattie Adams at the home of Mrs. Richard McGrath. Mrs. M. E. Fish, Mr. Montez Fish, Mrs. William Pettus and children, of Crab Orchard, were guests Sunday and Monday of Mrs. Joe L. Francis and the Misses Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Acey, Mrs. Joe L. Francis, and Miss Della Rice Hughes motored to the Fayette capital.

Mrs. Walter Perkins, of St. Louis was a recent sojourner here at her former home.

Mr. N. B. Price has been a recent sojourner in Madison county, and was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ballew.

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Sanders, David C. Sanders, Jr., and Misses Christine Sanders and Ruth Carrier made a motoring trip the past week to Elizix Springs.

BIG TIMES AT THE SPRINGS

Season On At Full Blast—Stanford Parties Motor Up for Bathing.

The season at famous old Crab Orchard Springs in the East End of this county is now on at full blast and the big hotel will hardly accommodate the guests who are pouring in from everywhere to drink the health-giving waters and to secure rest and recuperation.

Crab Orchard is being restored to its popularity of the ante-bellum days and right now there are families here from Georgia, Tennessee, W. Va., California and New Orleans, besides many from Cincinnati, Louisville and Central Kentucky towns.

The mineral waters that have made that section famous for more than a century, whet the appetite the more for the old country ham and friend chicken that are served each day and for the hot rolls and corn pone and the vegetables gathered from the garden.

A new tennis court is being constructed, and will prove very popular. One of the most popular diversions is bathing, and almost every afternoon the pool and lake are crowded with swimmers. Quite a number from Stanford have been forming bathing parties, motoring up to Crab Orchard in the afternoon and remaining for supper parties in the evenings. It is getting to be very popular.

Forty guests enjoyed a Virginia reel last Thursday night, and men and women who had not danced for thirty years "sachetted" to old-fashioned tunes, to the merriment of the many onlookers.

Thursday morning Mrs. Willis gave an auction bridge to 24 guests at which the prizes were awarded to Miss Mollie Fife, of Richmond; Mrs. Dunn, of Richmond; Mr. Herbert Spencer, of Harrison, Tenn., and Mr. C. A. Spicer, of Lexington. Mrs. A. L. Mountjoy was host at a "500" party given for Mrs. Augustus J. Clavere, of New Orleans, and Mrs. Sullivan's house party, of Indianapolis.

Boxes of candy were given to the ladies and boxes of cigars to the men, the prize winners being Mrs. Albert Severance of this city; Miss Florence Vimont, of Millersburg; Mr. Spencer and Mr. Eugene Arms, of Michigan. Next Thursday night there will be a big masque ball for guests.

Mrs. A. L. Mountjoy, of Mt. Sterling, is a delightful entertainer and has the art of drawing together congenial spirits. She is being assisted by two lovely Richmond girls, Misses Marjane Collins and Julia White. A colored orchestra is furnishing the music.

FOR MISS LeBOVITZ

Mrs. C. H. Foster entertained the members of the Dixie Rook Club and a few guests most delightfully Saturday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Sara Lebovitz, of Chicago. Ices and sandwiches were served. Among those who were asked to meet the guest of honor were: Misses Levisa Harris, Sue Taylor Engleman, Maggie Stagg, Annie D. McRoberts, Lottie Carson, Mary Moore Raney, Kate Davis Raney, Mary Elizabeth McKinney, Mary L. Burch, Mary Elizabeth Watts, of Louisville, and Allie Yantis, of Lancaster; Mesdames Carl Carter, Jas. H. Wright, Harry Hill, E. T. Pence, T. J. Hill, Jr., James Harris, John Owsley Reid, U. V. W. Darlington, of Huntington, W. Va., C. E. Tate, J. B. Perkins, T. W. Jones.

MRS. NOE SELLS GOOD ONE.

Mrs. Hugh Noe, of this city, who is undoubtedly the most accomplished equestrienne in this part of the state, and one of the best judges of a horse anywhere, last week sold her five-year-old blood bay mare to Edeleen & Coleman, of Burgin for $250. Mrs. Noe has been schooling this mare ever since she sold her other splendid saddle Red Bird, for a fancy price to these same buyers who obtained him for an eastern customer. She had her in fine shape. Mrs. Noe is now in the market for another green saddle four or five years old, which must be the right stuff.

ANTHRAX IN WEST END

Dr. John Cook, the famous colored veterinarian of this city was called to the West End last week to vaccinate for Joe Gann, well known farmer of near Hustonville. Mr. Gann lost four calves from anthrax for which he had refused $25 a head. About nine head died in that section last week from this disease. Dr. Cook says there is little danger of an epidemic but cattle owners should be careful of their stock.

Hustonville

Miss May Rynearson, of Ellisburg, returned home Saturday after a delightful visit for a week to the Misses Blain at Hotel Weatherford.

