

Dress Accessories Ornamental Finery

BELOW we have pictured a group of dresses of the highest order. What constitutes a dress of this order? Your material of the most exquisite texture will fade into insignificance unless it is richened by proper ornamental trimmings. The present vogue demands accessories of the highest type. This demand has so largely concentrated itself upon us that we have become the authority of dress ornamentation. This one department of ours is headed by one whose authority is second to none in this part of the country. We have gathered together this season the most elaborate display of its kind that has ever been ventured by us. We mention in part a few of what may be seen to an advantage by a visit to our trimming section: Veniece, Baby Irish and Oriental silk all-overs, spangle nets, jet ornaments of every description, embroidered net bands, jeweled net bands and French appliques, jet, crystal and metallic effects, in bands, all-overs, nets, etc. Allow us to prevail upon you the necessity of this department of ours to the woman who wishes to be precisely arranged.

B Ogilvie's
PADUCAH, KY.

