

SOME SINNERS

Transgressors Who Were Before Judge Sullivan

GALENA DIVE ROBBERY

A Young Engineer Was Touched for $122—Mercury Street Fighters—Man Locked out His Host.

"French May," a Galena street vampire, was before Judge Sullivan this morning. She is charged with conducting a house of prostitution, to which she entered a plea of not guilty, and her case will be heard tomorrow afternoon. The cause of her arrest, however, is that she is accused by James Rosseau, a young civil engineer, of having robbed him of $122 early yesterday morning. It seems that Rosseau went off at a tangent Saturday night and early Sunday morning was so beastly drunk that it was necessary to arrest him. At the station he told the officers that he had been robbed, but at that time was too drunk to give any intelligent description of the woman who had separated him from his money. Later, when he was sober, he told his tale of woe, which was to the effect that he came to town Saturday from his brother's ranch, which is 20 miles out in the country, and when he started in to do the town had $122 in his possession. He met French May, who took him to her room upstairs at No. 47 East Galena street, and when he came out of the place he found that his money was gone.

Blanche Stone and Delia Smith, belligerent Mercury street Amazons, were charged with fighting. The Stone woman, whose numerous arrests have brought wisdom unto her, pleaded guilty and was fined $10. Delia Smith entered a plea of not guilty and will be tried tomorrow afternoon. The Stone woman and a girl named Laura Hood live in the same house, and the "secretaries" of the Hood girl and Delia Smith are brothers. At the instigation of Blanche, Miss Hood gave her lover his time check, and when Delia Smith made overtures to the Hood girl looking to a reconciliation between the girl and her lover Blanche interposed and a fight resulted, during the progress of which the Smith woman was decidedly worsted.

Nick P. Hay, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was fined $10. Hay took a young woman, who lives at the home of her brother-in-law, to a dance Saturday night, and on their return they locked out the girl's brother-in-law. He was so incensed over the episode that he caused Hay's arrest, and as a gun was found on him, a charge of carrying concealed weapons was booked against him. Joe Barra, charged with creating a disturbance in Pleasant alley, pleaded guilty and was fined $10, and Dan Kellar and Andrew Vermont, charged with drunkenness, were fined $5 each.

THE JABBER JABBED.

He was one of those friends who, when they visit a circus, think they are not getting their money's worth unless they "sit up the animals, in spite of printed warnings to visitors not to disturb them. He had come to town to take in Ringling Brothers' circus. He wore store clothes and a chunk of glass in his shirt bosom as large as a marble. He said it was a real diamond that he had "done paid $3.75 cash fur at Hey Strunk's store." He picked out a big ostrich for a victim, and the weapon he used to strike it was the usual one—the family umbrella. The ostrich stood it very well for a time, and then decided that the fun was too one-sided. He advanced to the front of the cage threateningly, but the "jabber" saw that the eyes of the populace were upon him, and he had to show he "wasn't afraid of the blamed old overgrown goose." He jabbed again, and the ostrich took a peck at him. When the "jabber" recovered from his surprise he found his "diamond" was gone. The ostrich, which digests glass, marbles and scrap iron more easily than human beings do mince pies and doughnuts, had swallowed it. The "jabber" appealed to the management for redress. He wanted $3.75, but was willing to take the amount in circus tickets. As he had broken the rules of the show and invited the trouble, his claim was not considered, but a compromise was effected by which the man who was held up by the ostrich was allowed to stay for the concert without the customary fee.

COURT NOTES.

George W. Baldwin filed a suit against John C. Moebus and Martin Carlson in the district court today. In his complaint he alleges that last year he painted a house for Carlson, in Noyes & Up-ton's addition, and was to be paid $137 for it but up to the present he has received only $25. Moebus is made a defendant because he lives in the house.

Judge Pemberton, Samuel W. Mulhille and J. J. Haggerty, commissioners appointed by Judge Lindsay to appraise the value of some property in Noyes & Up-ton's addition, belonging to William Winters, filed their report today. The amount is placed at $1,500. The city desires to use the ground.

Judge Clancy has heard the arguments over the demurrer to the answer in the $5,000 damage suit brought by John Duffy against John J. Haggerty, D. J. Honnessy and Marcus Daly, and taken the matter under advisement. The answer was made by Messrs. Daly and Honnessy, and presented to the court by Attorney J. K. McDonald. Duffy alleges in his complaint that he was injured in the Hale house fire, and it was due to the failure of the defendants to comply with a law enacted in 1885 compelling owners and lessees of public houses of more than two stories to provide with a fire escape each room on the floors above the ground story. In the argument the constitutionality of the law was attacked.

