KITCHEN HINTS.

To clean a spice mill, grind a handful of raw rice.

Stone jars are better than tin boxes for keeping bread during hot weather.

A whisk broom is just the thing to clean a horse's head.

Wood ashes put in a wooden bag and placed in the water will make hard water soft.

A special broom should be kept for the kitchen and parlors.

Drain pipes should be cleaned regularly at least once a week with lime water, carbolic acid or chloride of lime.

Pickles or vinegar will not keep in a jar that has ever had any kind of grease kept in it.

Clam shells are more convenient for scraping pots and kettles than a knife, requiring less time to remove the burnt surfaces.

If grease is spilt on the kitchen floor or table, cold water poured on it at once will prevent the spot from soaking into the wood.

Grease stains can be removed from matting by first wetting them with alcohol and then washing them with soda.

A tablespoonful of kerosene added to the boiler when scalding clothes will help to whiten them, and will not leave the slightest odor after rinsing and drying.

A search mark, if not too heavy, may be removed by moistening with water and laying in the sun. Repeat the moistening two or three times until the spot disappears.

HUMORS OF WAR.

Youth's Companion: Two or three correspondents and soldiers who have been through the Cuban campaign met the other day, and many were the pathetic and ridiculous anecdotes told of their experiences. We repeat one or two, which illustrate American character under a great and unusual strain.

"After the fight at San Juan," said one, "I crawled into the bushes. What with loss of blood, no sleep and battered nerves, I thought the end had come. There was a smoke near by, and I dragged myself to it.

"A private, covered with mud and blood, wearing ragged trousers and half of a coat, had kindled a fire and was brewing some tea. He looked at me, and then poured out some in a tin cup and brought it to me. I never tasted anything like it. I put life into me.

"That's good tea," I said. "Yes," he answered. "It's made only for the mandarins. I import it from China for my own use. I'm particular about my tea. I hid a package in my knapsack."

"Just then he was ordered away. The next day I saw him digging in the pits, and asked who he was. It was young Blank, from New York. 'That fellow,' they said, 'counts his money by millions.'"

"There were some queer meetings on the field," said another man. "One of the southern generals had lost a son in the first week of the war. He came to Cuba as inspector general, leaving his other son at home.

"But the boy enlisted and came to Cuba as a private, and was digging in the trenches when his father rode past with his staff.

"Hello, dad!" he called. "Hello, boy!"

"The general went down and took the young fellow in his arms.

"After he came home, at the peace jubilee at Philadelphia, I heard a big volunteer say:

"Miles and Dewey are well enough, but B. is my man for the presidency. He's a general, but he wasn't ashamed to kiss a private in the trenches. I saw him do it."

NEW SKIRT TRIMMINGS.

Dame Fashion Affects an Innovation to Mark the Closing of the Season.

The latest mid-summer dress skirts are characterized by many new ideas in trimmings. Dame fashion has affected the idea of decorating figured skirts, and the summer girl for want of something new has adopted the innovation with a noticeable degree of sincerity.

Usually where a new feature is added to a gown an old one is dropped. Not so with figured skirts; the close fit over the hips remains fashionable and the sudden flare at the knee is maintained with accustomed becomingness. Plain wash silk waists are worn with these skirts which are usually developed in figured duck and pique. The neck is finished with a stock of soft material and a fashionable little Eton jacket is worn over the waist when desired.

The first designs in headgear for early fall wear are beginning to appear. Very pretty round sailors with big crowns are seen made of dark brown and green straw trimmed with soft rolls of chiffon and finished at the side with a rosette of the same material and two or three straight quills.

AN ANDREEE OUT OF PLACE.

London Standard: An amusing story of the German emperor is being told in army circles. At a recent inspection of recruits his majesty asked one of them his name and was told "Andreee." On his majesty asking him if he was aware that he had a famous namesake, the soldier answered in the affirmative. "Who told you that?" asked the emperor. "My captain, your majesty." "And what did your captain tell you about Andreee?" "Your majesty, the captain said that he only wished Andreee had taken me with him."

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, August 2, 1899.

These are the days when business in all lines is comparatively dull, and the very atmosphere is languid, and people become generally inert, and find 'tis sweet to do nothing; when the wicked cease to trouble very much because they are too lazy, and the weary welcome a season of rest.

August is the month when the people of this city are wont to turn their backs on humdrum, every-day life and betake themselves to the mountains for rest and recreation. Some find Lake Como and its beautiful surroundings the most attractive spot; others are preparing to go to Wilde's Springs, and many parties are arranging to camp out in primitive fashion.

