STUDENTS MUST ENGAGE ROOMS AT ONCE FOR WINTER TERM.

Every effort is being made to provide boarding accommodations for the young people who wish to attend Berea the coming winter—Term opening Jan. 4, 1911.

The great number here this fall, and the unusual number of applicants for the winter, show that we shall not be able to provide for all.

We therefore give notice that no students should come to Berea for the winter term except those who have engaged boarding accommodations through the College Secretary, Mr. Will C. Gamble.

Write to him at once, sending one dollar as a deposit (to be returned when you leave if you return your key, books, etc., all right) and tell him what department you wish to enter.

Students cannot board outside College buildings except with kinsfolk and by special permission.

IF—

By RUDYARD KIPLING

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;
If you can dream and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two impostors just the same,
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools;
If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: 'Hold on!'
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforfeiting minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son!
