Daily Thought.

"The past, for better or worse, is buried in character; the present is to be met with courage; the future never arrives."

Col. Henry Watterson said "Hurrah for Bryan!" Then he admonished, "Go Slow, Governor, Go Slow!" There's the trouble with Col. Watterson's politics from the view point of "regularity." No sooner do the "organs" finish their encomiums of one of his hearty "returns to party allegiance" than they are thrown into spasms of embarrassment by one of Col. Watterson's equally comprehensive admonitions.

Forty men were arrested for expectorating on the streets in one police district in Chicago Saturday and the Record-Herald has this to say on the subject: "The anti-spitting ordinance has reappeared in the police bulletin, and policemen have received fresh instructions to arrest violators of its provisions. The mental labor requisite to grasp the meaning of the law is not great, but a very cursory examination of sidewalks indicates that some people have failed in the effort, or forgotten that there was an ordinance or never known that there was one."

The Cincinnati Enquirer seems not to have seen the light. It says: "Colonel William Jennings Bryan is in one of his periodical spells of being the logical nominee for president in 1908. It is a sort of chop logic, though. It comes and goes in fits and starts."

It is rumored that the Goremekin ministry has resigned and the czar will appoint Count Shipoff premier. Since the Goremekin ministry got the ship of state on the rocks, the czar probably is anxious to get his Shipoff.

Perhaps when C. F. Coburn was notified by Governor Hoch that he had been selected to serve out Senator Burton's term, he was slightly confused as to which term the governor meant.

against obstructions in the street.

Death bed repentance is all right, but few of us will be as fortunate as Tucker, the condemned Boston murderer, whose death was postponed to permit of the ordination of baptism.

It's a fine thing for the rest of us when the knuckers get to knocking each other.

IT DIDN'T SHOW.

(From Woman's Home Companion.) An official of a trans-Atlantic steamship line tells of the excitement on board one of his company's vessels several days out from Liverpool, caused by an accident to the steering gear, a mishap trifling enough in reality, but which rumor magnified. The captain was soon approached by a lady passenger. "Is it true, captain," asked she, anxiously "that we have lost one of our screws?"

"Not at all, madam," was the reply of the officer. "There was some little difficulty with one of them, but it has been repaired, so that now everything is all right."

The Health in Summer.

The best way to keep in good health in the summer is to pay just a little attention to the body physically, and, by proper attention to diet and nature's warnings, avoid sickness.

More and more each year the profession is getting away from the theory of always dosing for disease, as a cure and a preventative, and prescribing natural treatments. We are thus getting closer to nature, and nature, as a restorer of the spent vigor and health is coming into its right and just recognition.

The bath as one of the aids to nature is now given its due credit and attention. In the warm summer season the cold bath in the morning imparts vigor and starts the day off with a tonic effect. It stimulates the body and tempers the blood, and, when followed by the warm bath at evening, keeps the system in excellent condition for the trials of warm weather.

One of, if not the greatest baths science has developed is the dry hot air treatment. In this, the temperature can be run up to 300 degrees, but, by a process which gives a free circulation of air through the machine, the heat is never oppressive. This treatment opens thoroughly the pores of the most obstinate skin and puts it in good condition, and by the perspiration assists nature in eliminating the impurities from the system.

The after effects of the treatment is invigorating. Instead of being the least depressive, they are tonic, and for the tired-down worn-out system, it is a wonderful rejuvenator. Especially is this so, when the treatment is followed by the osteopathic treatment.

I am giving these treatments with

IN THE COURTS

In Police Court.

The fight which created such excitement in the Chinese laundry on Third street Saturday was thoroughly aired this morning in the police court and both defendants, the Chinaman and telephone man who engaged in the difficulty, were fined. Charles Lee, alias Owen, is the Chinaman and Charles Cook, the line man who went in to get his laundry and did not have a duplicate ticket. The Chinaman refused to release the package and Cook followed him behind the partition to get it. Words and later blows were exchanged and the Chinaman's head came in contact with a smoothing iron, the exact manner in which this was brought about, not being quite clearly shown.

Judge Sanders fined the Chinaman $1 and costs and Cook $10 and costs. H. Blake was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. He ate supper in the Whitehead restaurant and refused to pay for it.

Other cases were: Elmore and Wilmer Pathe and Lawrence Duncan, breach of the peace, former two fined $5 and costs each, and latter $10 and costs; May Miller, disorderly conduct, granted a continuance; Howard Warden, suffering his cow to run at large, $5 and costs; W. R. Hudnell, suffering his cow to run at large, continued.

Benton Court Convenes.

Circuit Judge William Reed went to Benton this morning to convene the regular June term of Marshall circuit court. The term lasts about three weeks and the docket this term is small and mixed with criminal and civil cases. Judge Reed will clear the docket in two weeks, it is thought.

In Bankruptcy.

A report of the sale of $850 worth of property was filed with E. W. Bagby, referee in bankruptcy, by the trustee in the bankruptcy matter of J. C. McLeod.