The very fortunate ones are those who are about to take the trip to the Yellowstone park as the pleasant diversion offered. A large party will start for the park on Friday if their preparations are completed by that time. Among the number will be Assessor Watts and family, Mr. J. J. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Umble, Dr. and Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Cummins, Miss Fannie Cummins, C. C. Chaffin, Messrs. Edwards and Gill and others, making in all a party of 17. They will drive from Hamilton, camping out on the way. A good cook accompanies the party and a general good time is being planned.

The young people who have been studying "Life in Hades," an adaptation from "The House Boat on the Styx," with a view to its presentation, will have a dress rehearsal this evening and will give the play tomorrow evening at the opera house. The following is the cast of characters: Mrs. Noah, Miss Virginia McCrackin; Trilby, Miss Nellie Dow; Ophelia, Miss Adeline Dow; Queen Elizabeth, Miss Susie Luck; Xantippe, Miss Helen McCrackin; Josephine, Mrs. G. Talbot; Portia, Miss Mabel Markle; Cleopatra, Miss Lottie Markle; Mme. Renamier, Mrs. R. Lee McCullough; Marguerite de Valois, Miss Carrie Hork; Mrs. Lot, Miss Alice Mehargue; Delilah, Mrs. Cora McIntyre; Helen of Troy, Miss Lulu Armstrong; Captain Kidd, Wallace McCrackin. The play is for the benefit of the fire laddies, and a good time is anticipated.

A complaint charging W. S. Morgan with grand larceny was filed in Justice Fitzgerald's court last week. The larceny consisted in the stealing of $140 worth of gold dust from the Wood Placer Mining company. For some time past Morgan has been in the employ of the company as cook, and it is reported took the gold from the boxes without permission. He recently left the county, and on Saturday Sheriff Chaffin and Under Sheriff Bishop went to Missoula in search of him. He had gone over the mountains, and following him they discovered him in the camp of a party of Northern Pacific appraisers on Thompson creek. He was arrested and is now lodged in the jail here, but declares that he was authorized by the company to take the gold.

A number of guests who for several weeks past have been enjoying the hospitality of the Ravallin, left yesterday morning for their homes or for other places of recreation. Among those departing were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Thrane of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Legrat of Butte, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Brophy of Butte and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lacey of New Orleans.

Mr. G. W. Stose of Washington, D. C., arrived in the city last night. He comes to assist Mr. Lindgren in the geological survey, and will proceed forthwith to Darby, examine the Bitter Root range in that vicinity and prepare maps and a report on the same. Mr. Lindgren is at present in Lo Lo canyon, but will join Mr. Stose in the upper valley in a few weeks.

Miss Mabel Corley of Stevensville has just left on a trip to Spokane, Seattle and Portland for a visit with friends in those cities. She will be away about six weeks, returning in time to enter upon her duties as teacher of the intermediate department in the Stevensville schools.

Mr. J. J. Watts of Rogersville, Mo., the father of Assessor Watts, arrived in the city Monday for a visit with his son. While here he will accompany Assessor Watts and party on their trip to the park.

Marcus Daly, Jr., with a party of friends, started for the Clearwater country yesterday morning for several weeks' outing. Their camping outfit and its accessories loaded 17 pack horses.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McMurray and family left the city yesterday for a week's outing in the mountains. They will pitch their camp on the west fork of the south fork of the Bitter Root stream.

O. D. Wheeler of the Northern Pacific railway returned yesterday from Sula and Ross Hole, where he has been collecting data for a forthcoming Northern Pacific descriptive circular.

Prof. A. J. Roberts and Will Harlan have just returned from their 10-days' pleasure trip to the Clearwater country. They report a very fine time among the wilds of nature.

Messrs. E. B. and G. A. Peppard of Missoula are in the city ready to commence work at once on the temporary bridge across the river.

Colonel Tom McTague, warden of the state penitentiary, arrived in the city Monday night and is viewing the sights at the stock farm.

William Ostermeyer, who has been in the gold fields of Alaska prospecting for the past year, returned to Hamilton on Monday night.

The attachment suit filed a short time ago in the district court by C. P. Mendel against D. V. Bean has been satisfactorily settled.

County Attorney Baker is in Victor looking after the interests of the state in a suit before Justice Woodman.

Dr. H. J. Smith is in Spokane this week and during his absence Robert Nelson is looking after the office. J. C. Lolor and George L. Freiden of Anaconda are guests at the Ravallin.
