RAILROAD RUMOR

New York Central is Buying up Other Roads.

A MEETING OF MAGNATES

Is Being Held in New York With a Number of Presidents of Western Lines in Attendance—A Gigantic Scheme Planned.

New York, June 28.—Important conferences of railroad managers are in progress in this city. Among those now here are William K. Vanderbilt, Samuel R. Callaway, president of the New York Central; President Newman of the Lake Shore; President Ledyard of the Michigan Central; President Coffey of the Nickel Plate; President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania; Norman B. Ream of Chicago; James J. Hill of the Great Northern; and Oscar G. Murray and John K. Cowen of the Baltimore & Ohio. It is said the westerners have come here to meet and consult with J. Pierpont Morgan and other prominent financiers in Wall street, and many important changes in railroad management are looked for as a result of the gathering.

Interest seems to center upon the Vanderbilt lines, and the belief is growing that not only is the Boston & Albany to come into the New York Central's control, but step by step other consolidations of that system with roads in New England are to take place. The present plan contemplates the final absorption by the New York Central of the Boston & Albany, the Boston & Maine, the Fitchburg, the Maine Central and tributary lines. Already the Lake Shore, the Michigan Central, the West Shore and the Nickel Plate have been taken by the New York Central. Despite denial, there is abundant substantiation in trustworthy places of a report that the Big Four and the Chesapeake & Ohio, as well as the Chicago & Northwestern, the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line are to be consolidated with the Central. It takes time to accomplish these tremendous tasks, but the plan is matured and as fast as the transactions can be accomplished the scheme of consolidation is being worked out. The ultimate disposition of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, so an important railroad official said, will be to incorporate it in the New York Central. The New Haven, it is known, wanted to lease certain parts of the Boston & Albany, which adjoined its territory, while there was a hitch over the terms the Central has, if these reports are true, stepped in and taken all. It is known that negotiations are under way to buy the New Haven and New York Central by a consolidation of parties, and it is generally believed that the New Haven in the end will come into the hands of the New York Central.

Famous Murder Trial.

El Paso, Tex., June 28.—The trial of Mrs. Mattie Rich has begun before the United States commissioner here today to determine whether or not she shall be surrendered to the Mexican authorities for trial at Juarez on the charge of murdering her husband there last April. John Rich, an American citizen, was mysteriously shot in Juarez. He was brought to El Paso in a hack next morning by his wife, and died a few days later as a result of his wounds. Mexico made application for the extradition of the woman, who is also an American citizen, and the case has aroused widespread interest on account of its peculiar features and the fact that it is the first extradition case under the neutrality agreement. Rich made an ante-mortem statement in which he said his wife shot him, and this was placed in evidence. The surgeon also testified and the proceedings of the Juarez court which investigated the killing were introduced. Today Mrs. Rich will testify in her own behalf. The dead man's home was formerly at Fort Dodge, Ia., and his father, a banker, resides there now. At one time the deceased lived at San Antonio, Tex.

Pennsylvania Won.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—Twenty thousand people today saw one of the most exciting four-mile boat races ever witnessed in the history of college rowing. Five thousand people on the observation train yelled themselves hoarse in frantic appeals to their various crews to do their best, and with the 15,000 other spectators they saw the red and blue carried over the line a winner by a short half length from the Wisconsin, who lost in the last 200 yards by bad steering. Cornell, the victor of former years, pulled after, full four lengths in the rear, and Columbia, never in the fight after the end of the first mile, trailed in a good three lengths from the stern of the Cornell boat. It was the kind of a race that makes the blood tingle and was made so by the crew that came over 1,000 miles to meet former victors, for without the gallant Wisconsin in the race it would have been a doubtful procession after the second mile was entered.

To say there was surprise on the observation train and among the great crowds upon the banks when the Wisconsin shell swept mile after mile of the course until the last half was reached with a clear lead over all the crews, is putting it mildly. When the people on the bank, unable to place the stranger crew, looked toward the observation train inquiringly, and were told that it was Wisconsin, they were almost dumb-founded with amazement, and when those on the train saw the gallant struggle mile after mile, they dropped their appeals for their own crews and yelled in a friendly manner for the boys from the west. The alleged ragged stroke and badly keeled boat, the too long reach, all were forgotten as the fast moving shell kept its sharp nose to the fore, and then the people saw their shell turn out toward the shore at the finish and lost the race to the men from Pennsylvania by a short half length.

A Mysterious Case.

Indianapolis, June 28.—Last night at 10 o'clock as Rev. J. G. Peters, pastor of the Zion Evangelical church, was seated on his porch, he noticed a buggy drive slowly in front of his parsonage. A woman alighted and carefully fastened the horse, after which she walked away. Mr. Peters waited for some time, thinking the driver would return, then he walked to the buggy, and, striking a match, was shocked to find the body of his immediate neighbor, John Scudder, half seated and half lying in the vehicle. The stentorian breathing indicated that death was nigh. Mr. Scudder was one of the best known livermen in the city. He was carried to his rooms over his stable, where death came without a return to consciousness. Mr. Scudder was a native of Pleasant Ridge, O., where he was born in 1830, and a resident of this city 47 years. His stable was the favorite caravansary of his trotting stock kept by private owners, and four years ago it was burned by incendiarism and a number of blooded animals were cremated. Mr. Scudder was detected on his own account and after much exertion on his part five boys, members of a recognized "freedbug" gang, were convicted and sentenced. His death was due to apoplexy.