Uriah Dunn received a very fine crate of Rocky Ford cantaloupes last Friday from a friend at Barnwell, South Carolina.

Quite a number of men from the interior were here Saturday en route to the cities looking for work as good hands are in great demand everywhere under the present prosperous times.

Mrs. Louis Giles and daughter of Atlanta, Ga., arrived Sunday to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Adams motored to Stanford Sunday for the former's mother, who came home with them for a visit.

Everybody is getting ready for the Chautauqua here August 11 to 14. Buy a ticket now and help out the good cause. You will never regret it.

After a pleasant visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Morse here, Mrs. Roy Rose has returned to her home at Gadsden, Ala. Her mother took her to Danville where she took the fast train for the south.

Parker Swope and Cleve Dunn left on the 16th for Nashville, Tenn., where they hold positions. They were here several days with their parents and friends.

Ike Shelby and son, of Shelby City, were here a few days ago trying to find out what shape the local traders are in, but he found it about as tough a proposition as the French and British have on hand to catch that German submarine.

Miss Nitro Carson remains quite feeble.

Ide Austin is filling the place of Levi Kelley in the blacksmith shop of George Wright during Kelly's illness.

Mr. M. J. Cain, of Somerset, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Weddle here.

A big crowd is expected here during our splendid Chautauqua August 11-14.

Blackberries are plentiful on our market at 12 1-2 to 15 cents a gallon.

Mrs. R. I. Bartleson, Mrs. J. W. Simpson, of Monticello and A. H. Baugh, of Hustonville, attended the Fourth District Convention of the Christian churches at Danville last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Riffe, Miss Bessie Riffe, Miss Allie Yantis, Horace Riffe, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Baugh, Mrs. R. J. Bartleson, Mrs. J. W. Simpson and Miss Margaret Simpson motored over to Frankfort and other parts in Central Kentucky on Monday.

J. Routenberg and family, of McKinney visited here Sunday.

W. T. James, of Stanford, accompanied by Spears Fisher was here last Saturday receiving some stock hogs, which T. W. Jones, of Stanford will feed.

Mrs. E. B. Powell lost an aged work-mule Saturday.

Remember the dates for the chautauqua in August.

Alice Eubanks was in town a few days ago doing some shopping.

Black berries are plentiful on our market at 12 1-2 to 15 cents per gallon.

One of our citizens had been losing chickens and concluded that rats were getting them. So he procured some rat bait and put it in a closet for the rats and warned her lady visitor not to leave the doors open but she did and quite a lot of her chickens lost sight of day light on account of getting the rat poison intended for the rats. If she would feed them beetles they would not be so anxious for the rat bait.

J. Lee Murphy of Hedgeville was here a few days ago looking after some fine mules.

H. J. Bohon and wife, of Bowling Green have returned to their home after a pleasant visit to Dr. C. T. Bohon, of near Kidd's Store.

Mrs. Smith Penny and children, of St. Joseph, Mo., are here on a visit to her father, J. K. Baughman and family.

C. N. Manning and wife and Miss E. Manning and Mr. Harry Staples and wife, of Lexington spent the week end with W. J. Neal and family.

Williams & Riffe sold Crit Riffe a new 1916 Ford car a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carpenter were here a few days ago auto riding and were accompanied by Mrs. Mark Collier, of Tampa, Fla., and Miss Elizabeth Salter and Miss Elizabeth Carpenter.

Mr. Neal Smith, of Ellisburg died last Tuesday of Bright's disease and was buried in the family burying grounds, George B. Pruitt, officiating. H. C. Nunnelley and family, of Winchester were here last week visiting relatives near Peyton's Well. He has leased a large amount of land near Danville and will go to work at once. He wants a good milk cow and an up-to-date drilling machine, that is in shape so as to go at once to the field and begin work.

On last Thursday one of the heaviest rains ever known to fall in this vicinity fell.

Charlie Brown and son, of Kansas City, Mo., were visitors last week at the home of C. P. Brown, who lives in the western part of the town. Charlie is a nephew of C. P. Brown and is now in Casey county on a visit to other relatives.

Joe Gann, west of here had 20 head of young cattle vaccinated by Dr. John Cook, of Stanford. Mr. Gann has lost three cattle from the diseases that he had his others vaccinated for and which is called anthrax.

Black leg being in this part of the country and immediate steps should be taken for the prevention of this malady.

Carroll Reid is able to be up and about again after a severe spell of illness.

Automobiles loaded to full capacity came over from Moreland Sunday afternoon and partook of the refreshing soda water at Adam's Brothers.

Misses Ada and Lucy Alcorn went to Stanford Saturday to attend the burial of the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Hill Spalding, of Louisville, which was laid to rest in the Buffalo cemetery.

