WIFE AND ROGERS SUBMIT TO FINE

Allman is Bound Over For Using Knife.

Mrs. Allman at First Declared Her Innocence But Finally Decided Otherwise.

ONCE SUED HER FOR DIVORCE

On the day after George H. Allman found Elbert Rogers at Allman's home with his wife and cut Rogers severely, his divorce suit pending in circuit court against his wife was dismissed. No reasons were given. The suit was filed by Allman because of former trouble with Rogers, but the husband and wife had made it up and gone back together.

The allegations in the suit are that the wife, Elsie Gertrude Allman, had been guilty of immoral conduct with Tibert Rogers. The couple married October 17, 1900, and separated August 2 this year. They had been living together again but a short time when Allman made the discovery and used the knife on Rogers.

It is understood that Allman will file another suit for divorce. His wife pleaded guilty to the charge in police court, paid the fine and left.

The troubles of George Allman, his wife, Elsie Allman, and Albert Rogers, who figured in a sensational escapade Tuesday night, have been eliminated from police court. It was done quietly and without any evidence being heard, and many spectators who had come in to here the evidence were disappointed.

Allman went home Tuesday night and found Rogers. He began to carve Rogers with his knife, but before mortal wounds were inflicted the victim escaped. The boy and wife were arrested for immorality and Allman for malicious cutting. Allman was recognized to appear before the grand jury and this disposed of him in police court. This morning the wife with Rogers was fined $20 and costs for immorality on the plea of guilty.

Their First Story.

When brought to the city hall yesterday afternoon Rogers claimed he was wronged and so did the woman. The latter stated that her husband had left her at least, he said he had, and she wanted to go to Clinton, where she had relatives. Having several pieces of luggage and a baby she wanted assistance and telephoned Rogers, an old friend, to come and accompany her down to the train.

However, after relatives arrived from Clinton last night she thought it best to get away from the scene of her troubles and registered a plea of guilty, paid a $20 fine with trimmings and left for home.

This morning Rogers had not been apprised of her action and entered a plea of not guilty. He was informed and finally made the same plea and received the same fine. Rogers was able to be in court.

Because of the circumstances it is understood that Allman was justified in taking the action, and that it is likely the grand jury will ignore the matter.

HOME FOLKS

WELCOME DISTINGUISHED CITIZEN ON HIS RETURN.

Bryan is Greeted by Immense Throng With Parade and Decorated Streets.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 6.—William Jennings Bryan returned last evening to his Lincoln home, and the "home folks" welcomed him with every evidence of approval and satisfaction. It was a neighborly welcome planned and as such was carried out in its entirety with that understanding.

Lincoln has more Republicans than Democrats, but last night there was no line of partisan division and the welcome extended to both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan was sincere and open handed. Nearly the whole population showed it was genuinely glad that so well known American as Bryan lives here.

The city was crowded and when the train arrived there was an immense throng about the depot. Bryan was given an ovation when he stepped from the car, and as the party passed through the elaborately decorated streets he was cheered by thousands at every hand.

The party under an escort of mounted police and several hundred representatives of civic societies proceeded to the capitol grounds, for the speaking exercises and the reception proper.

The crowd at the capitol grounds is variously estimated from 30,000 to 60,000. Bryan was escorted to the stand by Governor Mickey from his private office in the state house and after a prayer by the Rev. George W. Martin, Mayor Brown delivered a speech of welcome on behalf of the city and introduced Governor Mickey who extended to Bryan the greetings of the state.

Following Bryan's speech a formal reception took place in the corridors of the capitol, in which Bryan shook hands with thousands who passed before him. There was a brilliant display of fireworks for an hour on the state house grounds.

WHOLE DIVISION BLOCKED BY WRECK

Coal Cars and Contents on Track at Iron Ore Hill.

Paducah Terminals and Main Tracks Crowded With Passenger and Freight Trains.

TWO WRECKERS ARE WORKING

The entire Louisville division of the Illinois Central road was tied up this morning from 1 o'clock until shortly before noon by a derailment of eleven coal cars at Iron Ore Hill, a few miles above Tennessee river bridge, and every track at the local passenger depot was occupied by a train this morning at 8 o'clock. The damage will amount to little in actual dollars and cents for wreckage but the delay will prove costly.

This morning shortly after 1 o'clock an extra freight train, engine No. 844, Engineer Ernest Bean and Conductor Cutlar, was derailed at Iron Ore Hill. It is not known how the derailment was caused, but it is presumed to have been due to a defective car. Eleven cars of coal were piled up on the track and coal scattered on the rails making it a hard wreck to clear.

The wrecker from Paducah was called on the wreck and was dispatched with all haste to the scene. The Fulton wrecker was also ordered out and passed this morning between 7 and 8 o'clock. Both wreckers worked hard and succeeded in clearing the track shortly before noon.

The fast Louisville passenger, No. 104, from Memphis was stopped here. The first report of the delay was estimated at four hours but later it was fixed at seven hours. After that the delay was reported indefinite.