Devoured His Comrades.

Colorado, Springs, Colo., June 28.—The Colorado supreme court has refused a rehearing in the notorious Alfred Packer case.

In 1874, while crossing the Saguache mountain range in Colorado to reach the Los Pinos Indian agency, Packer and five companions—Israel Swan, Shannon Wilson Bell, Frank Miller, George Noon and James Humphreys—became lost in the deep snows. Starvation was imminent, and while his companions left Packer slew them and lived off their flesh until April, when he reached the agency. He was condemned to be hanged, but in 1886 was sentenced to 40 years imprisonment, eight years for each victim. His case has been five times before the supreme court. It is now finally settled, unless the board of pardons releases Packer, which is improbable.

Immense Fortune Found.

St. Louis, Mo., June 28.—In a dingy, stuffy little room in the rear of No. 1221 South Third street Officer Hanrahan found concealed in a dirty trunk and a valise a sum of money exceeding $15,000 in government bonds, gold and bills of large denominations. The police think that this small fortune is the property of Mrs. Walbonger Wackerle, an aged German woman, who is now a patient at the city insane asylum. But little is known by the neighbors of Mrs. Wackerle. They say that for years past she has been living in that neighborhood, always reticent, eccentric and demure.

Prominent Man Dead.

New York, June 28.—Gen. Thomas A. Herrera of Panama, Columbia, is dead at a private sanitarium, aged 62. He has held many offices in Columbia, including that of secretary of the interior, and was one of the principal citizens of Panama.

Grand Fourth of July Shoe Sale now on at John Tassell's 25 West Park.

The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids; all bids must be accompanied by cash or certified check to the amount of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00). J. E. MORAN, County Clerk.

GOEBEL IS NAMED

As Democratic Candidate For Governor

TWENTY-SIXTH BALLOT

Hardin Was Not Able to Control Enough Stone Votes When the Latter Was Dropped—Dramatic Scenes Were Witnessed After the Ballot.

Louisville, Ky., June 27.—William Goebel, who with an iron grasp has ruled the democratic state convention since it assembled nearly a week ago, was tonight nominated for governor on the 26th ballot, after a contest unparalleled in the state for bitterness and determination on the part of the winner, or for skillful manipulation. The end of the long exhausting fight brought a reasonable degree of harmony to the factions which throughout the night battled for every inch of ground. Nearly everybody joined heartily in a demonstration when their candidate appeared for the first time before the convention to accept the nomination and return his thanks.

The Goebel forces held the opposition closely down to business all day, forcing continuous balloting, defeating them when they showed signs of weakening and sought a sine die adjournment, compelling a vote on a proposition to drop the hindmost man on each ballot after the 25th and came out of the final trial of strength shortly after 8 o'clock tonight with colors flying. Stone was dropped on the 25th ballot and Hardin proved unable to control enough Stone votes to win. The scenes during the last ballot were dramatic, though not so exciting as many of which the delegates had participated.

After the nomination the convention enjoyed a few minutes of relaxation and reconciliation. Speeches were made by Congressman Wheeler, Judge Tarvin and other candidates, and the theme of all was: "All get together and win."

A morning session of the convention was held at which six fruitless ballots were taken. After a recess until 3 o'clock two more ballots were taken with a result almost exactly like the first taken Saturday night. This made 21 ballots in all, the last one resulting: Stone, 398; Hardin, 355; Goebel, 338.

Ben L. Hardin, a brother of the candidate for governor, then offered a resolution providing that the convention adjourn sine die and that the state central committee be empowered to take any action necessary to place a ticket in the field for the campaign of 1899.

The delegates were almost taken off their feet at this point by the appearance on the stage side by side of Captain W. J. Stone and General P. Watt Hardin. Stone spoke briefly, followed by Hardin. Both declared they believed the interests of the democratic party would be best served by the adoption of the resolution. The chairman, however, in a short speech, declared the resolution out of order and refused to recognize an appeal.

The 22d ballot showed the effect of the adjournment resolution in disintegrating the Stone-Hardin forces.

At this point F. A. Gulliver offered a motion that after the 25th ballot the hindmost candidate be dropped and not voted for thereafter. The Stone and Hardin leaders made another stand, but they could not control their forces. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 572 to 520, and at 8 o'clock the 23d ballot was ordered. The result was: Stone, 350; Hardin, 348; Goebel, 361; John Young Brown, 10; Judge Hazelrigg, 14; scattering, 10.

Twenty-fourth ballot: Stone, 348; Hardin, 361; Goebel, 346; Hazelrigg, 15. Twenty-fifth ballot: Stone, 330; Hardin, 378; Goebel, 383.

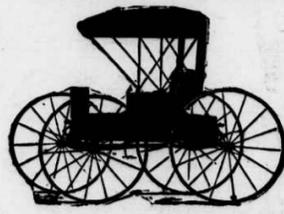

Under the resolution adopted by the convention, Captain W. J. Stone, having received the smallest number of votes, was dropped and the next ballot was begun. It was concluded with difficulty, and announced as follows: Goebel, 569; Hardin, 531.

This provoked as much noise as any event of the convention, and for the first time nearly all the delegates joined in it. Mr. Goebel was introduced and made a short speech of thanks. When the speech-making was concluded the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the ticket will be completed.
