

IDEAS.

Good resolutions may often fail, yet grow gradually into good habits. To-morrow cannot do to-day's work without neglecting its own. If a man lives as he ought, the more he is looked into the better he appears. Man makes his condition as good as it is by always trying to make it better than it is.

TAKE NOTICE.

Deacon R. E. Preston.

With the passing away of Deacon Reuben E. Preston, on the 1st instant, one was removed who came to Berea almost before there was a Berea. Born in Rockcastle county, Sept. 10, 1840, he came here before he was sixteen years of age to work in the mill of John G. Hanson. A few months later his parents Ephraim and Elsie Preston moved to Berea. In the spring of 1860, a few months after the Northerners engaged in promoting the infant school were banished, he was one of a party of about fifteen that exchanged shots with a mob several times as numerous that had come to intimidate the friends of freedom and of the school. The day following, the mob, largely increased, broke up Mr. Hanson's mill and warned away young Preston and others. After an absence of several months in Indiana, he returned to Berea, where he spent the rest of his life, a firm friend of the principles here advocated.

On June 5, 1862, he married Miss Zerilda Moore, who survives him. Of their seven children, six are still living, viz: Mrs. Rosa L. Benzor, of Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Alice Coyle, of Indian Territory, Mrs. May Sharp, of Berea, and Messrs. James, Charles and Chester Preston. Mr. Preston, though a hard working man, had accumulated but little property. For the last four or five years of his life he had been able to do only light work, and all was done in constant pain.

Deacon Preston's religious experience was a very unusual one. In his youthful days he made public expression of his interest in sacred things, and for some time was somewhat active in religious affairs. Afterward, for many years, he lived a life of neglect and apparent indifference, which he afterwards deeply regretted. On the 21st of March, 1886, he became a member of the Church of Christ (Union) at Berea on public profession of faith and baptism. About four years ago he seemed to have a new vision of overshadowing importance of the salvation of souls. His efforts in that direction became literally unceasing. His "Father's business" became the most important thing in his thought. He visited the sick and bereaved for miles around. No one could long be in his company without seeing a reflection of the love of God. His patience in suffering was something wonderful. "Praise the Lord" was his most ready exclamation, even in moments of pain. His last audible words, at 7:00 p. m., of Monday were "Good bye, praise the Lord!" His last breath was late in the forenoon of Tuesday. At the funeral services, at the home, on Wednesday, touching reminiscences were given by Rev. H. J. Derthick, followed by a short discourse by Prof. L. V. Dodge, from Mark IV., 28, 29.

"Not changed but glorified! Oh, beautiful language for those who weep. Mourning the loss of some dear face departed. Fallen asleep. Hushed into silence, never more to comfort. The hearts of men, Gone, like the sunshine of another country. Beyond our ken. O, dearest dead, we saw thy white soul shining Behind thy face Bright with the beauty and celestial glory Of an immortal grace. What wonder we stumbe, faint and weeping, and sick with fears, Since thou hast left us all alone with sorrow and blind with tears?"

Danville, Ky., Sept. 5, 1903.

To Editor of The Citizen:—

In your issue of Aug. 27th last you have a reference to myself and the John G. Fee estate which I wish to correct. I made no purchase of the said estate, but the Board of trustees of Camp Nelson Academy transferred the whole plant under their control to the Presbyterian Board of Freedmen to be conducted under their supervision as industrial school to do the same kind of work as formerly, only upon an extended scale. Please publish this as the correct and authoritative statement of the case.

Yours,
D. McDONALD.

I wish it to be well understood by the public that the heirs of John G. Fee do not receive a single cent for the Camp Nelson school transfer.

CEMETERY.

The most important meeting of persons interested in the Berea cemetery that ever has been held is set for next Saturday, September 12th, at the cemetery, 8:00 a. m. The recent careful survey has found dozens, if not scores, of irregularities. Some changes in boundaries of lots, their numbers, in walks, etc., are absolutely necessary. New deeds will have to be given. Bring along your old deeds. It is very important, in very many cases, that people be present in person to look after their rights. If this call is neglected, do not complain afterward. A new map will probably soon be made, and the Association incorporated anew.

This meeting will be an informal one, and those who cannot come so early will receive attention later. It is proposed to begin a new era in the care of the cemetery. Better fences and more permanent corner posts must be had. Fuller explanation will be given Saturday. Now is the time for owners to remove bushes, briars, sedge-grass, etc., from their lots. It is suggested that picks, mattocks, spades, hoes, scythes, or other suitable implements, be brought.

By order of the Executive Committee, Berea, Ky., Sept. 7, 1903.
L. V. DODGE, Secretary.

FALL TERM AT BEREA.

Send children for a full year of school. Special Advice to Parents.

The Faculty especially advises that all students plan to attend school for the fall, winter and spring terms—right through the school year.

If you cannot have but one term, let it be the fall term.

It is found that those who enter only in the winter or spring terms do not get nearly so much benefit. It is like joining a regiment that has already been well drilled. We make up our classes and begin in drilling in the fall.

If you cannot send all your children for the entire year, send one child, and let the others go to the free school and get all they can. Then another year you may give another child a chance in the College.

If you want the best for your children, send them steadily for the three terms.

"Wine of Cardui is indeed a blessing to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and bearing-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of these ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? All druggists have $1.00 bottles. For any stomach, liver or bowel disorder Theford's Black-Draught should be used.
