

PADUCAH: Concerning News of a Local Nature for Past Week.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Mr. J. E. Allen, the well known traveling salesman of the local firm of Felt Bros., died very suddenly at his home, Crab Orchard, near Marion, Ill., yesterday. His house here received a message yesterday stating that he had died, but giving no further information. His monthly statement was received by the house Saturday and the deceased said nothing about being ill so it is thought by Mr. Felt that death came suddenly.

Mr. Allen was about 55 years of age and a married man with a family. He was well known in Paducah, having been with the same firm for the past eight years traveling through Southern Illinois. His many friends will regret to learn of his demise.

Mr. Jessie S. Young filed a commission from the governor, appointing him a justice of the peace to succeed the late Justice J. W. Little, magistrate in the Seventh district, in the county court this morning. This is his qualification and his many friends will be glad to learn that he has secured the office. Mr. Young was originally appointed to the vacancy by Judge Tully, but the same day the appointment was made Mr. Alex Patton was also appointed to the same office by the governor and for a time it looked like the place would be contested but Mr. Patton, who is a candidate for constable, preferred to stay in the latter race and returned his commission relinquishing all claims to the office.

Dr. R. A. Hicks and wife returned last night from Trenton, Tenn., where Dr. Hicks was called by the illness of his mother, Mrs. Hicks, who died Friday night from heart failure, and the funeral took place yesterday. She was a most estimable lady, widow of Mr. R. A. Hicks, Sr., and was a consistent member of the First Baptist church.

The many friends of Dr. Hicks will sympathize with him in his bereavement.

Bishop H. C. Morrison, a brother to Mr. C. W. Morrison, of the city, has been assigned to preside over the following conferences by the college of bishops of the M. E. church South:

West Virginia Conference—Huntington, W. Va., September 4, 1901.

Illinois Conference—Murphysboro, Ill., September 19, 1901.

Memphis Conference—Dyersburg, Tenn., November 13, 1901.

North Mississippi Conference—Winnona, December 5, 1901.

Mississippi Conference—McComb City, December 12, 1901.

J. Frank Sanderson, a tobacco man of Mayfield, went to the police yesterday afternoon and reported the theft of $750 which he claims was stolen from him in one of the houses of the red light district.

The police went to work on the case but could not find a clue to the identity of the culprit.

Sanderson returned home on the 6 o'clock train yesterday afternoon and offers a half reward for the recovery of the money.

A drummer, who has just come from a trip through Texas, says that a new species of bug has destroyed all the wheat in the southern section of that state and that the wheat has been replaced by cotton.

"The bug is a little larger than the ordinary June bug and is of a greenish color," the drummer remarked, "and when I left Texas it had destroyed nearly all the wheat in the southern section."

The smallpox situation in Metropolis is now quite serious. The schools were closed yesterday, and by proclamation, Mayor Rappendahl has prohibited all public assemblies, including churches and schools.

Many of the smaller towns have quarantined against Metropolis, and there are now forty-eight cases flagged, and a dozen just out of quarantine. The Herald says that the spread is rapid but that the disease is of mild form. Of the sixty cases there, only two of the victims were ever vaccinated, and one of those eight years ago.

The jury in the $2,000 damage suit of Jeff Young, who sued the Illinois Central for injuries received by a switch engine striking an ice wagon standing in front of the ice factory on First street, and of which Young was driver, this morning about noon brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Mr. Joe Randall, the well known Illinois Central engineer, has just returned from Chicago, where he was sent as a delegate on the engineers' grievance committee. Mr. Randall said that he visited the machine shops of the company and from every source the indications pointed to a settlement of the machinists' demands without a strike. "I have been in the service of the Illinois Central for many years," he continued, "and every grievance the employes have ever presented has been satisfactorily settled without any trouble whatever and the Illinois Central has always done the right thing by its employes, so I can see no reason why a strike should result from the present demands of the machinists. It is the general opinion of the Chicago employes that no trouble will result. I do not belong to that department and of course cannot speak as an authority, but that is the general opinion of all I could hear during my visit in Chicago." Mr. Randall will return to Chicago Monday a week to attend the session of the general board of engineers.

