LEAVES WASHINGTON

Prince Henry's Last Night There One of Popular Enthusiasm.

Today He Started on His Southern and Western Tour Through the United States.

WILL MAKE MANY SHORT STOPS

TODAY'S PROGRAM.

Departure of the prince and his suite for his southern and western tour on a special train.

Journey across the Alleghany mountains on Pennsylvania railroad.

Stop of ten minutes at Pittsburgh and Columbus, twenty minutes at Cincinnati.

Washington, March 1.—Prince Henry's visit to the national capital had a fitting culmination last night in a splendid official dinner given at the German embassy, and later a tremendous outburst of popular enthusiasm from the German residents of Washington as the imperial visitor was about to start for his southern and western tour. Those invited to meet Prince Henry at the dinner were representatives of the highest official and diplomatic society.

An enormous crowd gathered about the embassy while the dinner was in progress, filling Massachusetts avenue for a block in each direction. At 9:30 o'clock the long line of German marchers who were to serenade the prince made their appearance bearing pitch pine torches. At their head moved the Stars and Stripes side by side with the German color. Following the torch bearers came hundreds of strong-voiced Germans. As the singers gathered, Prince Henry stepped upon the balcony, and amid a storm of cheers, bowed his salutations to the throng. Then, above the cheers rose the voices of the singers in "Das Deutsche Lied," followed by "Die Wacht am Rhein," and then by the "Star Spangled Banner." As the long song was being sung the representatives of the Germans of Washington were escorted to the balcony, where Prince Henry gave them a cordial welcome. In behalf of his associates William L. Eltrich spoke of the friendship between Germany and America now sealed anew.

The prince expressed his appreciation and asked whether those who had rendered the songs were now American citizens, and receiving a reply in the affirmative, the prince said: "I wish you would give to the United States all those good qualities which you have brought from the fatherland. Endeavor to be useful and good citizens of this great and glorious country."

At 11 o'clock the prince, escorted by Ambassador Von Holleben and by a squad of police, left the embassy for the Pennsylvania railroad station, where he boarded the special train, which departed at 12:30 o'clock for the Western and Southwestern trip. The prince's suite accompanied him.

ICE MANTLED OCEAN LINER AFTER A ROUGH TRIP.

The westbound ocean liners now arriving in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other Atlantic ports bring tales of rough and wintry seas; also they show evidences of the same. Here is a picture showing a typical scene on such a steamer. The bridge and everything forward is coated many inches thick with ice.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Clearings this week, $436,177. Same week last year, $451,160. (The past week had one holiday in it, Washington's birthday.) General trade with the wholesalers is fairly good. Bad roads and inclement weather have held trade back, however. Collections are fair. Retail trade has been good in some lines the past week, although the weather has here, too, cut a figure. Easter comes early this year, March 30th, and this will soon give the retail trade a good impetus.

At the close of the sermon Miss Adelle Hart and Mr. Robert Chastaine sang "Looking This Way" very sweetly.

In the after-service there were many requests for prayer, both for self and for others, that showed the influence of the sermon. Of the cards given out by the Christian workers, the result and total is not known; their harvest will come later. Mr. Biederwolf is a man of many methods and each one is fine; he adjusts them to the need of the hour and the meeting.

The reports from the cottage prayer meetings were most encouraging. There will be more of these meetings next week.

SHOPS LIVELY TODAY

There Were Many New Men Placed at Work This Morning.

Mr. Harriman, the Railroad Magnate, Goes Through Today—Supt. Wallace Better.

OTHER RAILROAD NOTES OF INTEREST

The local I. C. shops presented a busier appearance this morning than in several months. Nearly all the men laid off last fall have been put to work again, and about 30 were taken on in the wood working departments alone. The hands in the machine shops were also increased, but not as much as will be later when more machinists come to the city.

Regular ten hours per day schedule has again been adopted, instead of the nine hour working day.

The condition of Superintendent H. U. Wallace today is slightly better. He passed a good night, and this morning seemed much better. His condition is not what might be termed dangerous, but he is suffering a great deal.

The special train carrying Mr. H. E. Harriman, the big railroad magnate and his family, will arrive in Paducah from Louisville this afternoon. Mr. J. F. Wallace, the assistant general manager of the road, will accompany him to Paducah, and on through, if his son, Supt. H. U. Wallace, is no worse. Mr. Harriman is en route to New Orleans.

Mr. A. M. Dustin, foreman of the boiler shops of the local I. C., returned from Chicago this morning, after a business trip in the interest of the company.

Engineer Dave Glass was injured last night at Central City, while walking in the yards. He tripped over a jack screw and fell, spraining his left knee. The injury is not serious, however, and he will be inconvenienced little.

The telegraph station has been placed in the master mechanics' office, and Mr. E. N. States, the night operator in the yard office, will be installed there as soon as he can be relieved at the yard office. The office is supplied with two wires, one a business wire from Memphis to Louisville and the other a train wire to Fulton. Other wires will later be put in. The office was established for convenience in receiving engine reports and reports of accidents and other general business.

Mr. Tom Heath of Thirteenth and Court streets, is off duty, suffering from a bone fever. Mr. Heath is an employe of the I. C. in the round house night force.

The change in the local Illinois Central ticket office, mentioned in The Sun several days ago, will be made Monday. Mr. G. C. Shepherd, of the Postal service, will go to the ticket office and Mr. G. A. Littell, of the ticket office, will go to the Postal service. Mr. Shepherd was formerly ticket agent here but resigned some time ago.
