SENATOR WOOD

Has Not Yet Presented His Credentials to the Senate.

GREAT SNOWS IN NORTHWEST.

Reply of Greece to the Powers Will be Conciliatory.

LEGISLATORS GATHERING AT FRANKFORT.

Washington, March 8.—Mr. Wood did not present his credentials to the executive committee of the Senate today. He called on President McKinley. He is expected tomorrow morning to present his credentials. He will argue his own case before the committee.

SENATOR WOOD

Arrives in Washington—Thinks He Will Be Seated.

Washington, March 7.—[Special to the Courier-Journal.]—Hon. A. T. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, who has just been appointed United States Senator to succeed Senator Blackburn, arrived here late this afternoon and registered at the Elbitt House. This evening a number of correspondents called to interview him on the situation. Mr. Wood was very obliging and answered every question put to him without hesitation. He said his appointment came to him in the nature of a surprise, as he had not been an applicant for the honor. What the Senate would do with his appointment he could not say. Aside from Senator Lindsay, who will present his credentials to the senate, he had no personal acquaintance with any member of the senate. He had not been in Washington while congress was in session for fifteen years. "If I am to be seated, I want to know it," said he "without unnecessary delay. And if it is the intention of the senate to refuse me a seat I want to know it at once. I don't propose to remain here in Washington indefinitely waiting on the senate to act."

Mr. Wood will tomorrow call on President McKinley, and will also have a conference with members of the Republican Steering Committee.

Fine

elect a Senator at the... on, he said that that was a question no one could answer. The conditions at Frankfort were peculiar, and no one could tell what the outcome would be.

AMBASSADORS

Will Be Named By the President To-Day.

Washington, March 8.—It is expected that the Ambassadors to foreign countries will be named by the President today or tomorrow. The Ambassador to England will be Col. John Hay, and his name will be sent to the Senate this afternoon. It is not believed Chas. M. DeFow will receive an appointment.

SNOW BOUND.

Dakota Trains Abandoned on Account of Heavy Snowfalls.

Pierre, S. D., March 8.—The entire north-west is now bound and railroad traffic is in the worst condition it has been in this year. Trains on all roads have been abandoned and there is intense suffering in many places. The loss of stock will be heavy, as it was thought the last blizzard before this would conclude the hard winter and stock was greatly exposed when this blizzard struck.

BEGIN TO ARRIVE.

Members of the Legislature Are Already Reaching the Capital.

Frankfort, March 8.—Members of the legislature are already beginning to arrive preparatory to the extra session, which is to be convened on Saturday, pursuant to the Governor's proclamation. The Hunters are active, and are urging an early caucus, doubtless believing their candidate safer now than he may be later on.

ASSASSINATED.

John Sizemore Waylaid and Shot in Breathitt County.

Jackson, Ky., March 8.—John Sizemore, a prominent and well known farmer of Breathitt county, was shot down in cold blood by assassins ten miles from here last night. It is believed the murder was committed by kluks. There is great excitement and strenuous efforts are making to capture the assassins. Blood hounds are out and it is believed they will be taken.

MRS. BEECHER DEAD.

Relict of the Noted Divine Passes Away.

Stanford, Conn., March 8.—Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, who has for weeks lingered between life and death, passed away this forenoon.

WIFE MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A Chicago Cabman Shoots His Wife and Then Himself.

Chicago, March 8.—Jim Powers, a cabman, today while in a fit of jealousy and under the influence of liquor, shot his wife to death and then turning the revolver to his temple fired a ball into his own brain, dying instantly. Powers and his wife are said to have had frequent quarrels on account of his jealousy of attentions paid her by other men.

A CONCILIATORY REPLY.

Reported That Greece Will Make One to the Powers.

New York, March 8.—Reports from Athens are to the effect that the reply of Greece to the ultimatum of the Powers will be conciliatory, and it is believed the war will be terminated. The words of the reply, if given, have not been received.

FALL FROM A BRIDGE.

Two Children Drowned in the Ragging Wabash.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 8.—Two small children, Ellen and Robert Parker, wandered out on the railroad bridge this morning and becoming frightened at the ragging waters below fell into the river and were drowned. Efforts have been made to recover their bodies, but as yet without avail.

WEALTHY MAN SUICIDES.

Tom Hunter, a Wealthy Grocer of Cynthia, Shoots Himself.

