Works for the Reduction of Ores.

The San Francisco Mining and Scientific Press, in discussing the propriety of erecting works for the reduction of ores at points like Dillon, says: "The establishment of smelting works, ore samplers, and mills at various points along railroad routes is one of the industries now being inaugurated which is destined to work great good to the mining interests. There are many localities, where men have been at work, where their efforts have long been retarded by lack of means of reduction for their ores. Miners in small camps have been unable to work their ores to advantage, and left mines idle which would pay good profit. Custom mills, with no competition and no stamps, when men could get nowhere else, have been apt to get the most of the yield of the work, leaving the miner out in the cold. The fact of there being a market for ores in any region is greatly to its advantage. Men of limited means, with an opportunity of disposing of their ores, can do profitable work, where heretofore they have struggled along for years. Capitalists are seeing that there is a chance for investment in these works and an opportunity also of getting hold of good claims at reasonable prices. We hear of sampling works being contemplated at several points where ore purchasers and miners will be accommodated. The mining community will be greatly benefited when such establishments become still more numerous. An opportunity to come into the market with ores is all many of the miners want, and thousands of new mines will be opened and old ones more thoroughly developed."

Disruptive Fire at Miles City.

A fire broke out in the Cosmopolitan Theater, on Main street, Miles City, on last Sunday morning and in a few moments the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to extinguish them. The theater in a short time was a mass of flames. Next the flames fell upon a row of three small buildings occupied by Merritts as a lunch counter, Brown's tobacco store, and Bishop's Side Board saloon. These were quickly consumed. The fire quickly spread to the next building, which was known as "Flick's" gambling hall, owned by Chas. Bishop. This building being of pine logs, gave out a great heat and the fire gained so much strength that the block at one time was given up for gone. From this building it spread to the large and handsome store of Basinski & Bros., stationery and general dealers, and in a few moments what was a magnificent store was a total wreck. The next building to succumb was the drug store of W. E. Savage & Co., a large two-story frame building adjoining the First National Bank. It was also quickly destroyed, and by the frantic efforts of the citizens the fire was here stopped. The bank building being of brick interposed as a barrier to the further advance of the fire. The loss is estimated at various figures, by some as high as $100,000. The insurance is considerable and may amount to about $50,000, mostly in the Phoenix, Liverpool, London and Globe and Aetna companies.

The Western Railway War.

The fight between the Union Pacific road on the one hand, and the Denver & Rio Grande, Burlington and Atchison roads on the other, still continues. The latter lines present through travelers with free tickets to Denver and Leadville and return. The Union Pacific Tuesday sent word to Chicago that it could not be outdone by the rival lines, and gave notice that passengers holding first-class tickets to the East, over the Union Pacific Railway, on presenting them at the depot ticket office at Ogden, will be furnished with a check for free transportation to Salt Lake City and return, and giving their patrons an opportunity to visit the City of Mormons, with but little loss of time, arriving at Ogden at 7 o'clock in the morning, thence to Salt Lake to see that wonder by daylight, taking the 6:30 o'clock evening train, same day, in through Pullman cars direct to Omaha and Kansas City, via Denver, without change.

Commissioner McFarland's Circular.

Another circular has been issued by Commissioner McFarland, of the General Land office, to registers and receivers of United States land offices and special agents, calling their attention to the unlawful enclosure of public lands and directing them to promptly report the number and extent of all such cases, with the corroboration and evidence that they may be transmitted to the Chief Justice. The circular concludes as follows: "This department has no authority to remove fences or prosecute trespassers, and when cases have been reported to the department of justice for appropriate action the duty of this department is performed, and its jurisdiction ceases."

The Presidential Party.

The Presidential party will leave Rollins on the Union Pacific the 3d of August. It will consist of President Arthur, Governor Crosby, of Montana; Secretary Lincoln, General Sheridan, Chancellor Rollins, of New York, and Senator Vest. They will travel over the mountains from Wyoming to the Yellowstone Park, and then east over the Northern Pacific.

Utah as a collection district is now wiped out. Hereafter we shall know it as the District of Montana. And thus we progress in the Kingdom of God like a crawfish, says the Salt Lake Tribune.

The school trustees of Eagle Rock, Idaho, report 188 scholars with a total population of 601 in the district, and they intend to have school commence about the first of August.

A shooting affray took place at Bullion, Idaho, last Wednesday, between two miners named Burke and Scadden, neither of whom are seriously hurt, but a bystander named Pat Elynes was shot in the mouth and probably fatally injured.

Bannack Jim, a Bannack Indian, convicted of an assault on a teamster at Fort Hall Reservation in Oneida county, Idaho, in 1877, before the breaking out of the Bannack Indian war, with intent to murder, and sent up for twelve years, died in the Boise penitentiary last Sunday evening of consumption.

A big oak tree on Chilco creek, Cal., is twenty-seven feet in circumference, stands about 100 feet high and spreads its branches over a circle of 100 feet in diameter. The drooping branches nearly touch the ground on all sides.

Washington Territory is looming up in its rapidly increasing commerce. It will send abroad this year 335,000,000 feet of lumber, 200,000 tons of coal, 200,000 pounds of hops, 200,000 cases of salmon, 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, 3,000,000 bushels of oats, 100,000 bushels of potatoes, and 2,500,000 pounds of wool.

The Plute Indians on the Pyramid Lake Reservation in Nevada have dug five miles of ditch for irrigating purposes this year. They will raise 1,000 bushels of wheat this summer. A number of the children are attending the boarding school which was begun last fall by direction of the Government.

The Elko (Nev.) Independent says: Six ranchers of Spring Valley, White Pine county, named P. Flannigan, Patrick Keelan, Dan Simonson, Jacob Cameron, John Ogers and M. E. Bassett, have been arrested, charged with the lynching and murder of R. C. O'Neil, at Osceola, and held under bonds of $3,000 each. A preliminary examination will be held August 15th, at Hamilton. Eight others are suspected of complicity and will be arrested. Eminent counsel have been employed by O'Neil's sons to assist in the prosecution. The case excites unusual interest. Nearly all those accused of the murder are well-to-do farmers.

Bouncing Conductors.

The Ogden Pilot says that an extraordinary hubbub is being created among the train men of the Union Pacific Railway. No less than eight conductors on freight trains and three passenger conductors have been relieved from duty within the last few days. Several train baggage men expect promotions to that of freight conductors, and the passenger trains are being supplied from the ranks of freight conductors. The system the railroad company has adopted for purifying their service seems to be a very radical one, and some of the men have expressed themselves as hardly feeling secure in their places "without stealing." Whether the efficiency of the service will be improved or not, remains to be seen. Some of the employees have expressed the belief that it will be seriously crippled.

Black Measles.

A Baltimore, Maryland, special to the Chicago Times says: The black measles is raging at the St. Mary's industrial school, a reformatory institution for boys, located a few miles from this city, and during the past four days ten deaths have occurred from that cause. The disease was brought into the institution by James Stanton, one of the inmates, who visited a neighboring village a few days ago. About fifteen of the boys are now prostrated with it, and twelve of them cannot recover. It is feared that the disease will run through all the inmates, with a fatal effect in many cases, as it is of a most malignant type. The city health officers have been called on to take charge of the institution until the disease is eradicated.
