RAILROAD NOTES

Big Freight Business.

The Illinois Central Railroad company is enjoying probably the biggest summer business on the Louisville, Nashville and Tennessee divisions of the system in the history of the road, and the magnitude of the business can readily be seen in Paducah. There are more switch engines working now than ever before in the history of the city. More trains are being run out of Paducah at this season than ever before and full crews are working overtime. Reports show that a total of 22 freight trains went out of Paducah yesterday. Fifteen went south and eleven went north. This is not counting passenger trains, which would swell the total number of trains leaving Paducah to something like double that number. The Illinois Central is enjoying a big business and this summer probably will mark a record in summer business for the road. Part of the increase is due to the opening of the territory acquired by the creation of the Nashville division of the road, which took in the Tennessee Central road.

Surprised Him.

James B. McDaniel, of Florence Station, ten miles below Paducah on the Illinois Central, this morning made his first inspection of railroad shops. He has been residing near Florence for more than 50 years and has never before today been in or seen the shops except from a distance, and then never more than the smoke stack. "Yes sir, this is my first close view of the shops," he declared, as he was piloted through the wood working shops by Officer Dick Tolbert, of the Illinois Central, "and I think they are wonderful. In fact, I cannot find words to express my surprise at the sight. I have lived in this section of the country for more than fifty years. I hunted squirrels and birds in the woods where these shops are now located, and I was here before the shops were even thought of. My curiosity overcame me when I struck town today, and it being rainy I decided to see what was in them."

Caught Tree Frogs.

A joke is going the rounds in the Illinois Central shops and is causing George Bondurant, foreman of the wood working shops, and Will Theobald, a car repairer no end of embarrassment. They went to Barlow lake in Ballard county last night to hunt frogs. They returned this morning and had three tree frogs and one flying squirrel. It is stated that Mr. Bondurant thought the tree frogs were bull frogs, which had come out on the bank, and hooked them in with his patent frog hooks. He brought them home with him but disclaims that he made any mistake as to the species of the frogs.

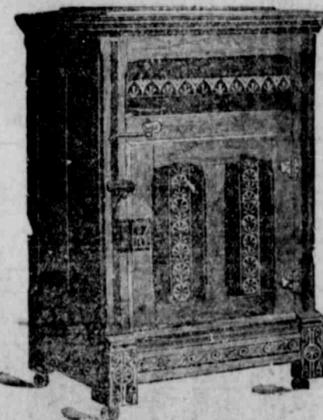

M. J. King, a well known pipe fitter employed by the Illinois Central, has resigned and will go to Louisville to work.

Joe Walker, foreman of the Illinois Central round house, is out again after a several days illness.

William Pike and James Keegan, of the Illinois Central shops this morning returned from Morganfield, Ky., where they set up the city lighting plant. An I. C. box car got loose and ran into the plant damaging it to a great extent. The machinery was sent here and repaired and the two gentlemen sent to Morganfield to set it up. They stated that at the plant is running nicely. The city had been in darkness for three weeks.

Mr. G. G. Hayes time inspector for the Illinois Central system, of Chicago, is in Paducah checking up the timekeeper in the trainmaster's office. This is Mr. Hayes' first trip to Paducah in many months. He formerly acted here for Timekeeper John Dugger when the latter took a vacation.

Mr. W. A. Carter, coach inspector for the Illinois Central, has been called to Louisville by the serious illness of his daughter. His position is being filled by Gus Swanson, of the Illinois Central wood working shops.

Breathitt County Politics.

Jackson, Ky., June 23.—It is indeed different now to foretell the coming political events as regards Breathitt and adjoining counties in the coming and immediate elections. Judge Hargis and ex-Sheriff Callahan are the recognized leaders of the Democratic organization, or machine, in this county, Callahan being chairman of the executive committee, but they will find strong opposition in the dissatisfied, or "Hogback," element of the Democratic party in the county, which is a strong contingent. This element, together with the Republican vote of the county, can defeat any candidate or measure supported or advocated by Hargis and Callahan. It is believed by some that Judge Hargis and Callahan will not take an active part in the approaching elections owing to the fact that they are engrossed with the criminal prosecutions here and at Beattyville and Lexington. If they do not take active part it will be the first time they have failed in a score of years. There is however, one thing that may bring them into politics at the coming November election, and that is to oppose A. F. Byrd in his candidacy for Congress.

An Art Reception.

On Tuesday afternoon, June 26th, from 4 to 6, the Young Ladies' society of the Presbyterian church will give an Art Exhibition at Miss Zula Cobbs, 329 Broadway. The pictures are all water colors and are exquisite in detail. The soft golden glow of the setting sun, so seldom acquired by devotees of the brush, has been beautifully worked up in these dainty landscapes. It is desired that every art loving man and woman will call and enjoy them. No admission fee will be charged.

STEEL TOWERS

Built to Span Tennessee River by Telephone Company.

The Cumberland Telephone company will soon have a direct line to Hopkinsville and Nashville and will build two 35-foot steel towers, the only two of this kind with one exception in this end of the state, to make the circuit complete. These towers will go across the Tennessee river at Agnes Ferry. The only two other towers span the river on the Smithland, Livingston county line. Material is being shipped to the site today and the line will be finished in a short time.
