OUR PLATFORM.

This paper aims to bring the best reading to every fireside. Reading is a great thing, but it makes a big difference what you read.

THE CITIZEN brings, first of all, the news—not every tale of crime or horror, but the important news—the news from Washington and the State capital, from our soldiers in far off islands, from our neighbors everywhere. For the young folks we have a story and a Bible lesson; for housewives, a few new ideas each week which should lighten their labors; for the farmer some valuable hints which will help him to make more from his land and cattle.

We propose to get the best ideas that can be found on all such practical and important matters and pass them around among our readers. The resources of Berea College are not for its students alone. The editor of this paper can at any time step into the largest College library in the State, and he has engaged several of the most distinguished instructors in the College to take charge of special departments in the paper. Those who are visited by THE CITIZEN will know what is going on in the world. Every week it will tell them something worth knowing.

THE CITIZEN is pledged to no party. It is every man's friend. It stands for the things which benefit all—temperance, thrift, kindness, enterprise, and education. And we ask all who believe in these things to subscribe for THE CITIZEN.

IDEAS.

Read Hon. W. B. Smith's speech on Good Citizenship on our last page.

We started on the year 1899 with more or less good resolutions. About this time they are being tested.

The Berea Fair brought together a large crowd. It was good to see our neighbors. The occasion ought to have been improved by some speaking like the address given by Prof. Mason in College Chapel last evening.

Every person who gets mail at Berea ought to "stand up for his own town," and subscribe for THE CITIZEN. Postmaster Hart will take your subscription.

The Wide World.

The insurgents on the islands of Negros, Panay, and Zulu have made peace overtures to General Otis.

The condition of Capt. Dreyfus is said to have become serious, and it may be necessary for him to go to Malta or Madeira.

Business at Key West is suffering seriously from the yellow-fever epidemic. Last week an ice and electric light famine was threatened by the sickness of workmen. There were thirty new cases and two deaths yesterday.

A Manila cable says the United States cruiser Charleston, the monitor Monterey and the gunboats Concord and Raffo, which left Cavite September 13, have bombarded the town of Olangapo and captured a Krupp gun from the insurgents. The enemy was dispossessed and the town riddled with shells, taking fire at several points.

MANILA, Sept. 25.—It is reported that the insurgents have captured the United States gunboat Urdaneta in the Orani river, on the northwest side of Manila Bay, where she was patrolling. One officer and nine of her crew are missing. The United States gunboat Petrel, sent to investigate the matter, has returned and reports the Urdaneta beached opposite the town Orani, on the Orani river. She was riddled with bullets, burned and the following guns with their ammunition were captured: A one pounder, one Colt automatic gun and one Nordenfeldt 25-millimeter gun. The crew of the Urdaneta are prisoners, or have been killed. Further details are lacking.

NATIONAL NEWS

Dr. Dowie of Chicago claims to heal by faith. People who under his advice have neglected medicine and other means of health have died, and the "Doctor" will be prosecuted by law. God requires "works" as well as faith.

Brooker T. Washington's Success.

To the ranks of eminent men who attribute their success to a woman's influence is added Booker T. Washington who is to-day the foremost man in the colored race. He has just been visiting his old home in Charleston, W. Va., which he left in 1872 to enter Hampton Institute, and has been the guest of the governor of the State and the city government of Charleston. At a public meeting, attended by 1,000 or more citizens of both races, Mr. Washington reviewed his life since he left the mining hamlet, five miles from Charleston, where he lived as a boy. He took the occasion to express obligation to one who had helped him to acquire qualities in which the Negro, as a race, is unfortunately lacking. "Not far from here," he said, "in the family of a noble white woman, whom most of you know, I received a training in the matters of thoroughness, cleanliness, promptness, and honesty, which, I confess to you in a large measure enables me to do the work for which I am given credit. As I look over my life I feel that the training which I received in the family of Mrs. Viola Ruffner was the most valuable part of my education."

State Briefs.

"Black Leg" is playing havoc with cattle in Garrard county. The animals when stricken with the disease live only a short while. Their limbs swell and it drives them into convulsions, which produce death in horrible form.

Mt. Vernon Signal.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., Sept. 20.—Tollgates were raided near Doubton, in Pettitton county, Saturday night, by men who left notice that if they were replaced they would blow the gate, house and all to atoms. The keeper says she will continue at her post.

The Philpots are Active.

Searching the Country for the Best of the Griffin Faction.

LONDON DEPOT, Ky., Sept. 25.—George Philpot arrived here today with a large force armed with Winchester. He brought a warrant for Anderson Thomas, a step-son of Col. Griffin, who was arrested at Pittsburg, and is now in London jail. He and the deputy sheriffs searched through the county for the commonwealth's witnesses, but most of them had fled the state. The sheriff will endeavor to get his prisoners to Manchester for the trial, which is to be held tomorrow.