Mr. Sam Butler, a well known farmer of the Ragland section, had the misfortune to lose his tobacco barn and stable night before last by fire. He does not know the origin of the blaze, and had no insurance.

In addition to the feed stuff and other property in the stable all his farming machinery, amounting in value to several hundred dollars was burned. The loss will probably amount to nearly a thousand dollars.

All the Illinois farmers who were forced out of their homes by the rise have returned. The Steamer Bettie Owen carried the last family over this morning. All the corn that had been planted was washed up and the farmers have it all to do over again. Their property was not damaged otherwise than a good flooding.

By the burning of his barn, Mr. James Nealy who lives about six miles back of Unionville, lost heavily. The fire occurred the latter part of last week and nine head of horses were burned to death besides the loss of all the farmer's hay, corn, oats and other produce.

The exact amount of the loss has not been determined but it will amount up into the thousands. The blaze was thought to have been started by a tramp who slept in the barn the night of the fire.

CALL DECLINED.

DR. W. E. CAVE TWICE DECLINES TO GO TO PETERSBURG, VA.

Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has declined the second call from the Presbyterian church at Petersburg, Va., which means he will remain in Paducah. His many friends will be very glad to learn of this decision.

The Petersburg church was very anxious to get him, and would not be satisfied with the first declination. The second call was naturally more urgent than the first, and a great compliment to the popular minister.

LINE OF MARCH

How the Flower Parade Procession Will go on May 16th.

THE AUBURN HAIRD GIRL

A New Maid of Honor Appointed for Princeton, Ky., by the Committee This Morning.

DECORATIONS WILL BE EXTENSIVE

From Tuesday's Daily.

The line of march for the flower parade has been detailed, and will be as follows: Grand Marshal, Kraus and assistants, Dr. E. H. Gilson, Mr. Harry Fisher, Mr. Gus Rogers and Officer J. R. Gray leading the "pre-roll" review it from the hotel balcony. The decoration committee of the carnival requests all who can, especially along the line of March, to decorate their houses and places of business. It will be a favor to the committee, and will be appreciated by the Elks, who want the city to look as attractive as possible. The cost will not amount to much, and it will show a spirit of enthusiasm that will speak well for the city, and make a good impression on the thousands of visitors. The line of march for the flower parade is as follows:

The parade will form at the Palmer House, march north on Fifth to Clay, on Clay to Twelfth, south on Twelfth to Broadway, down Broadway to Second, up Second to Court, up Court to Third, up Third to Jackson, up Jackson to Fifth, and back to the Palmer House.

Mr. W. E. Robertson, representing W. Hintze, of the Pan-American Decorating company, is meeting with considerable success in the city. It is thought nearly all the stores will be decorated.

Mr. H. G. Johnston, chief dispatcher of the N. C. & St. L., is chairman of the ticket committee, and will sell pasteboards at the main entrance. His assistants will be Messrs. Rodney Davis, Lloyd Bloomfield and Jas. Weille.

Manager J. J. Coonley will arrive from Birmingham tomorrow and remain until after the opening of the carnival.

There has been considerable speculation in Paducah about the "girl with the auburn hair," and whether she is a myth or not. She will be at the carnival just the same, whether myth or material, and will be one of the strongest features.

A good joke is going the rounds about a reporter who was told the other day by a prominent steamboat man that "the girl with the auburn hair" had arrived that morning on his boat. The reporter evinced great interest and went to the boat, spending half an hour or more scrutinizing the register to find the name of the fair mystery who is to play such an important part at the carnival. Finally the steamboat agent was telephoned and laughed heartily when he learned of the havoc he had created in the mind of the reporter.

"Yes," he finally said between loud guffaws, "the girl with the auburn hair came in alright, but this girl was from Smithland."