Cynthiana, March 8.—Tom Hunter, a prominent grocer and one of the wealthiest men in this section, shot and instantly killed himself this morning at an early hour. No reason for the deed is known, other than despondency, to fits of which he was subject. He was a prominent and popular man and respected by everybody.

SIGHT-SEERS.

Crowds Take a Look at the River.

Were Strewed From Island Creek to the Incline Yesterday.

The river's edge was thronged with humanity yesterday from early morning until dusk, hundreds of people availing themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a pleasant day and see the raging waters that the papers told them threatened to overflow the city.

From above Island creek to the Illinois Central Incline below the city there was an almost endless stream of visitors, which was augmented by the addition of hundreds more in the afternoon.

A great many people also went boat riding, and after dinner a skiff could not be hired from Island creek to "Dogtown" for love or money, because they were all in use. Scores of skulls skinned by the whirl, but all hugged the shore, for the current is so swift even only a short distance out that a boat becomes almost unmanageable. Island creek bridge seemed to be a favorite vantage point among south sliders.

TELL FOUR STORIES.

And the Sack of Peanuts Struck Manager Perrine on the Head.

Mr. J. F. Perrine, of the Paducah Peanut Company, is out again after a painful accident which befell him a day or two since.

He was standing on the first floor at the factory when someone threw several sacks of "goobers" down from the fourth floor. One of the sacks struck him on the back of the neck, and for a while it was thought that he was seriously hurt, but now he is able to be out. His neck is still stiff.

COURT HOUSE.

Regular Term of County Court Today.

JUDGE TULLY'S FIRST COURT.

Three Wills Filed for Probation This Forenoon.

SUITS FILED IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

This was regular county court today, and Judge Tully presided. There was considerable business, aside from the routine work of granting coffee house and druggists' licenses.

The will of the late Adolph Levy, leaving his property to his father, Mr. A. Levy, was filed for probate.

The will of the late Henry Acker was also admitted to probate. The deceased leaves his property to his wife.

An order was made to widen the Bethel church road in the county.

The will of the late W. G. Morrow, who died suddenly at Dawson a short time since, was filed for probate.

The deceased leaves no estate, except two or three insurance policies. One is for $5000, payable to his wife and daughter Ethel, equally. Another for $2000 is payable to his wife. Judge Morrow, of Hopkinsville, was named in the will as executor and qualified.

The will of the late Mrs. R. C. Watkins was filed for probate in the county court this afternoon. The deceased leaves her large and valuable estate to her husband, the well known Illinois Central traveling freight agent. It is estimated at $50,000 or more.

SUITS FILED.

Patti Winters today brought suit against her husband, James Winters, for divorce, alleging abandonment. The Plymouth Cordage Company today brought suit against W. S. Beck for $54 on account for twine.

LOOSENED HER TEETH.

Bud Barker's Method of Stopping Profanity.

Slapped His Mistress While in the Charge of Officers.

Officers Jones and Eiter started to the county jail shortly before noon today with Bud Barker and his dusky mistress, Barbara Rankin, who were this morning held over on a charge of grand larceny by Judge Sanders.

Previous to their departure from the city hall the Rankin woman cursed and abused Judge Sanders without mercy, and after the officers started towards the jail with their prisoners the woman began it again. The officers asked her to desist, but she ignored them, saying that she stole the money, had a good time on it, and that everybody could "go to h—l."

Here Barker interferred and ordered her to stop, but she paid no attention to him, whereupon he struck her as hard as he could in the mouth, knocking her several feet and loosening a few teeth. The affair created considerable excitement for awhile, but had a very salutary effect in quelling the foul mouthed woman's public profanity.

HELD OVER.

Were Bud Barker and Barbara Rankin.

Given an Examining Trial Before Judge Sanders Today.

Barbara Rankin and Bud Barker, colored, were held over by Judge Sanders to the circuit court today on a charge of stealing $175 from Joseph Smith, of the county, at Ella Brown's defunct resort on Court street some time since.

They got away in a spring wagon on the night of the robbery and took a train for Evansville, where they were captured within a stone's throw of the city hall.

Their bonds were fixed at $400 each, and in default they went to jail.

OFF FOR WASHINGTON.

Miss Flowers, Congresswoman Wheeler's Private Secretary, Leaves Thursday.

Miss Lulu Flowers, Congresswoman-elect Wheeler's private secretary, leaves Thursday for Washington to attend the extra session of congress.

Congressman Wheeler will not leave until Saturday.

