WHAT MAKES A GOOD TALKER

Doctor Johnson Says, Among Other Things, There Must Be Presence of Mind and Resolution.

A man may have the gift of gab without being a good talker, the London Chronicle remarks. Of this order was Macaulay, who had no restful spaces of silence.

"I wish," said Sydney Smith, who could listen as well as talk, "I wish that Macaulay would see the difference between colloquy and soliloquy."

And on another occasion: "Oh, yes, we both talk a good deal; but I don't believe Macaulay ever did hear my voice. Sometimes when I have told a good story I have thought to myself: 'Poor Macaulay! He will be very sorry some day to have missed hearing that!'"

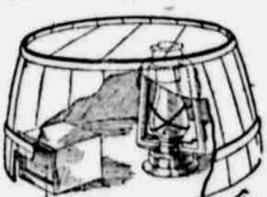

The difference between the two men was that between the clever talker and the brilliant bore.

But the elements of success in conversation will be variously defined. Doctor Johnson, who must take rank with the foremost of the world's great talkers, had his own theories on the subject.

"There must in the first place be knowledge," he said; "there must be materials; in the second place there must be command of words; in the third place, there must be imagination, to place things as they are not commonly seen; and in the fourth place there must be presence of mind, and a resolution that it is not to be overcome by failures; this last is essential, for want of it many people do not excel in conversation."

Warm Water For the Hens.

The method shown in the sketch is used in cold weather to keep the drinking water for the poultry from freezing.

LANTERN AND FOUNTAIN IN HALF BARREL.

[From Popular Mechanics.]

The device consists of a part of a barrel inverted and set over the fountain and a tubular lantern. A small opening is cut in one side of the barrel through which the fowl can reach the water.—Popular Mechanics.

RIDDLES.

What is the difference between forms and ceremonies? You sit upon one and stand upon the other.

Why must chimney sweeping be a very agreeable business? Because it suits (soots) every one who tries it.

In what color should a secret be kept? In violet (in violet).

Perfect with a head, perfect without a tail; perfect with either, neither or both? A wig.

How can you make a tall man short? Borrow five dollars of him.

What firearm does the earth resemble? A revolver.

When is a lawyer like a donkey? When he is drawing a conveyance.

What musical instrument should we never believe? A lyre.

Why is a retired carpenter like a lecturer? Because he is an ex-planer.

Why should a ship's officer never put his chronometer under his pillow? Because he should never sleep upon his watch.

"What time is it? Time to do well, Time to live better, Give up that grudge, Answer that letter, Speak the kind word to sweeten a sorrow, Do that kind deed you would leave till to-morrow."
