CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

The Parliament house at Quebec, Canada, was burned on the 19th inst. There are 90,000 preachers in the United States and 540,000 barkeepers. Timothy Kelly, another of the Phoenix Park murderers, is on trial at Dublin. Three-fourths of the towns in Illinois voted in favor of licensing drain shops. The cowboys of Texas are on a strike for a raise of wages from $20 to $50 per month. The arguments of counsel in the Star-Route trial at Washington are progressing. The Scott liquor law has passed the Ohio Legislature, taxing liquor dealers $200 a year. Heavy floods in Wisconsin and Iowa did considerable damage to railways and other property. The United States Attorney-General is to close for the Government in the Star Route trial. Seven hundred U. S. recruits are on their way to the department of Arizona and New Mexico. It is likely that the coronation of the Czar of Russia will be postponed until the 10th of June. The statue of Prof. Henry, the first director of the Smithsonian Institute, has been unveiled. It is expected that 1,000 delegates will attend the Irish Convention in Philadelphia next Thursday. Fifty persons were arrested at Odessa, Russia, and twenty are to be tried by a military tribunal. The count of the cash in the U. S. Treasury was finished on Thursday and the coin found to be correct. George Scheuller, accused of setting fire to the Newhall Hotel, was acquitted by the jury at Milwaukee. The French troops captured Porte-Negro, on the Congo river in Africa, after a feeble resistance by the natives. Edwin Booth, the great American actor, ended a brilliant engagement at Vienna, Austria, on the 18th inst. The Eads ship railway across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec has not been abandoned as many suppose. Government Supervising Architect Hill is to be tried at Washington for corruption, fraud and general extravagance. A sudden flood in the Yopohio river in Mexico, drowned a number of people and swept away much valuable property. Queen Victoria wrote the obituary notice of John Brown, her faithful body servant, that appeared in Court Circular. The police of New York made a general raid on the gamblers, and captured $15,000 worth of gambling tools in one night. Eighteen nihilists were convicted at St. Petersburg. Six were sentenced to death and the others to banishment to Siberia. Germany has two army corps and six divisions of Imperial cavalry ready to cross the French frontier at three days notice. The Japanese are experiencing trouble with their national paper currency, which is becoming a worthless representative of money. The village of Oakville on the Canadian side of Lake Erie was entirely destroyed by fire on the 18th. Loss estimated at $150,000. At Boston the Tewksbury almshouse investigation develops a horrible state of the treatment of the paupers at that institution. James Marshall & Co., iron pipe manufacturers at Pittsburg, have failed with liabilities amounting to $1,000,000. Assets, $1,600,000. Seventy-five per cent of the dead paupers of Chicago are sold to the medical colleges, and money is made in this reprehensible manner. If the black Emperor of Annam refuses the demands of France, gunboats and troops will be sent to bring the colored heathen to terms. Curley, the second man tried at Dublin for the murder of Cavendish and Burke, was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged on May 18th. Parnell, the Irish agitator, wired Mooney, the President of the Irish Land League, that he would not be able to come to America until next autumn. A St. Paul dispatch says that large slaughter houses are to be erected along the Yellowstone to provide Montana dressed beef for the Eastern markets. Freeman, the Massachusetts fanatic who sacrificed his little daughter as a burnt offering, has been pronounced sane, and will be tried at Boston for murder. The U. S. Supreme court has rendered a decision on one of the Chicago "grain margin suits" in favor of the plaintiffs, compelling payment in fulfillment of a contract. The centennial celebration of Washington's army rejoicing over the cessation of hostilities was observed at West Point on the 19th, by the firing of cannon and a military parade. At Martin's Ferry, West Virginia, a schoolmaster, named Griffith, undertook to flog a fifteen-year-old pupil when the boy turned loose and almost beat the life out of his teacher.

GLEANINGS FROM THE ROCKIES.