Judge Clancy today vacated the setting in the suit of Charles F. Booth vs. Mrs. Annie Fisher Edwards and others. The action involves title to the Ironclad lode claim.

In the proceedings brought by Ella Herne to compel her husband, Phillip Herne, to pay her alimony, Daniel Young, attorney for the defendant, asked Judge Lindsay today for a continuance on the ground that he had not had time to communicate with Herne, who is on his ranch on Park county, and the request was granted, the matter going over until Thursday.

HAVILAND'S BOND FORFEITED.

Kenneth Haviland was to have had his preliminary hearing in Justice Harrington's court this afternoon. Haviland is the man who, the authorities have good reason to believe, burglarized the stockroom of the I. A. Heilbronner cigar store several weeks ago, and who took away about $1,000 worth of cigars, and for which he was arrested and at his arraignment pleaded not guilty and arranged to furnish bonds. His bond was fixed at $1,000, and his sureties were Charles Schatzlein, his employer, and Mrs. J. H. Butler.

The ink of the signatures of the bond was hardly dry when Haviland admitted his guilt by taking French leave, and when the case came up for preliminary examination the culprit was conspicuous by his absence. The hearing was continued until a later date, when it was again continued until this afternoon, in order to allow the bondsmen an opportunity to locate Haviland, but of no avail.

At today's session, when the matter was called up, Deputy County Attorney Roy S. Alley moved that the bond be declared forfeited and the court made an order in conformity with the attorney's motion.

THE COPPER MARKET.

The copper stocks showed a little life today and the trading in shares was evidently very active. Boston & Montana, however, was down to $255, reaching $337 during the day. Butte & Boston was quoted at $74 bid and $78 asked. Parrot reached $52½, but dropped to $51 at the close. Utah Con was firm, reaching $42½ and closing at $42¼.

Other quotations were: Mohawk, $25; Osceola, $34; Tamarack, $205 bid, $210 asked.

WILL GO TO WASHINGTON.

Congressman Campbell has appointed Charles H. Little as his private secretary. Mr. Little is a well known young attorney of this city, who has served Butte one term as assistant city attorney, and prior to his admission to the bar was stenographer in Department I of the district court. Mr. Little's appointment will occasion pleasure to a host of interested friends.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

A warrant was issued in Judge Harrington's court this morning for the arrest of John Sullivan, on a charge of malicious mischief. The complainant is Mrs. E. Cronin, who conducts a little store at No. 411 North Main street. Among other things she sells fireworks, and she asserts that Sullivan threw a light match into a lot of fireworks, which exploded and came near burning up the building and stock.

HELENA GETS IT

Edwin S. Butcher Will Go to West Point.

WON BY SHEER MERIT

And Will Receive the Appointment—John Corrette, a Butte Boy, is His Alternate.

The fortunate young man who will, in all probability, represent Montana at the National Military academy at West Point for the next four years is young Edwin S. Butcher of Helena. John Corrette, a Butte youth, is young Butcher's alternate, and in the event of his principal's failure to pass certain examinations provided for by the army regulations, will be privileged to take his place.

The committee appointed by Congressman Campbell to conduct the examination, mental and physical, of the ambitious young aspirants to the West Point cadetship comprised Captain D'Gay Stivers, Dr. Campbell and Professor McKay. The examination was held about six weeks ago and twenty Montana youths met in competition for the cadetship. The examination was of a most rigid character, and the committee made its report to Congressman Campbell this morning, recommending Butcher for the appointment and Corrette as alternate. It is understood that Butcher stood highest in both the academic and physical examinations, and that the Butte boy was a close second to the victor.

Congressman Campbell informed an Inter Mountain reporter this afternoon that in accordance with the recommendation of the examining committee, he would appoint Butcher to the cadetship.

While the young aspirant for service with the soldiery of Uncle Sam has reason to feel elated over his first victory, there are several severe ordeals to undergo before he will find himself an inmate of the famous military school. Congressman Campbell will forward to the secretary of war a recommendation that he be appointed to the vacancy. The secretary will make the appointment and designate a time and place for the applicant to appear before a board of army officers, who will pass upon his fitness for the place, and should the report of this board be favorable, the candidate will next be required to appear before the faculty at West Point for final examination, and should he be successful he then is admitted to the school. In the event of his failure to pass either of these examinations his alternate is then given the appointment.

Young Corrette, who won the alternate cadetship in a junior of the Butte high school, and is a stepson of A. H. Jones, a commission merchant of this city.

Montana Men Promoted.

