MISSION TO BE HELD AT ST. PAUL'S.

The Rev. Edward S. Doan, Rector of St. George's church, of Louisville, who is to conduct a seven day mission at St. Paul's Episcopal church, beginning Monday evening, Nov. 16th, has had a great deal of experience along this line. He has held missions in Ohio, Tennessee, Georgia and Kentucky and has justly earned the title, "the workingman's friend." He preaches a straight-from-the-shoulder message and makes you feel that there is something for you to do in this world that is worth while. The question box is always a most interesting feature and should be used freely at all the services. Write out your questions and place them in the box in the vestibule (no name need be signed). If you want to hear the whole course from beginning to end you should not fail to be out on Monday night of the 16th. It is only the mind tight who cease to learn more and more about God's holy religion. The missioner will be here for a week to preach to open minds and help you get a firmer grasp on things pertaining to eternal life. The subject the first night will be, "Kingdom of God or the Church of God."

REV. H. J. GEIGER RECEIVED HERO MEDAL.

The many friends of Rev. H. J. Geiger, formerly pastor of the Episcopal church in this city, now of Montgomery, Ala., will be pleased to learn that he was awarded a Carnegie hero medal, given in recognition of his service here in 1912 when the levee broke and he did heroic work in rescuing a woman and her few days old baby. As previously told in these columns, he waded water waist deep, in the dark and under most dangerous circumstances, carrying the lady and baby to high ground. He certainly deserved this recognition. Besides the medal, $1,000 went with it. The money Rev. Geiger refused, but the commission learning that he had a baby boy, promptly deposited the check to the youngster's credit as an educational fund.

MENGL BOX CO. RESUMES DAY AND NIGHT RUN.

"Start both mills and run them to their full capacity day and night; we must do our share toward helping the South."

That is not verbatim, but is substantially the text of a telegram received Tuesday afternoon by Col. Walker, local manager of the Mengel Box Co., from Col. C. C. Mengel, at Louisville.

And instructions were carried out yesterday morning. The wheels began to turn and idle and half-time men resumed their work. Since the outbreak of the European war, resulting in a demoralization of business in general, the box factory cut down their operations fully 60 per cent, and many men were thrown out of work. Those who remained on the job got in only eight hours per day. The force was cut from 750 or 800 men to 300 or 350.

The orders to again run the mills to full capacity has had a beneficial effect locally, both from a tangible and moral standpoint. Col. Mengel is acknowledged to be a man of superior business ability; that he sees better times ahead, and is backing his judgment with his vast finances, is a matter of much encouragement to smaller business. The best way to help the South today is for other big men to resume their business operations. Fifty per cent of the existing panicky conditions could be wiped out if there was less croaking and more action. We are worse scared than hurt.

What the South needs today is a few more C. C. Mengels—men with the nerve to take the bull by the horns, and, instead of waiting for it, make opportunity.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The pretty weather for the past few days has enabled the cotton pickers to get in their work. Several planters say they will finish getting out their crops this week.

After adjournment of the lodge Friday night, the Royal Arch Masons of Hickman enjoyed a fine oyster and chicken supper, with all the trimmings, including fruits and nuts, at Frost's Cafe. There were twenty-one members at the spread, and Mr. Frost proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that he is "Johnny on the spot" when it comes to arranging functions of this kind.

It is difficult for S. L. Dodds to stay out of the cotton buying game. He has purchased a few bales this week from Hickman farmers, and in some instances he paid as much as 10c a pound, and in other instances he failed to get the staple after offering the said 10c. While these prices were paid for cotton which graded well it nevertheless indicates that at least one man has faith in the future of the cotton market.

At Louisville the first steps in an investigation to determine whether horse and mule meat is being sold in Louisville under the guise of beef were taken by the Jefferson County Grand Jury and the local Board of Health. The grand jury indicted one butcher on the technical charge of unlawfully selling misbranded articles and the Board of Health behind closed doors heard testimony of twelve butchers and dealers in an effort to learn how widespread the practice had been.

It was our pleasure to attend Fulton county's fair, held at Hickman last Saturday, and attended by hundreds of citizens from all over the county, who have the interests of our schools at heart. Frankly, we were surprised; and doubtless, that moving spirit of the affair, Miss Virginia Lutten, county superintendent, who has worked so faithfully and earnestly for its success, as well as all matters pertaining to the betterment of the schools, was agreeably surprised. If "by their works ye shall know them," Fulton county certainly has a bright, ingenious, skillful lot of youngsters. The large corridors of the courthouse were crowded with cleverly designed and practical samples of work, including sewing, drawing, woodwork, cooking, preserving, and the kindred arts, which are an essential part of the accomplishments of a useful, frugal, high class citizenship. In addition to these, there were excellent papers written by our young superiors (and this is said truthfully) on sanitation, remarkably interesting produce and county maps, splendid specimens of penmanship, good singing, etc. In short, these fairs must be made an annual thing. They are interesting, educational, far-reaching and it will not be many years until we shall see tangible results. Furthermore, they will create greater interest on the part of parents in educational affairs—and this is an essential to successful school work. The social feature is good; the athletic contests were enjoyable and wholesome amusement. The school fair brings together young and old, parent and teacher, and in a way that makes for further advancement in the most valuable asset that we could possibly possess—a citizenship of refined, educated, moral, progressive people. Let's make the school fair even bigger and better next year.

The streets of Hickman, taken as a whole, are now in better shape than we've ever seen them before. True, considerable surfacing could be done to a good advantage, but Chairman Isler, who has been looking after this work, informs us that last Monday he ordered a curtailment of street improvement in order to cut down expenses. The city fathers are anxious to get in shape to pay off their outstanding warrants. This is good business. Unfortunately, the city's paper has been subjected to a big discount of late, notwithstanding the fact a major portion of the taxes have just been collected. The depleted condition of the treasury can easily be traced to the expense of an unusually large amount of graveling and general street improvement. As the highways are now in condition to stand up under the bad weather, the work will stop, and funds heretofore used for that purpose will go to cutting down the city's debts.

Miss Andry Campbell, of the Liberty neighborhood, and Justice Pewett, of Palestine neighborhood, drove over to Union City and were married Sunday afternoon. The young couple both came from prominent families. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Campbell and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Pewett.

Perry Selby, wife and children, who started from St. Louis to Hickman last week in their car, to visit F. E. Case and wife, were compelled to turn back at Cape Girardeau, on account of bad roads. They have deferred their trip indefinitely.