HOME COMING DAY PLANS MATURING

A Rally of McCracken County Citizens Proposed.

Good Roads, Tobacco and Taxation Are Subjects of Addresses on That Occasion.

MANY FAMILIES RESPONDING

Home-coming day, June 19, in McCracken county promises to be an important event, not alone because of the presence of a large number of former residents and strangers but because it will be a rallying day for the whole county. Invitations are being sent broadcast among the country folk inviting them to attend the big picnic and barbecue at Wallace park on that day, and it is expected that a majority of the citizens will respond by attending.

Hon. Sam C. Lancaster, consulting engineer of the agricultural department, will speak on good roads at 2 o'clock and a representative of the tobacco growers' association will make a speech on the subject of tobacco. W. A. Robinson, of Louisville, the well known tax expert, whom some people had the pleasure of hearing at the Kentucky theater a few weeks ago may be present.

Responses from about half a hundred families have been received by Secretary C. H. Hitt of the Commercial club, but it is expected that a majority of the 150 families to whom invitations were sent will come. It is anticipated that all former Paducahans and many others from West Kentucky, who will attend the celebration at Louisville, will take advantage of the rates and come to Paducah for that day.

FELL FROM CHAIR.

Dr. F. B. Hitt Cuts His Chin Severely On Glass.

Mr. F. B. Hitt, pharmacist at the McPherson drug store at Fourth street and Broadway, was injured and, narrowly escaped probable serious injury Saturday night at the store. He was standing in a chair reaching up for medicine when the chair slipped. He fell and struck his chin on the glass casing below but fortunately did not strike the glass. His chin struck a knob and out the flesh to the bone. Dr. Frank Boyd was summoned and dressed the wound.

PROSPECTUS

Being Prepared to Advertise Riverside Hospital.

A committee of the Riverside hospital board is preparing a prospectus of that institution. It is intended to get up a handsome booklet giving a description of the facilities of the hospital, and showing several views of the building. Oftentimes a doctor in the town and country around Paducah has occasion to send patients to a hospital and it is believed that if the merits of the Riverside become generally known it will result in a very large attendance at the hospital.

CHILDREN'S DAY EXERCISES HELD

The Little Ones Sang at Many Churches Sunday.

Tent Meetings of Third Street Methodist Accorded Large Attendance Every Day.

HOW SABBATH WAS OBSERVED

Four splendid services were held yesterday at the tent on South Fifth street, where a protracted meeting is being conducted by the Rev. P. H. Fields, of the Third Street Methodist church, assisted by the Rev. H. L. Davenport, of St. Louis. The big tent was crowded at every service and great interest was evinced.

Mr. Davenport is an eloquent preacher, and he delivered some strong and searching sermons yesterday. At 11 a. m. he spoke on "The Model Church"; at 2:30 p. m. "Rags and Riches" was his theme, and at night "The Unanswerable Question." The night service was an old-time camp-meeting and did not break up finally until after 11 o'clock. There were a great number of converts at this service and between 30 and 40 persons re-consecrated themselves. There were six converts at the morning hour and four in the afternoon. A fine children's service was held at 10 a. m.

The meeting this morning was attended with great interest. This afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a children's service and tonight at 7:45 service again.

The Philaetha class, of the First Baptist church, will meet in the lecture room of the church Friday night for the purpose of electing officers.

Children's Day.

Children's Day exercises were a feature of many of the churches yesterday. Interesting services of this character were held at the Tenth street Christian church, Cumberland Presbyterian and Mechanicsburg Methodist churches at the evening hour. The programs combined musical and literary features and were attractively rendered by the Sunday school children. As usual they were witnessed by large crowds.

SHOT IN SHOULDER

Otto Dickson Severely Wounded By Missouri Policeman.

Clarence Dickson, of the Dickson Brothers' livery stable on Jefferson near Third street, received a telegram at 7 o'clock last night stating his brother, Otto Dickson, had been shot by a policeman in Blodgett, Mo. The message did not give any particulars as to the trouble between the policeman and Dickson. He was shot through the shoulder and when heard from last at 5 o'clock this morning was still alive. Otto Dickson, the wounded man, is a fireman on a railroad running out of Blodgett. Mr. Dickson left this morning to see his brother.

Kentucky Well Represented.

At the closing exercises of George Washington university, held at the Continental Memorial hall of the D. A. R., Kentucky had a distinguished representative, as usual, headed by that illustrious veteran who has just celebrated his seventy-third birthday, Mr. Justice Harlan, L. L. D., Professor of Law, and the most beloved lecturer of the institution. A young man in his early thirties, bearing a very brilliant record, is William Reynolds Vance, Ph. D., L. L. B., dean of the faculty of law and jurisprudence, who occupied the same position previously at Washington and Lee college at Lexington, Va. Mr. Vance was formerly from Louisville. Prof. Vance on class day made an interesting talk on "The Lawyer as an Officer of the Court."—Courier-Journal Washington Notes
