Encourages Work For River and Harbors.

Southern Men in Congress Suggest That A Southron Should Be Second.

BLACKBURN'S HONORS DUE.

Washington, June 20.—The announcement that the mantle of the late Senator Gorman is to be thrown over the shoulders of Senator Blackburn came as somewhat of a surprise, for it had been believed that the leadership of the minority on the senate floor would go to the senator from Texas, Mr. Bailey. But, taking everything into consideration, there is a general feeling that the choice has been a wise one. The Kentuckian is a natural leader and is not given to making those mistakes that are chargeable to the fire and impetuosity of youth. He has the confidence and respect of all his colleagues, without regard to party, and his administration of the minority's affairs is expected to be attended with all the success possible.

Want Southern Man.

Now that Col. Henry Watterson has come out for Bryan as the logical candidate for president on the next national Democratic ticket, it is generally believed here that the Nebraska will be the choice of his party, provided he will accept. Already there is much speculation concerning the other occupant of a place at the head of the ticket. Indiana already has insisted that the vice presidential nomination must go to a Hoosier Democrat, while Missouri believes that the slogan "Bryan and Folk" would prove effective. There is a disposition, however, among the southern members of congress to join hands in an effort to compel the party to recognize the south this time. They declare it is high time that a southern Democrat should be awarded a good place on the national ticket, and they propose to bend their efforts to land one there.

The Water Highways.

Although Kansas City, Mo., is a far cry from Washington, still the action of the Commercial club of the former city in raising $300,000 for the building of a fleet of river steamers has made a remarkable impression on congress. It has served to bring emphatically before the members of both branches the growing sentiment in favor of improving the nation's waterways and the result is certain to be beneficial. The national rivers and harbors congress for some time has sought to convince the national congress that this question is one that is of paramount interest to all sections of the country, but with small success. Now that private enterprise has determined on utilizing the streams as channels for the furtherance of commerce, the national lawmakers are becoming convinced that the time is ripe for the federal government to give more attention and money to the work of making navigable these rivers. It is shown that the army, navy and pensions receive 40 per cent of the entire revenue of the government each year, while the $50,000,000 held necessary as an annual appropriation for the benefit of agricultural and commercial interests in widening and deepening the streams, totals only 7 per cent of the revenue. For the last ten years the annual appropriations to improve the natural and economic highways of the country has been less than 3 per cent of the whole. There is a disposition seen now to remedy this condition of affairs, and some action is expected at the next session.

Full Representation.

For the first time in ten years, with the exception of a brief period in the last congress, the senate has a full quota of votes. The election by the Delaware legislature of Col. Henry A. Dupont and the selection of Judge Benson to succeed Senator J. Ralph Burton of Kansas, have brought up the number of seats occupied in the upper branch to ninety. For two years Kansas has been only half represented, while Delaware has struggled along with one senator for much longer than that.

Mr. Hank is buyer for the company and moved his headquarters to Mayfield for convenience nearly a year ago, but still maintained an office in Paducah. On account of the increased sales in Paducah he has decided to remove to Paducah again. His Mayfield office will not be abolished, however.

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $5 Per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made. It produces a bale of cotton per acre worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops such as corn, small grains, grasses, vegetables and fruits thrive as well. Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $2 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

IN OLD CASTLE OF HAAKON THE GOOD

King of Norway Sleeps On An Ancient Royal Couch.

Scene of Picturesque Splendor When Monarch Reached Norwegian Capital.

CROWDS CHEER HIM LOYALLY

Trondhjem, June 20.—King Haakon VII, his queen and his son will rest tonight in the ancient capital of Haakon the Good where Norway was first created a nation. They came at 6:30 last evening in the gunboat Heimdal, amid scenes of picturesqueness befitting the occasion.

On the pier was built a great pavilion in the old Norse form, decorated with greenery and the national colors, and flanked by tribunes. Around the pavilion were gathered members of the Diplomatic corps from Christiania officers of the arm and navy and municipal officials. At five minutes after 6 o'clock the gun of the Danish warship Hekla booming a royal salute gave the crowds a dramatic announcement of the king's yacht approaching. A full salute was fired and the granite walls of the Fjord had not ceased echoing before the Heimdal rounded the promontory.

The royal family speedily landed and shook hands with members of the diplomatic corps, municipal officials and the army and navy officers.

The municipality presented an address of welcome for which King Haakon returned his thanks. Then, taking Crown Prince Olaf in his arms, the king, accompanied by Queen Maud, entered a carriage and escorted by a troop of cavalry, drove to the palace through cheering crowds.

The difficulty between Patrolmen William Rogers and Ernest Hill has been settled and the officers have shaken hands and made friends again and the incident is closed. The two patrolmen met Saturday night at Seventh and Trimble streets. Patrolman Hill was on his vacation and stopped to talk with Rogers. The latter is contemplating running for city jailer and Patrolman Hill began joking him about it. Rogers used some strong language and threatened to strike Hill with his club, but interference on the part of a bystander prevented the encounter. The board of fire and police commissioners turned the case over to James Collins, chief of police, and he investigated, issued a warrant against Patrolman Rogers this morning and he was fined $5 and costs. This closed the incident. Neither will be laid off duty.