CUMMINS WAS AMONG ENTRIES

For Assistant Secretary of State, But Governor Overlooked Him.

Governor Stanley last week appointed James A. Scott, republican leader of Pike county assistant secretary of state. Secretary of State J. P. Lewis, a republican, has the appointment of the office subject to the approval of the governor, and up to this time they had been unable to agree. It was finally agreed that Mr. Lewis should submit a list of republicans, to the governor, one of which the latter would approve. Among the list submitted by Lewis was the name of James F. Cummins, of Stanford, who was county clerk here a number of years ago, one of the few republicans who ever held office in this county. The list of republicans submitted to Stanley was: A. J. Sturgill, of Whitesburg; Geo. W. Long, of Louisville; J. L. McCoy, Jackson; Sherman Ball, Hardinsburg; J. A. Scott, of Pikeville; Robert Waddell, of Somerset; James F. Cummins, Stanford; George A. Watkins, London; Omar Barber, Louisville, and W. R. Lyon, of Horse Cave.

The churches represented were: Danville, by Dr. F. W. Eberhardt, H. M. Shouse and V. Freeman; Harrodsburg, J. T. Wilson and Martin Lester; Brunswick Chapel, J. W. Crey; Perryville, Rev. J. L. Adkins; Doctor's Fork, I. M. Gray. This will be the last meeting of the Board until after the meeting of the South District Association, which meets with the Stanford Baptist church, Tuesday, August 22nd.

HARRODSBURG FAIR TOMORROW

Stanford Will Send Big Delegation to Harrodsburg—Everybody Boosting K. P. Fair Here

The country fair circuit in this section of the state begins at Harrodsburg this week, and as usual Lincoln county will send over a big delegation. The Harris & Woods string of mules will be on hand as usual and will get a big portion of the blues. Several high class colts from this county will probably be started at the Mercer county fair. Plans are being made by a great many to motor over to Harrodsburg. From talk heard, it appears that the largest delegations from this county may go over Thursday, the second day of the fair. It is expected that probably fifty automobile loads will go over from Lincoln county that day. The K. P. boys who are boosting Stanford's great fair with might and main will send over a big bunch to boost from start to finish for Stanford's great fair, August 23, 24 and 25. The same program will be carried out at the Danville fair next week. In fact, nothing is going to be left undone to let the world know that the greatest country fair in the state is going to be held at Stanford this year. Advertisement of the big Harrodsburg fair which begins tomorrow, Wednesday, is found on another page. A splendid premium list is offered and with good weather, it ought to be a great success.

A letter from Walter Briggs, of Powhatan Stock Farm, Pewee Valley, states that he intends bringing his splendid string of horses to the K. of P. fair here—Aug. 23, 24, 25. Mr. Briggs won the $500 saddle stake here last year. He has many friends here who will be glad to see him again.

MISSED INSURANCE AGENT

On Phone Call So Joe Will Rout Lost Heavy—Hoffman Had $1,000.

M. J. Hoffman, of Williamsburg, was here late last week en route to Moreland to see what was left of his large barn which was struck by lightning and completely destroyed by fire late last week. He took with him Jesse D. Wearan, local insurance man, in whose company Mr. Hoffman carried $1,000 insurance on the structure. This, however, will not compensate him for the heavy loss sustained as he built the barn at a cost of about $2,000 and it was considered one of the finest in that part of the county if not the finest. The heaviest loser from the catastrophe, however was Joe Will Rout who had no insurance on the contents of the barn and lost about $1,000 worth of stuff, which he can ill afford to lose. It was irony of fate that Mr. Rout should suffer such a loss, for only the evening before the building and contents were destroyed, he had endeavored to get Mr. Wearan over the phone here to place insurance with him, but was unable to catch Mr. Wearan just at that time, and the next day the building and contents were destroyed.

DISTRICT GAME WARDEN BUSY

District Game Warden Sam J. Embry went to Mercer county Monday to look over the situation and see that the fish and game laws are being carefully observed. He will spend this week in Mercer and then cover Boyle and Casey counties, which with Lincoln, comprise his district. Mr. Embry has been giving special attention to violations of the fishing laws in this section and recently was up all night long endeavoring to catch some seiners who were suspected of violating the law. The new warden hopes for the active cooperation of everyone in protecting fish and game and is determined to do everything in his power to see that the laws are rigidly enforced.

BEE LICK MAN DEAD.

M. G. Reynolds, known to his many friends as "Bud," died at his home at Bee Lick a few days ago, aged 60. He was a brother of J. M. Reynolds, the well-known merchant of that place, and a brother-in-law of Josh Wilson, of the East End. He had suffered from heart trouble for years and had been an invalid for some time. A wife and nine children survive the good man. Since a youth he had been a member of the Christian church and his work in the master's vineyard covered a long period. The burial took place at Bethel church.