Miss Florence Nanemacher will occupy the position held by Miss Flowers with Attorneys Wheeler and Worten, on legal row, during Congressman Wheeler's sojourn in the Capitol City.

AN IRATE WOMAN.

Mrs. Jaques Applies to Mayor Yeiser for Assistance.

Came Here to Cook in a Bagnio, But Didn't Know It.

Mrs. Frank Jaques was at the city hall today to see Mayor Yeiser about getting transportation to St. Louis, which city she left several days ago to take a job in Paducah.

Mrs. Jaques is a rather corpulent, good-natured-looking lady, 35 years old, and her husband, Frank Jaques, who died in November in Champaign county, Illinois, was one of the best known race horse men in the country and had a large string of horses. When he traveled about the country with his fast steppers she traveled with him, but now that he is dead she has to work for a living. She obtained some insurance money, but invested it in real estate. A few days ago, she told a St. Louis reporter this morning, a stylish looking woman visited her at St. Louis and offered her $5 a week to come to Paducah and cook and do house work for her.

She said she kept "lady boarders" but divulged nothing further as to her business. Mrs. Jaques readily accepted the position, came on to Paducah, and yesterday found out that she was in a house of ill repute, and in short order she left it and the madame then declined to furnish her transportation back home.

There was a disturbance of some kind last night, she said, and the men and women came pouring out from all quarters in a state of more or less dishabille to find out what was the matter. "I never saw any thing like it before," Mrs. Jaques solemnly declared, with a shake of her head, "and I was married to a man fifteen years, too!"

HOPE FOR LINN.

Ex-Town Marshal's Wife Over From Brooklyn

Getting Money and Evidence in Her Husband's Behalf.

Mrs. Philip Lynn, wife of the down-fallen ex-town marshal of Brooklyn, was in the city today raising funds to carry her husband's case to the court of appeals of Illinois.

As will no doubt be recalled, the town marshal was sentenced to six years at Chester for killing Milas Bradshaw, colored, and was given six months in which to take an appeal. This costs $200, and almost the entire amount, it seems, has been secured by his friends.

Mrs. Lynn claims that a witness has lately been found who was within five feet of the shooting and says the town marshal shot in self defense. The witness is highly recommended by several prominent Paducah merchants, and may be the means of getting Lynn out of the penitentiary. Marshall Collins and others chipped in liberally to the fund.

WOULD-BE ASSASSIN.

Leslie Slade in Jail for Stealing Coal.

Thought to be the One Who Shot Watchman Scott.

Leslie Slade, colored, is in jail awaiting identification as the would-be assassin of night watchman W. L. Scott, at the Illinois Central. Several nights ago Slade was detected in the act of stealing coal in the I. C. yards and captured, but no warrant was issued against him.

Saturday night two other negroes were seen taking coal, and the watchman caught one of them, supposed to be Slade. The latter, while the watchman was searching him, shot him twice, once in the arm and once in the breast. Neither wound was serious, and the watchman was worse frightened than hurt.

A warrant was issued against Slade for his recent theft of coal, and he will be held for identification.

At the Union Depot Again. Officer Dick Sutherland has been placed on the Union Depot beat again, after having had a down town beat for a few weeks.

Late Police Notes.

James Kane was fined $1 for drunkenness. Robbie Owens, for using profane language, was fined $5 and costs.

POLICE COURT.

Alleged Hide Thieves Up This Morning.

LOUIS COOPER HELD OVER.

Fred Yopp Gets Off—The Stiles Case Partially Heard.

COURT LASTED FOUR HOURS.

Louis Cooper, colored, was arraigned in the police court this morning for stealing four hides from the Biederman Grocery Company's slaughter house. Fred Yopp, a white man, was jointly charged with the offense, house breaking, and there was another case against Cooper for obtaining money by false pretenses.

The evidence was heard and Cooper was held over, but the warrant against Yopp was dismissed.

The case against Buck Lockhart and George Rushing, for murderously assaulting James Kirksey at Stiles some time since, was called in Judge Sanders' court today and the evidence was partially heard. It was then left open until Saturday.

The only witness who was sober at the time of the affray swears that Lockhart struck Kirksey on the head with a bottle, and the others said that he did not. Judge Sanders wants to find out who has sworn falsely.

Frank Campbell, colored, was fined $5 and costs in Judge Sanders' court this morning for using insulting language towards Ella Ford.

A case against Zeno Williams, Levi Trice and Will Childers, for using obscene language on the streets, was dismissed.

A case against Will Taylor for a breach of the peace was continued.