The morning accommodation train, No. 122, was held here and also were four or five freights. The Cairo and Paducah accommodation train pulled in after No. 122, and all three passing tracks were filled with trains. There was a great deal of confusion in moving the engines to the shops from the two morning accommodation trains, the accommodation passenger to Louisville having to go into the main line north of the city to let the engines back down to the shops.

Train No. 103, from Louisville to Memphis, and also the Nashville-Cairo accommodation due at 9:30 o'clock were delayed by the wreck. The dispatchers worked overtime and were taxed to their utmost in straightening out the congested tangle of freights and passenger trains.

MAD BULL

CHARGES PEOPLE ALONG NORTH SIXTH STREET.

Makes Citizens Jump Fences and Pur- sues Wild Course Until It Falls Dead.

A stray bull made the pedestrians on North Sixth street between Madison and Harrison look like they were in a hurdle race yesterday afternoon late from the way they were jumping fences to escape his angry rushes. The bull, led by his head and ran after every person who came in sight. One negro boy started to run and fell, and the bull, changing his course then, probably saved the lad from injury. The bull swerved suddenly on to a negro man who got over the fence in record-breaking time. Then he started out Harrison street and when he arrived at Third and Harrison streets, fell dead. The bull had been rushing over the streets starting from Kentucky avenue and died probably from overheating. It is not known who owns the bull.

Judge Reed Lectures Attorneys About Their Dilatory Methods —Anxious to Proceed.

FIRST THREE DAYS OF TERM

Circuit court is dragging and Circuit Judge Reed was nervous about it this morning. He has tried fewer cases in the three days court has been in session than for the same period in any previous time and lectured the attorneys this morning after the Loving case, the most important on the docket, had to be reset for Wednesday.

"Here it is three days, gentlemen, and I have done nothing," he protested. "I can not stand this. You must get down to business and prepare to defend your clients. The commonwealth can not afford to plod along as we have these three days."

The Loving Case.

On account of the absence of an important witness for the prosecution the case against H. H. Loving for the murder of H. A. Rose was reset Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Gibson was ill and unable to attend and for this reason the prosecution asked for a temporary hold up on the trial. Nearly all the witnesses for both sides were present and each was recognized to appear. Attachments for those who were not present have been issued. The case will go to trial Wednesday.

Attorney Ollie James, representing the defense, was present and also other attorneys interested in the case. There were many spectators in the court room, eager to hear the case tried.

SPEAKER CANNON SCORES GOMPERS

Declares Labor Leader Tries To Dictate.

Denounces Prescription in Politics as Foreign to Our Insti- tutions.

BELIEVES IN UNION LABOR

Lewiston, Maine, Sept. 6.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, in an address here last night criticized Sam'l Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor for his attempt to bring the federation into politics. "Gompers," said Cannon, "has introduced a new element into American politics. He does not exercise the right of petition, he demands that congress enact into the law his will. He does not appeal to you, he commands you, if you are a member of the federation, to vote as he would vote.

"He does not come to argue, he publishes a decree in the name of labor that the public who refuses to labor that the public official who refuses to obey his command shall be retired from public life."

Cannon declared himself in sympathy with the federation in its efforts to better conditions of the working people. "I do not, however, believe in its prescription in politics," he said, "it is foreign to our institutions, foreign to a government of the people. I'm opposed to Gompers' political methods of blacklisting men who vote as their conscience and judgment and welfare of their constituents declare.

Plan Will Not Succeed.

"It is reported that Gompers has made an assessment on the members of the Federation of Labor to secure money for use in this campaign. A member of the federation may be a Republican in favor of Republican policies but he is assessed to make a campaign against his own interests, as he sees them, because Gompers is opposed. Such methods in politics have never succeeded in this country and they never will.

"I believe this effort to combine the vote of organized labor in politics would fail even if a majority of the Federation of Labor adopted it. I am certain it will fail as the orders are only of Gompers and the executive committee of the organization. Workingmen both union and non-union of this country are as jealous of their sovereignty as are the farmers or any other people. They will act with the organization in things which pertain to the purpose of the union and they will follow Gompers so long as he exercises functions for which he was chosen as president of the Federation of Labor. But they will not follow him in his self-assumed function of dictating how they shall exercise their right of citizenship."

INVENTS BUCKLE; WINS MEDAL

Baltimore Priest Says Device Is Aid in Checking Swearing.

Baltimore, Sept. 6.—Rev. Dr. M. Barabasz, pastor of Holy Rosary Roman Catholic church, has just received from the French Academy for the encouragement of science, art and industry a gold medal and diploma for his invention of a detachable buckle. Dr. Barabasz says his device is not only a necessity but a promoter of piety. He said today: "I noticed that many persons while manipulating a buckle on their garments were often either tempted to swear or actually cursed for the reason that the buckle sometimes would not work according to their wishes. In order to obviate the bad habit of cursing, I have spent many days at work in that direction and I am confident I have attained that end. The award by the Academy of Paris makes me feel that by the invention of my new detachable buckle I performed faithfully one of the duties of a clergyman."