Placer mining along Snake River, Idaho, is very prosperous. District Court commenced at Salmon City on last Monday. Utah potatoes are selling in Wood River at four cents per pound. An Indian was killed last Saturday at Ross Fork, Idaho, by being crushed under a Utah & Northern train. Mrs. Martha A. Isatt, of Logan City, U. T., committed suicide by taking strychnine last week. She was of unsound mind. Two marriages between Indian pupils attending the Indian training school at Forest Grove, Or., occurred a few days ago. There are about 600 Indians on the Duck Valley Reservation in Nevada. They engage principally in agricultural pursuits. Dixon and Wise, the Seattle robbers recently extradited from British Columbia after much difficulty, have pleaded guilty. Ogden is at the present time overrun with sneak thieves and dead beats, who doubtless steal more property than most people are aware of. Congressman Cassidy, of Nevada, has given the appointment of cadet to West Point to General Conner's son Edward, a young man of promise. Two prospectors, while prospecting in the desert on the borders of Inyo county, (Cal.) discovered eight human skeletons, probably victims of an Indian fight. The Union Pacific within the past two years has added to its branch system, including the Oregon Short Line, 340 miles of track, all of it paying handsomely. The Eastern Idaho Stock Growers' Association held a meeting in Blackfoot on Monday last, but did not complete all the business that was brought before the meeting. Orders have been received to sell all the buildings belonging to the post at Fort Hall on the 30th of this month. The military will leave as soon as the sale takes place. At Lake City, Colorado, the jury in the case of Alfred G. Packer, charged with murdering his five companions, in the San Juan country in 1873, returned a verdict of guilty. It is thought of sufficient importance to send telegrams all over the world, every day, about the condition of Queen Victoria's knee. The old lady can't walk yet, but her knee is mending. A large depot and eating house is being erected at Pocatello, Idaho, to accommodate travel over the Oregon Short Line and Utah & Northern, that being the crossing of the two roads. On the 9th inst., at Bay Horse, Idaho, a stick of giant powder exploded in the hands of John Metters. Metters was fixing a cap in the stick of powder. Both hands were blown off at the wrist. Mrs. Robinson, wife of the Baptist minister of Socorro, N. M., was arrested on a warrant sworn out by John Scott before Justice Reale, charging her with an attempt to take his life with an ax. Charles Mc Donald entered the Catholic church at Ogden last week, by breaking in, and stole therefrom the silver service. He was arrested, and the property was found in his possession. He confessed to the crime. Seven Chinamen were formally admitted to membership in the First Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, Cal. After answering the usual questions through an interpreter they knelt at the chancel railing and were baptized. At Stockton, Cal., on the 16th inst., Hy. Emil Johnson and James Donnelly met in a grocery and fought with knives, each killing the other. The trouble grew out of a dispute about the safe of a wagon. Both were stabbed in the breast. General O. O. Howard made the last treaty with the Chiricahua Indians, now raiding in Arizona. He did it as he said, "by the grace of God and prayer." All the parties to the treaty except the Indians appear to have been badly left. About 200 men and a large number of teams are employed in laying track between Salt Lake and Ogden, on the Denver and Rio Grande, and the road is being completed at the rate of over a mile per day. The grading is nearly completed. On the 2nd inst. Ricardo Boca, a Justice of the Peace, lay in wait in a wood near San Antonio, N. M., for Patricio Boca and wounded him with an ax. The victim died from the wound. The cause of the murder was a quarrel about a woman and as the murderer is a wealthy man it is feared he will escape punishment. General Crook, who has been down in Mexico to consult with the Mexican military officers regarding the action against the Indians, considers the situation serious, and says no reports of what the Mexican troops have done have been allowed to gain publicity; but they have killed a good many Apaches, and have not spared either women nor children. The Safest Way. The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balm, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

The Apache Indians.