Miss Wannita Anglen, of Princeton, Ky., has been appointed maid of honor for the carnival. Miss Anglen has visited in Paducah quite often and is both pretty and attractive.

The carnival grounds are in tip-top shape and the merchants are being notified by mail that their booths are ready for them. The streets adjacent to the carnival have been swept and sprinkled, and the grounds could not be in better condition. The booths

The Best Suits to Buy

The extra wear and service afforded by the H. S. & M. suits are enough to recommend them to every careful buyer. When you learn how stylish and becoming they are, how well they fit and keep their shape, you will never buy any other kind.

We ask no more for them than you have to pay for inferior goods elsewhere.

are substantial, and the work of the committee has been well done.

The decorations will begin now as soon as the merchants desire. By Monday everything will be ready for the opening.

The executive committee has been disappointed in securing the miniature railway contracted for. A telegram, followed by a letter and explanatory telegrams, have been received from Mr. R. S. Brown, of the B. & O. S. W., saying that on account of a strike at Buffalo among the machinists who were making the outfit, it will not be completed in time to be run at the carnival here. The dates both at Paducah and Owensboro will have to be cancelled as a result.

Messrs. John Lane and J. J. Read went to Owensboro today in the interest of the carnival, and will return tonight or tomorrow.

Capt. Billy Crozier is going good work down the river advertising the carnival. He took down another batch of advertising matter today, and will keep up the good work all the week.

PLEA SUSTAINED

JUDGE HUSBANDS DECIDES THAT THE BOND CASE

Is Null—Appeal Asked and Granted—Other Circuit Court Notes.

The noted suit of A. and J. Wirth against the city on sixteen old $1,000 bonds that were discovered among some old papers of the late William Greif, and which were long overdue, has been temporarily disposed of in the circuit court.

The principal and interest in the case amounts to nearly $50,000 hence the suit is of considerable importance. The city claims that it had paid the bonds, and that the records show that they had been ordered destroyed, but over twenty-one years having elapsed since they became due, the city, in answering the petition of the plaintiffs simply pleaded the law of limitation.

The plaintiffs filed a reply, to which the city demurred, and Judge Husband's sustained the demurrer, practically deciding that the plea of limitation settles the case. This morning the plaintiffs asked leave to file an amended petition, which the court refused. An appeal was then taken, and the question of limitation will be taken to the court of appeals for a decision. If the court of appeals affirms, the case will be ended. If it reverses, it will come back for trial.

Miss Ethel Maxwell, of West Broadway, was appointed an examiner of McCracken, possibly in the circuit court today and was assigned to the office of Oliver & Oliver.

In the case of W. E. Allen, the Illinois Central engineer is with a verdict of $200 in favor of the plaintiff was rendered, and the defendant filed a motion for a new trial.

In the case of W. E. Allen, the Depew, Mr. James M. Leach, attorney for W. E. Allen, filed a motion for an order for a review, which was granted.

FROM HEART DISEASE

DEATH LAST NIGHT OF MR. JOHN W. DE LOACH AGED 66

Mr. John W. De Loach, aged 66, died suddenly from heart disease about 6 o'clock yesterday evening. He had been working in the garden at the home of his brother, John W. De Loach, on Seventh street, near Jackson, and when found lying down on a couch in his bed room a short time afterwards by a member of the family, was in a dying condition. His attempts to rise to fall forward and expired.

The deceased had been a resident of Paducah for several years but formerly lived in Evansville. He had an attack of grippe last winter, from which he never fully recovered. He leaves four sons and two daughters.

The coroner's jury decided that he came to his death from heart disease. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence. Burial at Oak Grove.

THE OVERSEER BACKED OUT.

Three women now serving terms in the lockup got tired of the confinement and requested Chain Gang Boss Woods to permit them to go out on the streets and work. He informed them that they might if they would don men's attire. One of the girls did so and was ready at 1 o'clock, but the overseer allowed himself to be bluffed and wouldn't take her out.
