An Interesting Group of Unique Buildings at the Jamestown Exposition.

The first buildings to be completed at the Jamestown Exposition present a unique group, called the Arts and Crafts Village. In the early colonial days men and women made by hand almost every article which entered into the furnishing of their houses and the providing of their wearing apparel and even for their ornaments. And before the coming of the whites in America the Indians made with their own hands their clothing, cooking utensils, baskets, pottery and objects of ornament for their persons and for their tribes. Some of these things are now worth their weight in gold and are in great demand by those who appreciate things and things artistic.

Perhaps the whites never assimilated the artistic instincts of the Indians in the making of useful objects, or that the artistic ideas of a more civilized race found extension through other mediums. In all events the whites fell short of the Indian in handiwork. Some of the finest specimens of workmanship ever, were produced by the early settlers of America.

While the rudest couches, tables and chairs might suffice for John Bull and his followers, the advent of the gentle woman at Jamestown changed the complexion of things. She created a demand for articles of beauty and art. The manner of making these things and the articles themselves are to be shown at the Jamestown Exposition, in the Arts and Crafts Village.

the cotton was carded, spun and woven into fabrics of varied artistic merit, the work all being done by hand. This was for the summer clothing. Wool was washed, carded and spun and woven into wearing material, also without the aid of machinery. In those days the spinning wheel and the old hand loom were objects of use and not ornament. Hand made carpets of artistic design and superior workmanship were in general use, where the householders were wealthy enough to afford such a luxury. In the Textile Building of the Arts and Crafts Village will be seen this work and the fruits of the old hand loom. Carpets, rugs, blankets, shawls, lindseys, woolseys, towels, cottonades and numerous other articles made from cotton and wool will be made in the olden way at the Jamestown Exposition. The carding room, the spinning room, the weaving room and the dye house will all be as they were in centuries gone by.

Thus, the Jamestown Exposition will interject a phase of the seventeenth century into the twentieth century and will show the changes which three hundred years have made in the mechanical world. What is shown here may inculcate an artistic spirit in modern manufacture and at the same time, teach the user of home made articles the value of them and make him proud of wearing the best that is made.

The Newspaper in Business.

The advertising columns of the newspaper is the bed rock of all business. Your capital may be invested, but who knows it?

The newspaper has seen hundreds of advertising schemes enter the field of business and publicity, and depart: has seen advertisers misuse their appropriation in an unwise manner, and then turn back to the columns of the newspaper, sadder, wiser but more experienced and appreciative of the real method of advertising. In the face of this the newspaper has remained as true and strong as Gibraltar.

And why? Because the people support the newspaper as they do nothing else in the business field.

More different kinds of commercial interests are exploited in the newspaper each year; larger sums are expended, and why? No head of business has the vanity to advertise merely to see his business written, or his name kept before the public. It is solely a question of dollars and cents, for no house can long remain in a systemized manner. Allot a certain amount of money for such publicity, keep it up, keep your business before the public constantly and do not go at it spasmodically, for the public will forget about you between times if you do. It is better to keep an allotted amount of space constantly before the public, than to advertise spasmodically once a month or two months. Days of yore are much different from the present day and time. Now, the man who has anything to offer for sale, who has it a cent cheaper than someone else, and makes the fact known to the public is the man who does the business. He is the man who can do a great deal more of business at a less profit than the man who sells little and makes much profit. Try it, if you are not already doing so.

An Evening in Florida.

The Fulton Leader's report of an entertainment given in honor of Hickman young ladies:

Mrs. Julia Pelham entertained a number of friends Tuesday night complimentary to Misses Amberg, Fuqua, Sebastian, and Hays, who are the pretty guests of Mrs. H. Luten and to Mr. Bennett of Florida. In honor of Mr. Bennett, the entertainment was styled "An evening in Florida." The evening was pleasantly spent in conversation, music and progressive games.

Delicious punch was served by Miss Nell Martin Morris. Refreshments consisted of cream and cake. Those who spent "An evening in Florida" were Misses Irene Amberg, Maybelle Fuqua, Josie Sebastian, Angie Hays, Nell Martin Morris, Jeffie Sellars, Bettie Morris, Carrie Morris, Lizzie Fields, Hettie Fields, Mary Carr, Greta Motter, Levie Fields, and Mrs. Mary Collins Messrs. N. G. Cook, Ed Paschall, R. Freeman, Guy Freeman, J. B. McHenry, Chas. Fowler, C. M. Bilheimer, Milton Paris, Gus Fields, Fred Paschall, R. T. Turpin, Frank Carr, Jas. L. White, Mr. Bennett.

New Grain Company.

Last week the Woodland Grain Company of Woodland Mills, was organized, and the following officers elected: George Dahnke, president and general manager; Jno. Alexander, vice president, Cato Davis, Jr., secretary; S. P. Chandler, treasurer. The incorporators have filed application for a charter, with a capital stock of $9,000. The company acquired title to all the warehouses and corn bins belonging to Cato Davis, and five acres of ground and are prepared to do an extensive grain buying business. The members of the company are all men of well established business ability and enterprise, and beginning business under such happy auspices, the organization is sure of continued success.—Union City Democrat.

THE SMILE

that won't come off, appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face. If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face, Mrs. S. Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and he has not had a sick day since. Sold by Cowgill's Drug Store & Helm & Ellison.

Boys in Poolrooms.

An instance occurred last week in a neighboring town of two boys arraigned in the mayor's court on the charge of fighting in a pool room. One of the boys struck the other with a pool ball—an article justly designated in some states as a deadly weapon—and the boy thus assaulted waylaid his assailant on his way home. Fortunately neither was seriously injured. They were fined $5 each. Application of a fine does not appear to affect them, and it might be that the dread of publication would induce them to live more circumspectly. The writer observed one of the boys mentioned, swaggering from the court room wearing a triumphant grin.

A pool room is a bad place for boys. It is made a sort of rendezvous for children at all ages. When away from parental care they plot all sorts of mischief, which may in time breed crime. The poolroom itself is a legitimate business and rightfully conducted, is a pleasant resort for clean mouthed gentlemen, who may enjoy an hour of relaxation in that manner. But the boys should be eliminated.

Misses Irene Amberg and Maybelle Fuqua, of Hickman; Miss Josie Sebastian, of Martin, and Miss Angie Hays, of Jackson, all of whom have been visiting Dr. and Mrs. H. Luten, returned to their homes last night. These pretty young ladies won many friends in Fulton who will gladly welcome a return visit.

Mrs. Mattie Anderson and Miss Ruth Edwards, of Wingo, are visiting in Hickman.