A Tucson Star special from California Basin, Arizona, says some prospectors were chased within three miles of that place on the 17th, by Apaches. The town is surrounded by camp fires, and signaling has been going on all day in the neighboring mountains. The citizens are mounted waiting the attack. A special train from Camp Huachila is coming with troops. Capt. Black, the ranger, has arrived. He says he traced the Indians who killed Judge McComas and wife into the Sierra Madre Mountains, in Chihuahua. The scout got in sight of their camp in a deep canyon and counted 62 warriors. He also perceived a large amount of plunder and many animals. Captain Black feasted to make an attack as the rangers numbered but twenty. The El Paso Times says editorially: General Crook will have supreme command of both the American and Mexican troops; he will enlist 150 San Carlos Apaches to move to Sonora. A vigorous campaign will be immediately commenced. Both American and Mexican officers believe that annihilation only will make peace possible. Mormon Tithing. The Salt Lake Tribune, in a bit of friendly talk to the brethren of the Church, makes the diabolical suggestion that they try the experiment of demanding a commission of experts to overhaul the accounts of the Apostles and make a statement of the expenditure of the $5,000,000 gathered in tithes in five years. The Gentle newspaper declares that such an examination would break the Church in pieces, and it shows that the entire concern is a money-making machine for the priests. There is no question of the truth of what this outspoken journal says, but it must be galling to the leaders to see it put in this plain, unvarnished style. Perhaps the next thing they may hear is that the Mormons have secured a press-gang law. Railway Work Stopped. The O. S. L. Company has withdrawn all the men and suspended operations on the line of the road west from Shoshone. This action, if not temporary, will send adrift many hundred men in almost destitute circumstances. The object of suspending the work is not stated, but it is believed to be due to the recent combination of interest by the Central Pacific, Southern Pacific, and Oregon Railway & Navigation companies, which may compel the Oregon Short Line to take a new departure. Good Advice. You will prevent and cure the greater part of ills that affect mankind in this or any other section, if you keep your stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no medicine known that does this as surely as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It will keep your blood rich, and pure, and give you good health at little cost. See other column. How She Saved Her Darling. "I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health."—Brooklyn Mother. Why Welcome. What makes Floreston Cologne welcome on every lady's toilet table is its lasting fragrance and rich flowery odor.

SANDS & BOYCE.

THE PAST AND PRESENT—PLAIN FACTS. We have never experienced any "dull times" since we've been in business in this city, but our business was never so active at this season as now. We are busy in every department, but particularly so in our departments of carpets, wall paper, suits, wraps and dress-goods. As a matter of fact we have sold forty-seven carpets within the past week, many of which were shipped by express and otherwise to different parts of the Territory, and many of them were fine Wilton, moquette, velvet and Brussels. And, within the time mentioned, we believe we have sold more wall paper than during any other like period since we have been in business. We mention this as a matter of business, for it is certainly undoubted evidence of the fact that our manner of doing business, is such as meets with a more friendly recognition by the public than is common; and, that our prices are as reasonable, if not more so, than generally prevail. As a rule the merchants of this country strive to obtain the highest possible prices for what they sell but we are always striving to see how low we can sell. We are probably just as anxious to make money as they are and we may succeed as well, though we employ different methods. Low prices together with a critical observance of straightforward business principles constitute the only sure basis for the development of a large and prosperous business; and such a business will yield a better return than a small business conducted on the "high-priced system." It is true that in a new country like this, it is very common for merchants to do a big business and amass a big fortune on the "high-priced system" but it's because their patrons can't better themselves. Such a condition of affairs, however, is fast disappearing and these high-priced merchants must soon see their business gradually drift away into the hands of men of more liberal and progressive views. Taking the view of business that we do, and faithfully observing it in practice as we do, it is but natural that trade should flow to us with an unusual rapidity, and that we should experience just such busy times as the present. ADVERTISING. We believe in judicious advertising and we probably do more of it than any other business in the Territory. Some say it's too expensive and that the customers of a house must pay for it. There is this, however, about it: The increase of business which judicious advertising will bring, will not only pay its cost but will enable a merchant to sell his goods at a closer profit because of said increase. Some merchants, however, advertise extensively but don't do what they promise in their advertisements. That sort of advertising is "money thrown away" and it causes people to lose confidence in every advertisement. We have made a success of advertising simply because we have tried to be honest in the statements which they have embodied and their truthfulness has been recognized. If a house indulges in sham advertising—and many do—you soon find it out. You may be deceived once, but not the second time by the same game. This has been sort of a general talk and we haven't said a word yet, about any particular goods we are offering and as we haven't much space left we will leave that till next time. We will be pleased to send you samples of wall paper, dress-goods, etc. Ready-made suits and wraps for ladies, misses and children will be sent on approval. Write us. Very respectfully, SANDS & BOYCE. Butte City, Mont., April 19, 1883. N. B.—We have a full line of samples of wall paper and borders on exhibition at the Post Office Variety Store (P. O. V. S.) in Dillon, and all orders placed with the proprietor thereof, will receive our best attention. We have only one price for any certain grade and that he will give you. S & B. JOB PRINTING.
