His Busy Day.

The president smiled and extended his hand. Just as I was about to take it he suddenly drew it back, and a reminder of some sort caused him to screw up his spectacled eyes. "Excuse me while I rush around the corner," he said, and hastily disappeared.

Presently he returned, his face beaming.

"You must pardon my seeming discourtesy," he remarked. The fact is I just remembered that at 11 o'clock I had to stop a war. And now, how are you?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Business at the wharf this week has been good. Strong movements of corn, wheat, tobacco, lumber, peanuts, and general merchandise have given the boats plenty to do. Passenger business also has been good.

In the ship-building lines, a plethora of work argues well for next year and has contributed no small amount to the brisk business at the retail stores, as probably $1,500 a week is paid out in wages alone, by the dry docks and ways. This week saw the completion of the Natchez at the ways, work on this boat having been under way continuously since May 19. The cost has been between $25,000 and $40,000.

The gauge registered a stage of 8.2 this morning, a fall of 0.3 in the last 24 hours. Weather clear.

The Bob Dudley, Gate City and Lyda were inspected yesterday by Government Inspectors MacDonald and Green and all three passed.

The Kentucky will leave this evening at 6 o'clock for the Tennessee river.

The John Hopkins was the regular packet in the Evansville trade today. No Evansville packet Sunday.

The Buttorff will arrive Sunday night from the Cumberland river from Nashville and will leave Monday at noon for Clarksville.

The City of Savannah will leave St. Louis this evening for the Tennessee river, arriving here Monday morning early.

The Dick Fowler left with a fair business this morning and will be due to return tonight at 8 o'clock.

To understand what the river means in a business way to the prosperity of Paducah, it would be necessary to take an inventory of the lines of business, which are here purely because the river is here. It is not merely the boats coming to the city. For boats to come to a city means first of all that boat stores must be run which can supply them with stores. Boat stores consist of more than groceries. Rope, hardware, tools, machinery, fixtures and numerous other appurtenances are handled in this city exclusively for the boats. Then where boats stop there always will be some facilities for repairing them. Paducah has these in a large degree. Many and highly skilled mechanics are employed here. It is not generally known but many have come from the ship yards of England and now work at their trade here. This class of labor is well paid and no other labor outside of some of the railroad employes are paid as much. Another development here is the manufacture of stationary and boat boilers. The boiler repair work on steamboats is large, and that necessitates another element of labor. Lumber used in boat construction is costly and is a good account for the mills here. Then there are numerous attaches about the wharf, such as clerks, stevedores, foremen and the like who find employment. In all its ramifications, if it could be adequately estimated, it would be found that the river is a considerable factor in our business life.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: The big towboat Sprague arrived yesterday from Louisville with seven boats and 11 barges, carrying a total of 307,000 bushels of coal consigned to W. G. Wilmot. Capt. Crowe, in command of the Sprague, said that the vessel behaved herself well during the entire trip. He stated that the boat will go into the United States naval dry dock for repairs, and as soon as she is repaired will leave for Louisville towing 50 empty barges.