Special to the Inter Mountain.

Helena, June 26.—The death of James W. Drennan, major of the First Montana regiment of volunteers, and the resignation of Lieutenant S. A. J. Dorn as first lieutenant of Company K, resulted in Governor Smith today making some appointments that will interest the many friends and relatives of the parties affected. As successor to the gallant Major Drennan, Governor Smith names Captain James Keown of Company C, Lieutenant W. J. Bradshaw of Company L, succeeds Captain Keown. Fred Yaeger is made first lieutenant, succeeding Bradshaw. Arthur O'Leary, second lieutenant of that company, succeeding Lieutenant Dorn, resigned. Archie Levan is appointed second lieutenant, to succeed O'Leary, and Arthur W. Church of Company L, is promoted to second lieutenant, to succeed Fred Yaeger. As Lieutenant Dorn's resignation was made effective by the war department on July 2, the changes resulting from his retiring from the service will not take effect until that date, and the governor's appointments in that particular are not effective until July 3. The governor wires the adjutant general to know if appointments can be made.

No Nomination Yet.

Louisville, Ky., June 26.—When the democratic state convention was called to order this morning the three cornered fight for the gubernatorial nomination was apparently no nearer settlement than on Saturday. Conferences lasting until long after midnight failed to bring any two of the candidates nearer together. Many delegates have gone home.

The convention today was thrown into a turmoil over the question of removal of policemen from the hall, it being referred they were present for other reasons than to keep order. The chairman ruled that the police should remain and a dozen Stone and Hardin leaders rushed to the chairman, made frantic appeals for justice and fairness and declared the ballot should not proceed until their appeal from the decision of the chair was put to the house.

At this juncture a note was handed to Chairman Redwine and he sat down to read it. Again the delegates became wildly excited. "What does your boss say?" "Read it out," they yelled at the top of their voices. The note was handed to the clerk. It proved to be a note from the printer in regard to a shortage of tally sheets.

The chairman made another attempt to have the roll called on nomination for governor, but the opposition created such disorder the clerk could not be heard. Then came a deafening chorus of singing yells. After several minutes of this pandemonium a facetious delegate arose. "Gentlemen," he said, "there seems to be a general disposition to sing. Why not sing together? Let us sing 'Praise be to God, From Whom All Blessings Flow.' A wave of laughter swept through the hall, then all caught up the strain and the hymn was sung, but sacred music never had a less soothing influence. It gave way to the old chorus of disorder, and another attempt to start was howled down.

At this juncture a delegate rushed toward the stage. Immediately in front of the chairman stood a line of blue-coats. The excited delegate began to denounce the police, chairman and things generally. An officer laid his hand on the offender's shoulder. The convention arose as one man and a dangerous movement to the front of the house began. Every delegate was on his feet and wildly excited. This gesticulating, noisy mass surged forward, pushing back the police and crowding them against the stage. The police, who had been stoically listening to all sorts of denunciation for hours, evidently took the matter seriously. One of them, Capt. Maher, pulled his revolver. His intention was probably to protect Chairman Redwine, who had made his way to the rear of the stage. At any rate, the crowd did not catch sight of it, or the convention might have developed what had been momentarily feared for a week—a general fight. The cause of the disturbance removed, comparative silence, that was not deathlike, was restored.

SUPREME COURT

Cotter Insurance Case Will be Tried Again.

LOWER COURT REVERSED

Because It Failed to Admit Some Offering of the Defendant—Harrison Gets New Trial.

Special to the Inter Mountain.

Helena, Mont., June 26.—The supreme court decided two appeals from Silver Bow county today, both of which were reversed. The famous case of Mary Cotter vs. the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., of Montana, to recover $2,000 insurance held by her father, Daniel Cotter, at the time of his death in September, 1895, which resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the lower court, will have to be tried again. The lower court is reversed principally because of its refusal to admit the offering of defendant that plaintiff failed to obey the rules of the society requiring that an appeal be taken to the arbitration committee of the grand lodge when the finance committee has rejected a claim, before seeking redress at law. Cotter had been suspended for non-payment of dues, and plaintiff commenced action at law without first resorting to appeals in the various tribunals of the society before bringing an action in court. "In excluding the offer to show that plaintiff never demanded a hearing or offered to submit her claim to the board of arbitration, the court erred to the prejudice of an opinion," says the supreme court in an opinion by Justice Pigott.

The whole court unites in an opinion reversing Judge Clancy in the case of the state vs. Martin Harrison, convicted of robbery, because of an error in refusing the request of defendant to give instruction upon the presumption of innocence.