The Philpots have also sent warrants to Jackson county for Greene Griffin, thinking he might be there. There are now eight of the Griffin faction in the Manchester jail, and if Thomas and Greene are taken 10 will be given their trial tomorrow. If they are discharged, their weapons will have to be given them, and 10 armed Griffins and a large armed body of Philpots can not long remain in town without trouble. It may be that, fearing results, they aid the jury in holding them for circuit court.

It is rumored that Governor Bradley has ordered the state troop to go to Clay from Barbourville. Many persons have left Manchester, not to return until after the trial.

METHODS

Mormon Missionaries

BY Rev. William R. Campbell.

Since the Mormons have been increasing at such a great ratio the past few years, it is interesting and important to know the secret of this phenomenal growth.

My twelve years' study of Mormonism, while laboring in the capacity of a Christian missionary among the Mormon people in Utah, together with several months' experience with the Mormon missionaries who were making "converts" in various parts of our country outside of Utah, noting their methods and their success, has convinced the writer that Mormonism grows neither because of its merits as a system of moral or religious truth, nor alone by appealing to the depravity of the human heart.

If Mormon missionaries were honest enough to begin their efforts with those whom they would "convert" by telling the real truth about Mormon doctrines and practices, they would not make a single convert among decent people; but having been trained in the school of deception from their infancy, they come into the homes of unsuspecting people to lead them into the same false ways in which they have been reared. It is perfectly consistent for them to practice all sorts of cunning and deception, as their god and their prophets and their teachers have set them abundant examples in these lines from the beginning. If the reader chooses to make a careful study of Mormonism by following up the reading of this article with a careful study of the entire series of which this is the beginning, he will find that this statement is not any too strong, however extravagant it may seem to him at first.

Let no one, however, imagine for a moment that the writer means to leave the impression that the Mormon missionaries are not sincere in their faith. If they were not sincere, they could not succeed, as they do, in making proselytes; but, being sincere, they believe with all their hearts, because they were so trained, that the end justifies the means, and that any sort of deception is justifiable, if it only helps to "win converts and save souls," as they understand.

When Mormon missionaries come into a new community, they do not sound a trumpet before them, as they have found out by long experience that this does not pay. They often are in a community for some time before they make themselves generally known. Finding Christian people off their guard, they "spy out the land" and find out all they can about the condition of local church life, who are professing Christians and who are not, how consistent are the lives of those who are church members, who are lukewarm and indifferent. As a rule they find little difficulty in proselyting those who are weak in the faith, or dissatisfied with the present church relations.

When they are ready to "work" or to "tract" a community, they generally plan to visit systematically from house to house, aiming to call at least three times at each house at short intervals of a day or week or two, depending somewhat upon circumstances and upon the degree of interest or repugnance manifested by the persons visited.

On the first visit they aim to leave a tract suited to the "state of mind" the person may be in, provided they have had an opportunity to ascertain what that "state of mind" is. If the way is open they will make a "friendly call," or even an extended visit, upon a person before presenting the tract. There are generally two of them as they aim to go two by two, "as the witnesses in the days of the Saviour." The principal aim in this first call or visit is to make themselves agreeable and "become acquainted," to "gain the confidence" of the proposed "converts." If the Mormon "elders" or missionaries were to call upon you and find you off your guard, they would make themselves so agreeable that you would be made to feel that they were about the most pleasant fellows that you have ever met.

They would talk so as to arouse your curiosity, but at the same time avoid, as far as possible, giving you any clear idea of their real character or intentions. The object of this method is to lead you to welcome them to your house again in order to learn more about them. The leader of the two generally introduces himself very pleasantly and asks your name. He then introduces the other as "my friend Mr. So-and-so." If you live in a small town or country place where you will at once know them to be strangers in the community, they will probably say: "We are strangers in this place, but have come to stay and we want to become acquainted with the people. this purpose that we have called upon you, and we hope that our acquaintance may prove to be mutually beneficial. If you are at leisure or manifest no impatience or desire to have them shorten their visit they may converse a long time upon any subject which seems to interest you; but before they go, they will manage if possible to ascertain whether you are a member of any church, or whether you are regular in your attendance and prompt in discharging your various duties as a church member.

If they find you an earnest, consecrated Christian, they will see that there is not much hope of "converting" you to Mormonism. There will indeed be no prospect of their doing so at all. They will, however, not know that, but will try to do or to say something to shake your faith or to make you dissatisfied with your present church relations, for they know that, as long as you are satisfied and contented, they cannot draw you away after the gods of Mormonism.
